"Th' missus made up her min she'd bile apple butter this year despite all me objecti'ns, an two weeks ago this comin Soturday she done et. They ain't no trees on our lot, so I got John Longnecker ter give me six bushel of pippins an York Imper'als mixed on condition I helped with his thrashin next month. I give Hiram Thompson thet there red shote I've ben fattenin fer a bawrl of cider. She'd cal'lated ter put up 'bout 14 gallon of butter. I said et was all foolershness, fer I could buy et a heap sight cheaper an was gittin tired of Pennsylvany salve anyway. Fer all year round, zulicks is 'bout th' best thing ter go with bread."

"Mentionin zulicks," interrupted the storekeeper, "remin's me thet yesterday I got in a bawrl of th' very finest. Et's none of yer common cookin m'lasses, but was made special fer table use."

"I'll bring a tin down an hev et filled," continued the loafer, "fer there's nothin better'n plain bread an zulicks. But she don't see things my way allus, an there was nothin but fer me ter borry th' storekeeper's horse an wagon an drive over ter Abe Scissors' an git th loan of his copper kittle an stirrer."

"But Abe Scissors ain't got no copper kittle," cried the farmer vehemently.

"He sayd et was his copper kittle," the chronic loafer replied, "an I didn't ast no questions. He 'lowed I could hev et jest as long as I didn't burn et, fer he claimed he give $25 fer et et a sale las' spring. Hevin made sa'fact'ry 'rangements fer th' apples, cider, kittle an stirrer, they was nothin left ter do but bile. Two weeks ago termorrer we done et. Missus invited sev'ral of her weemen frien's in th' day before ter help schnitz, an I tell yer what with talkin 'bout how many apples was needed with so much cider biled down ter so much, an how much sugar an cinn'mon orter be used fer so many crocks of butter, them folks hed a great time. When they finished their cuttin an parin, they was a washtub an a half full of th' finest schnitz you uns ever seen."

"Borryed my washtub still," exclaimed the shoemaker.

"Next mornin we was up at 6 o'clock, an hed th' fire goin in th' back yard, an th' kittle rigged over et, an hed begin ter bile down thet bawrl of cider. Bilin down ain't bad, fer they ain't nothin ter do. Et's when yer begins puttin in th' schnitz, an hes ter stir, ketches you.

"I didn't 'low I'd stir. Missus, when th' cider was all biled down ter a kittleful, sayd I'd hev ter, but I claimed thet I'd worked 'nough gittin th' things. Besides I'd an 'pointment ter see Sam Shores, th' stage driver, when he come through here thet afternoon. Missus an her weemen frien's grumbled, but begin dumpin th' schnitz with th' bilin cider an ter do their own stirrin. I come over here an was waitin fer Shores ter come. After an hour I concluded I'd run over ter th' house an git a drink of cider. I went in th' back way, an there I seen Ike Lauterbach's wife standin alone stirrin. Missus hed jest dumped th' last of thet fulful of schnitz inter th' kittle an was in th' house with th' rest th' weemen.

"When Missus Lauterbach seen me, she sez pleasantlike: 'I'm so glad you come. Your wife and th' rest of th' ladies hes made a batch of cookies. Now, you jest stir fer a minute, an I'll go git some for you.'

"I was kinder afraid ter take holt on thet there stirrer, so sez I, I'd git 'em myself, but she sisted she'd be right out, an foolish I tuck the handle. Well, I tell you I regret it in minute I done et. I stirred an stirred, an Mrs. Lauterbach didn't come. Then I hear th' weemen laughin in th' house like they'd die.

"Me wife she puts her head out th' winder an sez, 'Jes keep on stirrin there an don't you dast stop, fer th' butter'll stick fer th' kittle an burn et if you dos.'

"Down went th' windy. I was jest thet boppin mad I'd a notion ter quit right there an leave th' ole thing burn, but then I was afraid Abe Scissors might kerry on if I did. So I stirred an stirred an stirred. I tell you I don't know any work as mean as thet. Stop movin th' stick, an th' kittle burns. If you ever done et you'll know et ain't no man's work."

"Th' weemen allus does et with us," said the Tinsmith in a superior tone.

"I cal'lated they was ter do et with us," the Chronic Loafer continued, "but I mistook. I stirred an stirred an stirred. Th' fire got hotter an hotter an hotter, an as et got warmer th' han'le of th' stirrer seemed ter git shorter, an me face begin ter blister. I kep' et up for an hour an a half, tell me legs was nearly givin 'way under me, me fingers was stiff an achin, me arms felt like they'd drop off from pushin an twistin thet long stick about th' pot. Th' apples was all dissolved, but th' butter was thin yet, an I knowed et meant about three hours before we could take th' kittle off th' fire.

"Then I yelled for help. One of th' weemen come out, an I was jest thet mad I swore, but she laughed an poked some more wood in th' fire an sayd if I didn't push th' stick livelier th' kittle'd burn. Th' fire blazed up hotter an hotter, an et seemed me clothes'd begin ter smoke et any minute. Me arms an legs was achin more an more, an me back was almost broke from me tryin ter lean away from the heat. Me neck was 'most twisted off be me 'temptin ter keep th' blaze from blindin me. Et come 4 o'clock an I yelled fer help ag'in. Th' missus stuck her head out th' windy an called, 'Don't you let thet kittle burn!'

"I was 'most desp'rit, but I kep' stirrin an stirrin an stirrin. I don't know how I done et, fer et seemed I'd hev ter stop et any minute. Et come sundown an begin ter git darker an darker, an th' butter was gittin thicker an thicker, but I knowed be th' feel thet they was a couple of hours yet. I begin ter think of lettin th' ole thing drop an Abe Scissors' kittle burn, fer I held he didn't hev no business ter len me his copper pot when he knowed well enough et 'ud spoil of I ever quit stirrin. Oncet I was fer lettin her go an slippin over here ter th' store, fer I heard sev'ral of th' fellers drive up an hitch an th' door bang shet. But when I tried ter drop th' stirrer I jest couldn't. Me fingers seemed ter think et wasn't right an hold ter thet ole pole, an me arms kep' pushin et, though every motion give me an ache. I jest didn't dast, but kep' stirrin an stirrin an thinkin an wond'rin who was over here an what was doin. An as I kep' on pushin an pushin thet pole an thinkin an thinkin, I clean forgot meself an all about th' apple butter.

"I come to with a jump, for some un hed me be th' beard. When I looked up, I seen th' missus an her weemen frien's standin around me, gestickelatin an talkin. Th' missus was wavin what was left of th' stirrer. Et was jest 'bout half as long as when I begin with et, fer th' crosspiece thet runs down inter th' butter an th' biggest part th' han'ol was burned off. Seems I'd got th' ole thing clean out of th' kittle an hed ben stirrin et 'round th' fire."

"Reflex action," exclaimed the schoolteacher.

"Th' butter was fairly smokin, an th' kittle—well, say, if thet there wasn't jest as black on th' inside as ef et was iron 'stead of copper. An was'n't them weemen mad! Maybe et was reflect action they done, as the teacher sayd, but whatever et was et skeered me considerable, they kerried on so. But final I seen how funny et was, how th' joke was on th' missus who'd loss all her apple butter, 'stead of on me, an how I'd got square with Abe Scissors fer lendin me his old copper kittle, when he knowed et 'ud burn if I ever stopped stirrin. An I jest laughed."

The chronic loafer leaned back in his chair and chuckled loudly. The farmer arose and walked around the stove.

"What fer a kittle was thet?" he asked in a low, pleasant tone. "Was they a big S stamped on th' inside, up next th' rim?"

"Thet's th' one, he, he!" cried the loafer with great hilarity. "S fer Seissors an"—

"S stands fer soda too. My name's Soda, an I lent thet kittle fer Abe Seissors three weeks ago," yelled the farmer.

The loafer gathered himself together and arose from the muddy pool at the foot of the store steps. He gazed ruefully for a moment at the closed door and seemed undecided whether or not to return from whence he had been so unceremoniously ejected. Then the sound of much laughing came to his ears, and he exclaimed, half aloud:

"Well! If thet ain't a good un!"

And he ambled off home to the missus.—New York Sun.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning March 10. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates, A. M. Topic, The Peace Offering.

BIBLE READINGS.—Lev. iii, 1-6; I Pet. ii, 24.

The directions given for the various sacrifices in the tabernacle and temple worship were very minute. The ceremonial must have been deeply impressive. Probably no ritual in any other earthly sanctuary was ever so full of meaning, no rites so solemn, no vestments and utensils more costly than those used in the temple at Jerusalem. The offerings prescribed in Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy, though seemingly of many kinds, are really comprised in four general classes. They were peace, meat, burnt and sin offerings. Peace offerings, free will, thank offerings and common consecrations have one common law. Whatever the kind of beast presented, the blood is all to be poured by a priest at the foot of the altar of burnt offerings. All the fat is to be burned by the priest on the altar, with salt. The breast and right shoulder after being waved, or lifted up, become the priest's portion. The remainder of the animal is to be eaten by the one making the offering and his friends.

All this signifies participation with the Divine Provider in his bounty.

A second class of sacrifices, somewhat similar in nature but differing in the articles presented, was the meat offerings, or, more accurately in our modern speech, the meal offerings. These consisted of flour of various kinds, with oil, sometimes made into cakes and sometimes uncooked. Salt and frankincense were also to be offered with these, but never any leaven nor honey. Part of the gift was burned on the altar; the remainder was for the use of the priests.

The first fruits were to be presented in the temple and a offering made to God before it was lawful for any one to partake of the new harvest. At the Passover feast grain reaped from a field in the Kedron valley with much ceremony was beaten out from full ears, parched over a fire, ground into meal and made into cakes, of which an offering was made by fire on the altar to God. Then throughout the city and land the new harvest might be eaten by the people with rejoicing.

The burnt offering was to be wholly consumed on the altar in token of the complete submission of the soul to the service of Jehovah.

The sin offering and various kinds of trespass offerings were of a still different class. The sin offering had the blood poured at the base of the altar, the fat burned upon it, but the body removed outside the camp and wholly burned in the place where the ashes were deposited.

Thy Burden.

To every one on earth
God gives a burden to be carried down
The road that lies between the cross and crown.
No lot is wholly free,
He giveth one to thee.

Thy burden is God's gift,
And it will make the bearer calm and strong.
Yet, lest it press too heavily and long,
He says, "Cast it on me,
And it shall easy be."

—Marianne Farningham.

The Value of Missions.

It is popular in some circles to decry missions as valueless. The educated natives of heathen lands are especially given to this view. This makes the testimony of the editor of a large daily paper in Japan of particular importance. He says: "Christian missionaries have now been working here a full generation. There are hundreds of men and women who have brought $500,000 annually here to establish Christian schools and churches, and how much have they accomplished? Really, when we see that they have gained only a few tens of thousands of converts, we can only be sorry for them and must call their work a failure. And yet look all over Japan. Our 40,000,000 today have a higher standard of morality than we have ever known. There is not a boy or girl throughout the empire that has not heard of the one man, one woman doctrine. Our ideas of loyalty and obedience are higher than ever. And when we inquire the cause of this great moral advance we can find it in nothing else than the religion of Jesus Christ."

Epworth League Houses.

The idea of cultured young people going to live in the slums of the great cities and by pure lives in the midst of vicious surroundings try to win the sinful to Christ is bearing fruit not only in London, but in Boston, New York, Chicago and our other western cities. The Epworth League house of the University settlement, Boston, is doing a noble work. Dr. G. W. Gray, with the Leaguers of Chicago, is having splendid success in the same line. Souls are converted, the hungry are fed, the destitute are clothed, the homeless are lodged, the friendless find true hearts and open hands. This is practical Christianity. The Epworth Leaguers support the work and find it more blessed to give than to receive.

Breadth of Purpose.

One of the most fatal criticisms possible of any religious movement, if well founded, is that of narrowness and bigotry. Breadth and depth are essential to success in Christianity. One of the most hopeful signs in the young people's movement in all the churches is proper recognition of this fact. Social life is duly provided for away from the allurements and entanglements of worldly amusements and associations. Intellectual needs are recognized, and a new literature is being created to meet the demand. History, biography, travels, theology, fiction, art and science are resurveyed, and the old truths retold in new form, and new discoveries announced, so that by tracts, periodicals and books ample provision is made to cultivate intelligence and thorough knowledge. Interest in the more careful study of the Bible, the history of the church and the doctrinal peculiarities of the various denominations is manifest in many directions.

The somewhat celebrated cases bro't by Geo. R. Beardsell against Edward Imerson, Alphonso Kelly and others, to decide the rights of the various parties to the navigation of Devil's lake, have practically been settled out of court, according to the Adrian Telegram. That is, an agreement has been reached whereby the suits will be discontinued, and a few law points submitted to Judge Lane, his decision to be binding on both parties.

Some of the state exchanges are advocating the employment of convict labor in making better roads. They would send them out into the country in gangs to do the work. They don't stop to think that by so doing they will come in direct competition with the farmer boy who has rather enjoyed the fun of working out the road tax. A day on the road is a picnic to some, and equal to going to town meeting or a raising. The farmer will not be easily induced to give up the blessed privilege of making the roads to suit his own taste.—Ex.

THE LAND OF FLOWERS.

A Few Words of Cheer from the Zone of Frozen Oranges.

LAKE KERR, Fla. March 6, '95.

EDITOR OF HERALD.—The letter written for your paper in November from this place needs considerable revising up to date. It is not true at all now about the roses and orange groves, and as to its never being too cold here, that myth has been violently exploded three times and we are beginning to wonder where it originated. However seriously Florida has gone back on her delightful record, she is still a long way ahead of her sister states in climate and to leave her because it is cold only would be to go where it is colder. So we plan picnics and excursions just the same as if it were sunny and warm every day and occasionally we are favored to enjoy their happy fulfillment, though a few bright days, however charming cannot bring to life the dead fruits and flowers that still languish on the air. Just think of four million dollars worth of oranges lying on the ground! That means four million bushels of sweetness and fragrance lost forever. An orange grove is as sad a sight as we would care to see. There are so many interests centered in them that have come to a dead loss and time only can repair the damage. Florida must wait till new trees grow. For the most the people take the situation cheerfully, and perhaps they love one another better when they have to help one another more.

The State Christian Endeavor Convention at Sanford was marked by unusual enthusiasm and determination as well as devout humility and thanksgiving. There seems to be a strong rising tide of thought and effort here in the line of christian citizenship among the C. E's and perhaps some of our material forces may work more effectively.

At Lake Kerr are many ruined prospects and yet there is enough enterprise here to build a fine steam-boat. It is built by Mr. George Downing and son, and is to be christened by one of your Tecumseh girls. There is to be a pichic and poems at the launching at the celebrated Salt Springs. These springs are connected with the St. John's River by a run of about seven miles, the scenery of which is wierd enough to make you home-sick but holding you by a spell you do not care to break. Great dead looking cypress trees seem mourning over you in long flowing ropes of dull gray moss making a group of green graceful palmettos most refreshing by way of contrast.

Then the birds, and alligators, and fish seem playing perpetual frolics all about you, and while you are watching one performance you are missing something else. Fine mullet will leap up in the from one to three feet all around your boat, but no one but a fish-hawk can catch one as they never bite a hook. The rivers, like the seasons here, seem to have no boundary but soak off into the forests, and in these swamps grow multitudes of plants and creeping things innumerable. FRANCELIA.

The Modern Way

Commends itself to the well-informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. mar

THIS IS A PROGRESSIVE AGE.

New and Startling Discoveries are Made Daily.

The greatest discovery for sufferers of catarrh, Hay fever, Asthma is Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure. Its wonderful cures since its discovery are known to thousands.

This grand medicine will positively cure all forms of these diseases.

It accomplishes what no other remedy has done. So simple a child can use it. No cure no pay. One bottle will do the work and lasts for a three months treatment. Entirely new, no other remedy made like it. This is what the eminent Dr. Henry Carrington Alexander, D. D., L. L. D., has to say of its marvelous cure.

The Mayers Drug Co., Oakland, Md.

Gentlemen:—Ever since I have tried your famous catarrh remedy I have intended to give you a voluntary testimonial of its efficiency. I have been a sufferer for years from nasal and post nasal catarrh, and the bone in my nose has been visibly changed in its shape.

After a trial of all manner of good and indifferent recipes, I have no hesitation in pronouncing your Magnetic Catarrh Cure the best, the speediest and most effectual remedy I have yet encountered. I wish and predict your success in the effort to demonstrate the value of your neat device in the way of a truly scientific and meritorious inhalant. You have made me your everlasting debtor.

I am my dear sir,
Yours faithfully,
HENRY CARRINGTON ALEXANDER.

AWAY DOWN IN FAIRFIELD.

Something About This Beautiful Town on the Ohio State Line.

In the Southern tier of towns in Lenawee County Fairfield is located, one of the best farming townships in this section of the State. Its name symbolizes its natural beauty; its citizens reflect credit upon the town in which they live.

Last week we gave our World's Fair entertainment in the village of Fairfield for the benefit of the A. C. F. of the Baptist Church, and during our three days' sojourn, we had the pleasure of forming many new acquaintances. We arrived at Jasper Monday forenoon in a driving snow storm and found a conveyance in waiting to take us to Rufus Baker's old homestead. As the house is a very commodious one, it accommodates two families. Mr. Baker's own family occupy it and also the family of his son, A. G. Baker. We enjoyed the latter's hospitality on Monday, and found it a very congenial stopping place. This place is one of the best if not the very best dairy farms in Lenawee County. It supports a herd of nearly fifty Holstein cows of which thirty are now in milk. The Jasper creamery is receiving 5000 pounds of milk every other day, and a liberal fraction of it comes from this farm. There is a large silo barn on the place, and ensilage is used largely for feed for the milch cows. During our stay here we had a fine visit with Mr. Rufus Baker and found him as much interested in pioneer matters as ever.

Mr. D. C. Tunison, who lives one and one half miles southwest of Fairfield village, has a beautiful home and a splendid family. His farm consists of 220 acres of land, which is kept under a high state of cultivation. He very rarely harvests a wheat crop that turns less than thirty bushels to the acre. Mr. Tunison also has a fine herd of Holsteins, and takes to the Jasper creamery the milk from ten cows. We had a most cordial reception there, and feel under special obligations to Mrs. Tunison and her daughters for their efforts to make our temporary home with them as pleasant as possible. On Tuesday afternoon we drove towards Weston, passed Geo. B. Horton's beautiful residence, at Fruit Ridge, which in size and architecture resembles some of the best residences on Woodward avenue in Detroit, and called at Cornelius Quick's, who is one of the leading Prohibitionists in that section of Lenawee.

Most of the day Wednesday was passed beneath the hospitable roof of John W. Nash, who lives over the line in Madison, over a mile northeast of Fairfield village. He has 160 acres of land, with a fine house and out buildings, among them one of largest barns in that town. His son, Howard, is now working the farm on shares, and hence John W. and his wife take life easy and enjoy themselves. Mr. Nash attended school here in Tecumseh just forty years ago, when Prof. C. W. Nash was Principal, and the old Court House was used for a central school building. He looks back to those days as among the pleasantest of his life, but hopes to enjoy many more years in the happy home he now occupies.

Those three days in Fairfield will long be remembered.

Why Men Should Marry.

It was clearly meant that all men, as well as all women, should marry; and those who, for what ever reason, miss this obvious destiny are, from nature's point of view, failures. It is not a question of felicity (which in eight cases out of ten may be problematic), but of race responsibility. The unmarried man is a skulker, who, dooms some woman who has a rightful claim upon him, to celibacy. And in so doing he defrauds himself of the opportunities for mental and moral development which only the normal experience can provide. He deliberately stunts the stature of his manhood, impoverishes his heart and brain, and chokes up all the sweetest potentialities of his soul. To himself he is apt to appear like the wise fox that detects the trap, though it be ever so cunningly baited; that refuses to surrender his liberty for the sake of an appetizing chicken or rabbit, which after all may be a decoy, stuffed with sawdust; while, as a matter of fact, his case is that of the cowardly servant in the parable, who for fear of losing his talent, hid it in a napkin, and in the end was deemed unworthy of his stewardship.—From "The Matrimonial Puzzle" by H. H. Boyesen, in North American Review for Febuary.

Brainard's Musical World.

The February number of this popular magazine contains a large amount of choice musical reading, including articles by Wm. H. Sherwood, Emil Liebling, Robert Goldbeck and other eminent musicians. Fine portraits of Liszt, Schumann, Melba and other illustrations are given, together with four piano pieces and a beautiful new song—eighteen pages of music in all. A piano lesson by Emil Liebling, also a fine portrait, suitable for framing, is given with each number. Terms $1.50 per year, 15 cents per copy. To introduce the World to those who have never taken it, it will be sent four months on trial on receipt of 25 cents in stamps. Address The S. Brainard's Sons Co. Chicago.

PROF. JOHN B. DE MOTTE.

Lecture and Lantern Combine to Make a Grand Entertainment.

The Star Entertainment Course of the present season has been one of more than usual excellence, and the lecture of Prof. DeMotte last Saturday evening was a most fitting close of the course. Tecumseh audiences have listened to many eminent platform orators, but none have given a more genuine surprise than did Prof. DeMotte. Probably, because he was less known than some other speakers by most of the community, and by the announcement that his lecture would be illustrated by a stereopticon, some were led to conclude that the lecture might be a common place one; but the fair sized audience present were served an intellectual treat that will long be remembered. The first part of the lecture consisted of a scientific discourse upon sound, illustrated by special apparatus in connection with a stereopticon, in which the theory of sound waves, and their attributes and qualities were clearly elucidated. Most notable among the illustrations was the record of the different tones by means of film projected upon the screen. The illustrations of nerve and brain structure furnished the basis for the most delightful and instructive discourse upon nerve training, and the consequent moral phase of life, that has been given in our village. The Professor based his arguments upon the scientific law that "the constant execution of a definite function gradually produces a structural modification," and as a consequence, just as are the thoughts and the drift into which mental action flows, so will be the inner, and very largely the outer life of each of us. The dangers surrounding young men and young women were so impressively portrayed that no one could leave the house without feeling a sense of responsibility, and many were the inwardly expressed determinations to attain toward the ideal higher life. Throughout the lecture was strong, impressive and convincing in the highest sense of the word. It is to be regretted that every man woman and child in the village did not hear him, and should he ever visit Tecumseh again, he will undoubtedly be greeted by an audience only limited by the capacity of the house. Upon the whole, we congratulate those who heard him, and the managers in securing so fitting a speaker to close the course.

A Revolution in Solid Literature.

The Forum, a year ago, took the bold and unprecedented step of reducing its price from $5 a year to $3—the first instance of so solid a periodical being put forth at so popular a price. Literature of this class has always been high, because it is written only by the very best writers, and because there had hitherto been but a comparatively small reading public that was thought to appreciate it. The Forum proceeded on the supposition that the spread of intelligence and the ever increasing independence of thought in the United States, opened up a very much larger field for serious literature of the very highest kind than had even been suspected. It tried the very bold experiment, therefore, of reducing its price by half. The year since this reduction in price was made has been the dullest year in two decades. Yet the increase of circulation and of influence has been so great that the Forum has already a larger circulation than all the other American non-illustrated monthlies put together. It has made the discovery that the number of serious students of important subjects is very much larger than anybody had supposed, and very much larger than the number in any other country. The Forum's circulation in the United States is larger than the combined circulation of the three great British Reviews in Great Britain—larger than any similar periodical enjoys anywhere in the world.

The St. Louis Republic Free.

The "Twice-a-Week" St. Louis Republic will be sent Free For One Year to any person sending, before January 31, 1895, a club of three new yearly subscribers, with $3 to pay for the same.

Already the clans are gathering for the fray in 1896, and 1895 will be full of interesting events. The skirmish lines will be thrown out, the maneuvering done and the plans of campaign arranged for the great contest in '96.

The remaining short session of the Democratic Congress, to be followed shortly by a Republican Congress with a Democrat in the Presidental chair will be productive of events of incalculable interest.

In fact, more political history will be constructed during 1895 than in any year since the foundation of the Government, and a man without a newspaper will be like a useless lump in the movements of public opinion.

You can get three new subscribers for The Republic by a few minutes' effort. Remember in the Republic subscribers get a paper twice-a-week for the price of a weekly—only $1.00 a year. Try it At Once, and see how easily it can be done. If you wish a package of sample copies, write for them.

Cut out this advertisement and send with your order. Address,

GEO. L. OLIVER AND CHILDREN.

One Hundred Dollars Given Away.

Here is an offer to our patrons which is well worth their careful consideration. Probably nine-tenths of our subscriptions expire during January, February and March of each year. All subscribers who shall pay for the full year 1895, prior to April 1st, will be entitled to a chance in the distribution of four sewing machines, worth one hundred dollars. These are—

A New Home,	Value,	$50 00
An Eldridge B.,	"	30 00
Wheeler & Wilson, No. 8,	"	25 00
Wheeler & Wilson, second hand,	"	15 00
Total value,		$100 00

The three machines first named are new, right from the factory. The last one has been carefully used a few months and is practically as good as new. Each paying subscriber will get a numbered receipt and that will be his number in the distribution. The few persons who have already paid for 1895 can call and get a duplicate receipt with a new number. The few subscribers who have paid in advance beyond April 1st can secure the benefit of this offer by paying in advance for the balance of the year, or until Jan. 1st, 1896. The distribution will take place at some convenient place, on Saturday afternoon, April 6th, 1895, when the property will be formally given to our advance paid patrons, to be allotted among themselves in such manner as they may elect. An expenditure of only $1.60, or $1.25 if you live outside of Lenawee county, will secure a chance for one of these premiums. This offer means business.

CLUB LIST FOR 1895.

We are prepared to name better club rates this year than ever before on outside publications. With the periodicals named in the following list we have special terms, but we can obtain subscriptions, at reduced rates, for any newspaper or magazine published:

The Development of the South.

Is being furthered by the Queen & Crescent Route by means of a special series of Monthly Excursions to Southern points at One Fare for the Round Trip. These rates are in effect from Cincinati, O., and Lexington, Ky., on November 6th and December 4th; good twenty days from date of sale for return. They are sold on these dates to all points in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida (except Key West), and to New Orleans, and all points on our line in Louisana.

Stop-overs are permitted on these excursions at any point south of the Ohio River, within the final limit of the tickets. This offers an excellent opportunity to those who desire to go South to look into the present great movement of Northern to that section.

The Q. & C. has over a million acres of farms and timber land for sale along its line at $3.00 to $5.00 per acre, on easy terms.

Send us your name for advertising matter and any information you may want as to lands and immigration to the South.

Clinton Column.

CLINTON, MICH., MAR. 15, 1895.

Tate & Stoner shipped a car of hogs Wednesday.

Eddie Lancaster has been on the sick list this week.

E. R. Smith made a business trip to Jackson Friday last.

Mrs. J. E. White and Mary have both been on the sick list.

Mrs. Will Niblack and daughter are visiting Macon friends.

Mrs. C. C. Silvers visited friends at Deerfield the first of the week.

F. R. Greenleaf and J. D. Hause visited Tecumseh Tuesday morning.

Del Coolrich and wife have been visiting his parents the past week.

Will Ayres, commonly known as fatty Ayres of Adrian, was in town Tuesday.

Quite a number went down to Tecumseh last evening to see "For a Million."

Will P. McAdam is now in a meat market on West Chicago street Tecumseh.

Fred Davis and Thomas Marrion were both on the sick list the first of the week.

Geo. W. Lewis, of South Bend, Ind., came to attend the funeral of his uncle, Solmon Parker.

Will Dewey and wife have again returned to country life. They moved back to the farm Monday.

Chas. W. Parker, wife and child, of Hillsdale, were called here by the death of Charles' father, S. Parker.

Miss Carl Corey arrived Tuesday morning from Paw Paw for a visit with friends here in her native town.

A young gentleman from Albion College was the guest of James Halladay's family several days the past week.

Frank Rowland, of Toledo, was calling on friends Tuesday as well as taking orders for the house he represents.

Mrs. E. A. Keyser was the guest of Wesley and family over Sunday and returned to her home in Ypsilanti Monday.

Fred Sherwood and Robert Redick went to Toledo Tuesday to see about material for the Huntington and Smith block.

Peter Alexander and family moved into their home, recently purchased of Will Dewey, on Washington street Tuesday.

Lafe Miller and family, of Chelsea, have been here the past week, in consequence of the death of Mrs. Sarah Richmond.

Mrs. E. M. Cooley expects soon to move her stock to the room now occupied by G. D. Ellis as a cigar store and news depot.

F. L. Woodward started up the old foundry Monday to complete some work that was partly done. It seemed good to see signs of life.

Rev. C. M. Stout officiated Friday at the funeral of Mrs. John Dunn in Franklin. The remains were taken to Saline for burial.

Geo. A. Kies was moving around the streets very rapidly Tuesday morning, and many were at at a loss to know the cause. He was preparing to go fishing, that was all.

The VanTuyle and Mattis Auction at the old Silvers farm Tuesday drew out a large crowd and we understand that things generally sold well. The sheep and hogs were not sold.

Rev. W. R. Blachford is to exchange services Sunday with Rev. Ewing, of Jonesville, consequently Mr. Ewing conducts the services at St. John's church Sunday morning.

While Dave Haggert was in voting Monday he left his horse unhitched and the freight train coming along frightened it and it started up the street, but was caught before any damage had been done.

Miss Eva Shimmen returned from Detroit, Monday. Tuesday she and Mate were very busy opening, marking and arranging their spring purchases. We shall speak of their display next week.

Bainbridge & Hause have been kept very busy of late. Friday they attended the funeral of Mrs. Dunn, Sunday Mrs. Ganoung's, Monday Iva Kilbourn's and Mrs. Richmond's, and Tuesday S. Parker's.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrillo Stitt spent a couple of days in Ypsilanti the last of the week, and we understand they have decided to make that city their home, and will move their household effects next week.

The Baptist social was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Downs, on Coman street, Tuesday—tea from 5 to 7. They always have a large attendance and a pleasant time at the Deacon's and this was no exception.

Nelson Miller and daughter of Ridgeway, Oliver Sanford of Tecumseh, Mrs. Joseph Lazell of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Amos Lazell of Manchester, were among those from away who attended the funeral of Mrs. Richmond, Monday.

Iva, the 14 year old daughter of Chas. Kilbourn, who resides west of town on Wall street, died after a brief illness the last of the week. The funeral was held Monday and the remains were taken to Riga Monday afternoon for interment.

They have excavated on the corner of Jackson and east Chicago streets for VanTuyle & Woodard's new building. The ground was frozen so hard and deep they were obliged to use dynamite. It worked like a charm and expedited matters greatly.

Rev. David Lewis, the evangelist, will close his meetings tonight. After a short rest he will go to New York and the New England states, where he will engage in the same work for two months. He is a very earnest, conscientious man, and is very successful in his work.

Miss Rosa Lane met with a serious accident Thursday last, which came near costing an eye. Coming from the mill, some of the young men were throwing snow balls, and Will Martiny miscirculated in some way and the ball hit her in the eye. The severe shock and pain combined has confined her to the bed. It was a very narrow escape she had. The practice of snow balling should be excluded from our streets.

Tuesday we stepped into Lewis Gray's barber shop in the Lancaster House and found him very pleasantly situated. His shop is a model of neatness and that Lewis is a first-class barber there is no question. We should judge he was having a fair trade and that his laundry business was growing.

H. Wiltse's harness shop is now located next to the Local office on Tecumseh street, the building having been moved by Geo. Sherwood in good shape. Geo. says the only consolation he can get out of it is "that it is worth something to do business" as he is out fifty cents besides his own labor. He met with difficulties for which he had not calculated.

The prospects are that any one wanting a bicycle this season need not go away from home to procure them, as our dealers have taken the agency for several makes they have not heretofore carried. Among the new ones A. B. VanDeMark has the Cleveland, Kishpaugh & Lindsley the Winton, and G. D. Ellis the Clipper. All first class wheels. Look them over.

Our entire community was astonished Saturday afternoon when it became known that Solomon Parker was dead. Thursday, not feeling well, he consulted Dr. Tuttle who told him his hearts action was not right and advised him to keep quiet for a while. He feeling better continued to work as usual. Saturday he felt unusually well and worked up to the time of quitting, about 5 o'clock. Soon after going into the air he began feeling badly and when he reached the doctor's office he went in and sat down. The doctor saw at a glance that his condition was serious and at once tried to relieve him, but to no effect as he did not live but a few moments. It was a very sudden ending of an active life, a terrible blow to the family and a shock to all.

The village election Monday passed off very quietly and resulted in the election of what was termed the Law and order ticket entire; both tickets were composed of good men and though some no doubt were surprised at the result, no one thinks but what the Village affairs will be ably and judiciously conducted. There were 260 votes cast, of which 3 were thrown out not being properly marked. We give the number of votes cast for each candidate on both tickets:

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Sarah Richmond, who died at her home in Clinton, March 7th, was one of the early pioneers of Michigan; she having left the town of Groveland, Livingston county, New York, where she was born Dec. 9th, 1817, and come to this State with her parents in 1833.

They settled in the Township of Freedom, where she was married to Levi C. Richmond, March 2d, 1837. Mr. and Mrs. Richmond immediately after their marriage, settled in Bridgewater, where they continued to live until the spring of 1849, when they removed to Clinton where they resided until death. Mr. Richmond preceded her to the spirit land some eight years, he having died in 1887. Seven children were the product of this marriage, all of whom are yet living. Mrs. Richmond lived with her son Will after her husband's death, where she was tenderly cared for in her declining years. She was confined to her bed for five months, which was a great trial to her as she had always been a stirring, energetic woman. All that the sacrifices and energies of affectionate children could do to alleviate her sufferings and make her last days as comfortable as possible was cheerfully rendered, which is not always the case with those whose heads are white with the frosts of years. The funeral services were conducted at her home on the 11th inst. by her pastor Rev. D. H. Ramsdell, and her grandchildren acting as pall bearers laid her away in her final resting place. She and her husband occupied prominent positions in the church and are greatly missed. But their friends mourn not as those who have no hope for they both died in the Lord. Though separated for a few years by death they are now forever united in the home beyond.

Solomon Parker, who suddenly died of neuralgia of the heart, in Clinton on Saturday afternoon the 9th inst., was born in Bradford, Wiltshire, England, June 24th, 1822. He came to this country at the age of 18 years and settled in Millville, Mass. In 1854 he married Miriam Lindley and as the fruits of this marriage four children were born unto them, three of whom are living. In 1869 he moved to Owosso, Mich., and thence to Clinton in August 1871, where he has continued to reside. He embraced the religion of Christ in early manhood and remained a loyal servant of the Master until his work was done. Mr. Parker was in many respects an old time Methodist. He was emotional in his nature and quite expressive in his religious activities. He loved to sing the Methodist hymns and would often break out in social meetings singing these deeply spiritual songs of prayer and praise with such fervor and pathos that the whole congregation felt the inspiration. He had much of brotherly love and fellow feeling, and his minister always occupied a place in his heart. He possessed a far more than common insight into the spiritual meaning of the scriptures and its rich truths were often interwoven in his prayers and testimonials. His absence from the preaching service, where he was an appreciative listener and the prayer and class meetings, where he was a devout worshiper will be greatly felt by his associates in church work. His last labors and testimonies as well as his earnest christian life leave no doubt of his abundant entrance into the Kingdom of God.

Rev. R. N. Middleton, M. E. clergyman, Spring Lake, Mich., says: "Sleep and rest were strangers to me after preaching till I used "Adironda." Now I sleep soundly and awake refreshed; I can heartily recommend "Adironda." Sold by Orr & Temple. mar.

FRANKLIN FACTS.

The Center school closes Friday.

Oliver Mull has taken Mrs. Mary Deming's sap bush.

Frank Marshall will run Mr. Hunt's sap bush this spring.

S. N. Wisner drove to Ypsilanti Friday, returning Saturday.

A daughter of Mr. Kilbourn, a girl in her teens, died Sunday of typhoid pneumonia.

Mr. Hause conducted the funeral of Mrs. John Dunn, Friday, and Miss Iva Kilbourn, Monday.

Len Billington will operate E. Simmond's sap bush and has already tapped a part of the trees.

A Lyceum has been organized in the north part of the town. Grant Davis is president. Next meeting at Charles Davis', March 30th.

The remains of Mrs. John Dunn were conveyed to Saline, Friday, for interment near her former home, after a brief service at the house, Rev. Stout, of Clinton officiating.

The Bradley school was closed Monday, Miss Kilbourn having attended school there up to the time she was taken sick, a little more than a week before her death. We hear the remains were taken to Riga, for burial, where the family had formerly resided.

Remember the Lyceum will occur at Hampton's hall, March 23d. This is a regular monthly meeting of the society. There will be no debate.

The Heavy End of a Match.

"Mary," said Farmer Flint at the breakfast table as he asked for a second cup of coffee, "I've made a discovery."

"Well, Cyrus, you're about the last one I'd expect of such a thing, but what is it?

"I've found that the heavy end of a match is its light end," responded Cyrus with a grin that would have adorned a skull.

Mary looked disgusted, but with an air of triumph quickly retorted, "I've got a discovery too, Cyrus. It was made by Dr. R. V. Pierce, and is called a 'Golden Medical Discovery.' It drives away blotches and pimples, purifies the blood, tones up the system and makes one feel brand-new. Why, it cured Cousin Ben who had Consumption and was almost reduced to a skeleton. Before his wife began to use it she was a pale, sickly thing, but look at her: she's rosy-cheeked and healthy, weighs 165 pounds. That, Cyrus is a discovery that's worth mentioning."

Young or middle-aged men, suffering from premature decline of power, however induced, speedily and radically cured. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A fortune awaits the inventor or discoverer of some means of protecting the bottom of ships from marine growths.

A Remarkable Cure.

Mrs. H. B. Adams, 1609 Wabash ave., Chicago, says: "I had a scrofulous taint of the blood from childhood, which, however, remained dormant. An ulcer began on the side of the nose, having all the appearances of a most malignant cancer. The agony of mind I suffered cannot be described as I contemplated the progress of such a malignant disease. Finally I was induced to try Foley's Sarsaparilla. It appears to neutralize the poison in the blood. The growth of the ulcer ceased. The diseased tissues in the bottom and edges of the sore seemed to loosen and the natural flesh to take its place. No part of the disease remains." For sale by Orr & Temple. mar

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Orr & Temple's drug store. 2

FITS AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

When Henry M. Hall, M. D., late Surgeon U. S. A., Department of Tennessee, returned from the war he found a child afflicted with epilepsy. Leading physicians were consulted, without apparent benefit. Noted specialists could give but little if any relief. To rescue his child from a fate worse than death became the object of his life. For several years experiment followed experiment, until at last success crowned his efforts. In 1889 old age and infirmities induced him to impart the knowledge of how to manufacture it, under the agreement that a bottle should be sent free of all charges to any one applying for it, who was afflicted with epilepsy. Since then over 20,000 free bottles have been sent to the afflicted. Experience has proved that it cures Insomnia, St. Vitus' Dance, and all forms of Nervous Affliction. If you want to try this wonderful remedy free of all charge, write, stating your disease as plainly as possible; give your age and post office. Address Dr. Hall Chemical Co., West Philadelphia, Pa.

DR. TRASK'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

It is constantly effecting the most wonderful cures, while the unparalleled demand with which it meets, stamps it at once as the greatest medicine of the age for outward application.

The most incredulous are convinced, and the most skeptical are compelled to believe in the power of this great remedy.

WHAT IT CURES.

All Sores, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Sore Throat, Lameness, Rheumatism, Piles, Inflammation of Lungs and Bowels, Bronchitis, Croup, Salt Rheum, Chilblains, Affection of the Spine, Erysipelas, Nervous Irritation, and all disorders attendant with Inflammation.

It never fails to restore the natural functions of the skin and equalize the circulation of the blood. By this means a controlling power is gained over the most malignant forms of disease. It penetrates to every portion of the human frame; every bone, muscle, vein, nerve and ligament is searched out and made sensible to its soothing and healing indugence. Hence it copes readily with internal as well as external disease.

Over 40 Years.

This Ointment has been used by the people throughout the United States, and our confidence in its qualities is such, that as we have no space here to insert any of the numerous certificates of cures which we have from all parts of the country, we simply ask those readers of this notice who have ever used this Ointment, to frankly state their experience with it to inquiring friends if but one in a hundred would do this we should be perfectly satisfied with the result. Full directions for use will be found on pamphlet around each bottle.

Price 25 and 40 cents per bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

THE VILLAGE ELECTION.

Under the new law recently passed, the election was held last Monday. Two tickets were placed in the field, both of which were strong ones, personally considered, and the result was a warm and close contest. A very large vote was polled, the poll list showing 344 names. Eighteen votes were thrown out for informality. The regular or corporation ticket was chosen by majorities ranging from 1 to 78, over the Citizen's ticket. Below is a table of the result. The first name under each office is the "corporation" nominee, the second one being on the citizen's ticket.

"For a Million."

This play was given at Sutton's opera house last evening, under the direction of Mr. Westley Mantell, assisted by home talent. It is a very good play for amateurs, as ordinary scenery answers the purpose. There is enough blood and thunder in it to disturb the nerves of old maids, and enough comedy to keep the audience in good humor. Mr. Mantell has had experience on the boards before and he acted the part of Hopper in an admirable manner. Ed. Smallidge, Mart Crossman, and Chas. Egan had minor parts, but they were well carried. C. D. Hayes personified Gilbert Temple, the villian of the play. This was an uncongenial character for him and a difficult one to act up to nature, but all thought that he performed a hard task very creditably. Fred Beck did finely. Geo. Schreder played the drunken loafer true to life, and Wade Waring made a splendid Lawyer Bruce. The young ladies, Misses Lottie Aten, Minnie Reeves and Lula Powell, all did finely, seizing the salient points firmly that needed emotional work, and yet not overacting their parts. Taken all in all it was a most creditable amateur performance. It will be repeated this evening.

Elsa Ladies Quartet.

The Elsa Ladies Quartet concert company arrived in Hudson the same day that winter did. But, nevertheless they had a very appreciative audience. The quartet can sing, they enter into the spirit of song, there is soul and expression in the work of the young ladies, comprising this stellar combination. Hudson people are very much indebted to the young ladies, Miss Genevieve Buck, Belle Wheeler, Blanch Wheeler, and Irene Morgan, for the beautiful harmonies they rendered at the opera house Friday evening. W. T. Barnum, whistler, is simply marvelous in the variety and cleverness of his work. Miss Blanch Wheeler was very pleasing with the violin and Miss Genevieve Buck, whom we may almost claim for a Hudson girl, acquitted herself with much credit, not only to herself but also to her vocal instructress, Mrs. Johnson. The individual and collective work of all the entertainers was good, immensely so, and everything was appreciated so highly that the audience wanted more of it.—Hudson Republican.

Mr. Barnum unless detained by business or other good reasons will be present at the Chocolate Tea, and give a few selections; go anyway if he is not there. The Elsa ladies will help to entertain you. Admission only 10 cents.

THE FIFTY THIRD CONGRESS.

These are the lawbreakers whom the public send to Congress as their lawmakers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4th—The closing hours of Congress were characterestised by the wanton destruction of a great thirst. The debauch did not reach its accustomed proportions until the session of Sunday and Sunday night. On Saturday the congressmen, particularly the Representatives, began drinking heavily, and on Sunday the onslaughts on the bar under the House of Representatives became so ardent and so prolonged that placards were posted in the corridors and on the walls bearing the legend, "For members only." In order to prevent any one but congressmen from breaking the Sunday law, policemen were stationed at the doors of the saloon to keep out the jam. Waiters working night and day in relays of from 15 to 25 each frantically endeavored to keep up with the demands made upon them, and two cashiers were kept drumming on their cash registers in type writer fashion till the sweat streamed from their faces.

The congressional thirst raged with such fierceness that Sunday afternoon several were disabled and taken from the field of battle. Great care was taken not to permit a congressman to get too far gone. Whenever he became too garrulous he was quietly hustled to a committee-room and kept on a diet of ice water and seltzer until himself again.

Sunday evening Congressman Joseph A. Scranton, of Scranton, Pa., managed to break loose from the inebriates and reached the floor of the House, and in a maudlin fashion began to object to a private bill being called up by De-Armond, of Missouri.

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to know if a member as drunk as that has a right to object?" shouted DeArmond.

The drunken Scranton then began to abuse DeArmond until he was taken out by the sergeant-at-arms by direction of the speaker.

The drinking became so excessive that the chief of police detailed ten extra policemen and three detectives to prevent the general disorder from becoming an open riot.

Late Sunday evening some women became intoxicated, and taking possession of a vault under the House, danced a can-can for the edification of a crowd of men until dispersed by the police.

The saloon under the Senate also ran full blast all night Saturday night, all day Sunday and Sunday night, but managed to keep up a better pretense of decorum. The lobby and the rabble were here permitted to drink as well as the senators, with no policemen to make them afraid.

To-day, on being asked the proceeds of his Sunday's sales for Sunday, the cashier of the House saloon said to a Voice representative that they had not had time to check up the cash, but said it was enough to require more than $200 expense for extra help alone. These saloons in the Capitol are permitted to run upon the theory that Congress has exclusive control over the building and grounds. The saloon-keeper pays no license whatever, simply making the proper application. The House saloon is under control of the speaker and the committee on rules, consisting of Speaker Chas. E. Crisp, T. C. Catchings, J. H. Outhwaite, T. B. Reed, and J. G. Cannon.

The Senate saloon is run by permission of Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson, J. S. Blackburn, I. G. Harris, A. P. Gorman, N. W. Aldrich, and C. F. Manderson.—The Voice.

Arithmetic class did not recite Monday.

The finest treat that the scholars have had in some time was given them last Monday morning when Prof. DeMotte addressed them at the Methodist church. For nearly an hour he held the pupils' closest attention and many lasting impressions were made by him. From his lecture Saturday evening Prof. Kellogg selected the following quotation and asked all of the scholars to memorize it: "The constant exercise of a definite function gradually effects a structural modification."

Rev. R. N. Middleton, M. E. clergyman, Spring Lake, Mich., says: Sleep and rest were strangers to me after preaching till I used "Adironda." Now I sleep soundly and awake refreshed; I can heartily recommend "Adironda." Sold by Orr & Temple. mar.

BRITTON, March 14th, 1895.

Messrs. Orr & Temple, Gentlemen: I have used your Texas DeHorner on calves from two weeks to six months old and it worked complete with only one application, and with proper use I can recommend it highly. Yours truly.

WILLIAM BRITTON.

Fred Landgraf is still holding down a chair in the Auditor's office of the Ohio Central railway at Toledo. He is becoming thoroughly versed in his duties and likes the position very much. Next month this road will occupy an elegant suite of rooms in the new Nasby Block on Madison and Huron streets. We made Fred a call the other day and had a pleasant chat with him.

The section men, while going north this morning, saw a man lying by the track near Bidwell's barns or side track. On examination they found it to be William Webster, the tailor, who appeared to be seriously injured as well as under the influence of liquor. They brought him to the council room and Dr. Tefft was called. He could not discover that there was any serious injury, though his condition is such as to make it impossible to judge what the outcome may be.

Last Monday morning, Prof. DeMotte gave a talk to the school pupils at the M. E. church. The scholars all marched from the different school buildings to the church, assembling there at nine o'clock a. m., and the Professor gave them a splendid lecture about an hour in length. The talk was designed more for the older pupils, but all could appreciate it and be benefited thereby. The main point which he exemplified was this: That success in life, or in any undertaking whatever, means sacrifice. There can be no permanent success without it. In the battle of life caprice must give way to capability, leisure must make way for labor, dissipation must be put under subjection to self discipline and sham must give way to sincerity. These points were developed in strong and beautiful language. The lecture made a profound impression upon all who heard it.

Those who attended the Presbyterian church Sabbath morning had the pleasure of hearing Prof. DeMotte. After being introduced the speaker said that he came to pay the debt of gratitude to his old friend, the pastor of the church. Continuing, he said he wished to talk about the python, and exhibited three python eggs. This python was the largest snake known and one of great power. It was one of the most beautiful of reptiles; when first hatched was perfectly harmless but with age and hunger it became the fiercest of all; a companionable fellow when satisfied but a formidable foe when hungry. He then spoke of the little habits as the little python, that through cultivation became the monster that scarcely none could destroy. The time to destroy the monster was when it was still in the egg; the time to destroy the habit was while it was still young and before it became the great monster that could easily destroy the man. He made a plea to the young to avoid the cultivation of thoughts and habits that in the end would be the python of death. He made a plea to the parent, in behalf of the children; pointing to God as the great and only remedy.

The Gold Flower.

This flower, so fittingly called Gold Flower, was produced by M. Moser, of Versailles, France, and introduced in Europe last season, the plants selling at a very high figure, only a few plants coming to America. The flowers are two or three inches across, of a bright, shining, golden yellow and bearing numerous handsome stamens. The plant is of low, spreading, branching growth, with handsome leaves, the upper side much darker than the lower. It is perfectly hardy, forms an excellent border, or is grand for bedding, while as a single pot plant it is charming with its clean, bright green foliage as a background for the flowers, great, shiny yellow disks, brilliant in their reflections as burnished gold.

This year an enterprising firm is offering it at the price of ordinary plants, viz., 25 cents a plant.

By sending 10 cents to James Vick's Sons, Rochester, N. Y., for Vick's Floral Guide, (which amount may be deducted from first order), you will learn all about this beautiful plant Hyporicum Moserianium, and also regarding their offer of $300 cash for a name for the New Double Sweet Pea.

An Open Letter To Carlisle.

George W. Pepperell is very active in political literature this year, and his series of Open Letters to prominent political leaders in the Arena is attracting as much attention and creating as much curiosity as anything that has appeared in periodical literature since the famous Arthur Richmond letters, which set the political world by the ears and all heads a-wagging some years ago. George W. Pepperell has the same acuteness of perception, the same directness and deftness of attack, the same long memory for political history inside and out, and the same mastery of all the facts of the important legislation of this country during the last twenty five years.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

For a Million to-night.

The pastor of St. Peter's preached in Christ church, Adrian, Wednesday evening.

C. H. Rude has gone to Taylorville, Ill., expecting to find work in a laundry there.

Miss Mina Olmsted, of Bay City, was called here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Ira Fennock.

Henry McClure has been treating his store to a new spring dress of paint and paper, and it looks as neat as a new pin.

W. H. Crane, of Adrian, is offering a rare chance to anyone in search of onion and celery land. Read the notice elsewhere.

The Mich. Christian Endeavor Union will hold its ninth annual State convention at Bay City on the 26th, 27th and 28th of this month.

Daily Lenten services are held in St. Peter's church this week. The only change being the omission of the Saturday afternoon sevice.

A splendid farm, only two miles from Tecumseh, can be bought for just one half its cost if taken soon. Call at this office and learn full particulars.

Died, at New Albany, Indiana, March 7th, of pneumonia, at the age of forty-four, Geo. Everett. The remains arrived Monday last, and were placed in the vault.

Edward S. Pilbeam, of Chicago, who came out to attend his father's funeral, is spending a few days with friends in this vicinity. He expects to return next week.

Last Monday, A. W. Slayton paid the freight on a car load of oak lumber from Mississippi, to Detroit, $117.60. It will be made into picture moulding in Detroit, and then shipped to England.

Elizabetn Stuart Phelps, Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, Rev. Robert Collyer, and Walter Besant are all going to tell in The Ladies' Home Journal of either the man or woman who most influenced their lives.

"Everywhere" is the name of Will Carleton's new literary venture. It is a monthly journal, and is an artistic gem, both editorially and typographically. The price is only fifty cents a year or in connection with the HERALD, $1.50. Sample copies can be procured at this office. Call and get one.

The Rev. Jos. F. Ewings, of Jonesville, exchanges with Rev. Mr. Blachford for next Sunday's services. The sermon by Mr. Ewings will be upon missionary work, and the offertory will go towards the Diocesan mission fund. Mr. Blachford conducts missionary work at Jonesville and Hillsdale.

Mrs. Robbins is not expected home until the last of this or the first of next week. On the adjournment of the council, she accepted an invitation from Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery, the retiring corresponding secretary, to spend ten days at her home at Somerton, Philadelphia, where she will meet Mrs. Dickson, the newly elected president, and Rev. Anna Shaw, vice president, and in the meantime familiarize herself with the duties of her office and secure a little needed rest.—Adrian Telegram.

The Forum for March will contain a special study of the successful systems of profit-sharing by two large manufacturing companies—the Proctor & Gamble Company, near Cincinnati, and the O. Nelson Manufacturing Company, near St. Louis. Mr. Frank W. Blackmar, of the University of Kansas, made a special investigation of the practical working of these profit-sharing concerns especially for The Forum. At both places, labor troubles are unknown, and are unknown even during the most pressed times.

Hastings Boyd, of Albion, made his relatives here a flying visit the first of the week.

The grippe is very prevalent now in this vicinity and there is much other sickness.

Al Heesen was up from Toledo, over Sunday, and made his people and old friends, flying calls.

Mrs. R. A. Heesen went to South Bend, Ind., last Monday for a week's visit with relatives.

Mr. John Hughes and family entertained his son, Arthur, and wife, of Britton, over Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Gardner, of Toledo, occupied the Baptist pulpit last Sunday in exchange with the pastor.

Frank Davidson sold $1200. of stock and tools, for Richard Clarkson, Wednesday; pretty good for these times.

Will P. McAdam, of Clinton, is in Irve Clark's meat market, on west Chicago Street. We are glad to welcome Will among us.

Last evening Mrs. Aldrich was called upon by a number of her friends, and all had a pleasant time at her hospitable home.

Will Elliot, who is attending Cleary's Business College at Ypsilanti, spent the week with his people. He goes back Monday.

Mrs. W. W. Whiting went to Detroit Saturday, for a short visit with her sister, Mattie, who is going west on account of her health.

Mrs. Bice and her committee will serve supper in the M. E. church parlors Wednesday, March 20, from half past five to half past six o'clock.

I have a store filled with A 1 blocks and tools for the business, which I wish to rent for a meat market.
C. M. DICKINSON.

One need not become a "Cook Tourist" to behold the grandeur and sublimity of ancient art—at the Opera House, March 28. Admission ten cents.

Mrs. Charles Eagan and daughter, visited Adrian friends last week. Charles went down Saturday afternoon, and they all returned together Monday night.

Mrs. Dora Clark, after a short visit with friends here, returned to Toledo, Saturday last, to resume her duties in Lasalle Brothers & Cook's dry goods emporium, on Summit Street, where she holds a fine position.

After two years of study in Grecian and Roman Art, the ladies of the Monday Club are prepared to give you the rare treat of an illustrated lecture upon ancient and modern European art. Admission ten cents: date, March 28th: place Opera House.

Surprises are now in order among the G. A. R. and W. R. C. Last week Thos. Hanley and wife were called upon by their good friends and a delightful evening of innocent merriment was enjoyed by all, after which the company dispersed at a seasonable hour. Many wishes were expressed that Thomas and his wife may live 15 more years in their pleasant home.

At the annual election of the Womans' Christian Temperance Union the following officers were chosen:

Mrs. A. B. Smith, President.
" G. W. Jackson, Rec. Secretary.
" Charles Blood, Cor. "
" J. Heck, Treasurer,
" L. M. Kellogg, 1st Vice Pres.
" M. C. Wood, 2d " "
" Hamilton, 3d " "
" William Ide, 4th " "

The glass-blowers, who are giving their exhibition in the Mills block this week, surpass all similar exhibitions given in this city. They are way ahead of the glass blowers who were in the armory hall last winter. They are open both afternoon and evening the rest of the week. On Saturday evening they will give away a beautiful present to the one holding the lucky number. Save your coupons. A present is given to each person attending the entertainment.

Our sportsmen had been quietly and systematically preparing for a fox hunt that would fill the hearts of such hunters as Will VanAntwerp with envy. They planned for a three day's hunt and secured a guide from the west, known as Red Wolf. Tuesday morning of last week, bright and early, with guide and fox hounds. E. M. Coller, J. C. Eccles and J. J. Freeman started for the Lakes. They found plenty of tracks and their spirits were raised to the highest pitch. They traversed the country o'er and o'er, in every direction, and finally saw a real live fox. Whether it was chained in a door-yard or was running wild, our informant did not say. It is said that Coller got a shot at it, so it must have been loose. He no doubt hit it in its most vital part, but the fox did not realize that he was dead, so they failed to secure it. They returned home Thursday night feeling they had no fox, but they had the experience, which was something. Try it again boys. Success will surely crown your efforts sooner or later.

For a Million to-night.

Thos. L. Rogers went to Jackson Monday.

For a Million will be repeated this evening.

Bert Garlinghouse was in Adrian Tuesday.

E. C. Smith, of Toledo, was in town over Sunday.

A. D. Hall was an Adrian visitor Wednesday.

Chas. Burridge went to Detroit on business Wednesday.

W. C. Burridge was in Adrian Wednesday on business.

The mercury almost touched the zero mark yesterday morning.

Wm. Smith is on the sick list with grip and an ulcerated jaw.

Mrs. A. W. Slayton is spending a day or two in Detroit this week.

If you didn't see "For a Million" last night, be sure and go this evening.

We have two obituary notices in hand which are crowded over until next week.

Eugene Hodges and Ed. Mc Kinney made a business trip to Deerfield Wednesday.

Lew Waldron went to Hudson Wednesday in the interest of his windmill business.

Rev. J. P. Varner, of the Methodist Church, will have for his subject next Sunday night: "Infidelity".

Those who are entitled to a copy of our souvenir Echoes, can obtain one now, by calling at this office.

The members of the Friends Church convene at the home of Mrs. Hall this evening, March 15 th, for a social time. All welcome.

Walter Burnett, who is attending college at Albion, was honored last week Thursday, with a license to preach. We congratulate him.

Mrs. Richard Ford arrived in town last Wednesday from Duluth, and expects to remain with friends here for several months. She left Mr. Darling's people all well.

A young farmer with a few hundred dollars to spare can buy a good farm and home near this village, at a bankrupt price now. A chance of a lifetime. Call at this office for further information.

Mrs. E. G. Wilson, wife of Sheriff Wilson, died at her home in Raisin Wednesday afternoon. The funeral was held at the Friends church in Raisin Center this forenoon, Rev. Levi C. Chase officiating.

Wanted—At this office the address of following names: William Mound, M. C. Edwards, Jas. Payne, Ed. Pawson, Fred. Tissman, G.E. Russell. Any one knowing the address of any of the above persons will confer a favor by leaving same at this office.

Yesterday, while casting in Heesen Bros' foundry, John Linton had the misfortune to have his eyes burned quite seriously by red hot iron flying into them; one eye pains him quite badly; he is liable to lay off for a few days.

The young people of the M. E. church will give a maple syrup social Friday evening, March 22. Will serve supper from 5:30 to 7, and from 8 to 9:30. From 7 to 8 o'clock will be spent in a debate. Subject: Woman's suffrage. Aff.—Rev. J. P. Varner, B. C. Day, Grace Burnett, Neg.—Peter S. McKinnon, C. B. Hurry, Mary Eaton. Supper 10cts.

While at Toledo the other day on business, we made a brief call at Allen & Parkhurst's establishment at 337 Superior St. They are dealers in wall paper and all kinds of interior decorations and carry a fine stock. Mr. Richard V. Wilson, an old Tecumseh boy, is now a fixture in this house and is evidently doing well. When Tecumseh people go to Toledo they should call there and look over the establishment.

Monday morning, Arthur, son of Warren Miller, of Macon, had been to Heck's mill, and, as he was driving away, some boys, on their way to school, called out "whoa," and the horse being well trained to the word, stopped. Arthur, expecting to be guyed by the boys, reached for the whip and struck the horse; it being a spirited animal, would not stand that, and started out violently, Arthur soon found he had lost control of the horse, owing to his hands being fairly numb from the cold. The horse in turning south by Williamson's store, ran into a barrel, the buggy tipped and Miller was thrown into the ditch and his head badly cut. The horse was caught in the south part of town. It is almost a wonder that the young man was not killed instantly.

Last week Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. F. Allen, of Toledo, entertained a large number of their friends at their home, 17 Melrose Ave. The evening was spent in rare amusement, amid games of all sorts. An elegant supper was enjoyed shortly before midnight after which followed a musical entertainment, fitting the occasion. Friends and relatives from Tecumseh, Tipton and Ridgeway were present and all joined in an expression of having passed an extremely pleasant evening. The occasion was in lieu of a surprise which was planned to have been given Mrs. Allen, on her birthday, but was prevented by the sudden and severe illness of a member of the family. Mrs. Allen's favoritism is in a slight manner manifested by her friends presenting her with a handsome parlor lamp and numerous other articles and the number of attendants tested the capacity of their spacious and elegant home.

G. J. Richardson spent last Sunday, with his family at Adrian.

The Board of Supervisors are holding their final session of the year, this week.

We just learned that Mrs. Samuel Kniffin, of Britton, is dead, and the funeral will be held at the church in Britton to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. She was an aunt of Frank J. Temple.

Married, in Morenci, Monday evening, at the residence of the groom's brother, George Codling, Mr. Robert Codling and Mrs. Hattie Wells, both of this place. The newly married couple returned Wednesday evening, and are nicely situated in their own home, which was all ready to receive them.

A paper that will attract a wide circle of readers is Frances E. Willard's strong plea for "Scientific Temperance Instruction in the Public Schools" in the Arena for March. The world-wide reputation of the famous temperance and woman's advocate insures a great audience for everything she writes, and her opinions always command respect.

The friends and relatives of Nellie Wood around Tecumseh and Raisin will be glad to learn that she won the Indiana intercollegiate oratorical contest held at Indianapolis, Friday, Mar. 8. Her oration was beyond the ordinary college oration. Her delivery was so perfect and earnest that she held the audience completely. Five out of six of the judges awarded her first place.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. Levi B. Thompson, on Wednesday evening, March 13. The parties most interested were Mr. Joseph B. Vanness and Miss Lizzie S. Thompson. Rev. J. P. Varner officiated in the presence of many friends, after which refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Vanness were the recipients of a number of presents which were both ornamental and useful. They will settle in their own home at once. Success to them.

The lunar eclipse came off last Sunday evening, exactly according to previous announcement. The fore part of the evening was slightly hazy, but the latter part of the eclipse was very distinctly seen here. At the University observatory at Ann Arbor, Prof. Hall took the observations, and while they were of a general character and done to obtain no special result, his remarks are of local interest. In speaking of the matter, he said that from an astronomical point of view, a lunar eclipse did not amount to much. It is only noted for the purpose of observing the moon's passage over small stars which cannot be seen at all when near the moon except at such a time. Observations of these star occulations made at different parts of the earth, furnish the best possible data for computing the dimensions of the moon, its parallax and for determining its precise position in its orbit at the time of observation.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

TO SUCCEED BURROWS.

Congressional Candidate Named in the Third District.

KALAMAZOO, March 8.—Lieut. Gov. Milnes was nominated on the 114th ballot in the Third district republican congressional convention here Thursday as a candidate to succeed J. C. Burrows. From the fifth to the 113th ballot the voting stood as follows: Gardner—Calhoun, 4; Hillsdale, 12; Kalamazoo, 11. Smith—Eaton, 14; Hillsdale, 1; Kalamazoo, 4. Milnes—Branch, 11; Clapp—Calhoun, 12. On the 113th ballot the Hillsdale men voting for Gardner flopped to Smith. On the 113th the Clapp men swung to Smith. Then there was a recess of an hour. Conferences took place and as a result all the Gardner men, except two from Kalamazoo county, swung to Milnes, giving just enough votes to nominate. The last ballot was as follows: Milnes—Branch, 31; Calhoun, 4; Hillsdale, 11; Kalamazoo, 9; total, 55. Smith—Calhoun, 12; Eaton, 14; Hillsdale, 2; Kalamazoo, 6; total, 34.

BATTLE CREEK, March 8.—The Third district congressional convention of free silver men, held here Thursday afternoon, was captured by prohibitionists, who, under the leadership of A. C. Wisner, of Athens, came in with force enough to indorse A. M. Todd, of Kalamazoo, already nominated on the populist ticket.

KALAMAZOO, March 9.—The Third district democratic congressional convention met here Friday and nominated P. H. Gilkey, of Richland, as its candidate for congress to succeed Julius C. Burrows, recently elected United States senator.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

It Affects 68,000 Acres of Valuable Land in the Upper Peninsula.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—The secretary of the interior has decided a case involving about 68,000 acres of land located in the upper peninsula of Michigan near Lake Superior and valued at between $100,000 and $150,000. A resume of the case is as follows:

By a grant of 500,000 acres of land was made by the government in 1856 to the state of Michigan for the benefit of Portage Lake and Lake Superior Ship Canal company, now owned by the Wakeena limited, a corporation. The grant was settled by patenting to the company the amount called for in the grant. Certain persons desired to file Porterfield scrip upon some of these lands patented to the company, and their applications being refused because patents were issued to the same lands, petition was filed asking the secretary of the interior to recommend to the attorney general of the United States that suit be brought to set aside the adjudication, cancellation of certain patents of these lands. The commissioner of the general land office recommended that such suit be brought. The principal point in the petition was that the lands applied for, including the 68,000 acres, were of mineral character and the act making the grant provided for non-mineral lands only to be patented to the company.

The secretary, in disposing of the matter, did not concur with the commissioner of the general land office holding as the principal point of his decision that Oliver H. Browning, a former secretary of the interior, had practically decided that the lands certified were not as a fact mineral lands and refused to disturb Secretary Browning's decision upon a question in fact.

LUMBER STATISTICS.

Michigan Manufactured 2,730,657,864 Feet in 1894.

SAGINAW, March 11.—The output of Michigan lumber for 1894 was 2,730,657,864 in round numbers, 117,000,000 less than the output in 1893, and 1,000,000,000 feet less than the output of 1892. At the close of the season there was in manufacturers' hands 1,215,107,869 feet, being only 33,000,000 feet less than the quantity on hand at the close of 1893. At the close of 1892 there was only 857,000,000 feet on hand. The decrease in output and increase in stocks on hand is due chiefly to the business depression of the last two years which has paralyzed nearly every industry in the land, lumber being particularly affected.

The shingle output in the state of Michigan during 1894 was 1,646,929,000 pieces, and at the close of the season there was on hand 454,017,000 pieces. The output was 209,000,000 pieces less than for 1893 and the stock on hand was 100,000,000 more than at the close of 1893. The price of the lumber product averaged about $2.50 per 1,000 feet less in 1894 than in 1892.

An Awful Affair.

DETROIT, March 10.—William Abbott, farmer, aged 50 years, was run over and fatally injured by a train on the Lake Erie road, east of Windsor, Saturday morning. He died later. Abbott had been ill with fever. During the night he became delirious, arose and donning a pair of drawers fled, across the fields. The engineer saw a half-naked man on the track, but instead of getting out of the way Abbott deliberately lay down and the train passed over him.

Claims He Was Hypnotized.

GRAND RAPIDS, March 8.—Peter Blanksma, of Walker, Thursday morning set up a unique defense in the police court where he was arraigned on a charge of nonsupport. Blanksma married a pretty Wyoming township girl last January, and after two days of married life he left her. He now declares that he was hypnotized by the girl and will try to have the marriage annulled on that ground.

Christian Endeavor Papers Read.

DECATUR, March 10.—Saturday was Christian Endeavor day at the meeting of the Michigan Christian Missionary association, the reading of papers occupying the time. During the afternoon session the topic, "Should Ministers Discuss Questions Which Agitate the Public Mind?" was discussed. Rev. J. Moore, of Dowagiac, delivered an address at night.

Daylight Soon to Be Tried.

LANSING, March 11.—August W. Lindholm, ex-deputy secretary of state, will be tried at this term of court. Frank A. Potter and George B. Warren, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of complicity in the salary amendment frauds, will also be tried.

Fruit Prospects Bright.

PENNVILLE, March 12.—The prospect for a fruit crop in this portion of the fruit belt was never better, the severely cold weather having done no damage as yet, and in consequence the farmers are correspondingly jubilant.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., March 8.—The senate on Thursday passed the bill appropriating $6,000 to provide for eight inspectors of factories. The bill making it lawful to shoot deer in any section of the state only from November 15 to November 30 was also passed. The senate committee on labor made a favorable report on the bill recommended by Gov. Rich as a solution of disputes between capital and labor. The bill provides for the incorporation of labor organizations so that they may sue and be sued, and thus settle their difficulties as other corporations do.

LANSING, Mich., March 9.—The senate judiciary committee on Friday reported adversely upon the house resolution for a general increase of salaries for state officers. Favorable committee reports were made on bills appropriating $120,000 for additional buildings at the home for the feeble-minded; appropriating $170,000 for the soldiers' home; appropriating $22,000 for the state fish commission, and providing for local option on the local traffic by the vote of cities, villages and townships, instead of by county, as now.

LANSING, Mich., March 12.—The senate on Tuesday passed bills appropriating $73,702.69 for the fish commission, for the submission of a constitutional amendment increasing the salaries of state officers, for the purchase and display of United States flags on all schoolhouses of the state. The appointments of F. Hart Smith, of Hillsdale, as a member of the board of control of the Jackson prison, and of Albert C. Schumaker, of Ann Arbor, as a member of the state board of pharmacy for five years, were confirmed.

House.

LANSING, Mich., March 8.—Bills passed the house Thursday authorizing the city of Menominee to build a bridge across the Menominee river, and authorizing women to act as trustees of Baptist churches. Bills abolishing days of grace on commercial paper and providing for an examination and reappraisement of all state lands were killed. A bill was passed requiring nurses and midwives to report any inflammation of the eyes of children under 2 weeks old. Oculists say 25 per cent of the blindness among children can be avoided if these defects are treated at the proper time.

LANSING, Mich., March 9.—In the committee of the whole the house Friday agreed to bills providing for the return of any bonus that may have been paid to corporations for locating at a given point in case they abandon the locality, and for the purchase and display of United States flags on all public schoolhouses. The Campbell bill providing that before any corporation can do business in Michigan the entire amount of the authorized capital must be subscribed and 25 per cent thereof actually paid in was opposed by the upper peninsula delegation, who asserted that it would drive vast numbers of Michigan corporations into other states. No conclusion was reached and the bill will come up again next week.

LANSING, Mich., March 12.—Bills were passed in the house Monday empowering the regents of the university to hold land in perpetual trust for that institution, and also providing for the depositing by the regents with the state treasurer of whatever cash bequests may be made the university and the payment by the state of whatever interest that money may earn from year to year. The bill appropriating $4,000 for continuing the reconciliation of the records of the adjutant general's office also passed. The legislators will, by invitation visit the university at Ann Arbor on March 22.

LANSING, Mich., March 13.—A bill passed the house Tuesday providing that staff officers in the national guard shall have had three years' service in the state or national troops. The Partridge bill providing that in all cities having a population of over 50,000 all canvasses of the respective parties shall be held at the same hour in all precincts was passed. If there is doubt that any party participating in the caucus is an adherent of the party the bill provides that he may be sworn as to his purpose to support the nominee at the polls.

Plot to Rob Freight Cars Unearthed at Detroit.

DETROIT, March 9.—Detective Hunt, of the Wabash railroad, has unearthed a plot to steal from the freight cars of the road, and has arrested Charles Bromiski and August Brammowski, of Springwells, who live near the Wabash tracks. These men have long been suspected of plundering the railroads of thousands of dollars' worth of freight every year. Hunt caught them both opening a freight car Monday night. After their arrest he made a search of Bromiski's premises and found that a subterranean passage had been constructed, leading from the embankment at the track near Bromiski's house to the cellar of his barn. The barn had no appearance of having a cellar, the trap door which led to it being cleverly concealed. In the cellar he found all kinds of plunder, from barrels of flour and sacks of coffee to raisins, boxes of soap and small parcels. Bromiski has been in the habit of driving into the country very often and selling the stolen groceries to the farmers much below market price. Bromiski's business ostensibly was to sell and buy rags. He and Brammowski have both become well-to-do from their stealings.

MICHIGAN CROPS.

Their Condition as Shown in the March Report.

LANSING, March 9.—In the March crop report Secretary of State Gardner says:

"Practically all of the Michigan wheat crop of 1894 has been consumed. The crop was estimated at 21,627,649 bushels. The amount used for seed, for bread by farmers, and the amount reported sold to date together with the amount estimated as fed to stock, which is 22 per cent of the crop, aggregates 21,053,618 bushels, leaving only 574,031 bushels on hand. In this calculation only sales actually reported are included. The sales in February and previous months not yet reported will wipe out all of the balance noted. All future deliveries by farmers must come from reserves from previous crops. In condition live stock averages from five to seven points below a full average, comparison being with stock in good, healthy and thrifty condition."

Plan of Michigan Lumbermen.

MUSKEGON, March 12.—A meeting of a syndicate of western Michigan lumbermen was held here to plan for gigantic lumbering operations, the first step of which will be the purchase of several thousand acres of pine lands on Georgian bay, Ont., the logs to be towed to Muskegon for sawing.

Seven Hundred New Citizens.

MARQUETTE, March 10.—Nearly 700 persons on Friday came down from Ishpeming, Negaunee and other mining locations to take oaths so as to be able to vote in the coming municipal elections next month. Mining captains appeared as witnesses for applicants.

Teachers to Take a Trip.

ANN ARBOR, March 11.—Superintendent W. S. Perry, of the Ann Arbor schools, will manage the delegation of Michigan teachers who propose to attend the national teachers' convention in Denver next July. They will leave July 6.

FOR WOMEN.

There are facts which every woman should know and should teach her daughters, but which many never learn because they have no trustworthy teacher, and don't know where to find one. To supply this want the Zoa-Phora Medicine Company, at Kalamazoo, Mich., publishes a book on Diseases of Women and Children, well illustrated, easily understood. Every woman, or girl above 15 years, should read it. For the purpose of advertising they will, on receipt of 10 cts. to cover cost of mailing, send a pamphlet edition, in sealed envelope to any lady (and to ladies only) who desires it.

A Bank Failure.

AN INVESTIGATION DEMANDED.

A general banking business is done by the human system, because the blood deposits in its vaults whatever wealth we may gain from day to day. This wealth is laid up against "a rainy day" as a reserve fund we're in a condition of healthy prosperity if we have laid away sufficient capital to draw upon in the hour of our greatest need. There is danger in getting thin, because it's a sign of letting down in health. To gain in blood is nearly always to gain in some flesh. The odds are in favor of the germs of consumption, grip, or pneumonia, if our liver be inactive and our blood impure, or if our flesh be reduced below a healthy standard. What is required is an increase in our germ-fighting strength. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery enriches the blood and makes it wholesome, stops the waste of tissue and at the same time builds up the strength. A medicine which will rid the blood of its poisons, cleanse and invigorate the great organs of the body, vitalize the system, thrill the whole being with new energy and make permanent work of it, is surely a remedy of great value. But when we make a positive statement that 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption can, if taken in the early stages of the disease, be CURED with the "Discovery," it seems like a bold assertion. All Dr. Pierce asks is that you make a thorough investigation and satisfy yourself of the truth of his assertion. By sending to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., you can get a free book with the names, addresses and photographs of a large number of those cured of throat, bronchial and lung diseases, as well as of skin and scrofulous affections by the "Golden Medical Discovery." They also publish a book of 160 pages, being a medical treatise on consumption, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, which will be mailed on receipt of address and six cents in stamps.

APRIL IN IRELAND.

She hath a woven garland all of the sighing sedge,
And all her flowers are snowdrops grown on the winter's edge.
The golden looms of Tir na n'Og wove all the winter through
Her gown of mist and raindrops shot with a cloudy blue.

Sunlight she holds in one hand, and rain she scatters after,
And through the rainy twilight we hear her fitful laughter.
She shakes down on her flowers the snow less white than they,
Then quickens with her kisses the folded knots of May.

She seeks the summer lever that never shall be hers,
Pale for gold leaves of autumn she passes by the furze;
Though buried gold it hideth, she scorns her sedge crown,
And pressing blindly sunward she treads her snowdrops down.

Her gifts are all a larder of wayward smiles and tears,
Yet hope she also holdeth, this daughter of the years—
A hope that blossoms faintly set upon sorrow's edge
She hath a woven garland all of the sighing sedge.

A NIGHT THIEF.

There was a large party at the Chateau de Kerdall, near Vannes. The Marquis de Kerdall and his young wife had just returned from a tour of the world on their yacht, during which they had paid flying visits to Africa, America and Oceanica, and they had celebrated their home coming by gathering together all their friends and relatives at their beautiful country house.

Among the guests was old Dr. Cornabue, an illustrious member of the Academy of Metaphysical Sciences, so original, so absentminded, so venerable in his blond peruke and his costume of the fashion of 1850. Then there was Mme. de Lartigues, an old school friend of the marquise, a brilliant and coquettish Parisienne. And there was Miss Hawthorne, an English maiden lady with youthful propensities. And there were many others, all of whom found plenty of amusement to their hearts' content at Kerdall.

Outside of the ordinary pleasures of life there were some unusual attractions. In the first place the host and hostess had seen and experienced so much that was novel and startling that their conversation was always fascinating. Then the rooms of the castle constituted a veritable museum, being stocked with rare and curious objects from two continents. And finally a manageric had been created in one corner of the park and stocked with the various animals which M. de Kerdall had picked up during the voyage and brought back to France for purposes of acclimatization. There were gazelles, antelopes, Tibet goats, Nile ibises, rose flamingoes, opossums, beavers and an Asiatic ape of the mandrill species, as mild as a lamb, but as mischievous as all his kind. An iron lattice cage had been built for him close to the conservatory.

As will be seen, the Chateau de Kerdall was a veritable Eden, but this fact did not prevent little Mme. de Lartigues from dreading the isolated position of the place among the wide expanse of woods and fields.

"I should be afraid to live here all the year round," she said.

"Afraid of what, my dear?" asked the marquise.

"Oh, of robbers. They would fairly revel here."

Robbers! In this mansion filled to the eaves with guests and servants! Everybody mocked at the young woman, and old Dr. Cornabue told horrible stories about burglars and assassins until Mme. de Lartigues, ashamed of her chimerical fears, was the first to laugh, and when the retiring hour came she mounted to her sleeping apartment on the second floor, supplied with a goodly stock of heroism. Within a short time all the occupants of the chateau were in the land of dreams.

How long Mme. de Lartigues slept she knew not. She was awakened by a rattling at her window, which she had left half open on account of the heat.

What was her terror when in the feeble starlight she saw a form climbing noiselessly through the window. She tried to scream, but her throat was parched with fright, and she could not utter a sound.

The man had entered the chamber. Then the poor woman hastily buried her head beneath the bedclothing. Half dead with fear, she could hear her nocturnal visitor going and coming across the carpet with muffled steps. It seemed as though he must have removed his shoes in order to tread softly. Bathed with cold perspiration and her teeth chattering she awaited the mortal blow from the invader. But it did not come.

After about a quarter of an hour she timidly peeped out. She could see and hear nothing. Slightly reassured, she recovered the use of her voice and started a series of shrieks, so sharp, piercing and terrible that in an instant the entire chateau was turned topsy turvy. Everybody rushed into her chamber with lights in their hands, M. and Mme. de Kerdall at the head.

"What is it? What's the matter?" they cried.

She recounted her horrible vision. They would not believe her. She had been dreaming. Who could have climbed into this chamber, so high above the ground, without a ladder?

"Did you see him plainly?" asked the marquis, with a touch of suspicion in his voice.

"As plainly as I see you, and it even seemed"— She hesitated.

"What!"

"It seemed as though I could recognize Dr. Corabue in his blond wig and redingote."

Everybody laughed. What! Dr. Cornabue! A man of his age and character scaling windows at midnight! It was certain now that Mme. de Lartigues had been dreaming. They tried to dissipate her fear, and she was just about to persuade herself that she had been the victim of an hallucination when she happened to cast her eyes upon the bureau, where she had left her jewels.

They were gone! It had truly been a robber!

The laughing suddenly ceased, and they looked at one another in consternation.

All at once another cry was heard, a piercing shriek coming through the stillness of the night. It appeared to emanate from Miss Hawthorne's chamber. There was a rush for her apartment, and the English lady was found standing in the middle of the room, with frightened eyes.

"There, there!" she cried, pointing to the window. "A man! He escaped, but I recognized him."

"Who was it?"

"Dr. Cornabue!"

The doctor again! This time nobody laughed. Cornabue was looked for among the persons who had been attracted by the excitement, but he was not there. He was the only occupant of the chateau who was missing.

"Come, let us go to the doctor's room," said the marquis, knitting his brows. "He will doubtless solve the mystery for us."

All followed Kerdall, the men half dressed, the women in their white night robes, all carrying candles—a weird procession. Upon the entrance of the crowd, the doctor hurriedly wrapped himself in the bedclothes, his wrinkled countenance alone being visible over the top, and this convulsed by anger into a comical grimace. The candle light was reflected from his bald pate, which shone like old ivory.

"Is this some ill timed joke?" he stormed. "What is going on? Is the chateau on fire? I heard a terrible outcry and was about to inquire into it."

"You must come and join us, doctor," said Kerdall.

"And how shall I do it?" cried the doctor furiously. "Some rascal has run off with my clothing, and in exchange has left me this," and he savagely hurled a white object into the middle of the room.

"My corsets!" murmured Miss Hawthorne, modestly lowering her eyes.

"And this!" continued the doctor, wildly brandishing another article.

"My hat!" cried Mme. de Lartigues. "This raillery passes all bounds," howled the doctor, whose shining head, with one final grimace, ducked beneath the bedclothing, like the clown going through a trapdoor in the marionette theater.

They knew not what to think. The mystery was growing more complicated. It certainly looked as though a robber had entered the chateau—perhaps a whole band of burglars and assassins. Mme. de Lartigues imagined a troop of brigands armed to the teeth.

"Let us hope they have no guns," said the marquis, to raise the hopes of his guests.

There was no echo to the pleasantry. Suddenly a strange sound was heard coming from the ground floor. It was certainly the piano in the reception salon, but it was surely being played by goblin fingers, and so furiously that it seemed as though the keys must be broken.

"This is too much!" cried the marquis, rushing toward the staircase, with all the crowd, except Dr. Cornabue, close behind him.

They hastily penetrated the salon. It was empty. The mysterious visitor was gone, but he could not be far away. The crash of china and glass announced his presence in the dining room. Everybody rushed thither, and the marquis, who was in the lead, dimly saw a form escaping through the window into the garden.

"This time we've got him!" he cried.

The men seized guns and knives from a hunting rack in the vestibule and started across the garden and park in pursuit of the fugitive, while the women barricaded themselves in the salon and anxiously awaited the result of the chase. It was about an hour later, in the uncertain light which precedes the rising of the sun, that a servant discovered the mysterious stranger ensconced among the branches of a large oak. At his call the marquis and his guests hastened to the spot.

"Come down!" commanded M. de Kerdall, but the bandit only settled himself deeper among the foliage and made no response.

"Come down, or I will shoot!"

And, as there was still no reply, he lifted his gun and already had his finger upon the trigger when the domestic hurriedly pulled his arm and said:

"Do not fire, monsieur. It is Dr. Cornabue!"

And, sure enough, the blond wig and long redingote could now be seen among the leaves. But at this moment the first ray of sunlight gleamed in from the east, and the oak was illuminated. The marquis suddenly broke into a fit of explosive laughter and, as his guests gazed up into the tree they could not keep from following his example.

"The ape!"

Everything was explained. The animal had escaped from his cage the previous evening and had managed to effect an entrance into the chateau. Animated by his instinct of imitation, he had first attired himself in the doctor's effects and then wandered over the house at his own free will. He was put back into his prison after some little trouble, and at breakfast the party enjoyed a hearty laugh at the adventures of the night.

But Dr. Cornabue did not appear at the table. He left the chatean at an early hour, furious and without taking leave. Since this episode he has never set foot at Kerdall, and he has never lost a feeling of deep antipathy to Mme de Lartigues and Miss Hawthorne.

"How could they have mixed me up with a monkey?" he wants to know.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Lesson For the Week Beginning March 17. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, The Sin Offering.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Lev. iv, 1-7; Heb. ix, 1-14; Heb. x, 5-12.

The sin offering was the most important of all the sacrifices prescribed in the Mosaic ritual. They were not to be omitted even on festive occasions like the Passover, Pentecost and Feast of Tabernacles. But there was nothing joyous about it. Rather it represented a terrible necessity. Considerable similarity existed between the trespass offering and the sin offering, yet they were distinct in meaning and manner of observance. The first was to atone for certain particular wrongs committed, and the animal sacrificed was a ram. The sin offering made atonement for the person of the offender as a sinner rather than for a special offense. This sacrifice was never a ram, but in the case of a priest or the offering for the whole congregation it was a young bullock. For a ruler it was a male kid of the goats. One of the common people might bring a female kid or lamb. If too poor to bring these, two turtledoves or two young pigeons or an offering of sifted flour was accepted. No oil or frankincense was to be offered with this sacrifice. When presented for the congregation or a priest, some of the blood was to be brought into the holy place and sprinkled before the veil of the most holy place, and also put on the horns of the golden altar of incense. The remainder was poured at the bottom of the brazen altar. The fat, kidneys and caul were burned on the brazen altar. All the rest of the animal was burned outside the camp or city in the place where the ashes from the altar were placed. When the offering was made for a ruler or one of the common people, the priest performing the service was to sprinkle the blood on the horns of the brazen altar and to eat the animal in the court of tabernacle or temple. Probably this was to give assurance to the offerer of the acceptance of his sacrifice by God, who would not have allowed it to be eaten if the sin was not pardoned. On the great day of atonement the high priest entered the most holy place and sprinkled the blood of the sin offerings for himself and the congregation upon and before the mercy seat.

All types are fulfilled in Jesus, our sin offering, since "by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us." Again: "The bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin are burned without the camp. Therefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate." With special force then comes the exhortation, "Let us go forth, therefore, unto him without the camp bearing his reproach. For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come."

Enthusiasm of Numbers.

There is oftentimes an inspiration in numbers. A sense of power and consciousness of companionship is imparted, courage is strengthened and determination fixed. We hail with gladness the indications apparent on every hand that the young people of the church of Jesus are awake and banding together for aggressive work. The international convention of the Christian Endeavor society to be held in Boston in June will be a notable gathering. The magnificent building of Mechanics' hall will be supplemented by two mammoth tents, and ample provision will be made for an immense throng. The Chattanooga convention of the Epworth League will be equally important in the interests of the kingdom of God within the bounds of Methodism. The crowds may not be so large perhaps, but mighty results will unquestionably follow both gatherings.

Christ In All.

The general subject for study during the first quarter of the year is Christ and his work as symbolized in the worship of the Jewish tabernacle and temple. The minute details of construction of the various parts and their furnishings, with the directions for proper performance of the elaborate ritual of sacrifice, lose all tediousness and become wondrously fascinating when once the thought is fully grasped of their spiritual significance. The book of Hebrews is the key to the treasures hidden in Exodus and Leviticus. Christ the high priest and sacrifice for sin is the central truth of both the Jewish and Christian systems, symbolically set forth in the first, fully revealed in the second.

Vermont Gets It.

The annual convention of the first general district has always been well attended and deeply interesting. It has been held in Boston, Providence, Portland, Worcester, Plymouth, Mass., and Manchester, N. H. Strong appeals were made by the Leagues of Taunton, Mass., and St. Johnsbury, Vt., for the next session in October, 1895, to be held with them. After careful consideration the cabinet decided to appoint it at the latter place. No great gathering of the League has ever been held in that state, and it is hoped this meeting will give fresh impetus to the cause.

Philosophy Not Religion.

Dr Sendder says that at the parliament of religions in Chicago no oriental religion save that of Zoroaster was represented. The systems of philosophy there discussed are no more representative of the religions of the east than are the systems of Hegel and Herbert Spencer of the religions of Germany and England.

Temperance Work.

The most encouraging feature of this greatest reform of the age lies in the zeal with which the young people's societies enter into the work. Total abstinence is generally the rule. Prohibition of the saloon is their aim. The promise for sobriety among the people was never so great as at present.

DR. HARTMAN

Said In a Recent Lecture on Chronic Catarrh and Consumption.

Catarrh of the lungs is, ordinarily, known as consumption, also called turberculosis. In these cases the catarrh has usually found its way into the lungs by the gradual extension of the disease down into the lungs. Consumption is the natural termination of all cases of neglected chronic catarrh. Every one who is afflicted with chronic catarrh is liable to be attacked with consumption at any time. In the first stages of the disease Pe-ru-na is a sure cure; in the later stages of the disease Pe-ru-na can be relied upon to produce great benefit, and in a large per cent of cases produce a permanent cure. All those afflicted with this dread disease should begin at once the following treatment:

After all other means have been tried in vain; after doctors have pronounced the case hopeless and friends have gave up in despair; after the patient has lost all faith and the incessant care of attendants seem futile, still there is hope in Pe-ru-na. Send for a free copy of Family Physician, No. 2, a complete treatise on chronic catarrh, coughs, colds, la grippe and consumption. Address The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

For free book on cancer address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Then and Now.

There was a time when he who would keep informed of the progress of knowledge, the record of discovery and invention, and the currents of human thought could and indeed must rely chiefly if not wholly upon books. That day has passed. Books we must still read, as the crystallization and permanent embodiment of human thought and knowledge. But to-day it is the newspaper, the magazine, the periodical review, upon which we must chiefly depend if we would follow closely the intellectual movements of the day. And now a new difficulty has arisen. This newspaper and periodical literature has become so multitudinous and bulky as to be a heavy burden to the busy man or woman, while even the person who has leisure and inclination to read widely is often unable to get access to the current publications. Especially in the smaller cities, villages, and rural districts is the lack of such opportunity felt. It is felt by the clergymen, the teacher, the lawyer, the physician, the merchant, the artisan, the farmer and the cultured and thoughtful women of the household. With all these and many other classes of persons the great practical literary question is: How can I best supplement my indispensable home paper? It was to answer this question and meet this demand that Public Opinion (now published in New York City) was founded nine years ago. It selects the best, condenses it to the last degree, and serves it in convenient and attractive form.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have been selling Dish Washers three weeks, and have cleared $315. Can any of your readers, without previous experience, beat this? In this business a woman can make as much as a man. Every family wants a Dish Washer when they can be got so cheap, and they will have one, no matter who it is that is selling it. I am convinced any one can make from $5 to $10 a day in this business anywhere, city or country. They all want Dish Washers. You can get particulars by addressing the Iron City Dish Washer Co., E. E. Pittsburg, Pa., and by beginning at once, you can have enough money by spring to start in most any kind of business. I am going to stick right to this Dish Washer business until I Make $10,000.

Table Talk.

"Decorations for a Dining-Room" by Miss Elizabeth R. Sheldon, is the leading article in the March number of TABLE TALK, the American authority upon Culinary and Household topics. Her suggestions are both bright and practical, and we are not surprised that her decorations have become a necessity in the homes of our National Capital, before they can be considered complete. Mr. Charles W. Garfield, Secretary of the Michigan State Board of Agriculture, also gives a very interesting account of the progress of Domestic Science in the Farmers' Institutes of his own state and elsewhere. The regular departments and the Dietetic Lesson are as usual, full to overflowing with bright and new ideas on all subjects of interest to the house-keeper and house-maker. There are the menus and recipes by Miss Helen Louise Johnson, also mention of the newest things in table-service, novelties, etiquette, fashions, and literature and so on. This magazine is published in Philadelphia, at $1.00 per year, and a sample copy is offered to any of our readers, free.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.

THE CITY OF EDINBURGH.

Odd Leaves from the Diary of J. P. Jenkins' Transatlantic Trip.

Between the hours of nine and ten o'clock in the morning of July 22d. we boarded a train at Glasgow, Scotland, for the city of Edinburgh, arriving at Waverley station at 11 o'clock, a. m. We put up at the Cockburn hotel within a short distance of the station, and immediately set out to visit Edinburgh castle. This castle is situated on a rock some 300 feet high. This rock is so precipitous that the castle can only be entered from one side. Before the days of gunpowder this castle was almost impregnable, but under the present system of warfare, doubtless it could be taken without difficulty. There are quite a number of soldiers quartered here, and we were informed that there are 80,000 stand of arms stored in the castle. There are a few cannon on the grounds about the castle; one of which excited our curiosity very much was an old cannon made in an early day in Belgium, named Mons Meg, intended at that time, somewhere about five centuries ago, to be loaded, not with shot or shell, but with a large round stone. We entered the castle and passed into the 'Crown Room,' where is kept what is called the 'Honors of Scotland,' consisting of the crown of Robert Bruce, the sceptre, and the sword of state. From the crown room we passed into a small apartment once occupied by Mary, Queen of Scotts; these apartments are only interesting from the fact that they were once occupied by that unfortunate woman. On the summit of this precipitous rock stands Queen Margaret's chapel, only sufficiently large to hold a half a dozen, and only interesting on account of its antiquity, having been built about 850 years ago. It was now nearly one o'clock p. m., and we waited a few minutes to hear the cannon fired. We then retraced our steps across the bridge which spans the moat, and continued our walk along High Street until we came to John Knox's house, an old dilapidated building, where you pay a shilling to see the house in which resided one of the most noted men of the Reformation. It should have a better class of tenants than those that occupy it at the present time. It is a singular circumstance that the good people of Edinburgh have built monuments to Scott, Burns, and many other of her noted men, but there is nothing to commemorate the name of John Knox. A cobbler occupies the apartment where the great Reformer breathed his last, and tells the visitor that, "This is the room that Jonny Knoox died." From John Knox's house in High Street to Holyrood palace is a long walk.

HOLYROOD PALACE.

This palace was first built by David first of Scotland, and was destroyed by Cromwell's soldiers in the year 1650. It was rebuilt in the reign of Charles II of England. We paid a six pence before we were permitted to roam over this old palace which has been the scene of so many historical events. They claim a portion of the Cross here, while other parts of it are scattered over various countries of Europe. We were interested in visiting the apartments of Queen Mary. The old bed remains which was occupied by Mary; time has done much to destroy the texture of the bed clothing, besides it is decidedly out of fashion. We visited the little room where Rizzio, Mary's secretary was assassinated by her jealous husband, Darnley and others. It is said that he ran around Mary for protection, but he was stabbed to death and dragged down stairs by his assailants. The guide did not show us the stains of blood on the floor, but he did point out the room where John Knox had a very stormy audience with Queen Mary. We visited the room containing many old paintings of hypothetical kings of Scotland, but there is nothing particularly striking or beautiful about any of them. From Holyrood palace we directed our steps to Calton Hill, where is located a fine monument to Nelson, the hero of Trafalgar, and a national monument to the Scottish soldiers who were killed in the Peninsular war and on the field of Waterloo. On Calton hill, one gets a good view of the city, but the wind was blowing a perfect gale, so we made our descent, passing up Princess street, taking in its fine gardens with their beautiful flowers, until we came in view of the monument to Sir Walter Scott, which is the finest monument in Edinburgh, and one of the most beautiful in the world; in fact I know of none so grandly situated. In Edinburgh no man's name is more honored than that of Sir Walter Scott, and probably none more deserving. We went down Cowgate, a mere lane, and looked for the house where Brougham was born, but could not find it, although it was easily seen that dirt was bred and born everywhere.

We boarded the horse cars and visited the city of Leith, situated about three miles from Princess street. This is the port of Edinburgh, and its general appearance is very dirty. It is noted for fish and fish women; it should never be incorporated with Edinburgh on account of its filth.

ST. GILES CHURCH.

We paid a visit to this old church, because it is the most famous church in Edinburgh. It was in this church that John Knox ministered, and in it are the tombs of Montrose and Regent Murray, both historical names of Scotland. It was here that John Knox delivered many of his powerful discourses, and it was in this the Solemn League and Covenant was signed. Between St. Giles' Church and the old parliament house is a square, where we were informed is the burial place of John Knox. After a great deal hunting we found a stone with the letters "J. K. 1572" inscribed on it, which is all that marks the grave of this celebrated man. We visited the old parliament house and found some difficulty in making our way through its many rooms and corridors. The building at present is used for court rooms and lawyers offices; it also contains a library of three hundred thousand volumes. Lawyers with long gowns and powdered wigs were floating about the building resembling the old monks of Italy, but not so sleek, fat and lazy, as these gentlemen. On High Street is located Tron church, named from a public tron, or weighing machine. When a slippery coal-dealer was found weighing falsely, he was nailed up by the ears, and close by this old church is the place where this delicate operation was performed. It is said that a man seldom requires the second operation.

It would not do to leave Edinburgh without seeing the Forth bridge, we therefore took an afternoon train for this celebrated bridge, passing the domain of Lord Roseberry, the present prime minister of England, who owns the land between Edingburgh and the Forth bridge. This bridge is a mile and a half long, and 150 feet above the water. It has a double track, and trains pass each other from opposite directions scarcely lessening their speed. The people of Edinburgh very justly point with pride to this splendid achievement of engineering skill.

Then and Now.

There was a time when he who would keep informed of the progress of knowledge, the record of discovery and invention, and the currents of human thought, could and indeed must rely chiefly if not wholly upon books. That day has passed. Books we must still read, as the crystallization and permanent embodiment of human thought and knowledge. But to-day it is the newspaper, the magazine, the periodical review, upon which we must chiefly depend if we would follow closely the intellectual movements of the day. And now a new difficulty has arisen. This newspaper and periodical literature has become so multitudinous and bulky as to be a heavy burden to the busy man or woman, while even the person who has leisure and inclination to read widely is often unable to get access to the current publications Especially in the smaller citiefs, villages, and rural districts is the lack of such opportunity felt. It is felt by the clergymen, the teacher, the lawyer, the physician, the merchant, the artisan, the farmer and the cultured and thoughtful women of the household. With all these and many other classes of persons the great pratical literary question is: How can I best supplement my indispensable home paper? It was to answer this question and meet this demand that Public Opinion(now published in New York City)was founded nine years ago. It selects the best, condenses it to the last degree, and serves it in convenient and attractive form.

Table Talk.

"Decorations for a Dining-Room" by Miss Elizabeth R. Sheldon, is the leading article in the March number of Table Talk, the American authority upon Culinary and Household topics. Her suggestions are both bright and practical, and we are not surprised that her decorations have become a necessity in the homes of our National Capital, before they can be considered complete. Mr. Charles W. Garfield, Secretary of the Michigan State Board of Agriculture, also gives a very interesting account of the progress of Domestic Science in the Farmers' Institutes of his own state and elsewhere. The regular departments and the Dietetic Lesson are as usual, full to overflowing with bright and new ideas on all subjects of interest to the house-keeper and house-maker. There are the menus and recipes by Miss Helen Louise Johnson, also mention of the newest things in table-service, novelties, etiquette, fashions, and literature and so on. This magazine is published in Philadelphia, at $1.00 per year, and a sample copy is offered to any of our readers, free.

If "professional ethics" forbids doctors and lawyers to advertise, how many free puffs on celebrated cases will cause one of them to stop his paper?

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs Betsy Bangs Celebrates her Eightieth Anniversary with Friends.

A very pleasant event occured at the residence of Mrs. Betsy Bangs, on Saturday last it being the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Bangs. Her children, and grand children, and great grand child, and many more distant relations met at her residence to join with her in celebrating the event. There were present from abroad: W. H. Bangs, and son Homer, from Chillicothe, Ohio; Mrs. Betsy Haight, of Jackson; Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, and Jay Woodward and wife, of Rome; J. W. Griswold and wife, and son Warren, and C. W. Griswold and wife, and little son Glen, of Monroe county; four generations were present, little Glen Griswold being of the fourth generation, and the only great grand child. At 1 o'clock p. m. the guests were invited to the dining room where the tables were loaded with everything that is good for the wants of the inner man.

After dinner was over the guests repaired again to the sitting room to listen to a short program appropriate for the occasion. A song by Mrs. Varner and J. W. Griswold. Mr. Griswold then read a short sketch of the life of Mrs. Bangs, then another song, followed by a very nice poem, addressed to Our Mother on her 80th Birthday, by Mrs Hattie Griswold, this was followed with a recitation by Miss Bertha Smeltzer, to Grandma Bangs on her 80th Birthday. Rev. Varner then made some very appropriate and touching remarks and presented to Mrs. Bangs the many presents that the friends had brought for her. All in all it was a happy gathering, and one long to be remembered by all present. The wishes of all present were that Mrs. Bangs may live to enjoy many more birthday gatherings.

An Electrical Magazine.

Electric Power, now in its seventh year, makes its bow to the public this month in an entirely new form and dress. It will henceforth appear as a magazine both as to size and character—a character which the readers of electrical science will greatly appreciate. The first number of the new form is handsomely printed and contains many excellent illustrations. The reading matter is less technical in its nature and is interesting to those who wish to know something of what is going on in electricity and yet do not care to make a study of the science. Electricity is being applied so universally now that every progressive person should read about it, and Electric Power is well worth the subscription price of $2.00 a year. The publishers offer a trial subscription for six months for $1.00. It can be obtained on the news stands for 20cents a copy. It is published at 36 Cortland Street, New York City.

The Story of a Campaign.

Willis J. Abbot, the Political Editor of the Chicago Times, who is recognized by his fellow journalists as one of the ablest and cleverest political writers in the country, whether one is in sympathy with his views or not, tells the story of the Populist campaign in Chicago in the Arena for Febuary. Mr. Abbot had the advantage all through the campaign of last autumn of being in touch with the leaders of the different elements that are gradually forming a new party, with new social and economic aims in American politics, and his paper has value for all those who want to get at the facts regardless of dominating prejudices. Even the opponents of every sort of change in the political phases of the country should study this paper, in order to estimate the potency of this new political sentiment that is in the air—and is not peculiar to America, but is seizing upon the heart and brain of the whole great western world.

It is a pity Commodore Gerry's bill to establish flogging for certain kinds of criminal has been defated in the Assembly. Public order, security and decency would have gained greatly by its enactment.

One Hundred Dollars Given Away,

Here is an offer to our patrons which is well worth their careful consideration. Probably nine-tenths of our subscriptions expire during January, February and March of each year. All subscribers who shall pay for the full year 1895, prior to April 1st, will be entitled to a chance in the distribution of four sewing machines, worth one hundred dollars. These are—

A New Home,	Value,	$50 00
An Eldridge B.,		20 00
Weeeler & Wilson, No. 8,		25 00
Wheeler & Wilson, second hand,		15 00
Total value,		$100 00

The three machines first named are now, right from the factory. The last one has been carefully used a few months and is practically as good as new. Each paying subscriber will get a numbered receipt and that will be his number in the distribution. The few persons who have already paid for 1895 can call and get a duplicate receipt with a new number. The few subscribers who have paid in advance beyond April 1st can secure the benefit of this offer by paying in advance for the balance of the year, or until Jan. 1st, 1896. The distribution will take place at some convenient place, on Saturday afternoon, April 6th, 1895, when the property will be formally given to our advance paid patrons, to be allotted among themselves in such manner as they may elect. An expenditure of only $1.00, or $1.25 if you live outside of Lenawee county, will secure a chance for one of these premiums. This offer means business.

CLUB LIST FOR 1895.

We are prepared to name better club rates this year than ever before on outside publications. With the periodicals named in the following list we have special terms, but we can obtain subscriptions, at reduced rates, for any newspaper or magazine published:

The Development of the South.

Is being furthered by the Queen & Crescent Route by means of a special series of Monthly Excursions to Southern points at One Fare for the Round Trip. These rates are in effect from Cincinnati, O., and Lexington, Ky., on November 6th and December 4th; good twenty days from date of sale for return. They are sold on these dates to all points in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida (except Key West), and to New Orleans, and all points on our line in Louisana.

Stop-overs are permitted on these excursions at any point south of the Ohio River, within the final limit of the tickets. This offers an excellent opportunity to those who desire to go South to look into the present great movement of Northern to that section.

The Q. & C. has over a million acres of farms and timber land for sale along its line at $3.00 to $5.00 per acre, on easy terms.

Send us your name for advertising matter and any information you may want as to lands and immigration to the South.

James C. Blanchard, of Adrian township, visited his son, Ray, and family Monday.

Mrs. E. R. Smith has been entertaining a friend, Miss Philbrick, of Detroit, this week.

The members of the high school expect to start a lyceum next term. A good idea.

A. F. Freeman, of Manchester, and W. C. Burridge, of Tecumseh, were in town Monday.

Chris Schmitt and Chris Wallinger were called to Detroit by the death of a cousin Friday.

Mrs. C. C. Silvers visited Richard Decker's people near Manchester the first of the week.

Isaiah Mattis and family moved from the Silvers farm to Bert Tate's farm in Bridgewater Tuesday.

Mrs. S. W. Demuth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Alexander, in Franklin this week.

Len W. Kimball has purchased of John J. Orr, Tecumseh, a fine St. Bernard pup. It is a beauty.

Bert and Charlie Tate were in Ann Arbor Tuesday on business pertaining to their father's estate.

Company V will give a musicale at the home of Miss Jennie Hause, on Locust street, this evening.

Eugene Smalley is expected home some time within a week. He has decided to return to Clinton.

Mrs. Wm. Welch was in Macon Monday and Tuesday. She went to attend the funeral of Ed. Robinson.

Ed. Powell will occupy the Mill house at Newburgh recently vacated by Richard Steffens and family.

Anyone wanting fine strawberry plants can get them of Charles McNeil or Robert Smith at Newburgh.

Frank Riddle and family now occupy the west part of W. H. Smith's residence on East Chicago street.

Raynor Brewer, Ed Corey, Lena Hardenburg, and Viola Shaw, of Tecumseh, visited Clinton Tuesday afternoon.

Victor E. Hammond and wife, of Port Huron, visited E. R. Smith and L. W. Kimball's families a few days the past week.

Chas. Van Valkenburg has taken the position recently vacated by James Honley and will be found at S. W. Demuth's store.

James Honley is no longer at S. W. Demuth's, he having given up his position there and is working for the new plow company.

Joseph Rockwood has left the Burlingame farm at Newburgh and gone down on the celery farm of Daisher, southwest of Tecumseh.

F. B. Greenleaf and family have all been on the sick list. He and the little girl are much better, but Mrs. G. and Martin are still quite sick.

Freese & Son are putting in a Brice soft coal furnace for heating their double store. Mr. Brice, of Toledo, is here superintending the work.

George W. Hard has taken the agency for the Falcon bicycle, a Toledo wheel, and has some in the window. They are fine lookers and as good as they look.

Mrs. P. J. Rogers and daughter went over to Grass Lake Saturday and James went over Monday night after them. They all returned home Tuesday night.

Alonzo Clark left Saturday morning, going to Elkhart, where he spent Sunday, and Monday went into Chicago where he expects to remain some time.

The latest advices from Minnie Perry are that she is now considered out of danger, though her convalescence is very slow, she not being able to sit up yet.

Mertillo Stitt and family left yesterday for Ypsilanti, where they go that Bert may have the advantages of the Normal School which he will enter in the fall.

E. J. Semark went to Toledo Tuesday to see about brick for the new Van Tuyle & Woodard block, they having decided to build of that material instead of wood.

We expected to speak of Clark & Shirtmen's display this week, but they are so very busy preparing for their opening, which occurs April 5th and 6th, that we will defer it for the present.

B. O. Randall is at present making extensive interior improvements to his spacious residence on East Chicago street and when finished his home will be as complete in all its appointments as one could desire.

Eugene McDermott left Tuesday for Adrian where he has accepted a position in Conley & King's stone yard. Gene is a young man of excellent habits and very industrious, and they will find in him a valuable workman.

They are laying the cellar walls for the Van Tuyle & Woodard block and it will be not only a fine wall but a grand foundation. Charles Waggott, a former Clintonite, he having been born here, is doing the work, and a glance at the work he is doing will show you that he is an artist and understands his trade.

Rev. C. M. Stout and wife left Tuesday morning for Lawrenceburg, Ind., the former home of Mrs. Stout. While there Mr. Stout will officiate at the marriage of a personal friend. They expect to be gone two weeks. During their absence Rev. C. C. Marshall will supply the pulpit and attend to the other duties of his cousin's parish.

The Platt sisters returned Saturday night from Toledo and Detroit, where they had been looking over the new styles in millinery and making their spring purchases. These popular milliners intend showing the finest stock of all the latest novelties ever brought to Clinton and are now busily engaged in preparing for their spring opening which occurs the last of next week. Their cosy store will be a bower of loveliness at that time which you cannot afford to miss seeing.

The services at St. John's Episcopal church last Sunday morning were very fine. Rev. Joseph F. Ewings, of Jonesville, who exchanged with the rector, gave a very strong sermon on the subject of missions. Mr. Ewings is a man of marked ability and scholarly attainments, and, like Mr. Blachford, is not confined to notes, which makes, what he says, very much more effective. We trust Mr. Ewings may visit us again. He will find a cordial welcome.

The entertainment at the Town Hall by the Lotus Glee Club last evening was a great musical treat and was enjoyed as well, or better, than any other on the course. The singing by the members of the club, either individually or collectively, was of a high order and brought forth hearty encores. The club will always be gladly welcomed here. The high school scholars are to be congratulated in presenting such a delightful course of entertainments as has been given us this season, and we trust they will be able to furnish another course next season.

Monday evening, about 8 o'clock, James Pykett's house west of town was discovered to be on fire. It was occupied by Douglas Arnold and family. Mr. Arnold was in town at the time, and as his children are all small, they could render but little assistance. By the time help came the flames had made such progress that the house was doomed. Some of the furniture on the ground floor was saved, but nothing from the chambers. A defective chimney was the cause of the fire. The loss falls heavily upon Mr. Arnold, who had no insurance. There was some insurance on the building. The family were taken in by W. Bardeaux and family. Tuesday morning several of the neighbors started out soliciting for the family thus left entirely destitute and our people responded generously, as they always do, and very soon, we trust, Mr. Arnold's people will be as comfortably settled as they were before.

CAMBRIDGE CHATTER.

Arba Moulton returned home to Decatur Wednesday.

Mr. Stone, of Onondaga, is visiting at Henry Monagin's.

Solomon Bellenger has opened an "agricultural implement" business at Onsted.

Democratic caucus occurs at Springville, Monday, the 25th: Prohibition, Saturday, 23d.

A pleasant company of young people were entertained at C. H. Dewey's on Saturday evening.

A sad accident, which resulted in the death of Eugene Groger, occurred Thursday of last week. Mr. Groger and Mr. Lewis were cutting a tree back in the woods and in its falling lodged in a small tree. When this was cut down it split and flew back, striking Mr. Groger a terrific blow and throwing him some distance on to his face. The fatal result did not manifest itself until Friday, when he grew rapidly worse and finally became raving, in which condition he remained until his death, which occurred Sunday morning. The funeral was held at Junction church on Tuesday at one o'clock. It will be remembered that his daughter was married only about ten days previous.

FRANKLIN FACTS.

The Bradley school closed last Saturday.

We hear that the cheese factory at Tipton is an assured fact.

Ed Pawson has rented and will move on to Mr. Boyd's farm near Sand Lake April 1st.

While chopping in the woods, F. Davenport cut a gash in his foot which made him lame for several days.

A year ago last Saturday E. J. Whelan sowed oats, people were ploughing and dragging, and it was spring.

Messrs. Billington, Marshall and Mull tapped their respective bushes, Tuesday. Not much of a run reported as yet.

The spring term of school has opened in the Stone school district, after a vacation of one week, with Miss Kate Ellis as teacher.

She Didn't Take With the Gentlemen.

She was refined, intelligent, and not bad looking, but somehow she never seemed to take with the gentlemen. They didn't like her listless ways; they said she hadn't any "snap" about her. Poor girl! she was suffering from functional irregularities, and it was actually impossible for her to take much interest in anything. But a change came. One day she heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She procured a bottle, and she had not taken half its contents when she felt like another woman. Now she is in the enjoyment of perfect health, and has suitors by the score. No woman need suffer from functional irregularities and weaknesses. The "Favorite Prescription" is a safe and certain cure for all the weaknesses to which women are peculiarly subject.

MACON MUSIC.

Henry Oliver is moving this week.

Hebron Camburn is on the sick list at present.

School closes Friday with an entertainment in the evening.

Will Gibson expects to work for Chas. Burleson during the coming year.

The house and lot belonging to Miss Primrose was sold to Elias Hendershot for $210.

A. C. Cavanaugh was in town Sunday. We shall charge extra for this item if it appears again.

The funeral services of Mrs. Phoebe Maynard was held Tuesday afternoon. Her death was a shock to all, following as it did, only a few days of illness.

The Macon W. C. T. U. will hold their March tea meeting at the home of Mrs. Travis, Friday, March 29th. A cordial invitation extended to all interested in our work.

C. E. delegates go to Saginaw this week and the E. L. delegates to Detroit next week. They all anticipate a good time, which will be fully described in their reports (?) no doubt.

If the Ridgeway correspondent will allow us to borrow his favorite expression, we will say that there is a faint scent of orange blossoms in the air. Look out for particulars.

Caucuses of all parties are held Saturday this spring. It is rumored that some of the old Republican war-horses would like to rest for a year, but we shall doubt it till after caucus anyway.

On Tuesday, also, was buried Grandma Eaglick. She was an aged and much respected resident of this vicinity, and leaves behind a circle of relatives and friends who will long cherish tender memories of her.

An effort was made by the Christian Endeavor and Epworth League societies to secure Rev. David Lewis for a series of meetings here; but Mr. Lewis had made other arrangements and can not come to Macon for the present.

On Tuesday afternoon, the funeral services of Ed. Robison were held in the Baptist church. Mr. Robison, died very suddenly at Dundee, where he has been living for the past few months. Heart disease is reported as the cause of his death, though he has been under treatment for some time.

SUSANNA GANOUNG.

Died, at Macon, aged almost 90 years, Mrs. Susanna Ganoung, on the night of March 7th. She was born in Lodi, county, N. Y., June 30, 1805. She was married in 1832 and came to Michigan in its early settlement, and was, with her husband and children, pioneers in Michigan. She united with the Reformed church of Lodi, N. Y., under the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Bennett, when young. She has been a consistent, helpful member of the Reformed church of Macon for nearly 45 years, always ready and willing to do any service for Christ and in His cause. Her children are honored and useful. The Church of Macon has been called to give up another of its members. She outlived her husband 24 years; nearly a quarter of a century she has walked alone. Nearly all of this 19th century her activities in the church have been most marked. The promise, "With long life will I satisfy him and show him my salvation," has been fulfilled. Her maiden name was Susanna Howell.

SARAH EASLICK.

Sarah Olds was born in Green county, State of New York, Oct. 25, 1809. Her youth was spent in the wilds of the Catskill Mountains. In 1839 she married William Easlick, in the township of Reading, then Steuben, but now Schuyler county. They moved to Crawford county, Penn., in the year 1837, and removed to this state in the spring of 1846 and settled on a farm in the township of Macon. In 1866 they sold their farm, and bought and moved onto the one where we are now assembled. Her husband died in the spring of 1877, she remaining at the old home, with her youngest son up to the present time. She was the mother of nine children, four of whom have gone before. Four sons and one daughter are still living and are with us to-day, to wit: Alexander, Robert T., Wilder D., Sarah A., and William A. Two sons, Newman A. and Wilder D. were in the war of the rebellion. The former was lost on his way home at the close of the war, from a boiler explosion on the ship Sultana. There is an only sister still living, Mrs. Polly Royce, and a large circle of kindred of less degree. Her's was a life of toil and care, in fact a continuous pioneer life. She was greatly devoted to family, friends and neighbors, soliciting and meriting the esteem and friendship of all who knew her. Thus ends a life of usefulness, extending far beyond the usual limit, she being 85 years 4 months and 22 days old at the time of her death, which occurred at 3:30 in the morning of March 17, 1895. A. A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follows its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Orr & Temple's Drug store. Regular size 50c., and $1.00. 3

Our great and good friend, Mrs. Dominis, may console herself with the thought that she has escaped making a lecture tour of this country.

A Remarkable Cure.

Mrs. H. B. Adams, 1609 Wabash ave., Chicago, says: "I had a scrofulous taint of the blood from childhood, which, however, remained dormant. An ulcer began on the side of the nose, having all the appearances of a most malignant cancer. The agony of mind I suffered cannot be described as I contemplated the progress of such a malignant disease. Finally I was induced to try Foley's Sarsaparilla. It appears to neutralize the poison in the blood. The growth of the ulcer ceased. The diseased tissues in the bottom and edges of the sore seemed to loosen and the natural flesh to take its place. No part of the disease remains." For sale by Orr & Temple. mar

A Valuable Find.

After years of study and labor, there has at last been discovered a sure and never failing remedy. It has been tested on patients who have despaired of ever being cured, the results have been, in every case, wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of chronic and acute inflamatory rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia; especially ovarian neuralgia, dysmenorrhœa and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable blood purifier, being especially useful in eczema, psoriasis, scrofula, all glandular enlargements and diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by Orr & Temple, Tecumseh, Mich.

FITS AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

When Henry M. Hall, M. D., late surgeon U. S. A., Department of Tennessee, returned from the war he found a child afflicted with epilepsy. Leading physicians were consulted, without apparent benefit. Noted specialists could give but little if any relief. To rescue his child from a fate worse than death became the object of his life. For several years experiment followed experiment, until at last success crowned his efforts. In 1880 old age and infirmities induced him to impart the knowledge of how to manufacture it, under the agreement that a bottle should be sent free of all charges to any one applying for it, who was afflicted with epilepsy. Since then over 20,000 free bottles have been sent to the afflicted. Experience has proved that it cures Insomnia St. Vitus' Dance, and all forms of Nervous Affliction. If you want to try this wonderful remedy free of all charge, write, stating your disease as plainly as possible; give your age and post office. Address The Hall Chemical Co., West Philadelphia, Pa.

H. W. Porter, of Weston, was in town Monday. He and his agent, Charles DuBois, contracted for a large quantity of hay.

Frank Link has reconsidered his intention of moving to Tecumseh and is now settled in pleasant rooms over the meat market.

The charity ball passed off nicely and was largely attended and Mr. Shulenberger the blind man, received the nice little sum of $20.45.

A gentleman from Samaria, Ohio, was here Tuesday to see about moving the elevator from Ridgeway here. He will superintend the work.

Our teachers are spending the vacation at their respective homes, Prof. Hollins, at Fairfield, and Miss Nellie Garvin, at London, Monroe Co.

Hendershot Tent, No. 467, K. O. T. M., held a special meeting Tuesday evening, at which time the officers of Main Tent will confer the degree.

Horatio Underwood, after several years' residence at Morenci, has returned to us and will remain. His father, James Underwood, is quite sick with the grip.

Among those from abroad who attended the funeral of Mrs. Sam'l Kniffen, were Mrs. Wm. Burch, of Adrian, Mrs. George Cheever, and Mrs. Richard Wiggins, of Dundee.

A very pleasant surprise party occurred Monday evening at the pleasant home of Art. Curtis, in honor of his brother, Gilbert, who has been visiting friends here at his old home.

M. L. Gillen came down from Tecumseh Tuesday night and did some painting and papering for E. G. Price. Mike has left the Plating works and opened a shop and will continue his old business in Tecumseh.

The question that is now agitating several here is whether Charlie Sutton paid that dollar out of his pocket which was credited to Charlie Smith, or whether it was taken from the amount raised for the minister. How is it, Charlie?

James Haight has got his store all filled again and if you wish to see what a little paint will do just step in and look around. It does not look like the same store. His goods and wares look much better than before, and even he himself is handsomer than ever.

Harvey Welling has his art studio in running order and his rooms are very tidy and complete in arrangement. He is now prepared to take your photos in any style or size desired, and his work will bear the scrutiny of the most severe critic. Call at once and give him a trial.

Wednesday was the 40th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Britton's wedded life and the occasion was suitably observed by the family. In the evening about 40 of their friends called upon them laden with oysters and other good things and made merry until a late hour. It was a very charming evening.

The Carland-Miller hay suit, which came off at Dundee Monday, called quite a number of interested spectators down here. The suit was decided in favor of Miller, he receiving judgment for amount and costs. This virtually settles all the hay deals and the other parties will now receive what is their due.

Lake Bannister is now settled in the Exelby House, and already seems as if the manor born so perfectly does he fill the position as landlord. If we had to lose Geo. Exelby from the hotel we are been highly favored in having Mr. Bannister his successor. Our people may rest satisfied that the Exelby House will continue to be (what has gained for it its enviable reputation) first class in every particular. We are glad to say that Herbert Cranshaw, who is very popular with the traveling public, is retained in his old position and hence the future of the Exelby House looks bright.

Now Geo. Exelby is out of the hotel, he is revolving many schemes in his head, among them, we should judge by the exhibition given on the street Monday, was hurdle racing. He was driving his white pony, and going to the barn thought by driving the pony up to the gate he might with his breast push it open, and thus save his dismounting. All went well until the pony reached the gate when he reared and came down on top of the gate, crushing it like glass. George, for a moment, looked a little crestfallen, but a new gate will make everything as before. Remember these mustangs are sometimes unreliable and apt to overdo the matter.

Westley Mantell, the actor, is painting a new lot of scenery for Exelby Hall, and he is as much of an artist with the brush as on the stage. He is doing grand work for our Dramatic Society as instructor, is a perfect gentleman and a fine actor. The play 'For a Million' is one that will please all and the cast of characters is a strong one. Our people will have a opportunity of seeing a play put on the boards as it is in cities, and we know they will fill Exelby Hall to overflowing. The following is the cast of characters:

PROLOGUE.

Robert Stanton	Westley Mantell
John Smith	Herbert Cranshaw
Herman Black	A. J. Lee
Gerald Gray	W. J. Helm
John Banks	E. W. Lenardson

COMEDY.

Kirby G. Hopper	Westley Mantell
Gilbert Temple	A. J. Lee
Harry Wakefield	B. J. Pulver
Lawyer Bruce	L. C. Hoagland
Moody Vaughn	Herbert Cranshaw
David Temple	W. J. Helm
Vixie Vaughn	Maud Lee
Florence Temple	Ella Exelby
Mrs. Lang	Mrs Wm. Hause

Give them a full house and a rousing benefit They deserve it and will appreciate it.

MRS. ANGIE KNIFFEN.

Mrs. Angie Hoagland Kniffen was born in Ridgeway township, August 7, 1845, and died at her home in Britton, March 14, 1895, and hence was in her 50th year at the time of her departure. She was reared to womanhood in the township where she was born and when 18 years old she commenced teaching in the public schools. She continued in this vocation for about twelve consecutive years, teaching in Lenawee, Clinton and Antrim counties. She was married to Samuel Kniffen, February 13, 1877, and their home has been in Britton since 1882. To the twain was born two daughters, who, with the husband, survive to mourn her loss. A large circle of relatives and a host of friends also mourn her departure. She publicly professed Christ early in 1865 and on March 4, 1865, she united with the Christian Union church, of which she continued a worthy member and a zealous promoter of its interests until death took her to her heavenly home. She was also a member of the W. C. T. U. and was deeply interested in its work. About three years ago she began to be afflicted with what afterwards proved to be a cancer. In May, 1893, she went to Orion for treatment. After her return she soon became much improved. About the beginning of 1894 the terrible malady reappeared, and other complications setting in she was not able to return to Orion for treatment. About ten days before her death she was paralyzed, from which she never rallied, and she passed peacefully to the better land. Her funeral, on the 16th inst., was attended by a very large concourse of sympathizing friends and was conducted by the pastor, assisted by Jas. Wright.

The program carried out by the Epworth League, on Tuesday evening, passed very successfully. The proceeds amounted to something over $4.00. They expect to hold an experience social in the near future.

On account of Prof. H. Pettingill's lecture at Britton coming on next week Friday night, the ladies of the W. C. T. U. have changed the date for the Lathrap memorial services. The date and program will be given next week.

Stella Barnes celebrated her 16th birthday Saturday afternoon by entertaining her sabbath school class-mates, and teacher, Leila Sutton, at her home on South Church street. A pleasant time is reported by all present.

A. J. Sutton received the appointment as local collector for the National Loan and Investment Co., of Detroit, the first of the week, which will be a great convenience for those having stock, besides a saving in remittance fees.

Quite a number from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Samuel Kniffin held at Britton, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Kniffin leaves a large circle of friends here who sincerely sympathize with the family in their sad affliction. She won the affection and love of all who made her acquaintance here when she taught the village school several years ago.

Mrs. Thomas Maynard, after a short sickness with the grip and pneumonia, passed away Saturday evening. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a true wife and dear mother. The funeral services were held at the house on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Gulick speaking words of comfort and hope to the bereaved family. The interment taking place in the cemetery on the Ridge.

$10.00 a Day Easy.

I saw that the telephone patent had expired and I thought what a great seller it would be at a low price. I saw the advertisement of W. P. Harrison & Co., Columbus, Ohio, in your paper. They had just what I wanted—a telephone just like the rich city business men have, and I have been selling them for two months and have made as high as $50.00 per day when I took a large contract, and never less that $5.00 a day, selling the telephones. I sell them outright, there is no rent, no royalty. Everybody wants them. Anyone can put them up, and I believe they are the greatest convenience and the best seller on earth. Anyone can make big money who can sell goods at all. So many young men are out of employment now, I feel it my duty to bring my experience before the world, so that this winter, with times as hard as they may be, money can be made by those who are now sore distressed. Write to the above firm for circulars.

"Where Farming Pays."

Is it in the north-west with wheat at less than 50 cents a bushel, with zero weather and blizzards in winter and cyclones in summer? No! Go to Virginia; land is cheap, climate perfect all the year round. Ask any one who knows and he will tell you that in the tidewater section one acre of land has produced as high as $2,000.00 in one season. It is worth looking into. Apply to C. H. Bovee, Gen'l. Land and Excursion Agent, Coldwater, Mich., for pamphlet "Facts for Farmers" free. No statements made that are not corroborated by practical farmers who have grown rich on their Virginia farms.

Palpitation of the Heart

Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Legs and Feet.

"For about four years I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and swelling of the legs and feet. At times I would faint. I was treated by the best physicians in Savannah, Ga., with no relief. I then tried various Springs without benefit. Finally, I tried

FOR SALE BY HARRIS & HITESHU, Tecumseh, Mich.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

It is constantly effecting the most wonderful cures, while the unparalleled demand with which it meets, stamps it at once as the greatest medicine of the age for outward application.
The most incredulous are convinced, and the most skeptical are compelled to believe in the power of this great remedy.

WHAT IT CURES.

All Sores, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Sore Throat, Lameness, Rheumatism, Piles, Inflammation of Lungs and Bowels, Bronchitis, Croup, Sait Rheum, Chilblains, Affection of the Spine, Erysipelas, Nervous Irritation, and all disorders attendant with Inflamation.
It never fails to restore the natural functions of the skin and equalize the circulation of the blood. By this means a controlling power is gained over the most malignant forms of disease. It penetrates to every portion of the human frame; every bone, muscle, vein, nerve and ligament is searched out and made sensible to its soothing and healing influence. Hence it copes readily with internal as well as external disease.

Over 40 Years.

This Ointment has been used by the people throughout the United States, and our confidence in its qualities is such that as we have no space here to insert any of the numerous certificates of cures which we have from all parts of the country, we simply ask those readers of this notice who have ever used this Ointment, to frankly state their experience with it, to inquiring friends. If but one in a hundred would do this we should be perfectly satisfied with the result. Full directions for use will be found on pamphlet around each bottle.
Prices 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

THE CHOCOLATE TEA.

The chocolate tea given by the Baptist Young People's Union, at the opera house last evening, was a unique and very enjoyable entertainment. Supper was served at the usual supper hour, which was liberally attended. At eight o'clock the literary program was presented which might be termed a musical and chocolate sandwich. The program was divided into two parts with a half hour's intermission for refreshments, when ice cream and cake were served. Knapp's orchestra opened the exercises with a fine selection. The Elsa quartette gave a vocal number, which received a hearty encore, to which they responded. Four young gentlemen rendered a song in good style. Then came "The Bridal," presented by seven young ladies. During the recess the orchestra favored the audience with some fine instrumental music.

The second part of the program opened with a ballad from the Elsa quartette, "Comin' throu' the Rye," which was beautifully rendered. Miss Cora Austin recited "A Martyred Mother" in a manner that held the audience enchanted and fully sustained her silver medal reputation. "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" was sung by the quartette most beautifully. The finale consisted of a pantomime by thirteen young ladies robed in white, which was something new and brought forth many words of praise. The entertainment was also a success financially.

FARMERS' SOCIAL CLUB

The last of the winter meetings of the club convened at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Finch on the evening of March 19th. It was a pleasant evening, and even if the roads were somewhat disagreeable it did not keep the members from turning out to enjoy the last meeting. All who were there were delightfully entertained by the host, hostess and family, and went home feeling they had been repaid for going. The literary program was good, singing by the club came first. Mrs. J. Bowen and Frank Gillespie gave select readings, Miss Lovina Schreder rendered a recitation nicely, Mrs. Rector read a review of the winter's work and some suggestions as to the future work of the club. She thought if we would follow a systematic plan, our work would be more satisfactory. The quotations were much enjoyed, nearly all quoting from favorite authors. Question.—Time and manner of planting potatoes, was quite fully discussed. R. B. Gillespie did not favor planting under straw, though early potatoes should be planted early and late ones rather late. A. P. Coddington did not like covering with straw, thought it more work, did not like the quality of the potatoes raised in that manner, although the appearance was good, he thought the season had more to do with the crop than the seed did. J. H. Schreder thought it would be well to plant the whole tuber instead of a portion in dry seasons. Mr. F. Bryant, of Tecumseh, was present and gave his method, he thinks that potatoes are generally cultivated too much, he prefers level cultivation. Others agreed with him as to the manner of cultivation. Others spoke briefly on the subject. As to variety, each individual should choose the variety suitable to his land, as some made a success of one kind, while it would be a failure with another. The club then adjourned, to meet in May. Place, date and program given later.

High School Happenings.

Spring!

Final examinations were taken in Gen. History and Caesar this week.

Monday morning was a sick morning for the school. Prof. Kellogg had the misfortune to sprain his ankle Saturday, and Misses Grey and Wimple were sick, and were unable to fill their places. Miss Jennie Nyland took Miss Wimple's place for the day.

Will Allen visited B room Thursday.

The ever welcome monthly examinations come this week.

Miss Phoebe A. I. Howell's back recitation seat was in great demand Wednesday afternoon. Miss Phoebe was obliged to excuse one of her class because there was not room for two in the same seat.

Our great and good friend, Mrs. Dominis, may console herself with the thought that she has escaped making a lecture tour of this country.

Prohibition Must Triumph.

REV. W. W. ROSS.

The one great lesson of the long passing centuries is this—right is victory. Every cause fought with might has succeed in proportion to its right. That men, sword and cannon cannot prevail against a lone man armed with eternal principles is paged in all the records of the past. Kill him you may who stands for a just cause, the cause will live and conquer.

Yet stranger than all fiction, few have so learned this truth. They go on saying, 'The cause will never carry.' 'The reform is just and I would give it my support, but I would lose it." Now and then rises a man or woman with single-eyed, pure-hearted vision and calls out the night of wrong by proclaiming the morning of righteousness.

What, do we say prosperity to disorder, to injustice, to corruption and to oppression?' Never. 'Success to the distructive, anarchical, inhuman, murderous, rum oligarchy?' Bonfires may blaze it to the skies, the press for political gain and a part of the swag may give it leadership, political parties house it for its support, the government foster it for its revenue. Christians, through ignorance, fear or party idolatry, vote with it, prohibition may be misrepresented, denounced and whelmed out of sight; we nevertheless can calculate the end now as well as after the final issue.

There is a law old as God's plans by which nothing but right will ever conquer. All else is but an obstruction, a postponement of its judgment. As with other great forces, there may be variation in the course of reform. It may bound forward with wonderful velocity at one time, and at another go into obscurity and seeming defeat, when suddenly it re-appears at long distances in the advance and with force largely increased. The incomplete and unnecessary will disappear as they ought, but the living principle cannot be changed. It cannot be conquered. It thrives on the pros as well as the cons, and steadily moves on through favor and disfavor to its glorious consummation.

Reform cannot be forced or compromised beyond the conditions upon which it must endure. When in the midnight hour of our late war, our great emancipator cried out, 'I will save the country with slavery if I can, if not I will save the country,' he was face to face with reform demanding the surrender of the cause of the rebellion—human bondage. He struck the shackles off the millions. Then came union and peace. So now in the war against a greater than African slavery, the slavery of rum, a crisis will come. This proclamation, the saloon must go, will fall on the ears of the nation, and there will be an end to the criminal liquor traffic. We shall have sobriety, rest, peace and prosperity. The index of comparative history points the hour not afar. Therefore let every brave heart take courage and fight on through all the varying fortunes of the prohibition reform. Every battle is a part of the final victory. Heroism, love of home and country, were never in greater demand, and no song or story will be sweeter than yours in the centuries hence.

Would that the whole church of Christ might come up from political Egypt, pass the wilderness of resolutions, enter the Canaan of applied Christianity, and supplement her prayers with her ballots! Nay, more, would that Methodism might close in with God and cover herself with glory by leading with a million votes against the saloon. All further delay is weakness and shame, if not a fearful imperilment of her history, the sincerity of her oft repeated declarations, and her worthiness for leadership in a religion that is the light of the world, the salt of the earth.

Prohibition Caucus.

The Prohibitionists of the township of Tecumseh will hold a caucus at the Council building on Saturday evening, March 23, 1895, at 7:30 p. m. for the nomination of township officers. All persons who favor the reform advocated by the Prohibition party are invited to take part in the caucus.

C. P. FIELD,
Commissioner.

The pictures which have been published of the late Mr. Worth lead us to the inevitable conclusion that he didn't design his own hats.

Wreck a railway and retire on your riches. That seems to be a favorite maxim with some managers of American railway systems.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM TOTTEN.

Died, at his home on North Pearl street, Feb. 26, 1895, William Totten, aged 76 years. He was born in Albany county, N. Y., where he spent his boyhood days. At an early age he, with his parents, moved to Oneida county, where he remained until 1846, when he came to Tecumseh where his home has since been. Coming to Michigan he was for several years engaged in the business of milling, at Ypsilanti. He afterwards bought and resided on a farm a mile and a half northeast of Tecumseh for some years. After leaving the farm he engaged in the flour and feed business, until failing health compelled him to retire from the activities of business life. He continued to reside in Tecumseh, caring for his aged parents while they lived, since which time his home has been with a brother, and for fifteen years past with a sister, Mrs. J. E. Rowland, who, with her daughter, tenderly cared for him to the day of his death. He possessed good business qualities and those principles which make an honest man. He often gave of his means toward the improvement of the place, and also to those in need. Being quiet and unobtrusive in disposition, he did not let the left hand know of the right hand's doing. He leaves four brothers and two sisters, with many other friends, to mourn his loss.

MARY A. PENNOCK.

With a sad heart I try to write a short sketch of the life and character of my faithful old friend. For almost sixty-five years she has made her home in this village, battling with uncommon bravery the hardships of her early days in Michigan, bowing in sweet submission to the many crosses she has been called upon to bear all through her life, never complaining, cheerful and comforting to all friends and acquaintances, when her own heart was breaking under its heavy load of sorrow. Dear, patient, self-sacrificing old friend! she will be greatly and sadly missed by those who knew her and could appreciate her worth. She was warmly attached to the Episcopal church of Tecumseh and has been a faithful communicant for more than fifty years. Her father, John Niblack, moved here from New York in the year 1832, settling on a farm between Tecumseh and Ridgeway. Grandma Pennock was the life and sunshine of the family of eleven children, six brothers and four sisters, always the unselfish peacemaker, and that loving, beautiful disposition has characterized her through life. In April, 1835, she was married to Luke Spofford. Three children were born to them, one son and two daughters. One by one she was called upon to give them over to the grim destroyer, but she bore her loss and sorrow with christian fortitude. In 1851 she was married again to Ira Pennock, of Tecumseh, who died twenty-one years ago. Of this marriage one son and an adopted daughter remain to mourn and miss her. Rest! Rest in peace, long suffering and noble heart! Your wish has been gratified, you have passed from your infirmities and into the presence of Him, in whom you so firmly trusted. The few pioneers who are still left, and many of the younger generation, who enjoyed a personal acquaintance with Grandma Pennock, will cherish her memory and miss her kindly welcome. She was laid away March 8th, in the 80th year of her life. Peaceful be your sleep, my honored friend.

JOHN KERR.

The subject of this sketch was born in Crankill, Antrim county, Ireland, May 19, 1827. In 1852, he sailed from Belfast to seek a home in the new world, arriving in America on the 24th day of June in that year, and on the 9th of August he arrived in Adrian. His brother, Mathow, then lived in Palmyra and he soon found employment there, ballasting the Erie & Kalamazoo railroad. During his first three years' residence in Lenawee county he was sick with fever and ague eleven months. In 1855 he was employed on the Michigan Southern railroad as section boss and had charge of nine miles of track on the Jackson branch for nearly ten years. During 1864 he lived on John Richard's farm in Raisin. In 1865 he purchased a farm of 80 acres on section 22 in Cambridge, where he has since resided. He added 40 acres afterwards and at the time of his death had one of the finest farms in that township. August 15, 1856, he married Betsey Sherrard, of Tecumseh, by whom he had nine children. His health was generally good until recently, and he left the old earthly home for a better abode on high on the 6th inst. The funeral obsequies were held at the family residence on the 8th and the burial took place in the Tecumseh cemetery.

A kind husband and father, an honorable neighbor and a respected citizen has gone to his final reward.

MRS. E. G. WILSON.

Ann Wilson, wife of Sheriff E. G. Wilson, departed this life on the 13th inst. at her home in Adrian. Mrs. Wilson's maiden name was Miss Ann West, and she was born in Canada 50 years ago, coming to this country with her parents when she was two years old. They settled in Raisin near Little Hope and she lived there all her life until coming to Adrian when Mr. Wilson was elected sheriff. She was married to Mr. Wilson 19 years ago last August, and their lives have flowed along smoothly and peacefully together, until the sheriff is compelled to mourn the loss of an always tender and faithful helpmate. Three children are left with the father to mourn the death of a loving mother and a noble wife. They are Archie, 18; Montie, 16; and the daughter, Lou, aged 14 years. There are also two sisters, two brothers and Mrs. Wilson's father living. Mrs. Eva Gillett, residing near Dundee, with whom the father, Briggs West, is living; Mrs. Alvina Brisbin, of the town of Adrian; Leonard West, of the town of Deerfield, and Rexford West, of South Haven. Mrs. Wilson was a paragon of practical goodness, loved by all who knew her, as a kind friend and sympathetic and helpful neighbor, and in Raisin, where she is best known, her death will come like a personal bereavement to hundreds of friends, who will unite with this paper and the many friends of the sheriff in the county to extend heartiest sympathy in his great bereavement. Brief services were held at the sheriff's residence last Friday forenoon and afterwards at the Friend's church at Raisin Center, conducted by an old friend and neighbor, Rev. L. C. Chase.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Mrs. Huey, of the Library, has been quite ill this week.

J. Marvin Hayden and wife, of Grand Rapids, are here this week.

Miss Hessie McKinney, of Albion, is visiting friends here this week.

The condition of both Miss Lydia Price and Miss Clara Hayden is critical.

Misses Libbie and Augusta Kirchgessner spent Sunday at their home in Clinton.

Joe Van Ness has been very sick for a week or more, and even now he is not much better.

Doctor Lalida was over from Adrian yesterday in consultation with Dr. Frost on a critical case.

Tom McCann returned from Bunker Hill, Friday last, and made a business trip to Toledo Tuesday.

Miss Nellie Heeson returned home from Ypsilanti Saturday. She left her sister, Grace, greatly improved.

James Cornelius and Roy Auchampaugh, of Adrian, were calling on their friends here, Tuesday.

Miss Linna Schenck, late of Bulgaria, is the guest of Mrs. Ketchum. She has recently been made a Deaconess at Grand Rapids.

Charles L. Albaugh, of Hillsdale, was calling on Tecumseh friends, yesterday. He left word to have his sewing machine sent by freight.

Last Monday Rev. E. C. Andrus went to Ann Arbor to hear Col. Robert Ingersoll lecture, as he had never heard the eloquent platform orator, and he might never have another opportunity.

Misses Edna McClue and Allie Temple and Messrs. Charles Hurry and Joe Eaton are the delegates from here to the Epworth League Convention to be held at Detroit Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next.

M. L. Gillen has severed his connection with the plating works and will engage in his regular business, that of painting, paper hanging and house decorating. His shop will be, for the present, in the rear of the old Rowland shop near the railroad.

Company C, of the National State troops, was inspected by Brigadier General Walsh, at the Armory, last evening. Our boys made a fine appearance in their millitary suits, which looked as if they had just come from the tailor's, and their arms glistened and shone, they were so bright. The boys passed through the intricate movements with the precision of veterans, and reflected great credit not only upon themselves, but their faithful Captain and other officers.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Rockey, in the south west part of town, was the scene of intense excitement for a time Wednesday evening, and it is a wonder that it did not result seriously. The little girl is sick and consequently her appetite is fickle, so the father thought he would go out in the country and get a bird to tempt her to eat. He took his revolver and on his return home laid it on the bureau. His stepson, John Truesdale, aged 16 years, came in, and seeing the revolver, took it up and thinking it empty, first looked into the muzzle and then without taking aim, carelessly pulled the trigger, when, to his great surprise, it went off, shattering a lighted lamp and scattering the oil in every direction, but fortunately when it struck the lamp the flame went out, so that no damage was done. There were six persons in the room when this took place, and that no one was injured is beyond comprehension.

PATENTS
FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on matter.

By the decease of Mrs. Samuel Kniffen, Britton has lost another woman of rare excellence and womanly gifts. Her influence for good extended beyond the family circle and throughout the community at large. The vacancy left in that home can never be filled this side of the grave. The family have many acquaintances in Tecumseh who will deeply sympathize with them in this bereavement.

Mrs. Clarissa Dibble Hall died yesterday morning at the residence of her son, A. D. Hall, noth-east of town. Mrs. Hall was nearly 94 years of age, her birthday being in May. She leaves five children; James Hall, of Milford, M. W. Hall, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Millard Gay, of St. Louis, Mrs. F. J. Dean, of Reed City, and A. D. Hall, all of whom are here, and this is the first time they have all been together in 40 years. The funeral will be held at the house to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. H. A. Smith, of the Baptist church officiating.

William Webster, who was found by the section men lying near the Railroad track Friday morning, never regained consciousness and died Saturday morning at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Kyle, where he boarded. A coroner's jury was held and the verdict rendered was that his death was the result of liquor and exposure. His brother, A. W. Webster, who travels for the drug house of Farrand, Williams & Clark, arrived Saturday noon. A short service was held at the house early Monday morning, conducted by Rev. C. M. Brown, and the remains left on the morning train for Windsor, Ontario, where they will be laid by the side of a sister and mother. This was a very sad death. It seems that he and Harry Cummiskey went up to Clinton Thursday afternoon, and during the day and evening imbibed freely of liquor, and after the night train had left Clinton they started for Tecumseh down the track. Cummiskey finely left Webster to look out for himself and returned back to Clinton, which, under the circumstances, was a heartless thing to do, and no doubt had he himself not been intoxicated he would never have deserted him in that way.

Miss Florence Primrose visited Clinton friends yesterday.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., March 16.—The senate Friday passed bills authorizing Alpena county to bond itself for $150,000, with which to construct county roads, and appropriating $10,000 for the furnishing of the home for the feeble-minded.

LANSING, Mich., March 19.—Gov. Rich transmitted to the senate Monday a communication for Secretary of War Lamont, suggesting that a formal request be made upon the war department for ceding Mackinaw island to the state as a military park and some person be named to receive the same on behalf of the state.

LANSING, Mich., March 20.—The senate on Tuesday passed the house bill exempting from taxation the property of all charitable and industrial institutions to the extent of $100,000; also bills empowering the regents of the university to hold property in perpetual trust, and increasing the penalty for embezzlement by administrators, executors and guardians to five years' imprisonment.

House.

LANSING, Mich., March 15.—In the house Thursday the committee of the whole passed bills providing for jury commissioners in the counties of the upper peninsula; amending the live stock law so as to prevent the spread of horse distemper, and providing for traveling libraries under the supervision of the state librarian. Both branches hurried through a law compelling the council of Detroit to appropriate money to defray expenses of the health board.

LANSING, Mich., March 16.—The house on Friday killed a bill providing for the appointment of a state statistician and a bill providing that the taxation of maritime property shall be where a transportation company has its business office. A resolution was adopted by both houses authorizing the governor to appoint five commissioners to represent Michigan at the Mexican international exposition. A bill is before the house authorizing a recompilation of the laws of the state, and Clerk Miller has prepared statistics in connection with the measure showing that a saving to the state of $8,000 could be made by having it done on state account. Both houses adjourned until Monday.

LANSING, Mich., March 19.—A bill passed the house Monday authorizing the Toledo & Ann Arbor railroad to organize in Michigan.

LANSING, Mich., March 20.—The house on Tuesday passed bills providing for the incorporation of mutual plate glass insurance companies, providing for the recovery of moneys paid "grave-yard insurance companies" if claim is made within six years, and authorizing the consolidation of gas and electric lighting companies, and the furnishing by them of gas and electricity to outside municipalities.

ACCUSED OF SWINDLING.

Agent in Detroit of a Chicago Firm Said to Have Pocketed $1,000

DETROIT, March. 18.—The extensive swindling operations of Francis Bethel, of this city, came to light in the suit of Bell, Conrad & Co., Chicago coffee dealers, against Duweyki & Rausch, Detroit grocers. In 1893 the latter received from the Chicago firm ten bags of coffee which the Michigan Central notified them to take away. The Detroit firm at once informed Bethel, the agent here of the Chicago firm, that they had not ordered the coffee. Bethel at once said that he had made a mistake in sending in the order, and at his request the coffee was turned over to him. Later Duweyki & Rausch received a bill for coffee. They refused to pay and the Chicago firm brought suit. In the trial it has developed that Bethel disposed of the coffee and pocketed the proceeds. He worked the same trick in a number of other cases, securing over $1,000 worth of merchandise which he disposed of and pocketed the proceeds. The Chicago firm lost the suit.

ANTI-TRUST LAW IS ENFORCED.

Important Decision Rendered in Federal Court at Detroit.

DETROIT, March 20.—Judge Severns in the United States circuit court has rendered a decision bearing upon the Sherman anti-trust law. About a year ago the Merse, Warren, Michigan and National Capsule companies entered into an agreement to pool their interests and to carry on the business of manufacturing gelatine shells for capsules as one institution, under the style of the United States Capsule company. The Merse Capsule company balked and filed a bill to restrain the United States company from doing business. Judge Severns takes the position that the trust was formed in violation of the laws of the state of Michigan, as well as the act of congress.

LABOR BATTLE AT DOWAGIAC.

Many Injured in a Conflict of Union and Nonunion Men.

DOWAGIAC, March 20.—This city, which is the location of the immense plant of the Round Oak stove works, was the scene late Tuesday afternoon of serious strife between union and nonunion men. Lester Cooper, a nonunion laborer, was struck with an ax and probably fatally injured. In the melee, which became general, a score of workmen were seriously injured. Arrests have been made and it is feared serious trouble is imminent. The Round Oak Stove company, until a recent lockout, employed union labor exclusively. The present trouble is the outgrowth of differences between employers and employes.

Rights of the Pottawattamies.

KALAMAZOO, March 20.—W. R. Taylor, of this city, has a commission from the Pottawattamie Indians to look up their rights to lands in this vicinity. On September 18, 1827, through Gen. Lewis Cass, commissioner, the government entered into a treaty with these Indians by which it acquired 9 square miles of the tract known as Mache-Be-Nash-She-Wish, on the Kalamazoo river, and other lands. Certain land was ceded in return, and the Indians seek to learn where this land lies.

Fatal Explosion.

HOUGHTON, March 16.—The mixing vault of the Hancock Chemical company's dynamite factory exploded at noon Friday. Dominick Christian, employed in the vault at the time, was blown to shreds. Other workmen were in an adjacent shed, which was blown away, but none of the men was killed, although badly bruised.

Wants an Electric Light Franchise.

BENTON HARBOR, March 20.—A franchise to establish an electric light plant is asked for from the city council by Peter English. The power is to be obtained by damming the Paw Paw river about 1 mile from the city. The dam will be 1,000 feet long and give a fall of 15 feet.

THE SALARY BILL.

Text of the Proposed Amendment to the Constitution.

LANSING, March 16.—The following is the proposed amendment to the constitution of Michigan relative to the salaries of state officers, to be voted on at the general election to be held on Monday, April 1 next:

"Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the state of Michigan, That an amendment to section 1 of article 9 of the constitution of this state be and the same is hereby proposed, to read as follows:

"Section 1. The governor shall receive an annual salary of $4,000, the judges of the circuit court shall each receive an annual salary of $3,500; the state treasurer shall receive an annual salary of $2,500; the secretary of state shall receive an annual salary of $2,500; the commissioner of the land office shall receive an annual salary of $2,500; the attorney general shall receive an annual salary $3,000; the superintendent of public instruction shall receive an annual salary of $2,500; the auditor general shall receive an annual salary of $2,000; they shall receive no fees or perquisites whatever for the performance of any duties connected with their office, and they shall personally attend to the duties of their office. It shall not be competent for the legislature to increase the salaries herein provided. Be it further

"Resolved, That said amendment shall be submitted to the people of this state at the next spring election, on the first Monday in April in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, and the secretary of state is hereby required to give notice of the same to the sheriffs of the several counties of this state, at least fifteen days prior to said election. The ballots for and against this amendment shall be printed at the foot of the general ticket as provided by law, and designated as follows: Amendment to the constitution relative to salaries of state officers—Yes.' Amendment to the constitution relative to salaries of state officers—No.' Said ballots in all respects to be canvassed and return made as in elections of justices of the supreme court.

"Resolved further, That the joint resolution entitled 'Joint resolution proposing an amendment to section one of article nine of the constitution of this state, relative to salaries,' which was passed at the present session of the legislature, be and the same is hereby repealed.

"This joint resolution is ordered to take immediate effect."

MURDER ATTEMPTED.

Postmaster McBain, of Owosso, Found in an Abandoned Mill Race.

OWOSSO, March 18.—Sunday morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, Postmaster N. McBain was discovered in an abandoned mill race near the works of the Owosso Brewing company. His face was bespattered with blood and his hair was matted. The blood gushed from a ghastly wound on the back of his head. The would-be assassin, believing his victim to be dead, it is believed, dragged the body to the secluded place where it was found for the purpose of hiding the crime until escape could be effected. The assailant attempted robbery, but he was evidently frightened away. Mr. McBain can give no account of the assault and the police are also mystified.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN OAKLEY.

DeForest Brothers Exchange Shots, and One Is Dead and the Other Dying.

OAKLEY, March 19.—George DeForest was shot dead Monday by his brother Calvin. Calvin was also shot and badly wounded by George. George DeForest had lately been considered insane. Today he went to the home of his sister, Mrs. Alfred Beers, and drove her from the house. He then started for the home of his parents vowing to take vengeance upon them. Calvin DeForest started with his gun to intercept his brother. As they approached each other George pulled a revolver and began firing. Calvin replied with his gun. The result was that George had his whole right lung perforated. It is feared Calvin's wound may also prove fatal.

TRAGEDY IN DETROIT.

A Saloonkeeper Shoots Two Brothers—One of Them Dies.

DETROIT, March 18.—Allen Ashley, who, with his brother Frank, was shot by John Holtz during a quarrel in the latter's saloon Saturday night, died Sunday at Harper's hospital. He never regained consciousness after being shot. A postmortem examination developed the fact that the bullet passed through the dead man's eye and lodged in his brain. Frank Ashley, who was shot in the neck by Holtz, is in a precarious condition, the bullet having lodged in his right lung. The police are confirmed in the belief that Holtz was justified in shooting as he did in self-defense.

St. Patrick's Day in Detroit.

DETROIT, March 18.—All conditions were favorable for Detroit's celebration of St. Patrick's day, which proved to be one of the most successful ever held in the city. The parade included all the Irish Catholic military organizations of Detroit and Windsor, the benevolent associations and the various Catholic clubs. In the evening the Detroit opera house was crowded with Irish men and women. John Donovon, of Bay, acted as president of the meeting and John F. Finerty, of Chicago, was the speaker.

Saginaw Concern in Trouble.

SAGINAW, March 20.—Kerngood & Rosenthal, proprietors of the Excelsior Clothing & Shoe company, one of the largest concerns in northern Michigan, filed chattel mortgages Tuesday for over $56,000. The First national bank and C. L. Judd, as trustees, are preferred creditors. The firm says poor collections was the cause and it has made arrangements to continue the business.

Insurance Statistics.

LANSING, March 19.—Advance sheets of the forthcoming report of the commissioner of insurance show that the old line life insurance companies last year issued Michigan policies aggregating $31,741,769; received premiums of $4,296,070.44; incurred losses of $1,146,367.79, and had $124,676,703 of insurance in force in Michigan at the close of the year.

A Negro Candidate.

BENTON HARBOR, March 20.—For the first time in the history of Benton Harbor a colored man has been nominated for alderman by the republicans.

Many Become Citizens.

HOLLAND, March 20.—At an adjourned session of the circuit court here Judge Padgham granted full citizenship to 154 Hollanders.

TODD PROTESTS.

The Congressional Candidate Fighting the Anti-Fusion Act.

LANSING, March 20.—A. M. Todd, prohibition candidate for congress in the Third district, has made application for a mandamus compelling the board of election commissioners to place his name upon other tickets than his party ticket, on the official ballot for the coming election, and an order to show cause was granted, returnable on Saturday, March 23. The proceedings are commenced to test the constitutionality of the anti-fusion act, passed by the legislature last week, prohibiting a candidate's name from appearing more than once on the official ballot.

MAY FESTIVAL.

Great Artists to Appear at the Coming Ann Arbor Affair.

ANN ARBOR, March 18.—Clarence Eddy, of Chicago, will give a special organ recital during the May festival in this city. This makes a fourth concert of the series which ends with the performance of Berlioz' "Damnation of Faust," by the choral union of 280 voices, the Boston festival orchestra of thirty-six pieces and the following soloists: Mme. Nordica, soprano; Rose Stuart, soprano; Gertrude May Stein, contralto; Rieger, tenor; Max Henrich, baritone; Clark, of New York, bass. The festival will cost $4,000, $1,500 more than last year.

DETROIT, March 18.—A mortgage for $300,000 has been given by the Rapid Transit Railway company of this city to the Finance company of Pennsylvania, as trustees, to secure bonds of that amount, to be guaranteed by the Finance company. The railway company is about to build an electric road from Detroit to Mount Clemens, a distance of 21 miles. It is expected to be completed by July 1.

Seniors Decide on a Programme.

ANN ARBOR, March 14.—The senior laws decided on an elaborate programme for the unveiling of the bronze bust of Judge Thomas M. Cooley. The exercises will be held about April 22, and it was voted to invite Judge Dillon, of New York; Judge Graves, of Adrian; Alfred Russell, of Detroit; President Angell and Prof. Griffin to make addresses.

What Zoa Phora won't do for WOMANKIND no medicine will.

WOMEN'S PAGES

—like flowers, fade and wither with time. The bloom of the rose is only known to the healthy woman's cheeks. The nervous strain caused by the ailments and pains peculiar to the sex, and the labor and worry of rearing a family, can often be traced by the lines in the woman's face. Dull eyes, the sallow or wrinkled face and [illegible] rise in the derangements and irregularities peculiar to women. The functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses of women, can be cured with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For the young girl just entering womanhood, the mother and those about to become mothers, and later in "the change of life," the "Prescription" is just what they need, it aids nature in preparing the system for the change. It's a medicine prescribed thirty years in the diseases of women, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure the chronic inflammation of the lining membranes which causes such exhausting drains upon the system. It cures nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faintness, nervous debility and all disorders arising from derangement of the female organs and functions.

MRS. WILLIAMS.

MRS. JENNIE WILLIAMS, of Mohawk, Lane Co., Oregon, writes: "I was sick for over three years with blind dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, pain in the back and head, and at times would have such a weak tired feeling when I first got up in the morning, and at times nervous chills. The physicians differed as to what my disease was, but none of them did me any good. As soon as I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I began to get better; could sleep well nights, and that bad, nervous feeling and pain in my back soon left me. I can walk several miles without getting tired. I took in all three bottles of 'Prescription' and two of 'Discovery.'"

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. At a session of the Probate court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, on Tuesday, the 6th day of March, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five. Present, Richard B. Robbins, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of James L. Remington, deceased. On reading and filing the petition of George Howell, executor of the last will and testament and upon the estate of said deceased, alleging that the funeral expenses and debts of said deceased and the expenses of administration thus far incurred, have been fully paid and that he is now ready to close said estate and to render his final administration account, and praying that said account may be allowed, and that the residue of said estate may be assigned and distributed according to the terms and conditions of the last will and testament of said deceased, and that he may be discharged and his bond canceled, and for such other order and decree as to this court shall seem proper. WITH MY PIPE.

When the wind blows cold and shrill through the black December night,
And the oak logs pile the chimney, and the flame is leaping bright,
When witch tales are in order, and the children cease their play,
I light my pipe contentedly and puff and puff away.

Puff, puff, puff!
Though the wind the casement cuff,
A full pipe of tobacco

Is sleep the time for dreaming? Well, I dream my dreams awake,
I love the varying visions that a wreath of smoke can make.
The scent of my tobacco makes me reconciled to stay
In a world which hath no sorrow but a pipe can puff away.

Puff, puff, puff!
Let the world go smooth or rough,
A pipe of rich tobacco
Brings me happiness enough.

In the blue smoke round me curling rise the Carolina hills,
The sunlight on the meadows and the ripple on the rills,
And the valleys of Virginia seem to blossom with the May,
And I hear the reapers singing as I puff and puff away.

Puff, puff, puff!
What though fortune should rebuff?
A pipe of fine tobacco
Brings me happiness enough.

Old friends I loved come smiling through each misty wreath that curls,
I hear the fiddle's music, see the red lips of the girls.
The snows of life's December have a rainbow tinted ray,
And a sweet face I remember makes me sigh and puff away!

Puff, puff, puff!
Life is rosy, life is rough,
But a pipe of sweet tobacco
Brings me happiness enough.

But I smile, for I'm contented, and no visions can provoke,
When the frosty air is scented with old time tobacco smoke.
The girls I love are married, and their golden locks are gray,
Be my blessing to them carried as I puff and puff away!

Puff, puff, puff!
Let the wind the casement cuff,
A pipe of rare tobacco
Brings me happiness enough.

A DESERT MYSTERY.

Colonel Whitehead is a story teller from way back and has a reputation as a raconteur that spreads over a dozen western states and territories and from the waters of the Atlantic to those of the Pacific. He has had innumerable thrilling adventures, both in war and in peace, and when in the proper humor he will spin yarns of the most absorbing interest by the hour.

One story that he related as we were jogging along behind the mules on a recent trip to the undoubted gateway of sheol—i. e., the sulphur banks of Kern county—is so uncanny and strange that I will venture to repeat it.

"Some three years ago," said the colonel, "I was engaged in making a survey from Rogers, on the Mojave desert, to Antioch. We made rapid progress toward Fort Tejon pass, and it became necessary to check up the line, measuring distances from government corners, that the road might be accurately located upon the filing map. This work was assigned to an old genius whom I will call Buck, a man past 65, tough as a knot and as wicked as a pirate. Frequently he would set his rickety old transit with the lens wrong end to, and after trying to locate the flag for 15 or 20 minutes he would discover his error, and then such swearing as he indulged in is rarely heard outside the forecastle of a man-of-war. I sometimes think the strange manifestation which I am about to relate to you might have been due to Buck's profanity. Certainly if man can ever have power to summon spirits, evil or good, from the nether world, Buck ought to have had that power in no small measure.

"I began the inspection of the survey preparatory to the right of way work, starting at Rogers, a desolate station on the A. and P. road, on the borders of an immense dry lake. We made our first camp some 15 miles west of that point. The regular survey camp was at this time near Gorman's Station, under the shadows of Mount Frazier. Our camp was a rude settler's cabin, and near it was a shack barn with a little hay stored in it. A well of fairly good water close by made a comfortable camp a possibility. It was late in October, and the water had risen near the surface in the bed of the dry lake. We had eaten our supper the first night out and were having a quiet smoke, looking out over the desolato expanse of desert toward Lancaster, a station on the Southern Pacific road, some 25 or 30 miles to the southwest. Buck had been entertaining us with yarns about ghosts that he insisted haunted an old mining camp near Owens' lake and was inclined to feel hurt because I laughed at his tales.

"When darkness came on and only the outlines of the gaunt mountains across the desert were discernible in the starlight, Buck of a sudden said, 'Colonel, I never thought an engine headlight could be seen so plainly at Lancaster.'

"'Nor did I,' was my reply, as I saw close to the ground at a distance difficult to estimate a round, strange colored light or ball of fire, very like a locomotive headlight. A moment's watching, however, soon convinced me that the light was erratic in its movements and was nothing more or less than a grand display of the 'ignis fatuus' or will o' the wisp, something I had seen many times at the ends of the spars or mastheads of a ship at sea, but never on land or in such magnitude. I said to Buck: 'It's no headlight. It's one of your ghosts come to convince me of the truth of your stories.' He turned white as a sheet and grasped me by the arm, saying, 'It's coming dead for us, sure as we live.'

"And so it was. Dancing up and down, it came nearer and nearer. I must confess it made even me a trifle nervous, while as for Buck, he evidently took my joke about the ghost in dead earnest and was completely panic stricken. 'For God's sake!' he cried, 'let us get out of this,' and was on the point of jumping up and running off into the desert when all of a sudden the light disappeared and I was seen no more that night.

"Buck finally quieted down, though I could see by his nervousness and frequent quick glances in the direction in which the light had appeared that he was still in dread of its reappearance.

hours, trying to explain the real nature of the phenomenon, and that no possible harm could come of it. But he would not have it that way, and all that I could say did not influence his superstitious dread of the strange appearance.

"'Colonel,' he said, 'it's a hoodoo. This railroad scheme and its promoters will die suddenly. Sure!'

"I laughed at his fears, and we lay down to rather a restless night. The work in this section was not completed next day in time to return to the main camp, and half a dozen times in the course of the work Buck spoke about the 'ghosts,' as he persisted in calling the phenomenon, and he was even more muddled than usual in his manipulation of the transit. Finally his slowness caused night to come on before our task was completed, and we therefore returned at dusk to the same camping place as the night before.

"After we had eaten supper Buck said: 'Colonel, I never want to see that infernal light again. Ghosts or no ghosts, it's no good, and no luck will come of it.'

"The words were scarcely out of his mouth when, apparently not more than a hundred yards away, the huge ball of fire appeared like a flash, dancing up and down and seemingly coming dead toward us. Now Buck became almost beside himself with terror. 'Let's go, and the quicker the better,' shouted my now thoroughly alarmed companion, but suddenly, as on the previous night, the light vanished. Buck then recovered some portion of his equanimity, and though he was still anxious to return to camp I finally persuaded him that there was danger that we would lose our way if we ventured out on the desert after dark, while if we remained there was nothing to be afraid of. Neither of us slept much, however, for I must confess that I had a sort of 'creepy' sensation myself, and we were up early next morning, completed our work and got an early start back to camp.

"While we were on the road Buck said: 'Colonel, I don't want to discourage you, but the people who are at the head of this scheme to build a competing railroad will die suddenly, and this work will stop. In fact, I wouldn't wonder if you and I both went over the range with them to keep them company. But they are going, sure!'

"'How little you know!' I replied, and I could say no more, as my backers were then unknown.

"Now let me tell you the strange sequel. The very same week that Buck made his prediction the Barings failed. Early in November Henry D. Minot, the leading spirit and financial head of the enterprise, was killed in a railroad accident while returning from Washington, where he had concluded the purchase of General Beale's ranches in every detail save the passing of the papers and paying the money, the intention having been to subdivide that immense estate of 264,000 acres.

"On Thanksgiving day of the same month came orders to close the work, discharge everybody and break camp. The following year Allan Manvel, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road, died after a brief illness, he having been the second backer of this great enterprise, and soon followed the death of Mr. Magoun of the great banking house of Baring, Magoun & Co., the third and last of the promoters of a rival railroad to the Southern Pacific system.

"What became of Buck?" I asked as the colonel paused.

"Buck? Just read that clipping," and the colonel took from his pocketbook a worn bit of newspaper and handed it to me. It read as follows:

BAGDAD, Colorado Desert, Jan. 15, 1890.

An old inspector and surveyor known as Buck Pomeroy disappeared mysteriously from his camp at this point three days ago, and no trace of him has been found. He was in company with two friends and was apparently in good health and spirits. They all retired as customary early in the evening, but in the morning Buck was missing, and diligent search has failed to find him. He went away just as he was rolled in his blankets—barefooted and half dressed. One of the men said he thought he heard Buck's voice in the night saying something about some ghosts being after him, but he thought it was a dream and so paid no attention to it. Buck has evidently joined that innumerable caravan of men whose bones whiten the remote sections of the desert and will doubtless remain forever without burial.

I folded up the clipping and returned it to the colonel. He put it back in his pocketbook without a word.—San Francisco Call.

Swells of Ancient Egypt.

From what has come down to us, written, painted or chiseled, the Egyptian lord must have been a great swell. The details of the twelfth dynasty show Egyptian elegance at its best. The lord has a male housekeeper, his maitre d'hote, called "superintendent of the provision house." There was a "superintendent of the baking house," and the mixer of drinks had the title of "scribe of the sideboard." Perhaps he was a butler and regulated the supply of wines from the cellar. There were gardeners, porters and handicraft men, all busy in attending to the master. "A preparer of sweets" must have been a confectioner. The Egyptian, when he was no longer mortal, had hopes of being well fed in the hereafter, as he believed he would be nourished in his particular heaven with abundant goose and beef. Offerings to the gods show the variety of the Egyptian menu, and in one are included 10 kinds of cooked meat, 5 kinds of bird or game, 16 varieties of bread and cake, 6 assorted wines, 4 brews of beers, 11 sorts of fruits and an endless number of sweet things.—New York Times.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning March 24. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, Clean and Unclean.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Lev. xi; Ezek. xxii, 23.

Much stress is laid in the Mosaic law upon cleanness, actual and ceremonial. Many of the rules were necessary as sanitary measures in a camp such as that of the Hebrews during their wilderness life. Others were of wider application as health measures in all communities and times. Still others were largely if not wholly ritualistic and symbolical. The great lesson constantly impressed upon them by their lawgiver was: Ye are a peculiar people, a pure nation, a holy community. Cleanliness of body, garments, food, conversation and dealings with others were ever to be reminders of the duty to be pure in heart, because God is good and pure and holy. Oftentimes the inner soul condition was forgotten in undue anxiety about external bodily conditions. Bodily exercise, afflictions and fastings took the place of penitence and contrition of spirit. Many incidents in the gospel narratives show how deeply rooted in the thoughts and habits of the people were the distinctions between clean and unclean things.

Peter's vision on the house top of Simon, the tanner of Jaffa, and his dissembling at Antioch years subsequently in regard to eating with gentiles are indications of the almost slavish observance of ritualistic distinctions even among the Christian Jews. Under such circumstances the teachings of Paul to the Galations must have seemed to many, as Peter says, "hard to be understood." And yet he clearly, in his letter to the Romans, lays down the true principle, which he emphasizes in those to the Corinthians, "There is nothing unclean of itself, but to him that esteemeth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean."

It is the truth, as Jesus himself taught—not that which goeth into a man defileth him, but the words and acts which express the condition of the inner man are the things which defile.

Our Connectionalism.

One has pride in his native state, but every true American has a deeper fervor of patriotism regarding the United States than he has toward his own commonwealth. So with Methodists. Our worldwide connectionalism is a fact of profound significance. When in a single issue of one of our church papers we trace the movements of our bishops and secretaries of benevolent societies in widely separated lands we realize to some extent how our work has expanded, and as our prayers and gifts are poured out to assist the extension of the kingdom we take deeper interest in tracing the progress. Bishop Fitzgerald is in South America. With Dr. Drees he visits Peru and Chile, and crossing the Andes will also visit Buenos Ayres, Uruguay and Paraguay and Brazil. Bishop Ninde is in China pushing toward the interior. In May Bishop Walden sails for Japan and China via Honolulu, where he will stop to inspect our newly established mission.

Temperance Effort.

The Endeavor societies are giving much attention to this line of work and to the cultivation of patriotism. It is well for us to remember the high professions of our church in temperance matters and not let the utterances of the discipline become merely official sentiments. Earnest, aggressive work is needed. In many of our communities the Leagues hold it in their power, united with the young people's societies of the other churches, to create public sentiment and secure the banishment of the saloon. Is not such effort directly in the line of Christian advancement? Temperance work should receive renewed attention.

Self Made.

In a certain sense all who amount to anything in this world are self made. Each must use his own faculties, and by using develop them, else they remain forever in embryo. One must "look up" for himself until he catches sight of the ideal revealed only to his own inner eye. Then must he "lift up" all his powers of spirit and body to make real that which his artist prophet soul has seen in vision. Yet no one can truly make himself what he should be except he helps make others as they should be and in turn is helped by others to be what he should become.

Practical Fraternity.

Whether organic reunion of the several branches of American Methodism come soon or linger later, practical fellowship is demonstrated when Dr. Carman of Canada gives the address at the New England convention, and Dr. Schell gives an address at the great Canadian convention, and Dr. S. A. Steel of Nashville gives an address at the New Jersey state convention. The League will demonstrate the oneness of the Christian spirit possessing our Methodism. All the rest that is desirable will come in God's time.

Think of It.

A true Christian never grumbles.

If you know a man is wrong, your duty is to tell him of it and not his neighbor.

To do God's will is the first obligation of every soul and should be the supreme business of every life.

The performance of Christian duty should be like a carriage wheel rather than a grindstone. Both have motion enough, but only one has progress.

The best way to avoid being crushed by your own burdens is to help some other one bear his.

Some things seem made purely for ornament, but a Christian doesn't come into that class.

Vinegar and mustard are valuable in their places, but sour or fiery Christians are of no use anywhere.

"WHEN SPRING COMES

"I Recommend Pe-ru-na to All Sufferers," Says Editor W. T. Powell, of Clarendon, Ohio.

W. T. Powell, editor of the Independent of Clarendon, Ohio, writes that he was taken sick with bronchitis and catarrhal fever, head was in a terrible condition, lungs were badly affected, being so tight and sore he could hardly breathe, and coughed almost incessantly. For two months tried local physicians, took cough medicines and other medicines. Took three bottles of Pe-ru-na and was entirely cured.

It is needless to attempt to give only the vaguest outline of the wonderful success which Pe-ru-na has met with in the cure of catarrh. This success is entirely due to the fact that Pe-ru-na eradicates the disease from the system, instead of temporarily relieving some disagreeable symptom. Not only is catarrh in all stages and varieties cured promptly, but also colds, coughs, bronchitis, la grippe, catarrhal dyspepsia, but all yield, surely and permanently, to the curative virtues of Pe-ru-na.

As a spring medicine Pe-ru-na is a never failing remedy. It cleanses the blood through digestion, and gives tone to the whole system by increasing the nutritive value of the food. "Spring fever," as it is sometimes called, which produces a tired out, sleepy feeling, and inability to do much mental or physical work, is the result of a sluggish digestion, and no blood medicine will be of any use whatever unless it is able to rectify the impaired digestion. The great popularity that Pe-ru-na has is due to the fact that in all such cases it at once corrects digestive derangements and enriches the blood by purifying this very important source of that vital fluid. Send for book on spring medicines and spring diseases. Also a valuable treatise on catarrh, la grippe, consumption, coughs and colds, by Dr. Hartman, sent free. Address the Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

For free book on cancer address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

It is quite probable that the first use in this country of electric force as the motive power on a large and important railroad system, in place of steam, will be seen on the road between New York and Boston.

SHALL WOMEN VOTE?

A Lively Debate on the Subject at the Maple Syrup Social.

The maple syrup social at the M. E. church, Friday evening, was largely attended and netted a snug amount to the society. The body of the church was well filled to hear the debate on woman suffrage. This proved very interesting as all the speakers presented strong arguments for their respective sides and the verdict was left to the listeners individually, as no judges were selected to decide the question as discussed. Miss Bertha Monagan acted as chairman and time keeper, and introduced the speakers.

Rev. J. P. Varner was the first speaker for the affirmative, and spoke principally of the unequal laws existing whereby women were taxed when they had no voice in making the laws. He cited some Eastern states, notably New Jersey, to show how unequal and unjust they were.

P. S. McKinnon was the first speaker for the negative, and in replying to Mr. Varner cited the Michigan laws whereby women were protected far beyond the men, as men were not heirs to their wives' property, etc. He made a strong plea for the unity of the home life, claiming that now woman's influence was unmeasurable and incalculable, but give her the ballot and you placed upon it a value to be estimated.

Miss Grace Burnett followed with a very spicy article. She claimed that woman possessed brains equal to man, and cited an instance at Oxford University in England, where a woman in competition with 1000 men came out first, and a similar one at Harvard in our country. She made several strong points in favor of giving the ballot to woman, and was given a liberal encore.

Miss Mary Eaton then presented some very strong arguments against granting to woman the ballot. She began her remarks by saying while some women clamored for the right of suffrage, the rank and file of the sex did not want it and showed wherein woman's influence would be greatly lessened were she given it. Her remarks were well received as the hearty applause given her testified.

Bert Day spoke very feelingly for the affirmative. He touched largely upon the moral side of the question, claiming if the ballot was given to women politics in all branches would be purified and raised to a higher standard.

Clarence Hurry followed with a carefully prepared paper in which he showed that the influence now wielded by woman in the home circle would be destroyed should she enter the arena of political life, and argued strongly against giving her the ballot.

Mr. Varner then closed the debate with a few stirring remarks, and the audience retired well satisfied with the manner in which the question had been discussed, and hoping similar discussions, on different subjects, may be given from time to time.

THE ANTI-FUSION LAW.

The State Supreme Court has decided that the Shaw anti-fusion law, so called, is constitutional and valid, but that it does not apply to Todd, the candidate for congress in the third district. In other words, all fusions made after the date of the passage of the law, are null. The candidate must elect what ticket he must run on, and in case of his failure to do so, the election commissioners will print his name on the ticket first certified. In the Todd case the Court says:

"There is no other alternative under this act, but that if the choice is not made by the candidate within the time, his name must be printed upon the ticket first certified, and if we hold that the relator may have further time beyond the time fixed by the act we must interpolate something into the statute. If this be done, what time shall be fixed when relator must make his choice? What is to guide us in fixing that time? Certainly not the act itself. But an arbitrary rule which we may adopt and which is not contained in the act. It cannot be presumed from the language of the statute that the legislature intended such a result as that one who could not conform to the provisions of the act, for the reason that the proceedings in his case had so far progressed as to render compliance by him of the act impossible, should be held within the act."

Three Justices concur in the decision. This decision may be all right, but it does not make the law itself all right. The act is one of the most iniquitous measures ever passed by a Michigan legislature. It practically disfranchises large numbers of voters. Every possible chance should be given to the voter to exercise the fullest measure of freedom in casting his ballot. Any curtailment of this privilege is an infringement upon his political rights. If the new ballot law is open to such a gross violation of justice and right, the sooner it is repealed, the better.

The women of Denver are taking a lively interest in the municipal campaign, and it looks as though they would knock out the machine politicians and control the nomination of clean and good men.

IN THE DAYS OF OLD ROME.

The Entertainment of the Monday Club Given Last Evening.

The Monday Club is the name of a social organization, the membership of which is made up of married ladies of the village who have a taste for art and literature. They have made a specialty of Roman and Grecian history for the year past, and their meetings are said to have been exceedingly interesting. Having secured the loan of Rev. Brown's stereopticon and the assistance of J. H. Smith, they gave an illustrated entertainment last evening at the opera house, which proved to be a very enjoyable affair. The admission was only ten cents and the house was well filled with a delighted audience. Mrs. C. H. Kemp acted as reader, and it is needless to say that her part was well performed. About sixty views were presented altogether, and the audience enjoyed a trip through some of the architectural wonders of old Rome and viewed some of the ruins thereof, which have become famous in recent years.

Among the views was the Panthoon, built by Agrippa, the son-in-law of Augustus, one of the finest of the public buildings of the Augustan Age. The Palace of Augustus was shown, which occupied the greater portion of the Palatine hill. The splendor of its architecture and the countless works of art in gold, silver, ivory and bronze that adorned it made it the chief glory of the city. Among the views was a representation of the Roman baths, which surpassed anything of that character in either ancient or modern times. The bath of Caracalla contained 1600 and those of Diocletian 3200 marble seats for the use of bathers. The Stadium was shown, a building for the games of young men, with raised seats for spectators. Two of the triumphal arches were shown, that of Constantine and that of Titus. Also the Celiseum, capable of seating 80,000 people; the interior of the same and a fight with beasts therein; the Appian Way in the time of Augustus; the Vatican Colonade and Corridor; the Sistine Chapel; the statues of the Apollo Belvidere and the Laocoon. Naples, Venice and Florence were visited and some of the most notable buildings in Paris and London were also given.

We hope the Monday Club will give our citizens another feast of a similar character on some future occasion.

Then and Now.

There was a time when he who would keep informed of the progress of knowledge, the record of discovery and invention, and the currents of human thought, could and indeed must rely chiefly if not wholly upon books. That day has passed. Books we must still read, as the crystallization and permanent embodiment of human thought and knowledge. But to-day it is the newspaper, the magazine, the periodical review, upon which we must chiefly depend if we would follow closely the intellectual movements of the day. And now a new difficulty has arisen. This newspaper and periodical literature has become so multitudinous and bulky as to be a heavy burden to the busy man or woman, while even the person who has leisure and inclination to read widely is often unable to get access to the current publications Especially in the smaller citief, villages, and rural districts is the lack of such opportunity felt. It is felt by the clergymen, the teacher, the lawyer, the physician, the merchant, the artisan, the farmer and the cultured and thoughtful women of the household. With all these and many other classes of persons the great pratical literary question is: How can I best supplement my indispensable home paper? It was to answer this question and meet this demand that Public Opinion(now published in New York City)was founded nine years ago. It selects the best, condenses it to the last degree, and serves it in convenient and attractive form.

An Electrical Magazine.

Electric Power, now in its seventh year, makes its bow to the public this month in an entirely new form and dress. It will henceforth appear as a magazine both as to size and character—a character which the readers of electrical science will greatly appreciate. The first number of the new form is handsomely printed and contains many excellent illustrations. The reading matter is less technical in its nature and is interesting to those who wish to know something of what is going on in electricity and yet do not care to make a study of the science. Electricity is being applied so universally now that every progressive person should read about it, and Electric Power is well worth the subscription price of $2.00 a year. The publishers offer a trial subscription for six months for $1.00. It can be obtained on the news stands for 20cents a copy. It is published at 36 Cortland Street, New York City.

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

The worthy Sunday-school superintendent was illustrating the text, "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

Superintendent—"If I want to raise a crop of turnips, what sort of seed do I sow, children?

Children—"Turnip seed."

Superintendent—"If I want to raise a crop of tomatoes, what kind of seed must I sow?"

Children—"Tomato seed."

Superintendent—"Very good. Now, if you want to raise a crop of good manhood, what kind of seed must you sow?"

And an observer who kept tally reported the school on test vote was a tie between turnip seed and tomato seed.—Buffalo Times.

The merchants that plant spring advertising early will get a better crop of results than those who are waiting for trade to grow without the necessary planting and planning process. Nothing but weeds and brambles grow on untilled ground, and this crop has never been satisfactory. The public is as much interested in the advertising announcements of the merchants as it is in the general news if properly placed before it, and it is not strange that it should, for it desires information regarding new things constantly being placed upon the market. A story of a store is profitable to any merchant and is sure to please the public.

A GREAT ADVANTAGE.

"The bicycle," remarked the drummer for a big cycle works in Boston, "is a great institution, and will supersede the horse in many instances, but not in all. A case in point came under my notice recently. I was in Blue Grass, Kentucky, where the roads are superb, and in course of my visits to agents, I ran across a farmer who lived about five miles from town, and got to talking to him on the subject. He was rather progressive and conceded that the bicycle possessed many advantages over the horse. It saves feed, toil, care, shoeing and a lot more things, and was a good deal speedier.

"'Why then,' said I, 'don't you get a bicycle?'"

"'Well, there's only one thing that prevents me,' he said, with an apologetic grin, 'when a man comes to town on Saturday and starts home in the evening just corned up enough not to know the way, his horse will take him back to his family in fairly good shape, but the bicycle ain't made that will do it, and I'm a man that goes to town on Saturdays.

Of course, concluded the drummer, after that I had mighty little show for an argument.

POSTPONEMENT.

To give all our subscribers a fair chance in the "sewing machine scheme," we have decided to defer the presentation one month. It will positively take place on Saturday, May 4th, next, at three o'clock p. m., at Sutton's opera house. Every person can surely pay his subscription before that date, if so disposed. Hustle in your subscriptions during April. There will be no further postponement.

One Hundred Dollars Given Away.

Here is an offer to our patrons which is well worth their careful consideration. Probably nine-tenths of our subscriptions expire during January, February and March of each year. All subscribers who shall pay for the full year 1895, prior to April 1st, will be entitled to a chance in the distribution of four sewing machines, worth one hundred dollars. These are—

A New Home,	Value,	$30 00
An Eldridge B.,	"	30 00
Weeeler & Wilson, No. 8,	"	25 00
Wheeler & Wilson, second hand.	"	15 00
Total value,		$100 00

The three machines first named are new, right from the factory. The last one has been carefully used a few months and is practically as good as new. Each paying subscriber will get a numbered receipt and that will be his number in the distribution. The few persons who have already paid for 1895 can call and get a duplicate receipt with a new number. The few subscribers who have paid in advance beyond April 1st can secure the benefit of this offer by paying in advance for the balance of the year, or until Jan. 1st, 1896. The distribution will take place at Sutton's opera house, Tecumseh, on Saturday afternoon, May 4th, 1895, at three o'clock, when the property will be formally given to our advance paid patrons, to be allotted among themselves in such manner as they may elect. An expenditure of only $1.00 or $1.25 if you live outside of Lenawee county, will secure a chance for one of these premiums. This offer means business.

Money for Everyone,

I can't understand why people complain of hard times, when any woman or man can make from $5 to $10 a day easily. All have heard of the wonderful success of the Climax Dish Washer; yet we are apt to think we can't make money selling it; but anyone can make money, because every family wants one. I made $478.36 in the last three months, after paying all expenses and attending to my regular business besides. You don't have to canvass; as soon as the people know you have it for sale they send for a Dish Washer. Address the Climax Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio for particulars. Go to work at once, and you will soon have a full pocket book and a light heart. I think it a duty to inform each other of such opportunities, and I also think it a duty to improve them while we may. Try it at once, and publish your experience so others may be benefited.

Misses. Franc and Blanche Middlebrook and Henry Calhoun attended the meeting of B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school rally at Adrian Wednesday.

Robert Lake, of Jackson, was in town Monday, looking at plans, etc., for the Smith & Huntington block. He will undoubtedly put in a bid for the job.

A. M. Kennedy and Mr. White who is putting in the new wash box at the Woolen Mill, were in Tecumseh Sunday and took dinner at the Lilley house.

Geo. DePuy is assisting Wm. C. Rogers selling his patent fence, and they do say that his arguments are very convincing and consequently sales are numerous.

Miss Celia Brewster as delegate, and Bertha Shugrars, Lula Wiltse, Sadie Taylor, Alice Halladay and Frank Parker, as visitors attended the Epworth League convention at Detroit this week.

Charles Waggott jumped his job. He did not put in an appearance Monday morning so Semark has secured John Jackson, of Manchester, to complete the wall for the Van Tuyle & Woodard block.

Miss Carl Corey came from Detroit, where she had been buying goods, Saturday night; spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Frank Scovell, and Monday returned to her home in Paw Paw, Mich.

The ladies of the Aid Society of the Congregational church will give an entertainment at the Town Hall, Wednesday evening, April 10, consisting of quartettes, solos, readings, etc. There will be a Nursery Maid's Drill, interspersed with solos and choruses, by twelve little girls. A more extended notice given next week. Proceeds to apply on the basement fund.

Johnnie Tuttle is spending the vacation at home. He returns to Albion Tuesday next. School work and the climate evidently agrees with him for he is assuming quite aldermanic proportions.

B. O. Randall & Co. purchased one of the Stimpson Company's Computing Scales. It did not take Byron long to decide, as he knows a practical thing when he sees it. Presume all the grocers will buy them.

We would call your attention to the announcement of the millinery opening of Clark & Shimman, in another column, April 5th and 6th. Mate and Eva intend this will eclipse all former openings in this line.

Wesley B. Keyser has decided to run his farm himself this season. He will not move on it, but has hired Alonzo Welch to work for him and his family will remain in the house. Guess Wes will be kept busy this season.

The Congregational society are progressing finely with their improvements to the church. The rooms are nearly ready for the plasterers. The society will enjoy the rooms when finished and they will be very convenient and cosy.

Next week occurs the regular meetings of the secret bodies. Tuesday evening, Royal Arch Masons and L. O. T. M.; Wednesday, the Eastern Star, who expect to confer degrees; Friday, K. O. T. M., and Saturday, the Blue Lodge, F. & A. M. Bear these in mind and govern yourselves accordingly.

Doctor J. E. White has purchased of the Congregational church the dirt taken from beneath the church and is filling up the rear portion of his lot. When he completes the work his lot will be greatly improved. Patrick Murphy is superintending the grading and he knows just how to do it and will have it all right.

D. St. John & Son have procured for the Masonic bodies the new chairs for the officers and placed them in the hall. They are elegant, and above all, very easy and comfortable. They enhance the looks of the room, and when the new stations are in place the fraternity will have as attractive quarters as can be found.

At the Young Men's meeting held at Will H. Katner's Monday evening, the following officers were elected:

Guy Katner—President.
Roy Wood—1st. Vice Pres.

Don't forget to vote down the salary grab, at town meeting next Monday, as it don't seem right to raise the salary of any state or county officer when farm products and labor is so low. Let all stand together: better lower their pay according to the price of labor, products, and silver.

The death of Silas G. Aldrich, an old pioneer of this country, and an old veteran of the late rebellion, occured on March 21, 1895, at the age of 77 years and 10 days. He was a member of the Beers Post, G. A. R., of Tecumseh, Mich. Having been born in Canada, he moved with his parents to New York state when an infant, then to this state when a young man. The funeral was held the following Sunday at the North Rome church, Rev. Robinson officiating. A large concourse of people gathered to pay the last respects to one they loved and respected in life. The G. A. R. friends tenderly bore the remains of their comrade in arms to its last resting place in the North Rome cemetery. He has responded to the last roll call, has been mustered to that great camp beyond the tomb, where sorrow and suffering is unknown.

A Remarkable Cure.

Mrs. H. H. Adams, 1609 Wabash ave., Chicago, says: "I had a scrofulous taint of the blood from childhood, which, however, remained dormant. An ulcer began on the side of the nose, having all the appearances of a most malignant cancer. The agony of mind I suffered cannot be described as I contemplated the progress of such a malignant disease. Finally I was induced to try Foley's Sarsaparilla. It appears to neutralize the poison in the blood. The growth of the ulcer ceased. The diseased tissues in the bottom and edges of the sore seemed to loosen and the natural flesh to take its place. No part of the disease remains." For sale by Orr & Temple. mar

A notable instance of retribution sooner or later overtaking the malefactor is the suicide of the man who manufactured the first hand organs in this country.

A Valuable Find.

After years of study and labor, there has at last been discovered a sure and never failing remedy. It has been tested on patients who have despaired of ever being cured, the results have been, in every case, wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of chronic and acute inflamatory rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia; especially ovarian neuralgia, dysmenorrhœa and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable blood purifier, being especially useful in eczema, psoriasis, scrofula, all glandular enlargements and diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by Orr & Temple, Tecumseh, Mich.

A Clean Collar

One that you can keep clean all the time—a collar that does not wilt when you get over-heated; that does not fray on the edge, or tear out at the buttonholes, and can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. These collars and cuffs are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with waterproof "celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. They are the only waterproof goods so made, and every piece is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Ask for this, and refuse to take any imitation if you expect satisfaction. If your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you sample. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. State size, and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

Mrs. Thomas Kyle, of Tecumseh, is the guest of Charles Du Bois's family this week.

Eva Welling and Eva Day, of Tecumseh, were the guests of Harvey Welling, Sunday.

Mrs. John Exelby is visiting friends in Cleveland, and expects to be absent some time

Charles Du Bois was at Holloway yesterday, taking in and loading hay. He filled the cars.

Quite a number came down from Tecumseh to see For a Million, and shake hands with Mantell.

Do not be satisfied simply to see "For a Million" yourself, but know that your friends are present also.

The special meeting of Ivy Leaf Hive, L. O. T. M. will not be held tomorrow evening, March 30th as announced.

Mrs. Borden returned Tuesday night from an extended visit to Colorado, and her friends rejoice to have her with them again.

C. O. Maynard will move his family to Adrian, having purchased of Geo. Smith the house now occupied by Frank Brown.

Mrs. Vreeland, who was called here by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Samuel Coffia, started towards her home in St. Louis, Monday.

Will Clark enjoyed a visit from his brother, A. B. Clark, of Elkhart, Ind., Sunday and Monday, and only regrets that it was so short.

Orby G. Hopper will be at Exelby tomorrow night with a business. Do not make no common error but be sure and promptly.

Harvey Welling is turning out some fine work from his studio. If you want some fine Photographs now is the opportunity—don't delay.

The maple syrup social at the church parlors Friday evening, was very enjoyable. The quilt brought $3.50, and was Wilmina Ousterhout is the happy possessor.

School begins Monday and no doubt teachers and scholars alike will enter upon the duties of school work with renewed ardor and zeal for the little vacation they have enjoyed.

No better representative could have been chosen from our Christian Endeavor society than Miss Gertrude Kniffen, who represented us at the convention in City this week. We expect a good report from her.

Most our people may know something about the hay industry here we have had some inquiries of our own buyer, Du Bois, and find that up to Feb. 1 he had paid out $3,393.00, and thinks it will exceed $1,000.00 that he has paid since that date.

Wednesday the C. J. & M. accomodation train, east, was detained some time owing to the engine leaving the track on account of a broken rail. The passenger west, could not get by, so an engine was used in drawing the train one back on the track, and it was speedily accomplished that the delay from was short.

Mr. Eugene Palmer, of Clinton, is calling on our good housewives introducing an improved process for canning fruit. It has been demonstrated to be a great saving of time and expense, and the fruit has a more natural flavor. It costs but little for the rights and if people expect to put up fruit they cannot afford to be without them.

A very pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haight was the scene of a very pretty though quiet home wedding the first of the week. Their daughter Minnie was by Rev. James Wright married to Horatio Underwood in the presence of a few immediate relatives. The young couple have grown up among us and are not only well known, but very highly esteemed, and all wish them a happy married life.

An article which appeared last week in the Britton Journal conveying the idea that the dramatic society were working under false colors when claiming the play was for the benefit of the G. A. R. M's, has caused no little excitement and some feeling. It was rather unkind when the members of the society are all so well known, and as a rule who would scorn to do such a thing. We trust the Journal will make explanation. Our citizens should show their appreciation of the efforts put forth by the dramatic society by filling the hall to its utmost capacity.

Tuesday evening at the commodious home of Mr. and Mrs. John Zeluff was a very happy company, numbering about forty, who had assembled to witness the ceremony which united Miss their daughter Serene, and Mr. Gibson, in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. James Wright officiated. The natural aptitude combined with experience, enabled him to make the ceremony very impressive. The contracting parties are well known and highly esteemed by all for the sterling qualities they possess. Serene has been active in church work and a leader in social matters, consequently fully equipped for the new life upon which she has entered. Frank holds an envious position among his acquaintances, and no doubt will prove equal to the additional responsibilities he has assumed. They seemed well suited to each other, and we feel that their married life will be genial and happy.

Exelby Hall was filled last night by one of the most critical audiences ever assembled in Britton, to see "For a Million," and to say that they were well pleased, is putting it very mildly; they were delighted, for never has a play been so artistically presented here. The play was one of merit and the cast a strong one. Mr. Mantell is an artist of reputation and his instruction was appreciated by the home talent as was demonstrated in the admirable manner, they sustained their several characters. The new scenery painted by Mr. Mantell was admired by all, and stamps him a scenic artist as well as actor. The play was given for the benefit of the Maccabees, and will be repeated tomorrow night. See that the hall is packed and thus show your appreciation of not only your home talent in furnishing you such a fine entertainment, but Mr. Westley Mantell, whose conscientious work with the dramatic society and stage fittings, will remain with you and also the order which is such a grand, beneficiary organization. They all deserve a rousing benefit, and it is your province to see that they have it. We hope to speak more of the play in detail next week.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, the loving Father has permitted the pearly gates to swing open to admit to the society of angels and the just made perfect, our loved sister and friend, Angie Kniffin, and

Whereas, by so doing the W. C. T. U. of Britton has sustained an irreparable loss, and

Whereas "no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous but grievous, nevertheless afterwards it yieldeth the peaceable fruits of righteousness, to them that are exercised thereby," therefore

Resolved, that we as a union will try to emulate the virtues of our departed sister in her devotion to the principles of right and justice, also

Resolved, that to the husband and children we would offer our heart-felt sympathy in this their time of deepest sorrow, and would commend them to the care of one who will never forsake them, and they may love their dear one still though she is removed from the family circle.

M. L. W. Mudge, Flora E. B. Exelby, Eliza Zelliff—Committee.

Whereas, under the providence of the All Father the death angel has taken from us sister Mary Oliver, always full of love and good works, and a zealous and efficient worker in the church, Sunday school and aid society, therefore

Resolved, That as members of the Christian Union Church, Sunday School and Aid Society, we bow in humble submission to the laws of Divine Providence, and rejoice that she has left behind the influence of a sweet Christian life, and that she has gone, or will go to a mansion prepared for her in the presence of God, "Absent from the body but present with the Lord."

Resolved, that we tender to Bro. Geo. L. Oliver and family our heart felt sympathy in their deep sorrow with the rich assurance that "weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be placed in the hands of the bereaved family and published in the Britton Journal and Tecumseh Herald.

E. Mudge, Mrs. J. Haight, Mrs. F. Brown. Mrs. F. E. Morrell—Committee.

Whereas, death has entered another home and taken from the associations of family, church, and community. Mrs. Angie Kniffin, a beloved wife, devoted mother, worthy Christian and respected neighbor and friend, therefore

Resolved, that we, acting under the direction of Christian Union Church, Sunday School, Aid Society and Y. P. S. C. E., in all of which she was a zealous member, do hereby express our appreciation of her worth and life influence, and bow in sweet submission to him who sees as we cannot see, believing that He doeth all things well. And while we sorely feel her loss, rejoice that she leaves hallowed influences behind her, and that she goes to enjoy Heaven and all its sacred associations

Resolved, that we tender to Samuel Kniffin and the two daughters, husband and children of the deceased, and to other relatives, our heartfelt sympathethies in their great sorrow, with the Christian assurance that separation is not forever, and that Christ has come and taken her where there is no pain nor death, but where there is sweet peace and rest for evermore.

Resolved, that these resolutions be placed in the hands of the beloved family and published in the Britton Journal and Tecumseh Herald.

E. Mudge, Mrs. J. Haight, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. F. E. Morrell, Mrs. G. Smith, Mary L. Mudge.—Committee.

SOUTH MACON SIFTINGS.

The grip has many victims on the slip at present—Mrs. J. I. Gulick, Mrs. D. Bailey, Mrs. James Cadmus, Charles Hendershot and family and R. R. Remington.

There will be a social entertainment at the Grange hall Friday evening, April 5th, for the benefit of the Y. P. S. C. E. A short program will be rendered, maple sugar served, and everyone is invited to come and have a good time.

It is with regret we learn of the death of Thomas Havens, of Blissfield. His boyhood and early manhood was spent in this vicinity. Although he had been residing in Blissfield for the past few years, he had a host of friends at his old home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Avery, of Macon, have the sincere sympathy of all, as we record the bereavement they are called to pass through in the death of their little boy, aged 14 months. Thus they were called on so soon to part with one of the twins born to them. Its little body was buried in the Macon cemetery on Monday afternoon, and the funeral services were attended by a large circle of sympathizing friends and neighbors.

Died, at her late residence in South Macon, on Saturday evening, March 16, 1895, after a brief illness of pneumonia, Mrs. Maynard, wife of Thomas Maynard, aged 43 years. She will be greatly missed in the neighborhood, but most sadly missed in her family. She was a woman of more than ordinary ability and strength and of pure motherly instincts and devotion to her three children who survive her and deeply feel their loss. To the husband and children the sympathy of the entire community is extended. She was buried from her late home on Tuesday afternoon, the funeral services attended by the entire community, and the body laid to rest in Lake Ridge cemetery.

Rev. Chas. Miller, of Jasper, was in town Thursday.

Beautiful spring time is with us for a few days at least.

Miss Ollie Wildie spent Sunday with Miss Jennie Jordan.

Lewis Barnes, of Lyons Ohio, called on L. C. Winship and family.

Joseph Billmyre is worse again. He has been ailing for a long time.

Ralph Underwood and bride, of Britton, were callers in town Sunday.

Chas. Ball, of Raisin Center was down fixing L. C. Winship's feed mill.

Geo. W. McClenathen and wife, visited Madison, Saturday and Sunday.

The Ladie's social meets Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Geo. Holloway's.

J. L. Richard and wife attended Free Methodist church Monday evening.

Allen Kelley is out with his engine buzzing up the wood for the farmers.

Merchant Brown and wife entertained friends from Blissfield Wednesday.

Mrs. W. M. Ball and Mrs. F. G. Florance visited the Maple City, Thursday.

Maple sugar is rather scarce in this vicinity, at least we have not seen any.

The revivals are running with large attendance. They continue this week.

Uncle Ben Kelley is out again, after being housed up all winter with sickness.

Willie Chatfield and L. C. Winship attended the auction at Chas. Bidwell farm.

Base ball is rushing the season in Holloway, as the first game was played Saturday.

Miss Sarah Moore lies very low at her home with that dreaded disease consumption.

Mrs. Howland has divided her painting class into two and meets them Tuesday and Saturday.

Hazel Keenan, of Fairfield, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Winship this week.

Mr. Spencer's team ran away Saturday morning, while standing at the wagon shop, and made things lively for a few minutes.

Myron Billmyre, of Nebraska, is here visiting his parental home, and also his invalid mother. He has been absent ten years.

Miss Abbie Ray closed a very successful term of school where she has taught for a number of terms, and returned to her home in Morenci.

Mrs. Ella Kelley Cornelius will give a concert and recital in the public hall at Holloway, Friday evening, April 5th, for the benefit of the L. O. T. M. Admission 10cts.

Mrs. Fowler, mother of Chas. and Mrs. Eva Granger, departed this life at 1 p. m., Saturday. She has been a great sufferer, and her attending physician had no hope of her recovery. The friends and neighbors tender their sympathy to the bereaved family, who are left to mourn the loss of a kind and devoted mother. Funeral, Monday, at 10 a. m., from the house.

ROME RAVELINGS.

School in Dist. No. 2, commences April 1st.

David Sharer is very low and his recovery is doubtful.

Bert Selleck, of Chicago, is visiting with his parents over Sunday.

Fay Baker is so as to be around the house and is improving rapidly.

Luman Older is moving this week to the Wright farm, near the city.

Fred Hunt will move into his house on the old Reynold's farm this week.

In the death of Geo Spears we lose another old and respected townsman.

Miss Bancroft closed her school in the Halsted district Friday with an exhibition.

Roller skating at Segar's hall every Saturday night makes lively times for the young people.

The three months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilbert died Saturday the 16th, and was buried Tuesday at Adrian.

If it should come to a war with Spain Senator Frye would doubtless divide his time between Washington and the Rangely Lakes. He can afford to be enthusiastic for war and conquest.

There will be a trolley line all the way from New York to Philadelphia before the year is out. It is doubtful if there will be any steam railroads left in 1900.

"Where Farming Pays"

Is it in the north-west with wheat at less than 50 cents a bushel, with zero weather and blizzards in winter and cyclones in summer? No! Go to Virginia; land is cheap, climate perfect all the year round. Ask any one who knows and he will tell you that in the tidewater section one acre of land has produced as high as $2,000.00 in one season. It is worth looking into. Apply to C. H. Bovee, Gen'l. Land and Excursion Agent, Coldwater, Mich., for pamphlet "Facts for Farmers" free. No statements made that are not corroborated by practical farmers who have grown rich on their Virginia farms.

Tired, Weak, Nervous Could Not Sleep.

Prof. L. D. Edwards, of Preston, Idaho, says: "I was all run down, weak, nervous and irritable through overwork. I suffered from brain fatigue, mental depression, etc. I became so weak and nervous that I could not sleep. I would arise tired, discouraged and blue. I began taking and now everything is changed. I sleep soundly, I feel bright, active and ambitious. I can do more in one day now than I used to do in a week. For this great good I give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine the sole credit.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

It is constantly effecting the most wonderful cures, while the unparalleled demand with which it meets, stamps it at once as the greatest medicine of the age for outward application.

The most incredulous are convinced, and the most skeptical are compelled to believe in the power of this great remedy.

WHAT IT CURES.

All Sores, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Sore Throat, Lameness, Rheumatism, Piles, Inflammation of Lungs and Bowels, Bronchitis, Croup, Salt Rheum, Chilblains, Affection of the Spine, Erysipelas, Nervous Irritation, and all disorders attendant with Inflammation.

It never fails to restore the natural functions of the skin and equalize the circulation of the blood. By this means a controlling power is gained over the most malignant forms of disease. It penetrates to every portion of the human frame, every bone, muscle, vein, nerve and ligament is searched out and made sensible to its soothing and healing influence. Hence it copes readily with internal as well as external diseases.

Over 40 Years.

This Ointment has been used by the people throughout the United States, and our confidence in its qualities is such that as we have no space here to insert any of the numerous certificates of cures which we have from all parts of the country, we simply ask those readers of this notice who have ever used this Ointment, to frankly state their experience with it to inquiring friends. If but one in a hundred would do this we should be perfectly satisfied with the result. Full directions for use will be found on pamphlet around each bottle.

Prices 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

If your druggist does not happen to have it on hand, request him to order a supply of it for you. It will be cheaper soon for you to order, direct of us, and less trouble.

TECUMSEH, MICH., MARCH 23, 1895.

FOR SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.

Next Monday the voters of Tecumseh, in addition to township officers, will cast their ballots for a very important county official. We have taken occasion to comment in general terms before upon the office of School Commissioner. It is properly a non-partisan office and fitness rather than politics should be the ground on which the selection is made. It is unnecessary to enlarge upon Mr. Chas. F. Field's peculiar fitness for this particular office. That is universally acknowledged by every one who is acquainted with him. Lenawee county never had a better School Commissioner and the best interests of the schools of the county demand his retention in that position. But the electors of Tecumseh have an additional reason for supporting him. He is justly regarded as one of our best and most enterprising citizens. He has done much for the upbuilding of Tecumseh, directly and indirectly. He is a man of very moderate means—for the man who runs a country newspaper in these days has hard scratching—and the salary will give him a lift that he has earned and richly deserves. We do not believe in voting for an unfit man for any office simply because he lives in Tecumseh, but in this case, we can cast our ballot for the best candidate, and honor a friend and worthy citizen at the same time. Every Republican, Democratic and Prohibition vote in Tecumseh should be cast for Mr. Field. Make it unanimous.

THE TOWNSHIP ELECTION.

At the election, to be held next Monday, the Democrats will find themselves without a candidate for supervisor. Alex. Richards received the caucus nomination, but he absolutely declined to run. Other persons were solicited by the township committee to take the place, but all declined with thanks, and as no one was found to accept before the expiration of the limit for reporting to the election commissioners the place is left vacant. Under the late law there is a question whether the town committee has any authority to change a nomination. Mr. Richards declination is to be regretted, for he would have made an excellent supervisor, if he had been elected. The unterrified, therefore, will be commpelled to devote their time and enthusiam to the remainder of the ticket. But how should we vote on the office of supervisor? Just exactly as you please, men and brethren. This will be a local election. Why not discard politics entirely and vote with reference to the personal fitness of the candidates? They are both good men. Apply the civil service doctrine for once. Our prohib citizens have borne their defeats very patiently in the past. Suppose we give them a lift next Monday. What harm would it do? Tecumseh never had a better supervisor than A. P. Coddington would make. If you don't believe it, try him one year and see.

School Secret Fraternities.

The school board of the Ann Arbor high school has recently passed the following resolutions:

1. Any member of the school who is a member of any fraternity may be expelled by the principal.
2. Expulsion shall be a penalty for the use of tobacco, cigars and intoxicating liquors on the grounds, or the frequenting of billiard rooms or places where they are sold.
3. Rushing, rioting, hazing, or engagement in any uncivil act, will expose the member to expulsion.
4. Immoral influence will make a member liable to expulsion by a two-thirds vote of the regular teachers.
5. "Ponying" will deprive the member of his diploma, or expel him, or both, and if a person desires to go to another school a recommend will not be granted.

"CHICK."

Important Decision

A case which has created considerable comment and interest in Cambridge and Franklin townships, was settled by Judge Lane Saturday. It was that of James E. Gibbs vs. the estate of Cornelia Adams, deceased.

While acting as administrator Mr. Gibbs lost $500 of the funds of the estate in the Bills Bank failure at Tecumseh. Upon the hearing of his final account in the probate court, Judge Robbins ordered that the administrator should make good the amount.

On the advice of his attorney, John E. Bird, Mr. Gibbs appealed to the circuit court, and on Saturday Judge Lane handed down a decision reversing the finding of the lower court, holding that the loss which had been sustained should fall on the estate rather than on the administrator.

PROHIBITION.

REV. ELI WESTLAKE.

With all the light men have at the present day, it seems self-evident that the liquor traffic is an unmitigated curse to humanity, and we regard it as a waste of time to attempt to prove the proposition. If it does not work out the direst results in society and to individuals it is because such results are prevented by means and agencies that come from a christian quarter.

Men who engage in the liquor business know that it so debases men that they are incapable of business. Yet some persons are ready to concede the claim that the traffic is part and parcel of the proper business of the land. But the facts are that just in proportion as the sale of liquors prospers, all other forms of business come toward an end. Moreover, those engaged in the traffic would not be willing to live and bring up their families in that state and condition of society that their business legitimately tends to produce, but will appropriate to themselves and families those privileges and advantages that they are making war upon by their business. Now, to talk moral suasion, so called, to such a class of men, is a forlorn hope. We might as soll send a dog out to bark at the moon, for it is a foregone conclusion with them that they will sell liquor, whatever may be the results, only so they make money thereby.

The only way to deal successfully with such a class of men, and save men, women and children from the curse of the rum traffic, is to take them with the clutch of the law, and choke them into a decent respect for the good of society. The plea is made that prohibition abridges a man's personal liberty—telling him what he shall drink and what he shall not drink. And yet, if a law is enacted, forbidding a man to walk the streets naked, or to sell deceased meat, no one complains. All concede the reasonableness of such a law. Now, if there be any difference, it is altogether in favor of a law prohibiting the traffic in intoxicating drinks. For the damaging results of the sale of diseased meat is confined to the body and to this life alone, while intoxicating drinks damage men in soul and body, for time and eternity.

No man has a moral right to put temptation to wrong doing in the way of his fellow man. One that would do this is an enemy to the innocent and would glory in their downfall. It is said that a prohibitory law cannot be enforced. That we regard as assumption. Because such a law is not enforced is no argument that it cannot be. The facts are that in some places it has been enforced, and in other places it has been a dead letter because there was not stamina enough in the people. It is said we cannot prohibit the traffic, and therefore better license it, and thus restrict its sale and raise a revenue. Doing this the public authorities become partners in the business, and with a share in the revenue they also share in the responsibility of the business before God and the fearful curse that follows the traffic.

If it is proper and right to restrict its sale in any measure, it is proper and right to prohibit it altogether. The advocates of the liquor trade themselves concede the point that society has the right to control the whisky traffic in their approval of a law to license the business. We regard a law imposing a tax upon the liquor seller as synonymous with license law. In the case of license it expressly states that the liquor vender shall have the right to sell. In both cases the liquor seller is given the respectability of legal approval and is entrenched behind the defences of law, and his business goes on record as part and parcel of the lawful business of the land. We concede the claim that it is a branch of business, but it is a ruinous business, and the ruin that it has caused and is still working cannot be portrayed by tongue. The following transposition of poetry but faintly indicates its awful work:

Were the whole earth of parchment made
And every man a scribe by trade;
Could we with ink the ocean fill,
Were every spire of grass a quill;
To write the ruin rum hath wrought
Would drain the ocean dry.
Nor would the scroll contain the whole,
Though stretched from sky to sky.

Fred Cox of Jackson and Joe Tansey, of Chicago, were advertises to fight eight rounds at Tecumseh Saturday night. Just how much Tecumseh gets out of these fake fights is not definitely known but one thing is sure, the cappers "collared" the money the "suckers" put up to see the contest, and escaped from the village while the good people were buried in slumber.—Evening Telegram.

Col. Furgason has sold his farm on the west side of Stony lake to Adrian parties and will move onto Mrs. Wm. Ide's farm. It is rumored that the Adrian parties will put up a hotel and convert the Furgason place into a summer resort. A prettier place for a resort could not be found situated as it is between Vineyard and Stony lakes.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Saturday last an express package came addressed to the Adrian high school, sent by Prof. DeMotte, from Hillsdale. It was opened this morning before the school and the contents were found to be a neatly framed picture of the professor. The accompanying card bore the inscription: "To my very dear friends, the Adrian high school, from your adopted boy. March 15, 1895."—Evening Telegram.

Chris Colwell has laid an old-time newspaper on our desk. The Ulster County Gazette, dated Jan. 4, 1800, seems almost a sacred number. It contains the announcement of the death of Gen. Washington and an account of the funeral of the "Father of his country," being dressed in mourning for that event. This valuable keepsake was handed down to Mr. Colwell from his grandmother.—Hudson Republican.

It is a foolish hawk that will walk twice into the same trap, but that's the kind of a bird John Schermerhorn has just captured at his home in Pittsford. Three years ago he took one of these terrors-to-chickens from a steel trap and put a hog ring on one of its legs. The hawk regained its liberty, but last week John found another hawk in the trap and upon investigation discovered that it was the same bird, ring and all—three years older put evidently no smarter.—Hudson Gazette.

Harbor Point, next to Mackinaw island, one of the most famous of summer resorts, it is feared will soon be a thing of the past. Some of the older residents of Harbor Springs say it is gradually being engulfed. A portion of the end of Harbor Point sank out of sight in the bay, and it is now feared that the same thing will take place with the whole point. The point is covered with handsome cottages.—Jackson Patriot.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Uhr of Manchester a few days since, a little daughter came to bless their home. Matt Blosser mentioned the fact to his wife and with a sigh, and in a tone of regret, he allowed that such an adjunct of the Blosser house hold seemed only imaginary. "Well," said Mrs. B. gently, "never mind; this little one isn't ours, its true, but I understand it is Uhr's." For a moment the genial Matt was dumbfounded, but as he caught the eye of his better half, he saw the "point" and he simply remarked "Uhr right."—Adrian Press.

The Development of the South.

Is being furthered by the Queen & Crescent Route by means of a special series of Monthly Excursions to Southern points at One Fare for the Round Trip. These rates are in effect from Cincinnati, O., and Lexington, Ky., on November 6th and December 4th; good twenty days from date of sale for return. They are sold on these dates to all points in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida (except Key West), and to New Orleans, and all points on our line in Louisana.

Stop-overs are permitted on these excursions at any point south of the Ohio River, within the final limit of the tickets. This offers an excellent opportunity to those who desire to go South to look into the present great movement of Northern to that section.

The Q. & C. has over a million acres of farms and timber land for sale along its line at $3.00 to $5.00 per acre, on easy terms.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given, that, by virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit court for the County of Lenawee, in favor of George C. Pocklington, Plaintiff, against the goods, chattels and real estate of George W. Graves and G. A. Wilkins Defendants, in said County, to me directed and delivered, I did, on the 18th. day of March, A. D., 1895, levy upon and take all the right, title and interest of the said George W. Graves and G. A. Wilkins, in and to all that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, known and described as follows, to-wit: The south-west one quarter of the north-west one quarter of section twenty-eight (28), and the south one half of the north-west one quarter of said section twenty-eight (28), in Town five (5), south of Range five (5), east, containing sixty (60) acres of land, more or less. All of which I shall expose for sale, at auction or public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the East door of the Court House in the City of Adrian, in said County, on the 16th, day of May, next, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon.

Mrs Will. J. Kies and little Joseph, left for Elkhart, Indiana, after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. M. A. Freeman.

Mike L. Gillen and family moved Wednesday from the Potter house to W. W. Marsh's house on the Brownville hill.

Mrs. Jennie Perry Norris, of Boston, and Mrs. Alice Perry Dickie, of Albion, were called here by the death of their father.

Little Florence Keyser has been quite sick this week and Horatio Keyser and wife are up there assisting in caring for her.

Rev. C. M. Brown will spend Sunday at Ann Arbor, where he addresses a young men's rally under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association.

This has been quite a week for birthdays in the male portion of the Hayden family. Mr. Hayden and Levi celebrated theirs together, coming as they do the same day with only an interval of 50 years, Mr. Hayden being 76 and Levi 26, Wednesday. Will celebrated his but as he is still single and a little sensitive about his age, we would not state it, but say he is old enough and ought to be married.

There has been some improvement in the condition of Miss Lydia Price.

Below is the Tecumseh Prohibition ticket for next Monday:

Supervisor—Ansel P. Coddington.
Town Clerk—Bert C. Day.
Town Treasurer—Wm. B. Darling.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions by reason of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have obtained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringing others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting in the matter.

The business outlook is good for H. Brower & Co. They began on full time last Monday, after working on short time for over a year.

Among those who attended the G. A. R. and Relief Corps meeting at Mt. Clemens this week were Mrs. Thos. Hanley, A. W. Slayton, and H. W. Stevens.

The Womans' Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. G. W. Jackson during the month of April. Friday April 5th, is Mother's meeting conducted by the new superintendent. Let there be a good attendance.

The ladies who had the courage to remove their hats at the entertainment last evening are entitled to a public vote of thanks. The members of the Monday Club have started a good precedent, and we hope it may become the prevailing fashion.

Mrs. Phelps has presented to St. Peters church society a case containing 100 volumes of theological works, the property of her late husband. They will be placed permanently in the Rectory and will be helpful to the Rector whoever he may be. It is a generous gift and one that will be appreciated as the years go by.

Under a schedule arranged by a civil service commission the examination of applicants for positions in the departmental Indian and railway mail services will be held in Detroit April 1. The examinations will be conducted by Special Examiner Charles L. Snyder, who leaves Washington this week on the regular spring tour.

At the annual election of officers of Tecumseh L. O. L. No. 60. Tecumseh, Mich., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. M.—James Elliott.
D. M.—John C. Hazlett.
Secretary—John Murphy.
Chaplain—Rodgers Dunseath.
Treasurer—James Langthorn.
D. of C.—John Linton.
Tyler—Joseph McLaveny.

County School Commissioner C. F. Field was in the city yesterday taking steps for an educational rally in this city in a few weeks. Mr. Field devotes himself to the duties of his office without ostentation or fussiness, but he is highly regarded throughout the county as a systematic, conscientious official and splendid organizer. He works quietly and thoroughly. The prospects of his re-election are very encouraging, and this is cause for congratulation.—Hudson Gazette.

The whole legislature, with its retinue of attaches and a mountain of baggage, left Lansing at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, on a train composed of three day coaches and four Wagner palace cars, on a pilgrimage to Ann Arbor, where the law-makers went to study the needs of the state university. The party reached its destination at 6:10. Supper was served at Granger's hall, and in the evening the visitors were entertained at a concert in the big hall of the university, which contains the immense 'Columbian' organ, and has a seating capacity of 3,500 people.

Mrs Horace Baker was seized with an attack of acute pneumonia last Monday, and at six o'clock Tuesday morning, she had gone to her final rest. She had been in feeble health for many years, but was about the house as usual on Monday. The grief stricken husband and sons are prostrated by this sudden affliction. The deceased was 63 years old, having come to America when two years of age. Her girlhood was passed on a farm near Tecumseh, and for the past thirty years the family have lived in this village. She was a model wife and mother and respected by all who knew her. The funeral is held to day at 3:30 o'clock, p. m. at the family residence on Chicago street. Further obituary mention will appear hereafter.

Levi Hayden returned to Grand Rapids yesterday.

Dr. O. Q. Jones and wife visited Adrian Wednesday.

Pastor H. A. Smith has invested in a horse and buggy.

Will Hatch and Rolf Mills came home to Macon from Ann Arbor to vote.

Ridgeway and Lake Ridge will be found on the eighth page this week.

John J. Orr and wife attended the funeral of a relative at Saline, Wednesday.

Marvin Hayden and wife returned to their home in Grand Rapids Saturday.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. W. W. Marsh is gaining every day, with prospects of full recovery.

Mrs. Augusta Hall Waldron and stepson, of Jackson, arrived yesterday afternoon for a visit with friends.

Fred Teachout's household goods and his family left for Brooklyn Tuesday, and Fred will follow later on.

Alf. James has been having a siege with the grip the past week, and looks as if he had lost his last friend.

Miss Flora N. Gildersleeve, of Spring Arbor, who has been visiting her sister Maude at E. L. Teeple's, left for home yesterday on the noon train.

Al. Stacy, of Newburgh, went to Buffalo Saturday with a fine lot of lambs fed by himself; he shipped them from Britton via the Wabash. He returned home yesterday noon.

George Haggert, an old Clinton boy, but now of Clayton, stopped in Tecumseh Tuesday, a short time. He and son were on their way to Clinton for a visit.

Mrs. Henrietta Keyser returned Monday night from a nine week's visit at West Bay City and South Lyons. She reports a delightful time. The trip and visit evidently did her good.

Miss Cullen the popular and tasty trimmer for Mrs. M. A. Freeman returned Saturday night from a two weeks stay in Detroit, where she studied the different styles and perfected herself in the art of trimming in all the latest designs for the coming season.

George Gilbert who for some time has been one of J. C. Hazlett's coat makers, left Saturday for Osceola, where he was offered a position that to his mind was for his interest to accept. George made many friends during his sojourn here who wish him prosperity.

The prospects seem decidedly favorable for the establishment of a bicycle factory here. Mr. Boyle, of Grand Rapids, was here recently and made a proposition to the stock-holders of the Tiffany Iron Works, who have called a meeting to be held at the council rooms Tuesday, April 2nd, at 3 p. m. to consider the matter.

Here is the Tecumseh Republican ticket for next Monday:

Supervisor—Thomas Elliott.
Township Clerk—Robert S. Moore.
Township Treas.—Geo. W. Marsden.
Justice of the Peace—James H. Heck.
School Inspector—Percival W. A. Fitzsimmons.
Com. of Highway—Chas. A. Matthews.
Board of Review—Alfred D. Hall.
Constables—William Bennett, Levi R. Thompson, Lucius L. Bates, Will C. Hastings.

Mr. A. P. Coddington and daughter Etta, Miss Carrie Millspaugh and sister Rev. H. A. Smith and wife, Mr. John Alexander and wife, Mr. Eugene Pattison, wife and son Harry, Miss Lida Burton, Mrs. Geo. Kay, Ira Lamkin, Jay Morse and Luella Sutherland, attended the Baptist Sunday-school Convention and B. Y. P. U. rally in Adrian Wednesday. The meetings were enjoyed by all, and Tecumseh was well represented.

Monday morning Sant Cutting drove their aged but respected representative of the equine family up to Heesens foundry, and intending to stop only a moment thought it unnecessary to hitch. While he was gone the whistle blew and the horse flew figuratively speaking, circling around in front of Brewers foundry. Hub Stout seeing it coming took his life in his hands so to speak, made a bold dash and his aim strange to say was unerring and he caught the fractious steed by the bit and all was well; no damage done. Hub was therefore the hero of the hour.

Dr. G. D. Perry, who has been in critical health for the past two months, departed this life on Wednesday morning last. He came to Michigan in 1843 from New York, settling on a farm in Franklin, where he built up a fine home and reared a large family of children. He was a regular M. E. minister and also a doctor of medecine, in both of which capacities he proved his excellence. He served two terms in the State legislature and for many years he was one of the leading citizens in this section of the county. For the past fifteen years he has resided in this village. The funeral is held this afternoon at two o'clock at the M. E. church. A formal obituary will appear in a future issue.

Dr. Will S. Wiggins will graduate from the Michigan college of medicine, at Detroit, Wednesday of this week and has the honor of being one of four who graduate with even honors, their work being par excellence. The next day after graduation, Dr. Wiggins will hang out his shingle at Novi, Mich., about twenty-four miles north of Detroit, in Oakland county. Dr. Wiggins is the son of Ex-Treasurer W. H. Wiggins, and a young man of excellent qualities and qualifications, and his many friends in this section will wish him well in his new location.—Adrian Telegram.

Fred Deuel suffered another paralytic stroke the last of the week. For a time it was thought he would not rally, but there has been a change for the better and it is hoped he will recover his speech and regain the use of his limbs.

Prof. Ira Dean Loree and wife, of Lawrence, arrived yesterday afternoon. They came to attend the funeral of Mrs. Horace Baker. They will remain through next week for a visit with friends, it being vacation in the school there. Their headquarters will be at Mrs. Abbie Fisher's.

At the funeral of Mrs. Clarissa Hall, Saturday last, the five children of the deceased were all present, being the first time they had all met together in 42 years. They had been visiting and met each other frequently but never had all been together at one time. A singular coincidence is the fact that Mrs. Hall leaves 19 grand children and 19 great grand children. The deceased, since the death of Mrs. Woodward a few months ago, has been the oldest living resident of Tecumseh.

The Forum
AMERICA'S LEADING REVIEW

$3.00 PER YEAR. 25c. a Number. For Sale Everywhere.

THE FORUM will take up for discussion, during 1895, an unusually wide range of timely and important topics by the most eminent writers in the fields of Politics, Finance, Sociology, Literature, Religion, Art, and Science.

To read The Forum is to keep in touch with the best thought of the day. To be without The Forum is to miss the best help to clear thinking.

A catalogue of the writers who have contributed articles to THE FORUM in the past would embrace practically every man of eminence in America, and most of those in Europe. A list of subjects treated would cover in the widest degree all topics of contemporaneous interest. THE FORUM is therefore of inestimable value to any one who desires to keep closely in touch with the best of current thought.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid, laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., March 22.—The senate had a hot debate Thursday over Mr. Jamison's bill to repeal the law authorizing Roman Catholic bishops to hold property in trust for the benefit of the church. It was finally laid on the table pending final passage. The house resolution providing for the appointment of a special joint committee to investigate the circumstances attending the introduction of Representative Matthews' pure-food bill was laid on the table. The senate passed a bill providing that cities and villages having a population of not to exceed 10,000 and which now own or operate electric-lighting plants may furnish light to private parties.

Both branches adjourned until Monday and by invitation of the regents of the university and Ann Arbor citizens the members left on a special train Thursday afternoon to visit the university.

LANSING, Mich., March 27.—The senate on Tuesday passed the bill submitting to the people the question of removal of the county seat of Emmett county from Harbor Springs to Petoskey and to committee of the whole struck out all after the enacting clause from the bill providing for local option in liquor traffic by cities, villages and townships, instead of by counties as now. The vote was very close, and the question is likely to come up again, as the enacting clause was tabled.

House.

LANSING, Mich., March 27.—The house passed a bill [illegible] the most important being those for compulsory education in the public schools and abolishing the salary of the sheriff of Wayne county after January 1, 1897. The bill prohibiting candidates for office to act as inspectors of election was defeated.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

State Convention of the Michigan Union Opens at Bay City.

BAY CITY, March 27.—The ninth annual convention of the Michigan Christian Endeavor union opened here Tuesday evening with 1,000 delegates present. The secretary's report showed 777 senior and 231 junior societies, with a total membership of 40,000. The gain in a year has been nearly 400 societies. The Congregationalists lead with 310 societies, the Presbyterians are second with 250, and the Baptists are third with sixty-four. The treasurer's report showed the receipts for the year to be $698 and the disbursements $424. The report of the missionary superintendent said that 1,000 missionary services had been held in Michigan since last November.

A COSTLY BLAZE.

Fire at Fife Lake Destroys $30,000 Worth of Property.

TRAVERSE CITY, March 24.—The most disastrous fire in this region [illegible] occurred at Fife Lake Saturday, a large portion of the business section being completely wiped out. The loss will reach $30,000, and the insurance is less than $5,000. Several families are homeless. Buildings destroyed are: City hotel, Fife Lake Hardware company's store and warehouse, Fife Lake Monitor, Bossey shoe store and warehouse, hotel and outbuildings burned, Crawford's cutlery store, Campbell's barber shop, Hutchin's general store, photograph gallery, post office, several small dwellings and two large dwellings owned by J. Ward and W. Hinklin. The hardware company's loss is about $9,000; insurance, $3,300.

Bad Fire in Decatur.

DECATUR, March 24.—Fire started in the Duncomb house at 5 o'clock Saturday morning, burning ten buildings including two hotels, the bank, two stores, two wagon shops and the Universalist church. Estimated loss $10,000. Several families are homeless. Joseph Rogers, a pioneer banker of southwestern Michigan, whose residence adjoins the Universalist church, died during the progress of the fire. Death was expected at any moment, but it was hastened by the excitement attending upon the efforts to save his home.

Jochim Explains.

ISHPEMING, March 27.—Absconding Deputy Secretary of State Lindholm testified at Lansing that checks left by him drawn by Secretary Jochim were for state funds loaned Jochim at the latter's request. Jochim allowed the checks to be protested when Lindholm fled. Jochim's explanation is that Lindholm owed him a large amount, and that to save himself he stopped payment on the checks when presented by the state, and that he did not know that any sums given him by Lindholm were from state funds.

Michigan G. A. R. Meets.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., March 27.—The seventeenth annual encampment of the G. A. R. department of Michigan opened in this city Tuesday. At the opening session Department Commander Kanitz read his annual report, which contained many recommendations for the good of the order. The report of the adjutant general showed 18,059 members of the Michigan department in good standing, the net loss for the year being 957. There are 183 posts in good standing.

Increase in Fruit Culture.

GRAND RAPIDS, March 23. Between now and the middle of April 150,000 to 200,000 fruit trees will be set out in Western Michigan. Most of the trees will be peaches, but more pear and plum trees than ever before in a single season will be planted. One farmer in Berrien county alone has 13,000 trees, mostly peaches ready to plant as soon as the season is ripe for operations, and there are many new or replaced orchards of 1,000 or 1,500 trees.

A Novel Wager.

LANSING, Mich., March 26.—The result of a novel wager has just come to light. Miss Ida Smith and Miss Kate Doyle, prominent society young ladies of Owosso, on a wager of $100 walked from Owosso to Lansing, arriving here Saturday afternoon. They left Owosso Friday, proceeded to Lansing, where they remained over night. They walked the entire distance of 28 miles on the railroad track in twelve hours.

Woman's Board of Missions Meets.

GRAND RAPIDS, March 27.—The twenty-second annual meeting of the Michigan branch of the Woman's Board of Missions of the Interior opened Tuesday with Mrs. James R. Angell, of Ann Arbor, presiding. The programme was composed of music, devotional exercises and the reading of reports.

A VALID LAW.

Michigan Supreme Court Upholds the Anti-Fusion Act.

LANSING, Mich., March 27.—The Michigan supreme court has decided that the "anti-fusion" act passed by the present legislature is valid. The act provided that a candidate for an office, where he received the nomination from more than one party, should elect before a given date on which ticket he would run. Failing to do this his name would be placed on the first ticket certified to, but in no case could said candidates' name appear more than once on the official ballot.

The question was raised by a mandamus proceeding brought against the election commissioners by Albert M. Todd, of Kalamazoo, who is a candidate for representative in congress to succeed Julius Cæsar Burrows, on the prohibition, populist and free silver tickets. The court, while declaring the law valid, decides that it does not apply to candidate Todd, who was nominated by one party and indorsed by another before the act took effect.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS.

They Hold Their Fifth Annual Convention in Detroit.

DETROIT, March 27.—Upward of 1,000 delegates were present Tuesday evening at the opening session of the fifth annual convention of the Epworth league of Michigan. The delegates occupied the ground floor of the audience-room of the Central Methodist church, and the galleries were crowded with spectators. After a hearty service of song and the usual opening devotional services Eugene C. Pierce, of Saginaw, president of the state league, delivered his annual address. He contrasted the league's first annual convention five years ago, when but 300 delegates were present, with its present condition. It has now attained a membership of 30,000 in the state. Among his suggestions for the future was one to the effect that the league, through its leaders, should systematically aid and encourage the present efforts for municipal reforms.

WITHDREW TOO LATE.

Novel Political Situation in the Kalamazoo District.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 26.—Patrick H. Gilkey, the democratic nominee for congress in this district, on Monday night withdrew his name in favor of Mr. Todd, the fusion nominee. He urges democrats to vote for Todd. The republican candidate is Alfred Milnes, the present lieutenant governor.

LANSING, Mich., March 27.—Attorney General Maynard on Tuesday gave an opinion that Albert M. Todd cannot legally be substituted as a democratic candidate for congressman in the Third district in place of Patrick H. Gilkey, withdrawn. Mr. Maynard says that while the supreme court has shown that Todd's name could not now justly be removed from the other three tickets the anti-fusion act would certainly apply to the present question. Gilkey having withdrawn after the act had taken effect.

A WILD LIFE ENDED.

A Former Allegan Girl Commits Suicide in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 25.—Frances Bailey, 23 years old, was found dead in her room Sunday night. On the table was an empty two-ounce bottle of morphine. She is the third of three handsome sisters of Allegan, Mich., who at different times have made runaway matches and each in turn has been deserted, each then committing suicide. Frances went off with a traveling salesman. A roller skater and an actor were the faithless spouses in the other two cases. The father of the girls is said to have died of a broken heart.

A TOO MODEST WOMAN!

Is such a thing possible?

It is.

Many a woman suffers month after month, whole years, because she shrinks from talking about her complaints.

Foolish do you say?

No, it is simply due to a natural, commendable modesty. Still she owes it to herself either to consult a good Physician or else to get the Zoa Phora Medical Book on Diseases of Women and Children, and, after satisfying herself that Zoa-Phora is what she needs, obtain a bottle or a box of it and use it faithfully. Both the book and medicine may be obtained either direct from the Zoa-Phora Medicine Co., at Kalamazoo, Mich. or through your druggist. All correspondence is kept strictly confidential.

A GRAND DUCK HUNT

That Eclipses the Fox Hunts of Recent Date.

Scarcely had the interest in the fox hunts subsided ere some of our sports had a desire to win for themselves great renown that would be as enduring as the granite hills. It having been demonstrated beyond a doubt that foxes were not plentiful, some other game must bring to them the coveted glory. After considering the matter pro and con it was decided to have a duck hunt, and preparations were made accordingly. Friday afternoon Percival Waller Adams Fitzsimmons and Harry Richter went out reconnoitering, so to speak. They saw ducks in countless numbers in all directions, and the Brownville pond was fairly alive with elegant specimens of the game desired. They were greatly elated over the brilliant prospects of the morrow, and in their imagination they saw hundreds of them as trophies of their skill. They returned home in high glee to complete their arrangements. A democrat wagon with a double box was engaged of Garlinghouse Bros. for their use, and as the Brownville pond was selected as the field of slaughter, it was decided they should arise before break of day, walk out and lie in ambush, and a man, with horse and the aforesaid wagon, should come out later for the game. They remembered hearing in childhood's days that "early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise," so tried its efficacy. They dreamed dreams and saw visions—ducks! ducks everywhere. They arose early, donned their hunting suits, and with their guns and amunition started for the pond. Percy presented a warlike appearance, clad in sweater, hunting jacket, belt loaded with cartridges and guns on shoulders. His powers of endurance were given a severe test, as he was heavily laden. They arrived at the point selected before the ducks and cleverly concealing themselves awaited the game. About 7 o'clock Robert, with the horse and wagon aforesaid, went out after the first load of game. Not finding a pile of game at the point designated, nor seeing anything of the boys, he tied the horse and returned to town. The boys waited long and patiently, but no ducks appeared, they apparently not being thirsty, and as the sun was high in the heavens and the ardor of the boys cooled, they unhitched the horse and drove home, and are now declaring they only went out for exercise and to shoot at a mark.

The boys claim they shot two ducks, one fell in the bushes and they could not find it, the other fell in the water and as they were about to pick it up it dove and failed to come to the surface, and as the boys neglected to take their diving suits they were forced to return without ducks.

Then and Now.

There was a time when he who would keep informed of the progress of knowledge, the record of discovery and invention, and the currents of human thought, could and indeed must rely chiefly if not wholly upon books. That day has passed. Books we must still read, as the crystallization and permanent embodiment of human thought and knowledge. But to-day it is the newspaper, the magazine, the periodical review, upon which we must chiefly depend if we would follow closely the intellectual movements of the day. And now a new difficulty has arisen. This newspaper and periodical literature has become so multitudinous and bulky as to be a heavy burden to the busy man or woman, while even the person who has leisure and inclination to read widely is often unable to get access to the current publications. Especially in the smaller citief, villages, and rural districts is the lack of such opportunity felt. It is felt by the clergymen, the teacher, the lawyer, the physician, the merchant, the artisan, the farmer and the cultured and thoughtful women of the household. With all these and many other classes of persons the great practical literary question is: How can I best supplement my indispensable home paper? It was to answer this question and meet this demand that Public Opinion(now published in New York City)was founded nine years ago. It selects the best, condenses it to the last degree, and serves it in convenient and attractive form.

LACK OF ORGANIZED FORCE.

Some Hints for Dairy Farmers to Ponder and Act Upon.

Congressman Hainer, of Nebraska, in a very pertinent speech before the National Dairy Union, at Washington, said that there was almost a total lack of organization among the Dairymen of the United States in favor of laws against adulteration of dairy products. What a comment that is upon the citizenship of dairymen. Ask any man among them if he is in favor of such laws and he will answer yes. Ask him if he has done anything practical to impress his opinion on the law makers, whether in congress or his own state, and not one in a thousand will answer yes.

No wonder that Bynum, of Indiana, and a host of other congressmen will fight the Grout bill or any other bill that interferes with their friends, the oleo combine. It is because the oleo combine is organized and the dairymen are not. It is because the oleo men will spend thousands upon thousands of dollars to destroy the dairy interest, while the dairymen stand indifferent. The oleo men are practical; the dairymen are impractical. The oleo men hire lobbyists by the score to block the progress of all legislation against them. Will the dairymen pay the small sum of one dollar to help the National Dairy Union? It seems to us that not to do this is unwise and unpatriotic.

There are three simple ways for every dairyman to make himself effective.

1. He should write a postal card to his member of congress and to each of the senators of his state, asking them to support the Grout bill. Ask them to defend you against a fraud and counterfeit.

2. Also write a postal card to your member of the state assembly and senate calling for state laws against this fraud. It is the number of atoms in this postal card snow storm that will tell. Every farmer can add to its weight. Don't fail to do it.

3. Send the small sum of one dollar to the National Dairy Union to help make up the sinews of war in this fight. Do this all over the land and the butter counterfeiters will hear something drop inside the next 90 days. If you wish, send your contribution to Hoard's Dairyman, Fort Atkinson, Wis., and we will acknowledge receipt of same and forward it to the treasurer. Do all three of these things and thus organize.—Hoard's Dairyman.

The Queen & Crescent Route to Chickamauga.

G. A. R. members and their friends will all want to attend the great National Park dedication at Chickamauga this fall. It will be a notable event. Do you want to know how to make the trip, and what you'll see when you reach the jouney's end? Write to W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A. of the Queen & Crescent Route, Cicinnati. Illustrated and descriptive matter upon application. The Queen & Crescent Route to Chatanooga is the shortest line, and has an incomparable service of handsome trains of standard day coaches. Thro' sleepers, parlor, cafe and observation cars from Cincinnati. Quick schedules and magnificent scenery en route help to make the Queen & Crescent the Southern route par excellence.

The Development of the South.

Is being furthered by the Queen & Crescent Route by means of a special series of Monthly Excursions to Southern points at One Fare for the Round Trip. These rates are in effect from Cincinati, O., and Lexington, Ky., on November 6th and December 4th; good twenty days from date of sale for return. They are sold on these dates to all points in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida (except Key West), and to New Orleans, and all points on our line in Louisana.

Stop-overs are permitted on these excursions at any point south of the Ohio River, within the final limit of the tickets. This offers an excellent opportunity to those who desire to go South to look into the present great movement of Northern to that section.

The Q. & C. has over a million acres of farms and timber land for sale along its line at $3.00 to $5.00 per acre, on easy terms.

Send us your name for advertising matter and any information you may want as to lands and immigration to the South.

A Story in a Few Words.

John—How did you come out last year on your rented farm?

Tom—Barely made enough to pay the rent.

John—What rent did you pay?

Tom—I was paying $5 per acre.

John—Will you rent a farm this year?

Tom—No. I am going to buy a farm for the price that I have paid yearly for rent.

John—Where are you going to buy it?

Tom—Why, have you not seen the offer of The C. S. Graves Land Co., 56 Fifth ave., Chicago, who have an advertisement in our paper?

Above is a sample of conversation heard between a great many farmers in the thickly populated counties of several states. 1w

Wolf at the Door.

The lean gaunt wolf of hunger looks in at the doors of the stricken homes of Nebraska.

When the great black winged demon of hunger takes his flight over the land, he points with his bony finger and says, "Nebraska is my master piece."

The old saying that "Pestilence walks in the wake of famine," is being verified in the West. The constant use of one kind of food is resulting in a peculiar stomach disease that always precedes the "Famine pestilence" of India.

Hungry despairing mothers, press their little ones to their bosoms, and sadly think of the last sack of flour that is nearly gone. We dread the next three months more than the winter that has past. The number of applicants have increased ten fold since we began to distribute. The bright sunshine of spring mocks us with the warning that it is seed time. But where is the seed? Not one farmer in ten has seed to plant, or feed for his horses through the farming season. If we cannot get seed our last hope [illegible] behind the dark cloud of [illegible] and dread. In your beautiful [illegible] of plenty, you cannot realize our abject want and humiliating dependence.

Our labor is hard and our duty an unpleasant one, but we cannot turn away from the pleading faces of our neighbors when we know that the noble people of the East will render it possible for us to prevent suffering.

The Boomer and Land Shark have opposed us and caused the iron hand of hardship to oppress the poor women and children of Nebraska. But we thank the Christian people of the East that the glorious mantle of charity has smothered out the base misrepresentations of the cruel Boomer.

The cities of Bloomington and Churnbusco, Ind., and Wooster, Ohio, have sent gladness to the homes of our stricken people.

An old lady standing at our table said "Where do you get so much flour Mrs. Broaddus?" I replied, "In the East." With tears streaming down her cheeks she sobbingly said: "God Bless the East."

Death is never a welcome visitor but when he comes in the form of starvation, human language fails to describe his terrors. Poor suffering Hagar expressed it in the desert; "O God let me not see the death of my child." The same dreadful thoughts are rushing through the minds of our mothers today.

The board of trade has deceived us. The Legislature has been powerless to give permanent relief, and we are forced to appeal to the followers of him who said, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto these ye did it unto me."

"A noble act is a step toward God Lifting us up from the lowly sod."

Help us to cast the bread of Charity on the broad waters of want, and your reward will come like the sunlight of heaven.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mecury will destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucus surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internall, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheeney & Co. Testimonials free.

An Electrical Magazine.

Electric Power, now in its seventh year, makes its bow to the public this month in an entirely new form and dress. It will henceforth appear as a magazine both as to size and character—a character which the readers of electrical science will greatly appreciate. The first number of the new form is handsomely printed and contains many excellent illustrations. The reading matter is less technical in its nature and is interesting to those who wish to know something of what is going on in electricity and yet do not care to make a study of the science. Electricity is being applied so universally now that every progressive person should read about it, and Electric Power is well worth the subscription price of $2.00 a year. The publishers offer a trial subscription for six months for $1.00. It can be obtained on the news stands for 20cents a copy. It is published at 30 Cortland Street, New York City.

POSTPONEMENT.

To give all our subscribers a fair chance in the "sewing machine scheme," we have decided to defer the presentation one month. It will positively take place on Saturday, May 4th, next, at three o'clock p. m., at Sutton's opera house. Every person can surely pay his subscription before that date, if so disposed. Hustle in your subscriptions during April. There will be no further postponement.

One Hundred Dollars Given Away.

Here is an offer to our patrons which is well worth their careful consideration. Probably nine-tenths of our subscriptions expire during January, February and March of each year. All subscribers who shall pay for the full year 1895, prior to April 1st, will be entitled to a chance in the distribution of four sewing machines, worth one hundred dollars. These are—

A New Home,	Value,	$30 00
An Eldridge B.,	"	30 00
Weeeler & Wilson, No. 8,	"	25 00
Wheeler & Wilson, second hand,	"	15 00
Total value,		$100 00

The three machines first named are new, right from the factory. The last one has been carefully used a few months and is practically as good as new. Each paying subscriber will get a numbered receipt and that will be his number in the distribution. The few persons who have already paid for 1895 can call and get a duplicate receipt with a new number. The few subscribers who have paid in advance beyond April 1st can secure the benefit of this offer by paying in advance for the balance of the year, or until Jan. 1st, 1896. The distribution will take place at Sutton's opera house, Tecumseh, on Saturday afternoon, May 4th, 1895, at three o'clock, when the property will be formally given to our advance paid patrons, to be allotted among themselves in such manner as they may elect. An expenditure of only $1.00 or $1.25 if you live outside of Lenawee county, will secure a chance for one of these premiums. This offer means business.

CLUB LIST FOR 1895.

We are prepared to name better club rates this year than ever before on outside publications. With the periodicals named in the following list we have special terms, but we can obtain subscriptions, at reduced rates, for any newspaper or magazine published:

A Chance to Make Money.

In the past week I have made $125 and attended to my household duties. I think I will do better next week. It seems the more dish washers I sell, the more demand I have for them. I think any lady or gentleman, anywhere, can make money in this business. It is something every family wants, and when they can be bought so cheap, they buy them, and the person who has enterprise enough to take an agency, is bound to make money. I wish any of your readers that wish to make from $5 to $12 a day, would try this business and report their success. Any one can get full particulars by addressing the Iron City Dish Washer Co., E. E. Pittsburg, Pa. Such a chance is rare—at least I have never struck one. 1w MARTHA F. B.

Clinton Column.

CLINTON, MICH., APRIL 5, 1895.

Dr. J. E. White and wife visited Macon Sunday.

C. L. Morgan, of Macon, was calling on friends here Tuesday.

Robert Bauer has purchased of S. W. Demuth his Hartford wheel.

The woolen mill was shut down Saturday for the annual inventory.

Lina Jones has been quite sick the past week, but it now some better.

Johnnie Tuttle returned to his school work at Albion, the first of the week.

Percy VanTuyle is the happy possessor of a dandy boy's Columbia wheel.

W. N. Fowler, M. D., has his office over the printing office on Tecumseh Street.

E. E. Smith and wife entertained a friend, Mr. Humphrey of Detroit, over Sunday.

Leslie J. Leek visited his sister Mrs. Andrew, at Adrian, from Saturday until Monday.

Mrs. Frank Munson has been quite ill for a week or more, but is gaining nicely now.

The ladies of the M. E. society give their annual supper at the church this (Friday) evening.

J. E. White accompanied Rev. W. R. Blachford to Manchester Tuesday evening, where he held service.

Floyd Rogers and Harry Kies, who have been spending the vacation at home, returned to Orchard Lake Wednesday.

Philip Keusch, Tom McGuire, Roy Codling and Fred Koernig visited Manchester Sunday. They went over on their wheels.

Sam. Alexander, of Hanover, Ind., the eldest son of Peter, arrived the last of the week and began work in the mill Monday morning.

Mrs. Ed. Hollister and sons of Tecumseh, came up with Mr. Hollister Sunday morning, and attended service at St. John's church.

Wright E. Mills has sold his farm near the lakes, and he expects soon to return with his family to their farm near Dorr, Allegan county.

Van Tuyle & Woodward have one story of their new block up and the work is being done rapidly and it will be long ere it is completed.

Jonathan Rogers has moved from Oliver Aiken's farm to Lloyd Conkle's, west of town, and Sylvester Parish moves on to Oliver Aiken's.

Mrs. Riley has moved into the Ingraham house to the old Hixson house just north of town. The change was made the first of the week.

John J. Dell of Tecumseh, was in Tuesday afternoon and placed some of Orr & Temple's popular proprietary remedies with E. D. Randall & Co.

Bertha Sturgis, who attended the Epworth League convention at Detroit last week, visited her parents at Onsted over Sunday and returned Monday night.

Louise VanDeMark, who visited Maggie Clarkson of Tecumseh, last week, returned home Saturday suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy. She is now much better.

Regular meeting of Clinton Lodge, No. 175 F. & A. M. tomorrow evening; after the business is transacted there will be work in the M. degree and refreshments the First.

Wm. Theisen, the tailor, has moved his family from Manchester, and now occupies the Pascoe house on east Chicago street. The house is owned by Peter Alexander and family.

Doctor and Mrs. W. N. Fowler are now settled in D. M. Ingraham's house on Locust street. The doctor spent Sunday in Detroit and Mrs. Fowler was the guest of Tecumseh friends while he was away.

Firm Hendershot, of Bucknell, Ind., is making his friends here a visit. The short time that Firm has been away has made marked changes in his looks, he is more mature and sports a nice silken mustache.

Remember Clark & Shimman's opening today and tomorrow. The display of trimmed hats, bonnets and millinery novelties will be almost endless in variety and elegant in design. You cannot afford to miss it.

Do not forget the entertainment to be given by the ladies of the Congregational society at the town hall next Wednesday evening. The program will be very interesting and entertaining and the object is a worthy one.

George Fisher has sold his home on Mill street to Mrs. E. M. English. It is reported that he and wife will move to Buffalo where George, their only child, resides. They have been with us so many years that we shall deeply regret to have them go.

The ladies of the Episcopal society will give their annual Easter supper at the town hall tuesday evening, April 16th. The reputation of these ladies as caterers is too well established to require any words of commendation from us. All know they will have a great treat.

Ed. Young son of Manly Young, who for several years has lived west, has purchased what is known as the Marcus Wood farm, east of town. As soon as the needed repairs are made to the house and barn he will occupy it. He is procuring teams, implements, etc. We are glad to welcome them back again.

Dr. Thos. Rix, the noted Dentist of Dowagiac, who for many years, long ago, resided here, visited D. H. Davis the last of the week. He missed the train Saturday night, and as it was necessary that he should be at Albion Sunday; he was driven by Ed. Clark to Ypsilanti Sunday morning that he might take the Mich. Central and thus meet his engagement.

Mrs. S. O'Hara, who lived east of town on the Macon road, passed away Thursday, aged 65 years. Mrs. O'Hara was a great home body, scarcely ever leaving it save when she could minister to the wants of others. She was highly respected by all who knew her, as was shown by the very large attendance at the funeral, which was held at the house Sunday afternoon and conducted by Rev. D. H. Ramsdell. The remains were laid in our beautiful Riverside cemetery.

The election passed off very quietly. The Republicans had every thing their own way electing the entire ticket. The vote was not a large one, many, particularly democrats, not voting at all. Below is the vote on the township ticket:

Supervisor,
George C. Lindsley	218—53
William C. Rogers	155

PENTECOST POINTERS.

Brigadier Smith is reported on the sick list with the grip.

Mrs. Emmerson Whitcher is still quite sick with her throat. Her mother, Mrs. Pierson, of Adrian, is with her.

The Library Association give a maple sugar party at the residence of Mr. Willard Vanderpool, Saturday night, April 6th. Bill, 10c.

How many eggs have you got hidden in the haymow for Easter, boys and girls? Look out or Jack frost will find them, if no one else does.

Mrs. Cassie Allshouse, who fell from the haymow recently while gathering eggs and who was supposed to have sustained fatal injuries, is now able to ride out. Dr. Rice had charge of the case.

Mrs. G. W. Fuller gave a party last week Thursday evening. The guests report a fine time, an elegant supper, choice music, etc. Mr. Fuller received a beautiful chair as a souvenir of his 55th birthday.

The HERALD'S Pentecost correspondent has been on the list of sick, or lazy, for some time now, but is once more able to walk out and enjoy the fresh breezes, so called, but in reality to scold about the horrid chilly east wind.

Bert Elliott, our new merchant, has his store very nicely arranged, and offers the highest prices for butter and eggs. We wish him success in his undertaking. G. W. Fuller has a fine and well selected stock of goods, and the friendly rivalry between these dealers will help to draw to our embryo village its fair share of trade from the surrounding country, no doubt.

FRANKLIN FACTS.

Maple sugar makers have not struck it rich this year.

Hollis Taylor has been enjoying the vacation of the Albion college, at home.

The literary of the Bebee neighborhood will occur at Mr. Penticost's, Saturday night.

Mrs. W. J. Hampton and daughter, Ethel, drove to Ypsilanti Friday, returning Sunday.

Walter Osborn was in this neighborhood last week in the interest of the Deering binders, mowers, etc.

Wm. J. Pawson, of Six Lakes, Montcalm county, is visiting his old friends, neighbors and relatives in this vicinity. It seems good to see his smiling face among us.

The program of the Franklin Literary and Lyceum for April 10th is as follows:

Music—Orchestra.
Dec—Earl Munger.
Rec—Dora Hunt.
Poem—Mrs. Davenport.
Song—Mrs. Ara VanTuyle.
Dia—Dora and Berta Davenport.
Sel. Read—Ella Munger.
Paper—Alton Whelan and Cecil Billington.
Solo—The Shanghi Rooster—Leon Allen.
Dec—Floyd Marshall.
Dia—Mrs. T. Marshall and Mrs. A. B. Wisner.
Song—Bert Billington.
Rec—Hoyt Wheelan.
Rec—Jenny Welch.
Dec—Wilford Allen.
Music.

Mrs. Chas. Root, Ceadar Springs, Mich., was told by physicians that they could do nothing for her. After taking two bottles of "Adironda" she was able to do her own work and ride to town to do her shopping. Sold by Orr & Temple apr

SPRINGVILLE SPRAYS.

Albert Fellows is moving into town.

Guy Case is home from the Valley for a week's vacation.

Farmer's Club at the home of Mrs. Mary Case, Saturday.

Arthur and Anna White returned from a visit at Plainwell and Albion, Tuesday.

Stella Dewey, of Cambridge, will conduct the meeting of the Epworth League next Sunday evening.

Mrs. Calvin Daniels, who has been quite ill for the past two months, is slowly regaining her health.

Machine politics in Cambridge received a decided setback Monday. Joseph Marsh, democrat, was elected to the office of supervisor, Fred Desermia, democrat, clerk, Fred Reed, republican, treasurer, and Sam Alderdyce, highway commissioner, the remainder of the ticket democratic.

ROME RAVELINGS.

Splendid roads and business improving some of late.

Dwight Luce has a young horse very sick with distemper.

Farmers are thinking of sowing oats in a few days, if it keeps warm.

They will put on another play at Rome Center in the near future.

Humphrey Griffin has been confined to the house for a week with the grip.

Charlie Spangle will move back to the Baker farm about the middle of May.

Mrs. Ida Knowles is in Adrian with her sister, Mrs. Stockwell, and is very sick.

Warren Segar is remodeling his house and putting on a new coat of paint.

Mary Lace goes to Detroit next Saturday to have a tumor removed from her stomach.

The Dimple Cheeked Village Maid may not retain her dimples and rosy cheeks "blooming with health," until she finds a good husband. A little neglect or accident may bring about some one of the many "female" diseases and "weaknesses," to which the sex is subject, and health may be forever impaired, and hopes and happiness be at an end. Thanks to Dr. Pierce, his Favorite Prescription, prepared by him for women, cures the worst cases of uterine diseases, nervousness, neuralgia, irregularities, and "weaknesses." It is a great invigorating tonic and nervine, and rapidly builds up the health and strength.

Do These Questions Apply to You?

They are sure to interest hundreds of readers of this paper. Nine out of every ten people are troubled with these symptoms, and really don't know what's the matter with them. Here are the questions:

Are you nervous?
Have you a cough?
Is your throat sore?
Is your appetite poor?
Do you hawk and spit?
Is your nose stopped up?
Is it always full of scabs?
Is your breath offensive?
Is your hearing affected?
Is your tongue frequently coated?
Is your mouth full of slime upon arising?

If you have, you have, or are getting, a bad case of catarrh. One bottle of Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure is guaranteed to cure any case of catarrh, and will last for three months' treatment. Ask your druggist for it. He will give you an absolute guarantee. For sale by druggists. Remember, one bottle to cure, and guaranteed by our agents.

H. C. Owens, U. S. Express Agent, Grafton, W. Va., writes the following: Your Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure has no equal as a treatment for catarrh and frontal headache. Tried every medicine on the market, but without any success until I tried yours. Sold by Orr & Templo. apr

Senator Quay is in Florida, and it is expected that he will catch his usual large string of tarpon stories.

"I contracted a severe cold from wet and exposure. Bronchitis followed. Doctors failed to relieve me. Several of the members of my family had died of consumption, and I thought I was doomed. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup brought instant relief and perfect cure." M. Unger, Union Corner, Northumberland Co., Pa. 1w

"Do you think that marriage is a failure, Mr. Askin?" said Miss Elder to a young man whom she knew to be engaged.

"I haven't got that far yet," was the frank reply, "but I'm pretty well convinced that courtship is bankruptcy.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Pheobe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result every thing else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Orr & Temple's drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00. 5

If Corey is elected President will he let us all walk on the grass?

A Valuable Find.

After years of study and labor, there has at last been discovered a sure and never failing remedy. It has been tested on patients who have despaired of ever being cured, the results have been, in every case, wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of chronic and acute inflamatory rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia; especially ovarian neuralgia, dysmenorrhoea and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable blood purifier, being especially useful in eczema, psoriasis, scrofula, all glandular enlargements and diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by Orr & Temple, Tecumseh, Mich.

That so many international and inter-State quarrels are in progress in Mid-Lent is a sad commentary on the official world's religious conduct.

WE WANT TO TELL YOU

Why Your Back is Lame—Why it Aches and Pains, and How to Cure it.

Do you know what it is to have a back that is never free from aches and constant pain, a lame back, a sore back, an aching back, in fact, a back that makes your life a burden? What have you done for it? And does it still keep you from the happiness that perfect health brings to all? We know full well if such is your condition a cure for it will be a blessing you no doubt desire. Plasters won't do it, but may assist in bringing strength. Liniment won't do it; for, while it may give temporary relief, it does not reach the cause. The cause, there's the point; there's where to make the attack. Most backaches come from disordered kidneys, therefore you must correct their action if you would be cured. Read the following from D. D. Cook, whose address is No. 18 Michigan Street, Grand Rapids. He says:—

"I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and wish to say it is a truly great medicine. Thirty years ago I had nervous prostration while in the army, where I served for over four years. I think it was during this service that the seeds were sown which have caused all my trouble. Severe bilious attacks bothered me, and at such times my kidneys were worse. It is almost impossible to describe the pain which so often lamed me. I have been so lame that to stand up after I had been sitting down required a great exertion. Walking was at times an impossibility, even at night I did not rest, being forced to get up during the night. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and wondered if they could make an almost lame man well. I got some, and soon after taking them began to feel their good effects. I used them for some time, my lameness all left me and I have not felt it since. Doan's Kidney Pills have done me an inestimable amount of good."

SINFUL HABITS IN YOUTH

LATER EXCESSES IN MANHOOD

MAKE NERVOUS, DISEASED MEN

THE RESULT of ignorance and folly in youth, a destruction of mind and body, ruins the happiness of thousands of promising young men. Some fade and wither at an early age, others blossom of manhood, while others are forced to drag out a weary, fruitless existence. Others reach matrimony but find only disappointment and misery. Melancholia exists. Others reach matrimony but find only disappointment and misery. Melancholia exists everywhere. Victims are found in all stations of life. The farm, the office, the workshop, the pulpit, the trades and the professions.

AMERICA'S LEADING REVIEW

$3.00 PER YEAR. 25c. a Number. For Sale Everywhere.

THE FORUM will take up for discussion, during 1895, an unusually wide range of timely and important topics by the most eminent writers in the fields of Politics, Finance, Sociology, Literature, Religion, Art, and Science.

To read The Forum is to keep in touch with the best thought of the day.

To be without The Forum is to miss the best help to clear thinking.

A catalogue of the writers who have contributed articles to THE FORUM in the past would embrace practically every man of eminence in America, and most of those in Europe. A list of subjects treated would cover in the widest degree all topics of contemporaneous interest. THE FORUM is therefore of inestimable value to any one who desires to keep closely in touch with the best of current thought.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

AT THE POLLS.

Result of the Elections Held in This State Monday.

The Republican Candidates for Supreme Justice and Regents Successful—Lieut. Gov. Milnes Elected to Congress in the Third District.

DETROIT, April 3.—Practically complete returns from every county in the state indicate that Judge Moore (rep.) has been elected justice of the supreme court by 36,000 plurality, and Butterfield and Hackley regents of the state university by 30,500 and 38,000 plurality respectively. The amendment to the state constitution increasing the salaries of state officers was lost by a three-fourths vote. For congress in the Third district Milnes (rep.) has a majority over Todd (fusionist) of 1,115. In this district Burrows received 11,000 plurality last November. In the Tenth senatorial district Smith, of Jackson county, to fill a vacancy, receives 1,250 majority.

[illegible] municipal ticket was up for election. The republicans elect John G. Wheelan police justice by 3,000 majority and six out of seven school inspectors.

The women voted only for school inspectors and polled probably 1,500 votes. Mrs. Emma Fox, a candidate for school inspector on an independent ticket, was defeated.

Results of the elections in cities and towns are summarized as follows:

CHILDREN FROZEN TO DEATH.

Two Little Boys Wander Away from Their Home and Perish from the Cold.

OXFORD, Mich., April 3.—Two children, one 4 and the other 6 years old, left the home of their father, Frank Andrus, a farmer living 2 miles from Rose, last Wednesday evening. They told their mother that they were going out to come home with their father. When the father returned at noon he had not seen the boys. Night came and the children did not return. A searching party was organized. Friends and neighbors volunteered and all through the bitter cold night fifty men and boys tramped through the sugar bush shouting, firing guns and waving torches. The next day 100 others joined the searching party, but at nightfall gave up hope of finding the little ones alive. The father would not give up the search, however, and day and night since has he tramped through the sugar bush until nearly dead with the cold. Sunday every man in the township turned out and late Sunday night the party returned bearing with them the bodies of the two little boys. They had been found frozen stiff about 7 miles from their home.

Damaging Evidence.

BATTLE CREEK, April 3.—In court Tuesday testimony against Adam C. Arnold, who is on trial for murdering his son, was given by Effie Mead, the fiancee of the murdered young man. She heard the struggle and saw Arnold with his hands gripping his son's throat. Arnold had threatened to shoot her if she told what had taken place. On hearing this testimony Arnold became enraged and was restrained with difficulty.

Michigan Ball League Completed.

BATTLE CREEK, March 29.—At a meeting of the directors of the Michigan Baseball league, held here Thursday night, the organization was completed and will comprise the following cities: Adrian, Kalamazoo, Monroe, Owosso, Battle Creek and Lansing. The committee on schedule will not report for several days. O. G. Hungerford, of Kalamazoo, is chairman. Sunday games were prohibited and an equal division of gate receipts on all days decided upon.

Makers of Bad Money Around.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 1.—Counterfeiting seems to have a special attraction for men in this part of Michigan, and a great deal of bogus money is being circulated. United States Marshal Pratt says that there are more counterfeiters in this district than in any other in the United States, without exception. Since he came into office there have been twenty arrests made on this charge.

Michigan Boys for West Point.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31.—Forty-three of the candidates for admission to the United States military academy have successfully passed the recent examinations and will enter the academy in June. Among the number are the following from Michigan: Leon B. Kromer, Grand Rapids; Julius C. Clippert, Springwells; J. L. Rowley, Port Huron; Thomas H. Jackson, Muskegon.

J. D. Norton Dead.

PONTIAC, March 31.—J. D. Norton, president of the First national bank, who died recently, was one of the foremost men of Michigan. While mayor of this city he did very much to forward its interests. He was quite wealthy, and leaves valuable property in Chicago, Detroit, California and the south.

Fate of a Young Girl.

MARSHALL, March 31. Mary Dado, aged 19, wanted to attend a dance. The mother refused permission and the daughter took a dose of paris green. A doctor was called, but she died in agony. Before her death Mary said she took the poison only to frighten her parents.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., March 29.—The senate on Thursday reconsidered the vote by which it raised the age of consent to 17 years and by a vote of 16 to 12 lowered the age to 16 years. As thus amended the bill was passed by a unanimous vote. The committee on taxation recommended the passage of the McLaughlin bill authorizing cities to exempt from taxation real estate mortgages and land contracts.

House.

LANSING, Mich., March 29.—The house on Thursday passed a joint resolution submitting to the people at the November election in 1896 the proposition of electing members of the legislature for the term of four years, covering two biennial sessions, instead of two years, as now, and contemplating an election of half of the members each two years. It also provides for a compensation of $750 for each session and five cents per mile mileage to and from the capitol. The Aplin bill, providing a uniform liquor tax of $400, was made a special order for Wednesday.

LANSING, Mich., March 30.—The house on Friday had another wrangle over the Aplin $400 uniform liquor tax bill, and the date of its consideration was deferred from April 8 as fixed Thursday, until April 11. The house in committee of the whole agreed to the bill making the open season for deer uniform in both peninsulas from November 1 to November 21, requiring a hunter's license fee of $25 from non-residents and fifty cents from resident hunters. The number of deer to be slaughtered by one person is limited to five.

DENTISTS NOT PRIVILEGED.

Their Relations with Patients Not Considered Confidential by the Courts.

LANSING, April 3.—In the supreme court Tuesday the case of the people vs. Stonewall J. De France was affirmed and De France will have to serve out the balance of his ten-year sentence for forgery.

The important point raised by the defense was that the man who operated in Kalamazoo had entirely different teeth from those of De France, and that the court erred in admitting the testimony of Dentist Land, of Detroit, to the effect that after the offense was committed he inserted three false teeth in the place of the two incisors for De France. The claim was that Land's knowledge was privileged, as between physicians or surgeons and patients. The supreme court held that the terms dentist and physician or surgeon as the latter are used in the statute covering this point are not interchangeable and that a dentist cannot be considered a physician or surgeon.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Reforms Urged by the State Convention at Detroit.

DETROIT, March 29.—Resolutions were adopted by the Epworth League state convention Thursday requesting the legislature to prohibit the sale of liquor within 5 miles of the university and the state normal school; requesting a resubmission to the people of the question of constitutional prohibition; recommending active participation in primaries and elections by Christian citizens, and commending the efforts of the Civic Federation of Detroit in the line of securing enforcement of the Sunday laws.

A PUZZLED SHERIFF.

He Has to Determine to Which of Two Women the Child Belongs.

TWO HARBORS, April 3.—The Chippewa Indians on Grand Marais reservation have been having great trouble over a child claimed by two families. Sheriff Brand, who was informed of the trouble, found that two mothers laid claim to the child. He could not find out to which woman the infant really did belong, but decided that each of the women claiming the child should have it for a month at a time pending a permanent settlement of the trouble.

TONS OF DEAD FISH.

Black Bass by the Wagon Load Uncovered by a Thaw Near Niles.

NILES, March 31.—The ice is now out of Barren lake, near this city, and a peculiar sight is presented. The shore is lined with dead fish, and they lie on the edge of the water by thousands. Great black bass, weighing from one to six pounds, are piled up by the wagon load. Evidently all the black bass in the lake are dead. There is no solution to the phenomenon, unless the thick and long continued ice of the winter shut out the air and killed the fish.

Postmaster Removed.

IRONWOOD, April 3.—Frank A. Healy, postmaster of Ironwood, has been ordered removed by President Cleveland. Healy says he knows nothing officially about his removal, but thinks it is the result of his connection with the state officers' salary amendment frauds. Healy was chairman of the Gogebic county election canvassers, and he altered the Gogebic county sheets in the attorney general's office at Lansing, supposing, as he afterward swore, that it was his duty to correct them. Warner Goodland has been appointed postmaster to succeed Healy.

Setback for Pingree.

DETROIT, April 3.—The new city health board, which has hitherto been compelled to do business without money, won a point against Mayor Pingree's administration Tuesday. A mandamus was ordered by the circuit court to compel the city comptroller to draw an order for $12,000 with which to pay the board's expenses temporarily.

FOR WOMEN.

There are facts which every woman should know and should teach her daughters, but which many never learn because they have no trustworthy teacher and don't know where to find one. To supply this want the Zoa-Phora Medicine Company, at Kalamazoo, Mich., publishes a book on Diseases of Women and Children, well illustrated, easily understood. Every woman, or girl above 15 years, should read it. For the purpose of advertising they will, on receipt of 10 cts. to cover cost of mailing, send a pamphlet edition, in sealed envelope to any lady (and to ladies only) who desires it.

TAKE STEPS

in time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98 per cent. are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce [illegible] lungs from the lungs, severe [illegible] with copious expectoration [illegible] bercular matter), great loss of flesh, extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of cases are reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery"? We were genuine cases of dreadful and fatal disease? You need not our word for it. They have, in many instances, been so pronounced by the most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in representing them, and who were strongly prejudiced and advised a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to the conviction that it surpasses, in curative power, all other known remedies. No fatal malady—all other medicines which they are acquainted with, cod-liver oil and its filthy "emulsions," various mixtures, had been tried in nearly all cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit for a short time. Extract of malt, with hypophosphites and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, after having been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to any address on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience.

Some little differences of opinion have arisen in consequence of the action of the election board in opening the box and recounting the ballots Tuesday. It seems after they had declared the vote, they discovered that the tally sheets did not agree, and no doubt the board acted in good faith in what they did, but some question their right to open the box without orders from the proper authorities.

Do you want to know why Earl Lenardson was so shy of the stove Saturday. Well we will tell you. He went to draw some gasoline in the morning, which is done by using a siphon. It did not work readily and Earl got a little hot under the collar, and placing his mouth over the tube sucked long and hard, when suddenly he was filled with gasoline which he was obliged to swallow, becoming strangled. It went down and would'nt come up. Knowing the inflammable nature of the critter he did not propose ascending that way, so kept a safe distance from anything that had fire. We are happy to say he experienced no great inconvenience.

The following is the result of the election in Ridgeway township, held here Monday, on the township ticket, save constables:

Supervisor—Conrad L. Lowe 169; H. H. Atwell 159.

Clerk—G. L. Grie... 161; Sam'l Knittun 158.

The play, "For a Million," was repeated Saturday night, as announced from the stage Thursday evening, and was well attended, under the circumstances. The receipts for the two nights were about $60, thereby assuring a nice benefit to the Maccabees and to Mr. Mantell, as well. Our people have every reason to feel proud of the home talent and should encourage in every way possible the Dramatic Society in their endeavors to improve themselves in the art. You have just had a practical demonstration of how eager they are to take advantage of any opportunity that may present itself for selfculture, and how apt they are as students, by the artistic manner in which their several characters were presented the two evenings last week. Mr. Mantell, who took the leading role, as Kirby G. Hopper, with a business hop, is an artist in the profession and a fine gentleman as well, who, by his conscientious work, endeared himself not only to those who took part in the play but all with whom he came in contact. He gave to this difficult character a personation that would be appreciated by any audience. Art Lee, as Gilbert Temple, did well. He dressed the character in good taste and was very easy in his stage work. Herbert Cranshaw, as John Smith, did fine work, but as Moody Vaughn it was evident he did not like the character so well. Mont Hoagland, as Lawyer Bruce, looked and acted the old man well, and had he spoken louder it would have been better appreciated by the audience. W. J. Helm, as old man Temple, covered himself with glory. Ben Pulver, as Harry Wakefield, when taking into consideration that this was his first appearance on the stage, did exceedingly well, his greatest fault being speaking too low. Maud Lee, as Vixie, was great, looking and acting the character in a manner that would do honor to a professional. Ella Exelby, as Florence, was easy in manner, and in the second act particularly, gave a fine exhibition of ability. And Mrs. Will Hause, as Mrs. Lang, sustained this peculiar and difficult character in a manner that pleased all. The orchestra, composed of the Grafton brothers and Messrs. Clark, Eastlick and Welling, are entitled to congratulations for the excellent music they furnished, and the lady who presided as organist for her painstaking work. The new scenery painted by Mantell added largely to the effectivness of the play and was admired by all. Mr. Mantell left Monday for Pittsburg, Pa. He will long be kindly remembered by this community and we trust he may be able to visit us again sometime in the future.

HOLLOWAY HASH.

Mrs. Clarence Holdridge was in town Wednesday.

John Rainey of Shipping baled hay from this place.

The social at Mrs. Geo. Holloway's was well attended.

Ed. Allen's moved out and Dexter Still occupy their house.

D. P. Anthony came home from Chicago to cast his ballot Monday.

Geo. H. Winship, of Adrian, is stopping in Holloway for a few days.

Milo Dole and wife, of Adrian visited Mr. Anthony's family over Sunday.

Jim Gordon and Ina Vanfleet, of Morenci, visited Jennie Gordan over Sunday.

Joe Bagley and family move near Dundee this spring where they work a farm.

Communion is to be held next Sunday at the Presbyterian church, all are invited.

Let all turn out and hear the Elocutionist Friday evening and help the Maccabees.

Rev. Vincent was here and preached church on his way to quarterly meeting at Blissfield.

James Bloomer and family move to Newburg. They formerly resided on A. Richard's farm.

Mrs. Ed. Isley, of Homer, Mich., is here visiting her parents and friends, Hulet West and family.

Mr. Gillespie, wife and daughter of Tecumseh, were guests of A. D. Macham and family Thursday.

The Holloway creamery is doing a good business now days and receives large quantities of milk.

Miss Bertha Britton and Jennie Saxton, of Britton, were callers on Miss C. E. Winship last Thursday.

They say its Square Chatfield again; all young people who require his services, in this line, just give him a call.

The town election went democratic throughout, but the republicans are living in hopes of cleaning them slick and clean in 1896.

Mike Gillen of Tecumseh, an expert artist as a paper hanger, would like the patronage of Holloway and vicinity. He will guarantee good work and give perfect satisfaction—prices reasonable.

MACON MUSIC.

Miss Ida Hendershot is home for a three weeks' rest.

Anna Pennington is spending a few days at Ann Arbor.

An election of officers at the M. E. Sunday school, April 7th.

The W. C. T. U. meeting at the home of Mrs. Travis, Friday afternoon, was well attended.

J. C. Howell is home from Ridgeway for a week's vacation and muscular development.

Signs of spring—birds and buds, and last, but not least, uncomfortable house cleaning.

R. A. Mills and W. B. Hatch came home to show their loyalty to their party on April 1st.

Several Macon people went to Clinton Sunday to assist in the funeral services of Mrs. O'Hara.

At the election of officers for the Prohibition Club Will Hatch was chosen president for the coming year.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of Macon, will give an Easter social at the home of Chas. Morgan, Friday evening, April 12. A short program will be given.

Emma Cotton and Grace Collins resumed, Monday morning, their work of instructing the young in the way in which they should go; the one in the Gleason school and the other in the Merritt school.

The election in Macon was a little more exciting than usual. Some wily democrats demanded a report from the township officers, which, though a perfectly proper and legal proceeding, caught the officers unawares and some were entirely unable to report. They seemed to consider it a reflection upon their honesty, which is not necessarily so at all, as any official, especially one retiring from office, should expect to have his report ready for the annual meeting. We give below the vote on supervisor, clerk and treasurer:

Supervisor—H. Pennington r, 146; Thomas Wilson d, 95; Simon Gould p, 29;

Clerk—Charles Allen r, 148; Joseph Hunter d, 93; Edward Baker p, 28;

Treasurer—Frank Gilmore r, 143; Robert Mills d, 94; J. C. Howell p, 30;

Commissioner Fields received 92 votes to 119 for Keeler.

Last year we commenced an elaborate plan of advertising, but before we were half through, OUR ADVERTISEMENTS DISAPPEARED. Why? Because WE WERE OVERWHELMED WITH BUSINESS. There was but one thing to do; withdraw the advertising and devote every energy to filling the orders with which we were flooded. This we did, and handled with reasonable promptness a most unprecedented year's business.

WE ENLARGED FACTORIES, INCREASED FACILITIES, AND TWENTY BRANCH HOUSES FROM WHICH TO DISTRIBUTE OUR GOODS; WE CAN NOW CARE FOR ALL WHO COME. Last year we could not reduce prices because we were compelled in some way to limit the demand for Aermotor goods. We would have been satisfied with lower prices, but why create a demand which we could not supply? We have made the heaviest purchases of steel and material bought in America this year, and at unprecedented prices, and have made terms to dealers which enable them to make unprecedented prices.

In quality, character, variety, finish, and accessibility to full stock of goods and repairs, we are without competitors. In our plan of advertising last year, we proposed to furnish a above we did not complete the advertising, and the feed cutter was not put out. We do propose to make amends in the following manner: We will announce in this paper our NEW ALL-STEEL VERY SUPERIOR FEED CUTTER, WORTH cash with order, f. o. b. Chicago. Only one to one person, he to furnish addresses of ten neighbors who ought to have something in our line. Cut, description and full information regarding it will appear soon.

We especially desire to correct wrong impressions for several reasons, one of which is to put a stop to the claim on the part of the dealer to be over-charging us the highest profit to the consumer. To be sure we do not want the highest price and ought to have it, for we are entitled to the best price and ought to have it, for we are entitled to the best price and ought to have it, for we are entitled to the best

TECUMSEH, MICH., APRIL 5, 1895.

GONE TO HIS REWARD.

One by one the old pioneers of Lenawee County are leaving us to join their comrades of former years on high. The Angel of Death has been more than busy with his sickle for the past few months, and has been reaping a bountiful harvest. Among them all none will be more sincerely missed and mourned by the dear ones left here below than Dr. Gideon D. Perry, who died Wednesday, March 27, 1895.

The deceased began his earthly journey in Palmyra, Wayne Co. N. Y. on 20th, 1811. His youth was passed on a farm, where he received such advantages of an education as the schools of those days afforded. At nineteen years of age he left the parental roof and for three years he engaged in teaching. He was then admitted to the Genesee conference of the Methodist church and was a faithful follower of the Master for eleven years thereafter, when by reason of failing health he relinquished active service as a regular minister. In 1845 he came to Michigan and settled upon a new farm in what is now the town of Franklin. There he lived for nearly forty years. Here he first formed the friendship which ripened into a lifelong friendship with Deacon Whitstead and reared a family of children. In 1880 he sold his farm and moved to Tecumseh, where he has since resided. During his long and active life he has filled many important offices and has always taken a deep interest in political and religious affairs. In April, 1846, he was elected supervisor of Franklin township, serving every year for that office. The same fall he was chosen a member of the Lower House of the state legislature, and in 1855 he was elected to the State Senate. During his residence in Franklin he frequently filled the pulpit at church services and at all times with his money and without price. During his residence in this village for the past seven years he has led a quiet life, enjoying to the utmost his daily surroundings and always [illegible] they the Heavenly call which [illegible] He was a strong believer in the homopathic theory of medicine and was the first man to introduce that system in Michigan. His efforts in this direction were regarded with much favor by his personal friends and with the world at large. As a man of unusual ability, a true friend, a kind husband and father and a [illegible] man of unusual ability, a true friend, a kind husband and father and a [illegible] the kindest nature and [illegible] knew him but to love him and [illegible] him but to praise.

He was twice married. His first wife lived only two years after their union, and in 1841 he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Osborn, a sister of Wm. H. Osborn's of this village. Seven children blessed this union, five of whom, besides the widow, survive him: Mrs. Alice Dickey of Marshall, Thomas O. Perry of Chicago, Mrs. Maggie Keeney of Franklin, Mrs. Jennie Norris of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Eva Satterthwaite of this village. All the children were summoned in time to bid the father good bye in his earthly home and to witness his crossing over the threshold.

The funeral obsequies were held last Friday afternoon at the M. E. church conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. P. Varner assisted by Dr. L. Barnes and Rev. Jas. Hageman. The choir was composed of his old personal friends, Messrs. J. S. Strong and H. C. Conkling, Mrs. Bidwell and Mrs. Morley. A large concourse of neighbors assembled to pay their last tribute of respect to one who kept the faith and fought the good fight to the end. The best of legacies, the record of a life well spent, he leaves to his children, which will be the guiding star and beacon light in their journey here below.

AN ELECTION RELIC.

Chas. Montgomery has in his possession an old township ticket given him by his uncle, T. H. Montgomery, of Ridgeway, which was used in that town in 1845. Suffrage for Women.

Much depends upon the attitude in which we approach the consideration of such a question as this. Much depends on what we regard as the reasonable presumption and on whom we conceive that the burden of proof should rest.

When a prisoner is arraigned in the court, the presumption is that he is innocent until he is proven guilty and the burden of proof is on those who accuse him. He does not, strictly speaking, need to prove his innocence at all, but simply to refute the charges against him. If he does this he must be set free. If he were accounted guilty till he had proven himself innocent, he might, though blameless, never be discharged. The difference between the presumption of his innocence and the presumption of his guilt may mean for him the difference between liberty and the prisonment for life.

Now I contend that the reasonable presumption is that woman has a right to vote, and that till it is proven otherwise, the government has no more right to withhold the suffrage from women than the judge on the bench has to deny the accused his rights under the law.

The advocates of woman suffrage do not need in advance to prove that women will use the ballot wisely or even that she will use it at all, but simply to show that she has the same natural right to it that man has. The judge may not foreknow that John Doe will use his vote wisely. He may waste his time and squander his money. He may not improve his intellect. He may never worship his God, but the presumption is primarily to [illegible] such considerations. If not [illegible] right to the ballot to this [illegible] that over-ride it, it is afforded [illegible] necessary to prohibit his [illegible] which may for good [illegible] be used.

It has been said that woman has no [illegible] to vote. That is at best [illegible] of disability for voting, and [illegible] and that is enough. Suffrage is granted under a Republican form of government because he is a man and because he has no natural disability. It should also be granted to woman because she also is mankind and also she has no natural disability. Every citizen of a Republic has a presumptive right to vote. If the good of the state require that the ballot should be denied to any citizen, the one who affirms this must prove it. The citizen whose right is denied does not need to prove that the good of the state requires that he be permitted to vote. He has maintained his right if he has simply refuted the charges of his accuser.

Woman then has the right to vote because she has no disability, for sex is no disability. Neither physically, intellectually nor morally does it disable her from casting an intelligent and honest ballot. It is alleged that she is illiterate. No, for she is the most numerous teacher of embryo voters in our public schools. Is she idiotic? Hardly, for as a "co-ed" she often takes the prize before the eyes of our sons. She is born frequently in this state, and like men she often attains "the age of twenty-one years." She can, under our laws, sue and be sued, be fined, imprisoned, hanged. She is no more insane, and no more immoral to say the least, than men. And she can so mark an Australian ballot that it shall express her sentiment, and can drop it into a box in as seemly a way as can a man. Surely here are no disabilities which invalidate her presumptive right to vote.

Say I these things as a private citizen? Or saith not the majesty of Massachusetts the same? Article III of the amendments to the Constitution does indeed limit to 'male' citizens the right to vote for governor, lieutenant-governor, senators and representatives. But I submit that this is a sacrifice of consistency with that earlier Declaration of Rights which is the foundation upon which our Constitution and statutes rest. "All power residing originally in the people and being derived from them" Declaration of Rights." Part I. Art. V. Are not women "people?"

"The people of this commonwealth have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves." Do. Art. IV. Do not women constitute an integral part of the people of this commonwealth?—National Educator.

OBITUARY.

BAKER.

Betsy Maria Fisher was born January 6th, 1832, in Testershire, England, coming to America with her father and mother in 1834. For a few years her father's family lived near Toledo, but in 1836 they moved to Tecumseh, which place, with the exception of a few years spent at Ypsilanti and Lansing, has always been her home. In 1845, at the age of thirteen she gave her heart to God, and was baptised into the membership of the first Baptist Church of Tecumseh, and of which church she was a consistent member for fifty years. During that period she has, at different times held offices both in the church and Sabbath school, and has for the last thirty years been a teacher in the Sunday school. She was a faithful church worker, and, until sickness and failing strength prevented, was a regular attendant at all church services. At the last prayer meeting held during her life she was present and took an active part. In 1855 she was united in marriage to Horace Baker, with whom she moved to Lansing, returning to Tecumseh in 1864. She [illegible] a quiet, unostentatious life, a life devoted to the church, her home and family. To make her home pleasant and her family happy was the dearest desire of her heart, and well did she succeed. But she is gone, and oh! what a void in the lives of those she loved, in the sense of desolation that wrings their hearts with anguish. Yet what a tender memory they have to cherish, the memory of a kind and faithful wife, a loving and unselfish mother. The memory of one, who through all of her sorrows and trials had a firm faith in her heavenly father, and who said, no matter what came, "It is God, let him do as seemeth to him best." During her life she has mourned over the loss of both father and mother, brothers and sisters, yet in her deepest grief her first thought was for the comfort of her loved ones, and no matter how much bodily pain and suffering she had to endure, she ministered to the wants of those about her, as was strikingly shown by the fact that the last day of her life saw her about her home, entirely forgetful of her own suffering in the joy she felt in caring for her loved ones. Late in the evening of Monday, March 25th, she gave up and went to bed, and when the early morning light was seen in the east, mother, dear mother, went to heaven to prepare a place for us there. She leaves to mourn her irreparable loss, a husband, two sons, two sisters and a brother.

"Farewell, oh farewell, our mother,
All our hearts are buried with you.
All our thoughts go now and with you.
Come not to [illegible] again to suffer,
Where the famine and the fever
Wear the heartland waste the body.
Soon our task will be completed,
Soon your footsteps we shall follow
To the Islands of the Blessed,
To the land of the Hereafter."

GRIFFITH.

Our community was startled Monday morning to learn that our venerable citizen, G. W. Griffith, was dead. His end came quickly. He arose as usual in the morning, but soon after complained of a sharp pain in the chest. Dr. Catlin was summoned, but he passed away before the doctor entered the house. Mr. Griffith, for many years, has been a familiar figure on our streets. A long time he conducted the blacksmith shop now owned by Thomas Elliott. Mr. Griffith was born in Wales, England, in 1813, came to this country in 1841, and was soon after united in marriage to Miss Sarah Smallwood. He lived in Clinton several years and then came to Tecumseh, where he has since resided. He was possessed of a kind and generous nature and was respected by all who knew him. At the age of 14 he was confirmed in the Episcopal church and never changed his church relations, although for years he has gone with his estimable wife to the church of her choice, the Methodist. He had reached the age of 82 when the summons came. The funeral was held at the home Wednesday afternoon. Owing to the absence of Rev. J. P. Varner and the inability of Rev. W. R. Blachford, whose engagements were such he could not be present, Rev. James Hageman of the Friends church conducted the services, using the beautiful ritual of the Episcopal church which the deceased loved so much. His remarks were very comforting. There was a large attendance of neighbors and friends. His aged widow has the sympathy of all in her affliction.

ABOUT HOG CHOLERA.

Hon. J. J. Woodman Says it Exists in This County.

The Jackson Patriot of last Friday has the following:

Hon. J. J. Woodman, member of the state live stock commission, arrived in the city from Lansing yesterday. He is a sturdy intelligent farmer of Paw Paw, and though in public life since 1860, he can carry Jersey gilt edged butter in a basket to market without any loss of dignity to his political soul.

Having been a member of Michigan legislature twelve years—three times speaker of the house—superintendent of Michigan agricultural exhibit at the Philadelphia centennial, Paris exposition and the World's Fair at Chicago, and also six years each at the head of the state grange and the national grange, Mr. Woodman is capable of filling his present position and knows much about hog cholera. To pass his opinion on a peculiar disease prevalent in the swine population of Lenawee county and particularly near Lenawee Junction is his present mission. "The loss of many thousand dollars has been caused by diseased hogs dying in that section during the past fall and winter," said Mr. Woodman. "Their noses dropping off about the indication of disease, later the ears, and finally before death most of the head sloughs away. My theory is that the cholera has so debilitated the Lenawee hog and retarded blood circulation that the sloughing off of the nose and parts of the head is caused by freezing.

In speaking of hog cholera, he said investigations and experience proved that cholera was seldom caused by unclean pig sties, but like smallpox in the human family it was infectious and the germs of the disease of the one could be as easily communicated as the other. This suggested the advisability of hog vaccination and Mr. Woodman asserted that such a prevention would soon be practical in this practical age of progress.

John I. Breck is entertaining Mr. Woodman, who leaves to-day for Lenawee Junction.

HER CHOICE.

Carroll Trainor was to go to Mexico to make his fortune, and Lila Havens had promised to remain true to him till his return. When they parted, he decided to return to Baltimore at once and make arrangements to go to Mexico. Lila Havens went on alone to friends she was to visit at Sharpsburg.

"We expected you this morning," said her hostess.

"Yes, dear, but, you see, I was unavoidably delayed. What a lovely day it has been!"

"And there is a telegram for you, Lila."

"Really! Something aunt forgot to mention, I dare say. Excuse me." She broke it open carelessly. "Dear me!" She puckered her brow. "Only fancy! The admiral is coming down here tomorrow."

The admiral appeared on the scene at [illegible]

"My dear Lila," he said, "I must have a little talk with you."

"Yes, uncle."

"Lila, my dear"—they were quite alone—"I have had a proposal for your hand in marriage. If I had chosen the man, I could not be better pleased than to see you the wife of Judge Mason."

"Uncle! He is more than twice my age. I never dreamed of it."

"He is a young man, my dear—a vigorous young man. He will idolize you. You know he admired you."

"He is a widower."

"But his only daughter is married."

"Oh, uncle, it—it is out of the question!"

"My dear, you give me great cause for apprehension. It will disappoint me terribly if you do not accept him."

"But, uncle, I am but 18. Why should I marry for five or six years yet? I'll never be young but once—never!" she said pathetically. "And I am not a penniless creature that requires a home. I might be allowed to pick and choose."

"My dear," the old man looked suddenly grave and pale, "there is bad news. You must make up your mind to meet it bravely."

Lila's face reflected some of the paleness of his own.

"Uncle—my—my money? Have I lost it?"

"There has been a terrible financial failure. I hardly know how to tell you. We only heard yesterday, and we don't know for sure as yet. I am afraid—Lila, you must bear up—I am afraid you have lost nearly all you had."

The girl leaned back in the chair. There was a stunned look in her face. She did not speak. The admiral went on speaking more rapidly:

"I can hardly blame myself. It was an undreamed of thing. Of course there is a little real estate left you. Heaven knows I wish it had been all in houses. Judge Mason"—

"Oh," the girl broke in suddenly, "he won't want me now—when he knows I am penniless!"

"My child, he came as soon as he knew it."

She went to her room and locked herself in. Then she wrote to Carroll Trainor:

"I am no longer rich. There is no use of an engagement. I have lost everything. Perhaps you will be rich some day, Carroll. If so, you must come and find me."

But she said nothing of Hon. Thomas Mason.

Trainor felt grieved at the tone of the letter. He wrote back reproachfully. She had made a promise. Perhaps she sought to be released from it. If so, he would release her. In her place he would hardly have so written.

But, then, he was only a man.

The girl's soul sickened within her. A brief note from Trainor told her that he was just leaving for the gulf coast, where he would find a steamship for Vera Cruz. He thought he would never return to the United States.

A great despair came over her. In her sensitive state she felt that he no longer cared for her.

She capitulated and consented to receive Judge Mason's addresses.

Three months had passed. The wedding was to take place the last week of June. Miss Havens was to become Mrs. Thomas Mason.

The wedding invitations were about to be sent out—the wedding day was fixed a fortnight hence. Miss Havens, out on a shopping errand, turned a street corner sharply and ran against some one. She looked up and grew pale. It was Carroll Trainor.

"You!" she said faintly.

"You didn't expect to see me? Lila, for heaven's sake, is that true? You are going to marry Judge Mason?"

She nodded with an effort. The idea of the marriage, to which she had become reconciled, but never enthusiastically disposed, suddenly seemed sickening. Her whole soul revolted.

"Carroll!" she gasped. "Oh, Carroll! If there were any escape!"

"Escape! What do you mean? Isn't it your own choosing? Are you being forced into marrying the old widower?"

"I—I—oh, you seemed not to want me. And uncle and aunt seemed not to want me. Nobody seemed to want me—except Judge Mason. He was very kind, but I never have loved him. Carroll, if you had not deserted me!"

"I—deserted you! I've just returned from Mexico," said Trainor, "and I'm going back there at once. I've got a splendid chance. It's lonesome for a man to be by himself. The climate is like paradise."

The admiral and his good lady were at the breakfast table.

His morning mail lay before him. He took up the top letter of all and gazed severely at it. The handwriting was Lila's. The letter had been posted the night before. He opened it, read it in silence and passed it to his wife.

"Do not send the invitations," it said, "for I shall not marry Judge Mason. He is a good man and will understand it was a mistake. I love some one else and have gone away to marry him. We shall spend our honeymoon in a palm thatched hut in Mexico."

Mrs. Blair could not speak. After a moment's silence the admiral observed: "On the whole, I'm glad the marriage is off. The judge's daughter was greatly opposed. She might have made things unpleasant after a bit."

And still again, "She's a plucky little creature, Lila is—God bless her!"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning March 31. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, The Nazarite.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Num. vi. 1-8; Acts xviii. 18; Gal. v. 24.

The term Nazarite comes from a word meaning to separate. It was applied to those who, separating themselves in certain respects from other persons or denying themselves certain things, had made special consecration to God. They were to be "holy unto Jehovah," in a peculiar sense higher than even the priesthood. That separation and holiness came from bodily descent, but the Nazarite's was by personal consecration.

Three items were marked in this separation. First was total abstinence from all wine and every product of the vine; second, he was not to touch or come near any dead body, even of the nearest relative; thirdly, the hair was to be allowed to grow during the period of the vow. There were perpetual or lifelong Nazarites as well as those for a limited period. Such were Samson, Samuel and John the Baptist.

At the expiration of the vow the head was shaved and the hair brought to the temple to be burned in the fire which cooked the flesh of the peace offering. Sacrifices were to be offered for a burnt offering, a sin offering and peace offerings.

The custom of vowing fell into gross abuse among the Israelites before the time of Christ and drew from some severe rebukes.

The spirit of Christ is that of absolute consecration of all powers and possessions for God's service and the continual repression of all evil tendencies of mind, spirit and body and cultivation of all virtues. Christians are to be perpetual Nazarites in a very deep and broad sense, separated from the world in its spirit and lusts and devoted wholly to God.

The General Secretary.

Dr. E. A. Schell, the general secretary of the Epworth League, was elected to the office in November, 1892. A young man of fine presence, with versatile talents, deep and genuine devotion to God and abundant energy, he has won for himself a high place in the affection and confidence of the church and League. He has traveled extensively through the country and spoken at many conventions, keeping in touch with the work of the society as well as directing affairs from the office.

Extension.

During the year 1894, in May, the Methodist Episcopal Church South perfected its league organization, but little different in form from that of our own church. Its organ is The Epworth Era, published at Nashville, with Dr. S. A. Steel, the general secretary, as editor. It is one of the ablest in matter and most attractive in mechanical makeup of the young people's papers of the land.

In September, 1894, the Methodist church of Canada adopted the League and arranged for the appointment of a secretary. The name of its paper is Onward. Dr. W. H. Withrow is editor, and it is published in Toronto.

The Wesleyans of England are considering the matter and will doubtless very soon swing into line. The time is near at hand when the League will girdle the globe.

The Saloon.

Dr. Gilbert of Cleveland well says: "Against it is nature with her inviolable laws. Against it is society with all its prophecies of future progress. Against it is humanity with its vast destinies. Against it is man with his physical, mental and moral constitution. Against it is woman with all her love and tenderness. Against it is home with all its sanctities. Against it is the nation with all its grand traditions and hopes for coming years. Against it is heaven with its righteousness. Against it is God with all his holiness. The saloon must go!"

Help Put It Out.

O ye who love the portals of home more than the lintels of the saloon, the laughter of children more than the hiccough of the drunkard, the desk of the schoolhouse more than the vat of the brewery, the church of God more than the synagogue of satan, the chime of Sabbath bells more than the clink of whisky glasses, the stripes upon your country's flag more than the coil of the still, look about you at this leering monster whose drink is the blood of men and the tears of women, and then, like St. George with the dragon, strike home!

A New Literature.

John Wesley found the common people destitute of books in all departments of literature. He wrote, translated, printed, published and circulated good books and created a new literature. He originated the modern cheap book movement. The needs of the young people are awakening attention, and a new literature is springing up which gives promise of golden fruitage. No one need now be ignorant or read trash. Let the literary department be enthused with new life, and it will aid all others.

BLESSED BURGLARS.

"My first burglary," remarked Uncle Bobs suddenly as Dickey and he sat on the piazza together, "was committed when I was a boy of 12."

"What, you committed a burglary—you, Uncle Bobs!" cried Dicky in dismay. "Oh, that was a awful thing to do!"

"Not such a very nawful thing, the way we did it," said Uncle Bobs calmly. "Listen and I'll tell you all about it.

"Teddy Gordon, my school chum, was the swiftest runner in Pokeville. One Fourth of July he captured no less than $50 in prizes. Next morning I met him coming down the road.

"'Hello, Teddy,' said I. 'Decided what to do with your money yet?'

"'Yes,' he replied. 'I'm going into the burglar business. I've got my eye on an easy house to begin on, and look here, Bobs, I'm going to take you into partnership.'

Looking cautiously about to see that there was no chance of being overheard, Ted unfolded his plan.

"'Why, it's a splendid scheme!' I broke out presently. 'Of course I'll join you. And look here, Ted, the old lady hasn't got any bulldog or anything, and I don't [illegible] the easy [illegible] Come along now and let us get together our things.'

"Miss Judith Brown, or 'Aunt Judy,' as she was often called, lived in a somewhat dilapidated little cottage about half a mile down the road. The poor old lady had recently fallen upon evil times. Matters were looking about as black and gloomy as they well could.

"'Tilly,' she said one evening to the little colored girl she kept more for company than anything else, 'Tilly, tomorrow when you go down to the grocer's see if he won't give you another soapbox. We must save the chairs for our callers.'

"A little after 8 she and Tilly retired to their chamber up under the eaves, and soon they went fast asleep.

"About 10 o'clock, when all was dark and still, a wagon drove up, and turning out from the road stopped on the other side of Aunt Judy's back yard fence.

"Three minutes later Ted and I poked our heads above the boards, and seeing that no one had been disturbed we climbed lightly over and crept up to the back door. "As we expected, it was only on the latch, for if there was anything that Aunt Judy had no occasion to fear it was the midnight thief.

"Once inside the house we drew down the blinds and lighted our bullseye lantern.

"In the kitchen we quietly removed our shoes in true burglar fashion and crept forward. The scene of our operations was the sitting room.

"Gathering up as many chairs as we could bear off without noise, we carried them to the back door. After that we took the table, then, with much difficulty, we hugged off the rickety old sofa. Next we took a couple of andirons each of odds and ends, and finally plucking up the threadbare carpet by the rents we bore it off, chuckling to ourselves, for we had completely denuded the room.

"Pulling on our boots, we now carried our booty out to the wagon, and then—well, half an hour later Ted and I were well along the road on our way back.

"When Tilly came down in the morning to light the fire, her eyes almost popped out of her head with amazement. As soon as she had recovered herself she rushed up stairs.

"'Oh, missie, missie!' she cried. 'It's all gone, missie! The robbers have tooken all your furniture. It's all gone, missie, even to the carpet and spoons and everything!'

"Poor Aunt Judy's face was a sight to behold. In trembling haste she threw on her wrapper and hurried down stairs.

"Pushing open the parlor door, the excited old lady received a shock which well nigh took her off her feet. There before her was a brand new set of furniture—chairs, sofa and table, the latter spread with a white tablecloth, and with bright new knives and forks and spoons and pretty cups and saucers upon it, the like of which she had never expected to see in her little home again. In the center of the room was laid a large rug, and stuck up in the corner was a roll of carpeting sufficient to cover the border of floor that was yet exposed.

"With a quick glance the astounded woman took it all in, and then she dropped on her knees and sobbed aloud. Then, rising, her face greatly brightened, she said simply: 'Make some tea, Tilly. We must christen our new teapot.'

"As Tilly lifted the cover of that article something green flashed to her eye from the inside. She shook it out.

"'Oh, look, missie!' she cried, 'look here! Money! See! Ten and five—$25! Oh, missie, this is just great! The Lord is good, isn't he?'

"'Yes, child,' replied Aunt Judy, and then the old pride coming suddenly upon her she said: 'But we'll have to find out who did it and send them back. We mustn't keep them, Tilly. It's too much like charity.'"

"Were you ever found out, Uncle Bobs?" inquired Dickey.

"Yes, the newspapers got hold of the affair, and pretty soon Teddy and I were known all around town as 'The Blessed Burglars.'

"But before this happened the minister, at Aunt Judy's request, had inserted this little item:

"'Reward Offered.—Any person giving information concerning the burglars who entered the premises of Miss Judith Brown on the night of July 5 will receive a thousand thanks. As for the burglars themselves, Miss Brown would be greatly pleased to have them call upon her some evening when she is awake, to receive the gratitude their kindness and consideration deserve.'"—George A. Wesley in Boston Globe.

A Tragedy In High Life.

It was Sunday evening. They were standing in a North Side drug store—he and she—apparently waiting for a street car. He was attired in a swell suit, with a high silk hat, patent leather shoes and wore a flower in his buttonhole. She was arrayed in an elegant suit of—but never mind.

She stepped up to the counter, bought a little bottle of perfumery, took a small purse from her pocket, opened it, and then, with some embarrassment, went back and spoke to the young man.

He smiled a ghastly smile and replied in an undertone.

Then she stepped up to the counter again, handed back the little bottle of perfumery and nobody in the drug store spoke a word for five minutes.

St. Jacobs Oil THE GREAT REMEDY — CURES PAINS OF MAN & BEAST

MORTGAGE SALE.

ON the thirty-first day of January, 1891, Charles Shafer and Rosa Shafer mortgaged to Henry Smith all those certain pieces of parcels of land situated in the township of Macon, in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: All that part of the southeast quarter of section twenty-nine (29) of town five (5) south of range five (5) east, bounded as follows: Beginning at the southeast corner of said section and running thence north on the east line of said section seventy-four (74) rods; thence west on the south line of land now, or formerly, owned by one Talbot, and on the south line of Linton's land, forty-nine (49) rods to the southwest corner of said Linton's said land; thence north on west line of said Linton's land twenty-six (26) rods to Sherman's land, formerly so called; thence west on south line of said Sherman's land fourteen and two-thirds (14⅔) rods to the southwest corner thereof; thence north on the west line of said Sherman's land sixty (60) rods to the north line of said quarter section; thence west on north line of said quarter section fifty-six (56) rods to Miller's land; thence south on east line of [illegible] (160) rods to the south line of said section; thence east on the south line of said section one hundred and twenty (120) rods to the place of beginning; containing ninety-two (92) acres of land, more or less. Also, all that part of section twenty-eight (28) of town five (5) south of range five (5) east bounded as follows: Beginning at the point of intersection of the center line of the Ridge road with the west line of said section; thence southeasterly at right angles with said Ridge road eight (8) rods; thence southwesterly twenty-three (23) rods to the southwest corner of said section; thence north on west line of said section to place of beginning; to secure the payment of four thousand dollars two years from the date thereof, with interest at seven per cent per annum, payable annually. Which mortgage was, on the 12th day of February, 1891, recorded in the register of deeds' office for the county of Lenawee, Michigan, in liber 115, of Mortgages, on pages 393, etc., and said mortgage contains a provision that, in case any default be made in the payment of said interest or any part thereof on any day whereon the same is made payable, as above expressed, and should the same remain unpaid and in arrears for the space of thirty days, then the aforesaid principal sum of four thousand dollars, with all arrearages thereon, shall, at the option of said party of the second part, his executors, administrators or assigns, become and be due and payable immediately thereafter.

Default having been made in the payment of the interest to the amount of twelve hundred, ninety-five and 33-100 dollars, and the same having remained unpaid and in arrear for more than thirty days, the undersigned mortgagee hereby elects to declare, and does hereby declare, the whole amount due both principal and interest, amounting at the date of this notice to the sum of five thousand, two hundred, ninety-five and 33-100 dollars, and no proceedings at law or in equity have been taken for the recovery of said sum or any part thereof.

Notice is therefore hereby given that, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute of the state of Michigan in such case made and provided, for the purpose of realizing the moneys above mentioned and interest thereon at eight per cent per annum hereafter to accrue thereon, the costs of this foreclosure and sale, including an attorney fee, in said mortgage provided, I shall, on the first day of June, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon of said day, sell at public vendue to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house in the city of Adrian, in the county of Lenawee, Michigan, (that being the place of holding the circuit court for the said county of Lenawee), all that certain parcel of land situate and being in the township of Raisin, in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the center of the north side of section four (4), of town six (6) south of range four (4) east, running thence south along the east line of the northwest quarter of said section four thirteen chains, thirty-three and one-half links; thence west parallel with the north line of said quarter section, seven chains and fifty links; thence north, parallel with the first course, thirteen chains, thirty-three and one-half links to the north line of said quarter section; thence east on north line of said quarter section seven chains and fifty links to the place of beginning.

Dated March 29, 1895.

HENRY SMITH, Mortgagee.

CHARLES BURRIDGE, Attorney for Mortgagee.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss

At a session of the Probate Court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Monday, the 4th day of March, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

Present: Ri hard B. Robbins, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of William Totten, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition duly verified of Jacob Totten, a brother of said deceased, praying that administration of the estate of said deceased may be granted to Bradley Griffin, of Dover, Lenawee county, Michigan, or to some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that Tuesday, the 23 day of April next, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further Ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendancy of said petition and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

RICHARD B. ROBBINS, Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT of payment having been made of a mortgage made by Augustus J. Van Winkle and Julia A. Van Winkle, his wife, to William C. Fisher, bearing date the tenth day of December, A. D. 1878, and recorded in the Register of Deeds office for Lenawee county, Michigan, in liber 89 of mortgages, on page 77, on the sixth day of January, 1879, on which mortgage there remains unpaid at the date of this notice, of the principal and accrued interest, the sum of two thousand and fifty dollars and no proceedings at law or in equity have been taken for the collection of the same. Notice is therefore, hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute of the state of Michigan in such case made and provided, for the purpose of realizing the moneys above mentioned and interest thereon at eight per cent per annum hereafter to accrue thereon, the costs of this foreclosure and sale, including an attorney fee, in said mortgage provided, I shall, on the first day of June, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon of said day, sell at public vendue to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house in the city of Adrian, in the county of Lenawee, Michigan, (that being the place of holding the circuit court for the said county of Lenawee), all that certain parcel of land situate and being in the township of Raisin, in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the center of the north side of section four (4), of town six (6) south of range four (4) east, running thence south along the east line of the northwest quarter of said section four thirteen chains, thirty-three and one-half links; thence west parallel with the north line of said quarter section, seven chains and fifty links; thence north, parallel with the first course, thirteen chains, thirty-three and one-half links to the north line of said quarter section; thence east on north line of said quarter section seven chains and fifty links to the place of beginning.

Dated March 8, 1895.

ABIGAIL FISHER,

Executrix of the last will and testament of William C. Fisher, deceased.

CHARLES BURRIDGE, Attorney for Executrix.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given, that, by virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee, in favor of George C. Pecklington, plaintiff, against the goods, chattels and real estate of George W. Graves and G. A. Wilkins, Defendants, in said County, to me directed and delivered, I did, on the 18th day of March, A. D. 1895, levy upon and take all the right, title and interest of the said George W. Graves and G. A. Wilkins, in and to all that certain piece or parce of land situated in the township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, known and described as follows, to-wit: The south-west one quarter of the north-west one quarter of section twenty-eight (28), and the south one half of the north west one quarter of the north-west one quarter of said section twenty-eight (28), in Town five (5), south of Range five (5) east, containing sixty (60) acres of land, more or less. All of which I shall expose for sale, at auction or public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the East door of the court house in the City of Adrian, in said County, on the 6th, day of May, next, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon.

Dated March 18th, 1895.

A Sign of Peace

is the downcome of war time prices.

The during-the-war price of baking powder was 45 to 50 cents a pound. Cream of tartar was then 49 cents a pound, soda, 6 cents. Cream of tartar is now 28 cents, soda, less than 3½ cents.

Still the would-be monopolists want the same "war" prices (45 to 50c. a pound) for their products.

CALUMET Baking Powder

Preparations are completed for connecting the residence of John C. Mills with the union telegraph line, as soon as the frost goes out, by a 3-4 mile loop.

About 8 a. m., Saturday, the wire announced the sad intelligence of the death of one of Chas. Avery's twin boys, a little over a year old. A sad affliction in which all the neighbors sympathize.

Grau Mills, being duly sworn, says that Chas. Avery's portable saw mill cut 12,514 feet of inch boards for him last Thursday in nine hours and 45 minutes, with a five foot saw and threshing engine. Four men put the logs on the way and piled the lumber, three did the sawing, with one at the engine who used green slab wood. And further he saith not.

FROM KILLARNEY TO BELFAST.

Leaves from the Diary of J. F. Jenkins' Transatlantic Trip.

In the evening of July 15th, we left Mucross hotel in the vicinity of the lakes, and climbed into a coach bound for the town of Killarney. Here we were literally surrounded by beggars; they appeared as thick as flies on a sugar bowl in the month of August, and equally as persistent; however we freed ourselves from this intolerable nuisance by taking an evening train for the city of Dublin, where we arrived early the next morning. The city was in the lap of Morpheus, and when the cabman halted his steed in front of the Gresham House, no one in human form appeared on the streets, and nothing but the tall shaft of Nelson's monument on Sackville street commanded our attention. Nelson was an Irishman, a native of Dublin, and this splendid monument 120 feet high was erected by the city to commemorate the deeds of England's greatest admiral. On Sackville street stands a monument to Tom Moore, the poet, who enjoys the same popularity in Dublin that Sir Walter Scott does in the city of Edinburgh.

In making our way to St. Patrick's cathedral we found the streets filled with all sorts of vehicles; jaunting cars with red face drivers, carts drawn by donkeys, with red face drivers, cabs with red face drivers. In fact it is a problem yet unsolved by me, whether it is the climate, or the whiskey he drinks, or the short stem of a clay pipe which he continously holds in his mouth that makes the Dublin cab driver's face that familiar Turkey red which you may see at night without gas light. We finally made our way to the cathedral and hunted up the sexton who admitted us through a side door. He pointed out the burial place of Dean Swift and his 'Stella,' both marked by a marble slab. Here also a monument to Schomberg who was killed at the battle of the Boyne. High on the walls are hung the old and tattered battle flags, which had seen service in the Crimean war. The interior is dark and gloomy, and was then undergoing repairs, although $700,000 had been spent in repairing it a quarter of a century ago.

The point of interest which we visited is the old parliament house, which is now the bank of Ireland, situated on College Green. Here we saw some fine old tapestries representing the seige of Derry, and King William crossing the Boyne; although now a bank, visitors are freely admitted to the building, as well as the House of Lords near by. Crossing over to the opposite side of the street, we entered Trinity College, one of the most famous institutions of learning in the world. On one side of this entrance is a fine statue of Goldsmith, the poet, and on the opposite side is a statue of the orator and statesman, Burke. We strolled through its court, halls and lecture rooms; spent a few hours in its medical museum, and in the museum of natural history, saw Brian Boroihme's harp, and the charter horn of King O'kavanagh.

The next point of interest which we visited was "The Four Courts of Dublin," a building situated on the banks of the river Liffey. It was in the evening after the courts had closed. The janitor directed the writer through the various rooms, whose walls have resounded with the eloquence and wit of Curran, Grattan, and Dan. O'Connell. Boarding a horse car which took us along the river Liffey, and thence into Phoenix Park which has been made notorious by the Murder of Cavandish, the then governor of Ireland, and his secretary, Burke. It contains about 2000 acres, and near the center is a fine zoological garden well worth visiting. At the entrance of the park, and a little to the left stands a large granite monument to Wellington, the conqueror of Napoleon Bonaparte. Wellington was a native of Dublin, a city that has given birth to generals, statesmen, and orators whose fame is second to none of modern times.

After a short visit to the famous Rotunda hospital, we took an early morn train for the north of Ireland. We passed through the towns of Mullingar, Clouis, Cavin, Monaghan, Armagh, Porta down, thence to Belfast. Between Dublin and Mullingar the country is level and interspersed with beautiful sheets of water, many of them large enough to bear the name of lakes. Between Cavan and Clonis lies the Bog of Allen which appears to extend over a large area of country. Men and women were engaged in cutting turf and piling it in heaps, somewhat in the form of a pyramid, in order to dry. They all stopped work to look at the passing train.

BELFAST.

Arriving at Belfast we put up at the Imperial hotel located in Doregal Place. Standing at the head of this street is Linen Hall, which we visited, and here our party was shown into the different departments where various grades of linen are presented to the view. The writer saw a fine piece of linen which showed the patience and skill of the workman. It will be a long time, if ever, such linen is manufactured in this country. A fine library is attached to this hall, which we also visited. Taking a seat on the top of a horse car which carried us over the old Botanic road until we came to Queen's College, where we spent a few hours in visiting its lecture rooms, and museum. On the opposite side, and a little beyond stands the Methodist College, which is new, and in a flourishing condition; it has a preparatory school attached to it, while still further beyond is the Botanical garden [illegible] and out, and presenting almost every species of native plants and flowers. The next point of interest in Belfast is the White Star Line dock yards situated on Queen's Island. It becomes necessary to obtain a permit in order to gain access to the yards; and here we found our letter from the Hon. James G. Blaine to the Diplomatic and Consular Officers of the United States, on this, and many similar occasions in different countries of Europe of great advantage to us. Referring to this letter, reminds me of an Irish-American returning to his native land, visited Giant's Causeway. The "Old grandmother" of the Causeway would not shake hands with him (so he stated in a letter home) because he did not have a letter from James G. Blaine. His long residence in America must have been destructive to his Irish wit, for if he had given her a six pence, she would have showered more blessings on his head than all "the sky pilots" in the north of Ireland. In no country is begging so universal, and in no country are empty blessings so liberally bestowed upon the donor. The American Consul at Belfast gave us a letter to the secretary of the company, and through this letter we were admitted into the yards. Several vessels were in the process of building. Every part of a steam ship is built here, from the smallest bolt which enter into its composition to the magnificent engines, like those which propel the Teutonic and Majestic, whose furnaces will consume from three to four hundred tons of coal in twenty-four hours. This dock yard gives employment to upwards of 2000 men; they work nine and a half hours a day, and are fairly remunerated for their labor. The thick iron plates, and small amount of wood which enter into and make what may be termed the skeleton of the ship was a surprise to me. No words can give an idea of one of these iron ships in the process of building, they must be seen in order to be appreciated; and then it is difficult to conceive the amount of skill required to put together one of these magnificent ocean racers, which are made here under various divisions of labor.

Belfast has a poplation somewhat larger than Detroit. It will compare favorably with any American city of its size for business and enterprise. Donegal Place, the finest street in the city has magnificent stores; many of them present as fine a display of goods as are to be seen in any city. Stepping into the landlord's jaunting car a few hours before leaving Belfast, he drove to the outskirts of the city where he reined his horse up before the door of a cabin. On the way he stated that he was about bargaining for a mare and colt, and desired me to give an opinion of the animals. This was my first and only opportunity of witnessing a bargain of this kind in Ireland. The owner pointed out the good qualities of the animals, and knew of them. When they came to an agreement relative to the price, I supposed the bargain was completed, but no, the difficulty had just commenced. The landlord wanted $5.00 for "luck money" but the owner of the horses could not see it in that light, however they compromised the matter by the purchaser agreeing to take half the amount. The purchase made, and the luck money agreed upon, we boarded our jaunting car and proceeded on our journey outside of the city limits; the road passing through the domain of the marquis of Donegal, the property being carefully protected by high stone walls on either side of the road.

An Electrical Magazine.

Electric Power, now in its seventh year, makes its bow to the public this month in an entirely new form and dress. It will henceforth appear as a magazine both as to size and character—a character which the readers of electrical science will greatly appreciate. The first number of the new form is handsomely printed and contains many excellent illustrations. The reading matter is less technical in its nature and is interesting to those who wish to know something of what is going on in electricity and yet do not care to make a study of the science. Electricity is being applied so universally now that every progressive person should read about it, and Electric Power is well worth the subscription price of $2.00 a year. The publishers offer a trial subscription for six months for $1.00. It can be obtained on the news stands for 20 cents a copy. It is published at 39 Cortland Street, New York City.

THREE DAYS IN WESTON.

A Hustling Little Village in Southern Lenawee County.

We gave our "Snap Shot" lecture in the village of Weston last week, and during our three days' visit there, formed many new acquaintances. The town is about the size of Britton, and posesses an intelligent and hospitable class of people, with whom one can feel at home. Is is the first station east of Morenci, on the Fayette Branch. The entertainment was given in the Baptist Church, for the benefit of the B. Y. P. U. The Baptists have a fine church there. The main audience room is seated with opera chairs, and the rear part of the building contains a Sunday school or chapel room and a parlor up stairs. Rev. Jesse Boswell has been their pastor for some time and is evidently doing a good work there. We feel indebted to the church for their generous patronage, and hope to visit them again at some future time.

The village has a population of about 500, contains a good roller flouring mill and steam mill, a large evaporating factory, a wind mill factory and wire fence establishment. One of Geo. B. Horton's cheese factories is located about a mile east. The Weston wind mill is considered one of the very best in the market to-day. The firm (Vail & Smith) control two very important patents; one by which the mill throws itself in and out of gear and the other is an attachment fixed at the bottom of the water tank which regulates the flow of water and keeps the tank from freezing in winter. Withington & Co. are making a new style of wire fence which is called the Perfection Spring Lock fence. It is a fine looking fence and would seem to be a durable one. The business is yet in its infancy, but has the possibilities of developing into a big concern within a few years.

A portion of the time during our stay we enjoyed the hospitality of J. R. Vine, who occupies a beautiful farm of 120 acres, half a mile east of the village. He is now helping manage the Abbott sugar bush and has his hands full, as it was prime sugar weather last week.

We found a home also at John Cole's. He lives on the old homestead, so long occupied by Uncle Ezra Cole, one of the pioneers of Weston, who settled there sixty years ago and who closed an honorable life only a few weeks since. Mr. Cole has an elegant farm of 140 acres. He keeps a fine herd of milch cows and is one of the regular patrons of the cheese factory. His system of water works would do justice to a city. Underground pipes carry the water to his barns, to the house, to the front lawn and to a fine water tank across the road. His wind mill is one of the Weston make.

W. P. Tolford runs one of the village stores and also a farm west of the village, and hence has his hands full. He has a beautiful home and a model family, where we spent a day most pleasantly.

Porter & Son conduct a general grocery store and also keep a drug stock. They occupy a brick building, the best store in town, and are fixtures in the business community there. The young man, Mr. C. R. Porter, is president of the Young People's Union, and to his efficient management was due in large measure the success of the entertainment.

Minor Tunison and Aaron Hindee are both well known citizens of Weston, whose hospitality we enjoyed for a limited time. Taken altogether our Weston trip was a very successful one.

The Queen & Crescent Route to Chickamauga.

G. A. R. members and their friends will all want to attend the great National Park dedication at Chickamauga this fall. It will be a notable event. Do you want to know how to make the trip, and what you'll see when you reach the jouney's end? Write to W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A. of the Queen & Crescent Route, Cincinnati. Illustrated and descriptive matter upon application. The Queen & Crescent Route to Chatanooga is the shortest line, and has an incomparable service of handsome trains of standard day coaches. Also to New Orleans and all points in Louisiana on Q. & C. route.

POSTPONEMENT.

To give all our subscribers a fair chance in the "sewing machine scheme," we have decided to defer the presentation one month. It will positively take place on Saturday, May 4th, next, at three o'clock p. m., at Sutton's opera house. Every person can surely pay his subscription before that date, if so disposed. Hustle in your subscriptions during April. There will be no further postponement.

One Hundred Dollars Given Away.

Here is an offer to our patrons which is well worth their careful consideration. Probably nine-tenths of our subscriptions expire during January, February and March of each year. All subscribers who shall pay for the full year 1895, prior to April 1st, will be entitled to a chance in the distribution of four sewing machines, worth one hundred dollars. These are—

A New Home,	Value,	$30 00
An Eldridge B.,	"	30 00
Weeeler & Wilson, No. 8,	"	25 00
Wheeler & Wilson, second hand.	"	15 00
Total value,		$100 00

The three machines first named are new, right from the factory. The last one has been carefully used a few months and is practically as good as new. Each paying subscriber will get a numbered receipt and that will be his number in the distribution. The few persons who have already paid for 1895 can call and get a duplicate receipt with a new number. The few subscribers who have paid in advance beyond April 1st can secure the benefit of this offer by paying in advance for the balance of the year, or until Jan. 1st, 1896. The distribution will take place at Sutton's opera house, Tecumseh, on Saturday afternoon, May 4th, 1895, at three o'clock, when the property will be formally given to our advance paid patrons, to be allotted among themselves in such manner as they may elect. An expenditure of only $1.00 or $1.25 if you live outside of Lenawee county, will secure a chance for one of these premiums. This offer means business.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and leads to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting ant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed you will not accept any substitute if offered.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., April 5.—The Senate on Thursday agreed to the bill providing a general charter for the fifty-three cities of the fourth class. At the solicitation of citizens of Charlevoix county the bill disorganizing Manistee county and attaching the territory to Charlevoix and Leelanaw counties, which passed both houses Wednesday, was recalled from the governor and will be held until the petitioners can be heard.

LANSING, Mich., April 11.—An important measure which was considered in the senate Tuesday was the McLaughlin bill authorizing cities to exempt real estate mortgages and bank deposits from taxation for local purposes. The bill was not disposed of. The senate passed bills amending the law prohibiting the splitting of fees in contested cases by providing that unauthorized compacts to do so shall subject the offender to fine and imprisonment, and providing that wardens of penal and reformatory institutions shall be removed only for cause after a trial by a committee of the senate. The senate agreed to the bill providing a railroad crossing act to supersede that the state railroad crossing board shall hereafter apportion the expense of grade crossings between railroads and municipalities instead of leaving this matter to a jury.

House.

LANSING, Mich., April 5.—The house Thursday passed unanimously a bill prohibiting the attachment of [illegible] per cent. or any other per cent. [illegible] cause to fire insurance companies or the attachment [illegible] policies or the attachment [illegible] of the company's liability. Also the senate age of consent bill placing it at 16 years. In committee of the whole the action of the ways and means committee in cutting the appropriation for the state mining school from $115,000 to $105,000 and that of the state fish commission from $75,000 to $70,000 was indorsed.

LANSING, Mich., April 6.—The house on Friday fixed a special order date for consideration of the senate joint resolution providing an educational qualification for electors. The discussion of this measure is likely to open up the subject of woman suffrage, which it is understood has a majority in the house favorable to its enactment.

The date for taking up the question in the house is April 18. Auditor General Turner reported to the legislature Friday that the liquor dealers of the state during the past year paid licenses aggregating $1,091,228 to the state. This fact will be used in the arguments against the resolution to submit a prohibitory amendment to the constitution to a vote of the people which will come up next week.

LANSING, Mich., April 9.—The house Monday in committee of the whole agreed to the senate use of the Abbott & Myers voting machines in all except school elections in townships and cities. Their introduction however, requires the unanimous consent of township boards and a majority of the council in cities and villages.

LANSING, Mich., April 9.—The house committee on elections [illegible] a unanimous favorable report Tuesday upon a joint resolution [illegible] submitting the question of woman's suffrage to the people at the general election in 1896. The house agreed to the Kelly bill providing for conditional primary elections in [illegible] cities of 10,000 inhabitants [illegible] 30,000. Amendments for a tournament were tabled in the house.

REPUBLICANS MEET.

Fourth Annual Convention of the American Republican College League.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 6.—The spacious auditorium of the Lincoln club was crowded Friday at the opening of the fourth annual convention of the American Republican College league. President Cox delivered his annual address in the morning. In the afternoon Minneapolis was selected as the next place of meeting. L. B. Vaughan, university of Chicago, was chosen president, and F. L. Edenbrough, university of Michigan, secretary. W. D. Williams, Kalamazoo college, was elected representative to the Republican National league. The platform adopted urges restoration of republican supremacy, favors protection on the lines of the McKinley bill, reciprocity, bimetallism and the double standard, enforcement of the Monroe doctrine, annexation of Hawaii and Cuba and construction of the Nicaragua canal.

HIS HEAD CUT OFF.

William Allen Killed and Roscoe Young Injured at Marcellus.

MARCELLUS, April 8.—William Allen, baker, employed by H. L. Loveridge, was decapitated by a Grand Trunk train at the station here at 6 o'clock Sunday night. His brother-in-law, Roscoe Young, was badly injured. They were standing on the main track watching a freight train switching, stepped off to avoid the train, and were struck by the cars sent down on the side track. Allen's death was instantaneous. Young was able to walk home, but complains of internal injuries. Allen's small boy was between them, each holding him by the hand, but he escaped injury.

BICYCLE PATHS.

Benton Harbor Leads the Country in a Public Improvement.

BENTON HARBOR, April 9.—This city will be the first in the United States to build along one of the public streets a path for the exclusive use of bicyclists. Plans are now completed for the project. The path will be 6 feet wide, extending from Sixth street to Morton Hill, a distance of half a mile. Other similar paths will be built along the principal thoroughfares of the city. The cost is borne by private subscription.

Fruit Prospects Bright.

BENTON HARBOR, April 6.—Reports received from the tier of counties comprising the southern Michigan fruit belt indicate a phenomenal peach crop. The crop of 1895 is now assured against danger from extreme cold. The prospects are more encouraging than at any time for five years. Fruit will be gathered this season from fully 100,000 more trees than in 1894.

New Banks.

LANSING, April 6.—The Merchants' savings bank, of Battle Creek, with a capital stock of $50,000, formerly the Merchants' national bank, and the Albion state bank, with a capital stock of $50,000, formerly the Albion exchange bank, have been authorized to do business by the state bank commissioner.

He Went West.

ANN ARBOR, April 6.—Carl Beardsley, son of Charles Beardsley, of Elkhart, Ind., who disappeared mysteriously from the University of Michigan here last fall, is engaged in business in San Francisco, and does not evince any interest in his Alma Mater or any other incident in his school days or home life.

DETROIT, April 9.—It is given out that the 100 families of striking street car men who were left without employment by the failure of the Brooklyn strike have decided to form a colony, and President Mahon, of the national association, is now in the east in consultation with the officers there as to the best place to be selected and the best plan to adopt. It was also said that 1,500 families of blacklisted men of the A. R. U. are willing to join the movement. Leaders have been here in consultation with Count de Mombella. The Americans demand absolute autonomy of their grant. Should the Venezuelan government concede this point, the matter will doubtless be taken up by the National Association of Street Car Men and possibly by the Federation of Labor. It is said by Representative Moore, a prominent labor leader, that there are 500 families in this city eager to join the colony.

TRADE IN DETROIT.

Condition of Business in Many Lines in the Michigan Metropolis.

NEW YORK, April 9.—In response to a circular asking returns showing how far the distribution of goods to final consumers in various branches had varied in March from the distribution last year, or in 1893, a great body of interesting and important information has been received. Detroit reports as follows:

"Trade in dry goods is 10 to 15 per cent. less for March than in 1894 or 1893, in clothing and men's furnishings about 5 per cent. less, in shoes 10 per cent. less than 1894 and 15 per cent. less than in 1893, in jewelry 10 per cent. over last year, in groceries a slight gain over 1894, in millinery about 10 per cent. increase, in woodenware 5 to 10 per cent., in crockery and glassware 10 to 12 per cent., in hardware and household goods about 10 per cent. decrease, and in cheaper furniture about 10 per cent. increase, but in higher grades 10 per cent. decrease."

What Zoa Phora won't do for WOMANKIND no medicine will.

BUDS, Rosebuds, buds, young women just opening the doors of society or womanhood, require the wisest care. To be beautiful and charming they must have perfect health, with all it implies—a clear skin, rosy cheeks, bright eyes and good spirits. At this period the young woman is especially sensitive, and many nervous troubles which continue through life, may their origin at this time. If there is pain, headache, backache, and nervous disturbances, or the general health not good, the judicious use of medicine should be employed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best restorative tonic and nervine at this time. The best bodily conditions results from its use. It's a remedy especially dedicated for those delicate weaknesses and derangements that afflict womankind at one period or another. You will find that the woman who has faithfully used the "Prescription" is the picture of health, she looks well and she feels well.

In catarrhal inflammation, in chronic displacements common to women who are fainting, bearing down sensations, disordered stomach, moodiness, fatigue, etc., the trouble is surely dispelled and the sufferer brought back to health and good spirits.

"WOMAN'S ILLS."

MRS. W. R. BATES, of Dilworth, Trumbull Co., Ohio, writes: "A few years ago I took Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription which has been a great benefit to me. I am in excellent health now. I hope that every woman, who is troubled with 'women's ills,' will try the 'Prescription' and be benefited as I have been."

MRS. BATES.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the probate Office, in the City of Adrian, on Monday the 8th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five. Present, Richard R. Robbins, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the Estate of Ezra F. Blood, deceased. On reading and filing the petition of Charles H. Blood and L. C. Blood, executors of the last will and testament, duly proved upon, the estate of said deceased, alleging that the funeral expenses and debts of said deceased and the expenses of administration so far incurred have been fully paid, and that they are now ready to close said estate and to render their final administration account, and praying that said account may be allowed, and the residue of said estate may be assigned and distributed according to the terms of said will, and that they may be discharged and their bond cancelled, and for such other order and decree as to this court shall seem proper. It is Ordered, That Monday, the 6th day of May next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition and that the heirs at law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted. And it is Further Ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in THE TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing. RICHARD R. ROBBINS, Judge of Probate. (A True Copy.) A. E. Barager, Probate Register.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. In the matter of the estate of Annette Osgood, deceased. The undersigned having been appointed by the probate court of said County, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at the office of Charles Burridge, in the village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, on the 30th day of April, 1895, and on the 25th day of March, 1895, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days. And that six months from the 4th day of February, A. D., 1895, are allowed by said Probate Court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance. Dated, April 5, 1895. HENRY C. CONKLING, HORACE WELLER, Commissioners.

Absolutely Harmless

—Pearline. That is, to everything except dirt. Anything that can be washed at all can't be hurt by it. But that's only one of its merits. Add to its doing no harm, that it saves it, by doing away with the rub, rub, rub that wears things out; that it saves labor, time and money, and costs no more than common soap—then you wonder, not that millions of women do use Pearline, but that there are any who don't.

A BROKEN LETTER.

"Is his lordship waiting breakfast, Parkins, or has he already begun?" cried Lady Evesham, rushing like a whirlwind in a riding habit into the great, cool, pillared hall of Evesham house one fair May morning.

"His lordship is not yet down, my lady, but Leon has been with him three-quarters of an hour," answered Parkins.

"Then serve breakfast. His lordship won't be long." And Lady Evesham betook herself to the sunlit, flower decked snuggery where she and her husband always had their first meeting of the day. From there she turned to the breakfast table and ran through her morning's correspondence.

"What a dull post! I wonder if John has got anything better?"

Her white fingers wandered among the pile of letters by her husband's plate.

"From the steward; from Jenks, the trainer; from the lawyers. Three with the city postmark, five from clubs. That one is from Lady Janet Stepney, I know—begging, of course, for her orphans or curates or indigent mothers; that's from Bertie Stanhope—what a niggle he writes—and, oh, this must be what they call a typewritten thing."

Lady Evesham picked from the scattered pile a common square envelope bearing an east end postmark and addressed in type to "The Viscount Evesham, Evesham House, Park Lane."

"How queer it seems that a machine should write all that so straight and neat! I had no idea it looked so tidy and businesslike. I think I'll make John buy me one to write to my dressmaker with. Typewriting looks so awfully fierce." She scrutinized the letters still closer. "This one isn't quite faultless, though. There's something wrong with the capital E. It's got a white spot— Ah, John, at last!"

She dropped the letters among the others and ran to greet her husband, who stooped from his superior height and kissed her lovingly.

A year ago society had called John, Viscount Evesham, aged 45, a fool to saddle his wealth and his freedom with a mere girl as a wife, but his bride had been so sweet, so gracious, so innocently pleased with her new surroundings and so unaffected that at the beginning of this her second season the most cynical had voted the marriage a success and the young viscountess an acquisition.

Lord Evesham adored his wife, yet with that tentative worship, that love tinged with doubt, which must always be where the adorer is speeding swiftly down life's hill and the object of adoration is every day growing more lovely and more desirable.

His first few months of married life, when, a bride, Lady Evesham had won widespread and open admiration, had been torture to him. Even now his self depreciatory doubts were only lulled to slumber by the perfectly blameless conduct of his wife.

"I'm sorry to have kept you waiting, my dear," he began, with old fashioned courtesy, "but the morning was so fine I made sure you would prolong your ride."

"So I might have done, for Mr. Leighton—he has constituted himself my cavaliere servante in the Row—was most amusing, but Kittie Hamer joined us, and it's horrid riding three abreast—one has to shout so. I left them at the top of the Row and"—

"Leighton rides with you, does he?" queried Lord Evesham, looking over the top of his letters.

"Yes, dear, almost always." And then an utterly unaccountable blush came over her until her throat, ears and cheeks were alike bathed in the crimson tide.

"Hum!" said his lordship, while Lady Evesham, furious with herself at the trick her unruly self consciousness had played with her, took refuge in her breakfast. Silence reigned, broken only by the faint tinkle of the silver and china and by the rustle of Lord Evesham's letters.

Suddenly he started, grew pale, then red, looked from his wife to a slip of paper in his hand and back again.

What a strange coincidence!

"Watch your wife!" in typewritten characters, stared from the paper before him. Opposite was the downcast face of his wife—the face which had been but a moment back dyed with a guilty blush at the chance mention of the name of a mere acquaintance.

The next moment he gathered up his letters and left the room. Lady Evesham, too, sprang from her chair.

"Why was I such a fool?" she cried to herself in a tall mirror. "What made me do such a hateful, stupid, underbred thing as to blush like a gawky schoolgirl—and at Rupert Leighton's name, too!—a man who —" She did not speak the words that rose to her lips. Only the faint, coquettish smile—the smile of a woman who is beautiful, who is flattered, who is beloved—dawned again in the misty depths of her eyes.

Before Lord Evesham's eyes and in his ears were ever the words, "Watch your wife!" A younger man, one surer of his hold upon a woman's heart, would have shown her the shameful thing. But he was afraid. He tried to keep the burden of doubt and disbelief to himself, yet Beatrix Evesham guessed at its existence, though she knew neither its origin nor reason. Only she felt that there was no love behind his courtesy, no warmth in his kindness, no faith in his generosity.

"Watch your wife!" Lord Evesham watched, and Lady Evesham knew it.

One night, at Hurlingham, her wounded pride found vent. Rupert Leighton, as ever, was by her side as she strolled to the river's edge, and with the petulance of a spoild child for the first time gave words to her trouble. She was overwrought, and for a few moments she spoke hysterically, incoherently, scarcely reckoning that she had a listener. Then, with a little sob, she dropped her head on her arms and began to cry, as an angry woman will.

"Lady Evesham, what you tell me shocks me terribly! Are you sure"—

"Am I sure? I am dogged at every hour of the day. I am questioned about my movements, then doubted to my face. It is most shameful!"

"It is most cruel," said Leighton slowly. "Pardon the question, but have you given him any cause"—

"Mr. Leighton, how dare you!" flashed from her through the cobalt summer night.

He bowed humbly before he spoke again.

"Then to what do you attribute this change? Has any other woman"—

She shook her head.

Suddenly through the shadows Rupert Leighton's hand stole to Beatrix Evesham's arm, and he drew her so close to him that his breath fanned her hot cheeks.

"Lady Evesham, I have an idea. What if your husband is carrying on an intrigue with a woman? What if he fears discovery and subsequent proceedings and is even now making every effort to trump up a counter charge against you?"

"Ah! Mr. Leighton, how horrible, how cruel to ruin one woman, and that his wife, at the expense of another"—

"Whom he loves," whispered Leighton. "Do you not see, can you not believe that this is the truth—that he is tired of you; that your youth and innocence and beauty are not for him? Ah! Lady Evesham—Beatrix—let me convince you—let me find proof that what I say is true."

"Mr. Leighton, I cannot, dare not, ask you to interfere in this most terrible difficulty. You've been my friend, and I believe you have my happiness and welfare at heart, but"—

"Beatrix!" he murmured hoarsely, "I have no friendship for you. Love and admiration fill me. If I can convince you of the truth of my suspicions, give me yourself."

She slipped from his grasp and fled down the dim pathway.

"Where have you been all this time?" said her husband's voice through the dusk. "The horses have been waiting for half an hour."

"I am ready to go," said Lady Evesham, and looking neither to the right nor to the left she swept before him to her carriage.

Lady Evesham slept little that night. Her shattered faith in her husband's loyalty and trust, Leighton's love, her own unhappiness, jostled in her brain the weary hours through, and it was a very ghost of Lady Evesham who sipped her chocolate next morning and broke the seals of half a dozen letters.

Suddenly the blood rushed to her pale face. A common envelope, bearing a typewritten address, quivered in one hand; a slip of paper was in the other.

"If you would have a proof, be in room 3 at the Imperial cafe today at 4 o'clock."

"No signature, no address," cried Beatrix Evesham. "But the envelope is enough. The E's are broken like those on that other letter which came five weeks ago. Ah! who can be so base, so wicked, as to wish to wantonly destroy the happiness of two lives?"

The big clock over the Imperial cafe had barely struck four when a woman, whose perfect toilet was marred by the singular thickness of her veil, glided into the doorway, and scarcely had the lady disappeared when Lord Evesham passed into the building and followed in the fair one's footsteps.

His lordship moved quickly, but in spite of his efforts only arrived in the corridor in time to hear the sharp click of a closing door, followed by an exclamation in a voice he knew too well.

The sound came from room No. 3. Lord Evesham looked around. Luncheons were over, dinner not yet begun. He was alone, and in another second was pressing his eye to the keyhole.

"You here, Mr. Leighton!"

It was the voice of Lady Evesham, and before her question could be answered she displayed her surprise and disfavor in bitter tones. She continued: "I understand all now.' A light breaks in upon me. It is you—you—a gentleman, a friend, who sent the letter to my husband which has nearly broken his heart and wrecked my life—you who have woven a tissue of lies about me and have spread a net for me today into which my feet have almost strayed. The reason I came here today was to discover the identity of the person, man or woman, who sent those two letters to my husband's house. I find you, whom I believed to be a friend, whom I now know to be a foe." She flung out her hands. "Ah, that I were a man to punish you as you deserve!"

Her prayer for a righteous revenge was answered. The door opened a little space, and the tall, spare form of Lord Evesham slipped into the room.

"John! You here?" cried Lady Evesham, laying her fingers across her mouth to stifle the little scream of joy that rose in her throat.

"Stand aside!" said his lordship. Then, with upraised arm, he advanced on the culprit.

Twice the writhing victim cried for mercy, and twice Lord Evesham muttered, "Coward!"

When at last the heavy walking stick snapped in two, Lord Evesham, without casting one look at what lay at his feet, turned to his wife and led her from the room.

Once outside in the dim silence of the corridor Lady Evesham raised her husband's hands to her lips and kissed them.

"Thank you—thank you a thousand times! But, oh, my dear, why did you not trust me?"

Lord Evesham bowed low before her.

"Dear wife, I cannot regret what I have done today! I shall trust you to the last hour of my life!"

Then her ladyship reeled a little. "John, dear, take me home quickly. It was an awful sight. I feel—rather—faint!"—London World.

The inch was formerly divided into three "barleycorns," these divisions being originally the length of a well dried grain or "corn" of the barley.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning April 14, Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, The Second Trial.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Job ii. 1-10.

Many persons who remain patient and submissive under disappointment, loss and bereavement lose patience when touched with bodily disease. Job shows his firm reliance upon God and the depth of his piety when under severe physical suffering he makes no complaint. Many Christians seem to lose their hold on God as soon as sickness comes upon them. Yet the presence of the Master is oftentimes revealed in richer grace and fuller spiritual blessings to one while on a sick bed than when busy in active life.

Easter Joy.

The Lord is risen.
Sing, Easter heralds, sing!
He burst the rocky prison.
Wide let the triumph ring!
Tell how the graves are quaking,
The saints their fetters breaking.
Sing, heralds, Jesus lives!

Prayer For Power.

After pardon of sins then comes the need of prayer for power. "Without me," says Christ, "ye can do nothing." Whoever attempts in his own strength to do God's service soon learns his weakness and helplessness. But power is given for service by the Holy Spirit. Consciousness of need and earnest desire for its possession are requisite for its reception. Complete consecration will be followed by the complete indwelling and filling of the Spirit in power. But, once received, it must be used in service; otherwise it vanishes and leaves the soul in weakness and darkness, as before.

Forgotten Pledges.

Every person received into the Methodist Episcopal church has voluntarily pledged in the presence of God and the congregation "to give according to ability to the support of the gospel and the various benevolent enterprises of the church." Many persons do not contribute a cent a year to any of the church benevolences and give very little to the support of the local church. Such callousness or carelessness of soul in this respect indicates a low state of spiritual life until it is difficult to see where such are different from the ordinary sinner except in the matter of profession of piety.

The Sunday School Army.

The Methodist Episcopal church has more than 29,000 Sunday schools and 300,000 teachers and 2,500,000 scholars. What ability is here if properly trained to work for the Master! How easily the debt on the missionary treasury of $175,000 could be lifted if this grand army corps should hear the Easter battlecry and move forward! How many Leagues in the Sunday school could stimulate the zeal of others by a timely word in this direction. Let the children and young people pour their treasure into the treasury of the church, and the children of heathenism will be won to Jesus.

Read Your Bible.

Read it every day. Young Christians especially should never neglect this. If pressed for time, better take it from eating or sleeping than to omit to feed on the word of God. One can get along in the Christian life and grow in grace and in knowledge of God if he lacks many things, but there is no permanent growth of character where the Bible is neglected. Better pass the newspaper by rather than the Scriptures. Find some way to read, study and meditate upon this book, which contains the wisdom of the ages, the promises of God and the hope of salvation.

One Cent a Day.

That is a small sum, yet if we could secure that amount from all the members of the church it would give $10,000,000 per year to help bring in the kingdom of God. Can it not be done? Are any so poor they cannot do as much as that?

Perhaps the collecting of such sums could be conducted on the plan adopted in Bristol, England, which resulted in establishing the Methodist class system. The project is feasible. Shall we undertake it?

Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

This is the title of the young people's society of the Protestant Episcopal church. It began some years since in St. James' church, Chicago. During the past five years its progress has been rapid. It places great emphasis upon spiritual culture of young men. It also cultivates carefully church loyalty.

Missionary Day.

The general missionary committee have requested that presiding elders, pastors and Sunday school superintendents unite in an effort to secure the observance of Easter Sunday as Children's Missionary day, thus connecting the day of the Lord's resurrection with the conquest of the world.

The League and Easter.

The gladdest, grandest of all Christian festivals is Easter day. Everywhere the League should make special observance of the occasion. Deliverance from fear of death through the raising of Jesus Christ from the dead is cause for rejoicing. "He hath begotten us again unto a living hope."

Leagues of New England.

The chapters of the six New England conferences are distributed as follows: East Maine, 72; Maine, 79; New Hampshire, 79; Vermont, 84; New England, 205; New England Southern, 154. The total is 673.

In Madagascar.

The Christian Endeavor societies on that island number 91 and report a membership of 3,377.

The True Spirit.

A single church in Toledo supports five missionaries in the home and foreign fields.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the thirty-first day of January, 1891 Charles Shaler and Rosa Shaler mortgaged to Henry Smith all those certain pieces or parcels of land situated in the township of Macon, in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: All that part of the southeast quarter of section twenty-nine (29) of town five (5) south of range five (5) east, bounded as follows: Beginning at the southeast corner of said section and running thence north on the east line of said section seventy-four (74) rods; thence west on the south line of land now, or formerly, owned by one Talbot, and on the south line of Linton's land, forty-nine (49) rods to the southwest corner of said Linton's said land; thence north on west line of said Linton's land twenty-six (26) rods to Sherman's land, formerly so called; thence west on south line of said Sherman's land fourteen and two-thirds (14⅔) rods to the southwest corner thereof; thence north on the west line of said Sherman's land sixty (60) rods to the north line of said quarter section; thence west on north line of said quarter section fifty-six (56) rods to Miller's land; thence south on east line of said Miller's said land one hundred and sixty (160) rods to the south line of said section; thence east on the south line of said section one hundred and twenty (120) rods to the place of beginning; containing ninety-two (92) acres of land, more or less. Also, all that part of section twenty-eight (28) of town five (5) south of range five (5) east bounded as follows: Beginning at the point of intersection of the center line of the Ridge road with the west line of said section; thence southeasterly at right angles with said Ridge road eight (8) rods; thence southwesterly twenty-three (23) rods to the southwest corner of said section; thence north on west line of said section to place of beginning; to secure the payment of four thousand dollars ten years from the date thereof, with interest at seven per cent per annum, payable annually. Which mortgage was, on the 12th day of February, 1891, recorded in the register of deeds' office for the county of Lenawee, Michigan, in Liber 115, of Mortgages, on pages 495, etc., and said mortgage contains a provision that, in case any default be made in the payment of said interest or any part thereof on any day whereon the same is made payable, as above expressed, and should the same remain unpaid and in arrears for the space of thirty days, then the aforesaid principal sum of four thousand dollars, with all arrearages thereon, shall, at the option of said party of the second part, his executors, administrators or assigns, become and be due and payable immediately thereafter.

Default having been made in the payment of the interest to the amount of twelve hundred, ninety-five and 29-100 dollars, and the same having remained unpaid and in arrear for more than thirty days, the undersigned mortgagee hereby elects to declare, and does hereby declare, the whole amount due both principal and interest, amounting at the date of this notice to the sum of five thousand, two hundred, ninety-five and 29-100 dollars, and no proceedings at law or in equity have been taken for the recovery of said sum or any part thereof.

Notice is therefore hereby given that, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute of the state of Michigan in such case made and provided, for the purpose of realizing the moneys so due and unpaid on said mortgage, and the interest thereon from the date of this notice hereafter to become due, the costs and expense of this foreclosure and sale, and the attorney's fee provided by law, the above described lands and premises will be sold at public vendue to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house in the city of Adrian, Lenawee county, Michigan, (that being the place where the circuit court for said county of Lenawee is holden,) on the twenty-second day of June, 1895, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated March 29, 1895

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default of payment having been made of a mortgage made by Augustus J. VanWinkle and Julia A. VanWinkle, his wife, to William C. Fisher, bearing date the twelfth day of December, A. D. 1878, and recorded in the Register of Deeds office for Lenawee county, Michigan, in liber 89 of mortgages, on page 77, on the sixth day of January, 1879, on which mortgage there remains unpaid at the date of this notice, of the principal and accrued interest, the sum of two thousand and fifty dollars and no proceedings at law or in equity have been taken for the collection of the same. Notice is therefore, hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute of the state of Michigan in such case made and provided, for the purpose of realizing the moneys above mentioned and interest thereon at eight per cent per annum hereafter to accrue thereon, the costs of this foreclosure and sale, including an attorney fee, in said mortgage provided, I shall, on the first day of June, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon of said day, sell at public vendue to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house in the city of Adrian, in said County, on the 16th, day of May, next, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon.

COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL.

This little book is one of the most extensive treatises on the money question that has ever been written. It shows up the evil effects of our present monetary system in a most emphatic manner. Every voter in Lenawee county, regardless of party affiliations, should read it. The Chicago Times says: "A book that will create a profound impression throughout the United States." The New York Recorder says: "It mercilessly scourges the money changers in the Temple of the Republic." The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "This book tells its readers more about gold, silver and currency, generally, than any other publication we know of, and in a way that every man can fully comprehend." A supply is kept on hand at the HERALD office. Single copies 25 cents. Every advance paying subscriber to the HERALD will receive a copy free. Now is your time to get good reading cheap. Pass in your orders.

THE BACHELORS' BANQUET.

"Where there is a will there is a way," always, and when the nine ladies who constitute the board of directors of the Library Association willed there should be a free reading room opened in connection with the library, they left no stone unturned to find a way. Two of them started out among our merchants to see how much money they could raise in monthly pledges of from ten to fifty cents each. In this way a sufficient sum was raised to warrant them in beginning their scheme.

On December 1st the room over Lilley's State Bank was decided upon and fitted up in comfortable style and opened in due time to the public.

Every afternoon and evening from 4 until 10 o'clock this room is warmed and lighted. The tables are supplied with the best newspapers and periodicals, and everybody is welcome. No talking or merriment is allowed and no one is disturbed. An average attendance of thirty people daily shows how well the reading room is appreciated.

The ladies have done nobly in this good work and yet there is a chance for more effective work, if the money was only at hand to do it. To raise more money the ladies have hit upon a novel plan of an elegant supper, served by the bachelors of Tecumseh and called the Bachelors' Banquet, to be held at Armory Hall, Thursday afternoon, April 25. Everybody who is interested in the welfare of the youth of our town should turn out and give the reading room a grand benefit.

The sum of twenty-five cents will be charged for the supper and all other attractions free. The young ladies are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to see the bachelors' efficiency in the domestic department, for leap year is coming and if woman is to step out into the work of the world she will want to know that her husband is able to take charge of the home.

HAPPILY WEDDED.

The following notice taken from the Brooklyn Exponent will be of interest to many of our readers. The groom is one of Raisin's most exemplary young men and his friends will take this occasion to congratulate him. He begins matrimonial life in earnest on his father's farm in Raisin:

A very pretty wedding occured at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Randall, on Wednesday, April 3d, at high-noon when their only daughter, Nora, was married to Mr. Fred Brown, of Tecumseh. Just as the clock struck the hour the bridal party entered the parlors. It consisted of the bride and groom, the best man, Mr. Charles Brown, brother of the groom, and the bridesmaid, Miss Martha Hickman, of Battle Creek, cousin of the bride. Miss Della Palmer presided at the organ and rendered the wedding march while the ceremony was being performed by Rev. Dr. Cook. The bride was prettily and becomingly gowned in dotted mull. More than one hundred guests witnessed the ceremony, including friends from Toledo, Tecumseh, Battle Creek and Jackson. After congratulations a dainty luncheon was served, and the afternoon passed pleasantly until four o'clock when the bride and groom departed amid a shower of rice, old shoes, etc., taking with them to their new home the best wishes of their many friends. Many useful and pretty gifts were bestowed on the bride that will serve to remind her for many years of the love of her girlhood friends.

A REMARKABLE SPECTACLE.

The mass-meeting at Cooper Union last week in behalf of legalized Sunday saloons was a remarkable occasion in many respects. To find clergymen using all their influence in behalf of legalized Sunday opening of the gin-mills was remarkable. To find them taking a stand that has called forth expressions of surprise from the liquor-dealers themselves was also remarkable. But the most remarkable thing about it all was the importance of the admissions made by the speakers, and the damaging character of those admissions upon the arguments advanced.

Otto Kempner started it. He was until a short time ago in the liquor business himself, from which fact is due whatever of political success he has achieved. After referring to the "innocent and natural conduct" of selling liquor on Sunday to satisfy the physical necessities" of men—strange that even prize-fighters when they go into training forego this 'physical necessity' —he continued as follows:

Every honest man who is ordinarily scrupulous in observing the duties of citizenship, who is peaceful, patriotic, and law-abiding, has no conscientious scruples about violating this Sunday law. He breaks it wilfully and deliberately, and he sees it broken all around him by men who are honored in the community for their respectability as well as their piety.

This in Admission No. 1. It was enthusiastically applauded. It means that the saloons have no regard for a law, duly enacted, that does not commend itself to them as desirable. Did an anarchist ever break laws for any other reason? This is a frank and open confession that those who are demanding this change in the laws are in rebellion against the government, wilfully and deliberately violating the laws, and threatening to continue to violate them if their demands are not complied with. What right have they even to have their petition listened to under such circumstances? Let them first conform to the laws and cease their rebellion before they undertake to make demands upon the legislature, whose authority they openly boast of defying.

Admission No. 1 was made by Rev. Dr. Rainsford. He said:

"I do not want to encourage drunkenness, not even to encourage moderate drinking. I am a total abstainer myself. Personally, I believe the vast majority of men in every way are healthier and richer and happier for not touching any alcohol. I have tried both plans myself. I was once a moderate drinker. My experience agrees with that of the great majority of those who have tried it. Men are better in every way for not touching liquor at all."

Out of his own mouth Dr. Rainsford stands condemned. If men are healthier, richer, and happier, for not touching alcohol, then the open saloon on Sunday, or any other day, for the avowed purpose of enabling and inducing men to touch alcohol is an institution that makes men less healthy, less rich, and less happy. In striving to realize such an institution, or to extend its facilities, Dr. Rainsford is engaged in the work of destroying the health, wealth, and happiness of the community in which he ministers as a vicar of Christ and is striving to pervert the law into an engine of destruction instead of a shield of protection. What else can one make out of his words? And how can he after such an admission go on to defend the saloon as a 'poor man's club' that gives them "the opportunity for developing their social instincts?"

"Those who have studied this tremendous question of excise legislation are almost unanimously of the opinion that the real root of the matter is private profit in the drink trade. Sooner or later, it seems to me, good citizens, whether they are teetotalers or moderate drinkers, will combine to take a trade that, at least in this country, must always be fraught with great danger to the community, out of the hands of private citizens altogether. Drink makes criminals. Drink increases enormously the expenses of the municipality and the State. And the profit derived from drink, the untold millions of profit made by the brewer, distiller, and saloon-keeper, should not go directly into the treasury of the city and the State."

If the "real root" of the trouble lies in private profit in the drink trade, why should Dr. Rainsford lend his efforts to the increase of that 'private profit?' Every one knows that Sunday is the most profitable day of the week to saloons that keep open that day. Wages are paid Saturday night. Work is generally suspended on that day. The result is that there is in many cases a larger profit in Sunday sales than in those of all the rest of the week. And Dr. Rainsford is striving mightily to increase what he declared to be the 'real root' of the trouble.

O, Ye Blind!

If you could select the pure gold from the dross, the wheat from the chaff, the good from the bad, you would never make the mistake of taking any other remedy than Foley's Sarsaparilla for blood disorders. Trial size, 50c., at Orr & Temple's. apr

FITS AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

When Henry M. Hall, M.D., late surgeon U. S. A., Department of Tennessee, returned from the war he found a child afflicted with epilepsy. Leading physicians were consulted, without apparent benefit. Noted specialists could give but little if any relief. To rescue his child from a fate worse than death became the object of his life. For several years experiment followed experiment, until at last success crowned his efforts. In 1889 old age and infirmities induced him to impart the knowledge of how to manufacture it, under the agreement that a bottle should be sent free of all charges to any one applying for it, who was afflicted with epilepsy. Since then over 20,000 free bottles have been sent to the afflicted. Experience has proved that it cures Insomnia, St. Vitus' Dance, and all forms of Nervous Affliction. If you want to try this wonderful remedy free of all charge, write, stating your disease as plainly as possible; give your age and post office. Address The Hall Chemical Co., West Philadelphia, Pa.

Dora Grayson, the efficient teacher of music in the public schools, will, assisted by others, give a charming concert at the opera house, Tuesday evening, April 23d. Give her a rousing benefit.

Mrs. H. W. Stevens of this village and Mrs. Guiwits of Clinton, who are sisters, but not twins, celebrate the anniversary of their birth on the same day, which is rather a remarkable coincidence.

The Evening Telegram is now located in its new home two doors east of the old location. When fully completed and settled, Bro. Grandon will have one of the best equipped printing offices in this section. He deserves it too.

The Raisin Valley Seminary people will erect a two story building for a store house back and across the alley from Satterthwaite Bros' store, they having sold the old building to E. F. Kirchgessner, who will convert it into a barn.

Editor C. F. Field, of Tecumseh, was not successful in his candidacy for county school commissioner, but he will retire from the office having earned lasting honors as a painstaking, easnest and conscientious official. Mr. Field has been untiring and zealous in his efforts to promote the best interests of the public schools of Lenawee and retires from office with the very best wishes of teachers, patrons and pupils in the schools.—Telegram.

The Union Meeting held at the M. E. Church Sunday evening, was composed of, and conducted by the young people's societies of the Presbyterian, Baptist, Friends and Methodist churches. The exercises were very interesting in character and the papers read showed careful preparation. The young peoples' society of each of the four churches appointed one of their number to assist in the services, and the result proved that they selected wisely and well. The services began with the congregation singing a piece led by choir from the Epworth League. Clarence Hurry, President of the Epworth League, conducted the service, Rev. H. A. Smith offered prayer, after another piece of music Bertha Monigan, from the Epworth League, presented a paper, subject, "The Young Christian in Everyday life", which was finely written and effectively read, which was followed by another piece of music. May Taylor, from the Friend's society then gave a paper, subject, Unity in Christian Work Among Young People, which showed a clear understanding of the subject, and was given in a very interesting manner. Music by a number from the League, Edith Ingersoll, from the C. E. society, followed with a paper, subject, The Young Christian in the Weekday Prayer Meeting, which, like those preceeding it, was full of choice thoughts and well read. The Baptist choir then gave an anthem, after which Mabel Wiley, from the B. Y. P. U., read a paper prepared by Helen Fisher, who was unable to be present on account of illness, subject, Personal Work Among Young People. This paper was a gem, and Miss Wiley read it with fine expression, after singing Blest be the Tie that Binds. Rev. James Hageman, of the Friend's church, pronounced the benediction.

To the ladies composing the "Monday Club" the people of Tecumseh are indebted for the delightful entertainment given at the Opera House, Wednesday evening, April 10, when Mr. A. H. Griffith of Detroit gave a talk on Art. The members of the club defrayed all the expense and each member had the privilege of inviting ten friends consequently the Opera House was filled with an exceptionally cultured and appreciative audience. The President of the club Mrs. C. A. Wright introduced the speaker and performed the task in a charming manner. To give a proper synopsis of the talk, one must be a student of the theme, which we are not, consequently we will not attempt it. Mr. Griffith's manner was very easy and pleasing, his voice smooth and melodious and his language simple yet choice and very expressive. He held the audience closely and gave them a clear understanding of what Art was and the elevating and refining influence exerted upon its students. All were sensible that they had enjoyed a rare treat and felt a sense of obligation to the ladies of the Monday Club. One thing done by many of the audience viz., The removal of hats and bonnets, deserve special notice and we take it upon ourself to thank them for their thoughtfulness and independence, and sincerely hope so long at least as large hats are the style, this practice may become general. After the close of the entertainment a reception was given at the home of Mrs. Wright where dainty refreshments were served.

CLINTON, MICH., APRIL 12, 1895.

Wm. P. Hamilton was over from Detroit Monday.

Bert Tate made a business trip to Tecumseh Tuesday.

Will Wood was in Tecumseh Tuesday, after lumber.

S. W. Demuth made a business trip to Detroit Monday.

Mr. Horace Bartlett suffered a relapse and his condition is very critical.

Tate & Stoner shipped two decks of sheep Monday, the former going with them.

Mrs. Dan H. Davis returned Saturday from a visit with friends at Lansing and Jackson.

Geo. A. Kies made a trip to Chelsea, overland, Monday, with his sample trunks.

George Sturm arrived from Dansville, Ill., Monday, for a two weeks' visit with his people.

Clarence Honley now rides an improved Hartford wheel recently purchased of S. W. Demuth.

Mrs. Minor Strang, after a week's visit with friends, left Monday for her home in Flat Rock.

Mrs. S. Parker is visiting her son, Charles, at Hillsdale. During her absence Frank is staying at Ed's.

Eugene Smalley returned from South Bend, Ind., last week and began weaving in the woolen mill Monday.

Mrs. Met. Conklin and Mrs. Samuel Shutt, of Tecumseh, were the guests of Mrs. Frank Wallinger Saturday.

Dan McFall, who formerly lived here but now of Dundee, arrived in town Tuesday for a visit with friends.

Alfred Hulet has moved the Marsteller building on to the foundation on his lot on Jackson street, and moved in.

Ed. A. Clark and family moved back into their own home at the corner of Jackson and Washington streets, Monday.

The Lancaster House is having a great run these days and Henry still rings the bell regularly as no one else can.

Remember the Easter supper at the Town Hall, Tuesday, April 16th, by the Episcopal ladies. It will be a grand lay out.

The Easter services at the Episcopal church will be in the evening as this month the church services are in the evening.

David Goodrich seems to be on the mend again. His color is better, appetite improving and he is gaining strength.

John Mingis and family went to Manchester Monday; he to attend a meeting of the Workingmen's Society and his wife and daughter to visit friends.

Now the old house has been moved off, Straud Marsteller's new house shows off to advantage. He is grading his lot and will have a beautiful place.

Gus Lindquist, who for some time has been in a marble yard at Manistee, O., returned here Monday and resumed his old position with Straud F. Marsteller.

Marsteller has several new hands at work; he has received a large quantity of granite, made several changes in his shop and will rush business from now on.

The contract for Smith & Huntington's new block has been let to Fred C. Sherwood and Robert Redick. Work will begin at once and ere long a fine building will occupy that corner.

There will be an Easter service at St. Dominic's Catholic church Sunday morning at 10:30. The church will be appropriately trimmed and the services of a joyous nature befitting the occasion.

Frank McClure is having contractors making estimates for a building to occupy the ground on, which now stands to be in operation April 15th. his wooden building. We hope he may see his way clear to build right away.

The members of St. John's church choir are preparing special music for Easter Sunday evening. The Sunday school will be held at the usual hour and the scholars are requested to bring their Lenten savings.

The children of the late Mrs. O'Hara wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors for their kind offices and sympathy, and to the Macon choir for their services at the funeral of their mother.

The entertainment given by the Congregational society, at the hall, Wednesday evening, was very interesting. The program was rendered in a pleasing and artistic manner and the audience was large and appreciative. Hope to speak more about it next week.

Will Woodard came home for a visit Monday. The woolen mill at Danville, Ill. is being enlarged, in consequence of which the mill closed for two weeks, so he and George Sturm took advantage of the time for a social time among home friends.

A good many of our people think it strange and hardly consistent for the editor of the Local, who so strongly (in his paper, at least) advocates supporting home industries, to act as agent for a foreign laundry when we have three good ones in our own town.

Ed Gray is now running a laundry in connection with his barber shop at the Lancaster hotel and requests those wishing first class laundry work to leave their orders at the hotel. "He guarantees satisfaction and only" asks the people of Clinton and vicinity to give him a trial.

We regret to announce that Rev. C. M. Stout has resigned his charge here and will return to Lawrenceburg, Ind. Mr. Stout has been a fine pastor and done a good work here. He and his wife have made many warm friends whose best wishes will follow them where ever they may be.

The Baptist society being about to lose their pastor, Rev. Mr. Stout, have extended a call to Rev. C. C. Marshall to serve them, which has been accepted. The society are to be congratulated on securing one with whom they have become so well acquainted, he being a cousin of their retiring pastor and having, during his late absence, conducted the varied duties of the parish they are both, pastor and people, better prepared for the new relations they hold each to the other.

The stockholders of the Clinton Woolen Mill Company held their annual meeting Monday. The reports were satisfactory and all the old officers were re-elected, showing conclusively that all were perfectly satisfied with the manner in which the business of this important and extensive industry had been conducted.

The new Clinton Plow Company are now doing business and Tuesday took off their first melt; in other words, did their first casting. The company have a very complete plant and with the numerous buildings surrounding the main one, that vicinity presents the appearance of a young village. The outlook is promising for a prosperous business.

Frank Schmidt, who has severed his connection with his brother, Chris, moved his family to Adrian Tuesday, where he has accepted a position with a relative. Frank and family will be missed in this community quite generally, and by the Catholic society especially, as both he and his estimable wife have been active workers in the church.

Willie, the 8 year old son of Charles House, although small for his years, recently made a record seldom equaled by a person of his age. His father was splitting wood for W. W. Hess and Willie started in to split Monday morning of vacation week and Friday night he had split five cords, an average of one cord a day. When asked what he was going to do with the money he said, buy shoes and clothes.

Monday night about eleven o'clock Ed. VanDeMark was found to be unconscious by his wife and daughter who were awakened by his labored breathing. Medical aid was summoned at once and for an hour or two his case was extremely critical as he had a severe attack of congestion. Gradually he began to rally and soon regained consciousness and the danger passed. It was a very close call.

The new village council held their first regular meeting Monday evening at which there was a full attendance. The President announced the following committees: Finance—Greenleaf, Lancaster, Huntington; Streets—Huntington, Greenleaf, Woodard; Ordinance—Lancaster, Rowland, Huntington; Building—Woodard, McClure, Greenleaf; Fire—McClure, Woodard, Rowland; Health—Rowland, Lancaster, McClure. Nelson Prentis was appointed Street Commissioner and Wm. Sherwood, Marshal.

Ed A. Clark took a run over to Chicago Saturday to see his father, who was, and still is, quite sick. He returned Monday and reports that a fine hotel will be erected on the corner of Jackson and Chicago streets where some time ago a building was torn down for the purpose of erecting one and then it was deferred indefinitely. This will be welcome news to the entire community who have so long hoped to see that corner built up, and when Mr. Clark does build it will not only be an ornament to the town but to his credit as well.

The millinery opening of Clark & Shimman on Friday and Saturday was an unqualified success. The interior arrangements of the store and the decorations were unique and fine while the display of trimmed and pattern hats was varied and beautiful and the flowers, braids, trimmings, laces etc. were lovely beyond description. Mate and Eva are to be congratulated on the exquisite taste displayed on this occasion and that it was appreciated by the throng of ladies which filled the store both days was demonstrated by the large number of orders they received then and there.

FRANKLIN FACTS.

Flames broke out of Frank Marshall's house last week Wednesday p. m., and when Mr. Marshall, who was at work in a distant field, reached it, were beyond control, the flames from the burning building enveloped the well, the only accessible supply of water, and at one time it was feared that the horse barn must also go. It was saved however, as was also a small amount of bedding and clothing.

How Editors are Treated in China.

Nineteen hundred editors of a Pekin paper are said to have been beheaded. Some would shudder at such slaughter, who are heedless of the fact that consumption is ready to fasten its fatal hold on themselves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the efficient remedy for weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, asthma, severe coughs, and kindred affections.

Stamps, La Fayette Co., Arkansas.

Dr. R. V. Pierce: Dear Sir—I will say this to you, that consumption is hereditary in my wife's family; some have already died with the disease. My wife has a sister, Mrs. E. A. Cleary, that was taken with consumption. She used your "Golden Medical Discovery," and, to the surprise of her many friends, she got well. My wife has also had hemorrhages from the lungs, and her sister insisted on her using the "Golden Medical Discovery," I consented to her using it, and it cured her. She has had no symptoms of consumption for the past six years.

Do These Questions Apply to You?

They are sure to interest hundreds of readers of this paper. Nine out of every ten people are troubled with these symptoms, and really don't know what's the matter with them. Here are the questions:

Are you nervous?
Have you a cough?
Is your throat sore?
Is your appetite poor?
Do you hawk and spit?
Is your nose stopped up?
Is it always full of scabs?
Is your breath offensive?
Is your hearing affected?
Is your tongue frequently coated?
Is your mouth full of slime upon arising?

I Made $75.00 in a Week.

I have bought several plating machines, but they were either not large enough for some articles or they did not work easy, and I have never made much money until I obtained the Practical Plating Dynamo. This is the electrical machine used in all the great gold and silver plating factories, and does the work every time. No sooner did people hear that I had this electrical dynamo, than I had more spoons, knives, forks and jewelry than I could plate in a month. The first week I cleared $31.50, and the second week I cleared $75.00, and I think by the first of January I will have a thousand dollars in cash and give my farm considerable attention too. The Plating Dynamo is the thing to use, and you can learn to use it in about an hour. Anyone can write to W. P. Harrison & Co., Columbus, Ohio, who make these machines, for circulars. As this is my first lucky streak, I give my experience, hoping others may be benefited as much as I have been. 1w

A Valuable Find.

After years of study and labor, there has at last been discovered a sure and never-failing remedy. It has been tested on patients who have despaired of ever being cured, the results have been, in every case, wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of chronic and acute inflamatory rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia; especially ovarian neuralgia, dysmenorrhœa and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable blood purifier, being especially useful in eczema, psoriasis, scrofula, all glandular enlargements and diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by Orr & Temple, Tecumseh, Mich.

AN ACCIDENT.

Mr. Quintus Hummel, of 118 Michigan Ave., Detroit, tells a War Story of his own Experience, and the Result.

(From Detroit News.)

Our representative called at 118 Michigan Avenue, the residence of Mr. Quintus Hummel. Mr. Hummel is a veteran of the late war, and received, in the campaign, an injury which has given him much pain and suffering since. He belonged to a Michigan cavalry regiment and his horse becoming frightened one day reared up, throwing him backward. In falling he struck his spine on a sharp stone, inflicting a deep cut over five inches long. The injury affected the kidneys. About two years ago the left kidney started to bleed, and has been doing so ever since. Mr. Hummel, in a few pointed sentences, gave our representative the following account:

"The accident of my 'war days' left me in bad shape; pain in my back and spine rendered me almost useless, and I was compelled to give up work entirely. I could not turn over in bed without assistance. I have spent hundreds of dollars in various ways trying to find relief. Physicians have told me my spine was honeycombed for 12 inches. I had given up in despair, never hoping for relief, when a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills, and they have done me a world of good. The pains have disappeared from my back, and the bleeding of my kidney has almost entirely stopped. I know I can never be entirely cured, as I would have to be 'a new man,' but Doan's Kidney Pills have done more to make me feel like 'a new man' than all the other things I have tried during past years. I have not had any recurrence of the pain or bleeding since taking them."

SNATCHED FROM THE GRAVE—A Warning From the Living

Emissions "At 15 I learned a bad habit. Had losses for seven years. Tried four doctors. Cured. and nerve tonics by the score, without benefit. I became a nervous wreck. A friend who had been cured by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan of a similar disease, advised me to try them. I did so, and in two months was positively cured. This was eight years ago. I am now married and have two healthy children."
C. W. LEWIS, Saginaw, Mich.

Varicocele "Varicocele, the result of early vice, made life miserable. I was weak and nervous. Cured. eyes sunken, bashful in society, hair thin, dreams and losses at night, lack ambition. The "Golden Monitor" opened my eyes. The New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy & Kergan cured me in a few weeks." I. L. PETERSON, Ionia, Mich.

Syphilis "This terrible blood disease was in my system for eight years. Had taken mercury for two years, but the disease returned. Eyes red, pimples and blotches on the skin, ulcers in the mouth and on tongue, bone pains, falling out of hair, weakness, etc. My brother, who had been cured of Gleet and Stricture by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan, recommended them. They cured me in a few weeks, and I thank God I consulted them. No return of the disease in six years."
W. P. Mc, Jackson, Mich.

A Minister: The Rev. W. P. Sparks, of Detroit, says: "I know of no disease so injurious in its effects as Speaks the mind, body and soul of young men as that of Self Abuse. I have sent many victims of this lustful habit to Drs. Kennedy & Kergan for treatment. I can heartily endorse their New Method Treatment which cured them when all else failed."

A Doctor "I know nothing in medical science so efficient for the cure of Syphilis as Recommends Blood Disease as the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. It cures cases which had baffled scores of physicians were cured in a few weeks. I have seen this with my own eyes and know it to be a fact."

CHRISTIAN UNITY CONFERENCE.

The Christian Unity Conference held on Monday evening and Tuesday morning, afternoon and evening, proved to be a very fine thing.

The first evening, after the usual opening exercises, the pastor, Rev. E. Mudge, delivered a brief and stirring address of welcome which was heartily responded to by Rev. C. E. Hulbert, of Detroit, and Rev. James Hageman, pastor of Friends' church, Tecumseh. Then followed a logical, biblical and enthusiastic address by Rev. W. H. Skentlebury, pastor of the Congregational church at Dundee, which was a strong plea for the unification of all Christians and the subtraction of denominationalism. Rev. Sajcon, pastor of the M. P. church of Ree, followed, and with great enthusiasm plead for denominational friendliness, representing the various denominations as divisions of one great army.

Tuesday morning these addresses were reviewed and the thought presented that as Christendom was now there was no organization of the universal church and that these denominations were presented as warring factions. Rev. E. Mudge presented an address on Federation from the Bottom, which was a plea for the entire elimination of all denominational bodies and the federation of all local churches, with existing local names, in representative bodies to promote Christianity at home and abroad and labor unitedly for the overthrow of great evils, and civic reform. Rev. F. V. Hawley, in discussing the paper, stated that the plan, at first sight, might seem to suggest a centralization of power and a return to Roman Hierarchy, but when noted that the one was an organization from the bottom while the other was an organization from the top, hence all danger disappeared and many advantages were recognized. Rev. S. Rederus and H. Cansfield were not able to take their part at first, one being called from home and the other sick.

The first address of the afternoon was by Rev. C. E. Hulbert, of Detroit, his subject being, The Church of the Future, their membership, doctrines, principles and policy. The speaker may be regarded as a specialist in the cause of Christian Unity and the only exception taken was to his statement of doctrine for the one great church for which he plead; some thought two-thirds of his proposed statement should be eliminated while others thought the other third should go, Rev. C. F. Bullock holding the view that all who acknowledged Christ as a personal Savior should be entitled to membership. Mr. Bullock followed in a well prepared and well delivered address on what has been done and what can be done for Church Unity. He cited several instances where they of various denominations had been brought together as churches of the neighborhood, and referred to a small town in Washtenaw county where representatives of seven denominations had united in a union church for local work. Then followed an address by Rev. Elmer Andrus, pastor of the Universalist church, of Tecumseh. The subject was apart from the general design of the conference and had a tendency to provoke controversy; only a little ripple was produced but the young brother was kindly treated and no special harm came from the digression.

The climax was reached in the evening; the attendance was large, the singing good, especially that by the ministerial quartette, and the address of Rev. James Hageman was timely, highly spiritual and along the spirit of the occasion. The address of Rev. F. V. Hawley was a masterly effort, rich in thought, beautiful in execution and pervaded by the spirit of Jesus.

The congregation, in a standing vote, expressed their endorsement of the conference; that they had received profit. The view seemed to be that such meetings oft repeated would draw Christian men and women into closer fellowship.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Farmers are very busy sowing oats.

Bessie Barrett visited Clinton friends over Sunday.

Mrs. John Pocklington is on the sick list at present.

The first thunder shower of the season came Sunday.

Mrs. E. L. Lowe is quite sick with the grippe, at present.

House-cleaning has begun in some homes in the village.

School began Monday for the spring term with a good attendance.

The rain Sunday was the first in several weeks and was needed very much.

All evening service at the church will begin hereafter at 7:30, until further notice.

S. P. Smith is improving the convenience of his feed barn by building a cistern.

George Hill and wife have moved to Raisin Valley, where they will spend some time.

Mrs. Romine Miller, of Big Rapids, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. S. Houseman, at present.

Rev. Cansfield, wife and children have all been under the doctor's care for the past week.

Mrs. James Pocklington is very sick with inflammatory rheumatism and her suffering is very intense.

Lillian Deraham was called to her home at Palmyra the first of the week, by the sickness of her mother.

Kittie Clark went to Hillsdale the first of the week to attend the wedding as bridesmaid of her cousin, Mattie Wilson.

Rev. James Wright, of Britton, occupied the pulpit Sunday morning for Rev. Cansfield, who is having a tussle with the grip.

Gaius Squires having engaged with Wm. Hayden to team it for the Globe Mills, at Tecumseh, expects to move his family theer this week.

A little after one o'clock Sunday morning N. C. Miller's house with most of the contents was burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is not positively known, but supposed to have caught from the arch where they had had been boiling maple syrup. The house was one among the first built in this section, by uncle Stephen V. Miller, and was built of first-class material in every respect. The loss will reach upwards of two thousand dollars—partially covered by insurance in the Farmers' mutual.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pines Syrup is a perfect cure for coughs and colds of all sorts. 1w

HOLLOWAY HASH.

Tom Florence was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Jennie Wildig is on the sick list.

We would not have expended HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS doing galvanizing, for which we made no extra charge, had there not been merit in it. Galvanizing consists in coating the strong but most perishable (in thin sheets) metal, steel, with the almost indestructible (even when very thin) metals, zinc and aluminum. If there were not great merit in galvanizing, no one would pay ½ more for galvanized barbed wire or sheet iron than ungalvanized costs. If we were making painted windmills to-day, we should furnish an

8 Ft. for $15

That is a good price for an 8-foot painted windmill.
WE BUILD FOR THE AGES. WE WOULD NOT SELL YOU A POOR, PAINTED WHEEL, NOR ONE MADE OF METAL GALVANIZED BEFORE BEING PUT TOGETHER, IF YOU WOULD PAY US DOUBLE PRICE FOR IT. We build the best we know, and knowing that painted thin sheets are practically worthless, we have nothing to do with them. The enormous cost of preparing to do galvanizing, and of doing it well on a large scale, deters others. SOME HOT GALVANIZED SHEETS LED PUNCH AND SHEAR AND RAKE THEM UP AFTERWARD. WHEELS OR VANES MADE OF GALVANIZED SHEETS RUST OUT FIRST AROUND THE RIVETS, JOINTS, AND EDGES, AND ARE, THEREFORE, NOT SO GOOD AS PAINTED ONES. How any concern can get our prices for painted windmills and painted towers, or those made up of galvanized material, cut, sheared and punched after the galvanizing is done, can only be explained by the fact that people who buy them are ignorant of the value of galvanizing. We now galvanize everything after it is completed, even bolts and nuts. We galvanize with the most improved processes and in the most perfect known and attainable manner.

The process: When a section of an Aermotor Wheel is all riveted up, completed and cleaned of rust and impurities, it is immersed in melted zinc and aluminum and left there until it becomes as hot as that metal, and until every crack, cranny, crevice, pore and opening of every kind is filled, when the whole is lifted, dripped and cooled. The whole 32 pieces, comprising the section become soldered and welded together as one piece, and thus have something like one-thirty-second the surface to corrode as they would have if painted. Then it is dipped in a chemical combination of melted wax and turpentine, which renders it practically indestructible. In our premises are 40 different machines, tools, etc., and as we could go into the way of making the ARTICLE AND PUTTING IT IN INFINITELY SUPERIOR SHAPE AT A PRICE ABSOLUTELY LESS THAN HALF WHAT IT IS SOLD FOR, WE WOULD BE GLAD TO DO SO, but the fact is that we have not the room, and we have not the time. We are crowded to the limit of our capacity, and have been for years. SCOLDING

The cook within the kitchen stood,
Her hands upon her hips,
And many were the angry words
Came pouring from her lips.

Her victim was the grocery-boy,
And softly thus spake she:
Oh, what a little fool you are,
To bring such stuff to me.

Take high price baking powder back.
And bring me "Calumet."
And if he did not go straightway,
She's likely scolding yet.

Moved and supported that Clerk secure bids for printing council proceedings and all other printing for the ensuing year. Carried.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Be it resolved by the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh: that the penalty of the liquor dealers' bonds for the coming year be placed at $3,500 with two sureties.

Be it resolved by the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh, that the penalty of the bond of the Village Treasurer for the coming year be place at $8,000 with two sureties.

Be it resolved by the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh: that the penalty of the Clerk's bond be placed at $500 with two sureties.

Moved and supported, that President appoint a committee of two to prepare and present at next meeting, a resolution setting forth the necessity for and requesting that the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company do erect a suitable and convenient passenger depot at this place. Carried.

Thereupon the President appointed Trustee Hall and Clerk Ingersoll as such committee.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Committee appointed at last meeting to present to the township board the necessity for building a new bridge over the Raisin River, in Brownville, and to ask assistance from township, reported that matter had been held over until next meeting of township board.

Committee appointed to prepare blank resolution and specifications for electric lighting proposals, submitted the same and after amendments the following was adopted:

Be it resolved by the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, that proposals for lighting the streets and public places of said Village, be received by the Common Council thereof, according to the following specifications.

SPECIFICATIONS.

Sealed proposals for lighting the streets and public places of the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, with — — — electric arc lamps, of not less than — — — candle power, for a term of — — — years, will be received by the Common Council of said Village, at the office of the Village Clerk, up to — — — — — 1895.

All proposals must be made upon blanks furnished by the Clerk of said Village; enclosed in a sealed envelope and addressed "Village Clerk, Tecumseh, Michigan. Proposals for Electric Lighting" and the name and address of bidder endorsed thereon.

The said Common Council reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

PROPOSAL NO. 1.

Made by — — — of — — — — — who will contract with the Village of Tecumseh, Michigan, to light the streets and public places therein with — — — electric arc lamps, of not less than — — — candle power; for a term of — — — years; said lamps to be lighted every night, to be lighted at sun set of each day and to be extinguished at 12 o'clock midnight, for the sum of — — — dollars, per month, per lamp.

PROPOSAL NO. 2.

Made by — — — of — — — — — who will contract with the Village of Tecumseh, Michigan, to light the streets and public places therein with — — — electric arc lamps, of not less than — — — candle power for a term of — — — years; said lamps to be operated on moon schedule, to be lighted at sun set of each day and to be extinguished at sun rise of the next, and will also light all lamps on dark, stormy and cloudy nights during that portion of month when moon is, by moon schedule, supposed to be shining, for the sum of — — — dollars per month, per lamp.

PROPOSAL NO. 3.

Made by — — — of — — — — — who will contract with the Village of Tecumseh, Michigan, to light the streets and public places therein with — — — electric arc lamps, of not less than — — — candle power, for a term of — — — — years; said lamps to be lighted every night during year, to be lighted at sun set and extinguished at sun rise of the next, for the sum of — — — per month, per lamp.

Dated at — — this — — day of — — 1895.

Moved and supported that a committee of two, President to be one member thereof, be appointed to visit neighboring towns to investigate electric lighting system. Carried. President appointed Trustee Sattherwaite as other member.

The President then named the following standing committees for ensuing year:

Finance; Wright, Smith, Satterthwaite.

Streets; Hall, Boyd, Smith.

Public Health; Heesen, Wright, Hall.

Fire and Fire Limits; Boyd, Smith, Satterthwaite.

Public Buildings and Grounds; Satterthwaith, Wright, Boyd.

Ordinance; Ingersoll, Wright, Satterthwaite.

Cemetery Board of Trustees; 1 yr. C. A. Wright, 2 yr. H. Heesen, 3 yr. D. T. Hall.

The President presented the following names for the respective offices and recommended that they be appointed thereto: for Marshall, H. W. Stevens; Deputy Marshall, J. H. Aten; Sexton, W. C. Jordan; Street Commissioner, Albert Hyde; Nightwatchman, L. L. Bates; Street lamp lighter, C. Patterson; Board of Review, John D Shull and James A Boyd. By votes of the council all of the above were elected to said several offices.

The following recommendation was presented by the President and adopted:

I would recommend that the Marshall be required to be about the streets on every Saturday and other days when there shall be an unusual crowd in town, such as show days and days of celebration, and he shall remain on duty until 12 o'clock p. m. on such days, and in his absence he shall require the deputy Marshall to perform such services.

The following resolution was introduced; on motion, duly supported, same was adopted.

Whereas, it is rumored about the village that certain citizens have been in the habit of using certain parts of the council building for the purpose of playing games: therefore, be it resolved: That the Marshall be, and hereby is, instructed to prohibit anything of that nature in said council building; and that said council building be used for no other purpose than that of regular council business, except for such other purpose as the council may elect.

On motion, duly supported, the salary of the Village Marshall was placed at the sum of $150 per year, for all services performed by him. Carried.

Moved and supported that chairman of street committee obtain offers for driving Village team for coming year and report same at next meeting. Carried.

Council then adjourned.

JEREMIAH AND HIS PA.

They Arrange for a Grand Republican Parade.

(BY TALLIE MORGAN.)

'Say, pa, you are proud that you are a Republican, aren't you?'

'Proud of it? I should say so. I consider no greater honor than to be known as a member of the grand old party.'

'Would you be willing to stand up for your G. O. P. anywhere?

'You can just bet your—I mean most assuredly I would.'

'Would you parade with it?'

'When my presence is needed to give moral tone and dignity to the party, I am always there.'

'Well, pa, we are going to arrange for a Republican parade tonight.'

'Parade tonight, where?'

'Right here on this table,'

'Jeremiah, are you losing your head?'

'Oh, no; you will understand in a minute what I mean. Of course we are only going to arrange for a parade, and we will suppose that it is going to come on to-morrow. Now, pa, in this hat I have,'

'Jeremiah, what smart trick are you up to now? You had better be careful for I am in no mood to stand your nonsense.'

'There is no nonsense in this, pa. You always say that you are a temperance man, against the whisky traffic. You preach redhot sermons against the saloon keepers and their business and pray that the Lord will hasten the day of prohibition. You are also proud of being a Republican and not ashamed of parading the public streets with your party.'

'Well, all of that is true, but what I want to know is what are you getting at.'

'I secured the list of Republican voters of this district, and I have written the name of each voter on a card. Now, the parade is to take place on the sidewalk, all the voters walking two by two, arm in arm. Ma shall draw the cards, and we will arrange them in twos on this table.'

'Well, I declare, that will be interesting. One thing I am certain of, there will be some pretty solid men in line.'

'That's what's the matter, pa. Some of them are so solid that they will weigh 200 or 300 pounds. Now, let the drawing begin'

Mrs. Wimbleton draws a card.

'By George, the first man out is Fitzhelmer, the brewer, 'solid,' two, weighs 265 pounds. Now ma, draw another card.'

Mrs. Wimbleton draws another card.

'Oh! Ha, ha, ha-a-a-ah! His partner is the Rev. Joshua Buckley, D. D., the man who talks so much against the liquor traffic. There they are, arm in arm, at the head of the G. O. P. parade. One for personal liberty and free whisky and the other for prohibition, but both voting the same ticket. Next.'

'See here, Jeremiah, this is is another of your schemes. You have fixed up these cards so as to suit your trick. Pass the hat over this way, I'll do the drawing myself.'

'All right, pa, go ahead.'

The Rev. Elijah Wimbleton draws a card.

'Hello, here's Karnaygee, the wealthy manufacturer and whom nearly all the workingmen hate! Next. Well, by all that's ho—funny, here's Tom Braddock, the labor leader. Tom and the other boys have been living on platform promises for a good many years, and Karnaygee has enjoyed the joke immensely.'

'Jeremiah, I wish you would not pass remarks on every man that is drawn out of this hat, or we will be here all night. Here's the next card.'

'Old Moneybags Blair—gold standard—and here's Free Silver Jackson. How they do fit! Hello, here's Deacon Silversmith, and, by George, here's Slick Keegan, the gambler, for his partner! That's a daisy pair. Next. Jim Jones, the man who keeps the worst dive in town. Two murders in his saloon last year, but his pull with the boys makes him necessary to the Republican bosses, so he has no fear of the law. Wonder who'll be his partner!'

Elder Wimbleton draws another card.

'Hooray, hooray! It's your pa! Hooray, hoo-oo'—

'Here, you young rattlebrain, drop that Indian yell, or I'll thrash the life out of you. Do you think I would parade with Jim Jones—me, a minister of the gospel?'

'Pa, that is a Republican parade, and you agreed to the rules. There's your partner. He votes the same ticket, and does more, 20 times, for the success of the party than you do. He can influence the boys and keep them in line. Jim Jones and his gang are necessary to the success of the party, and for that reason the party managers will obey his will. Pa, your vote goes in with the votes of the gang, and the government counts you in with them every time. Jim Jones talks for license, votes for license and is perfectly consistent in supporting the Republican party. You talk against license, pray for prohibition and vote with Jim Jones. Pa, honestly now, are you consistent? If I were you, pa I would either quit talking and preaching against the liquor traffic or I would quit voting for it. Just keep this parade in mind, pa. Every time you talk for temperance just let your mind wander to Jim Jones, your partner in parade, and it will show you how honest you are in your'—

'Here, here, quit that! Take away your infernal cards and never show your face in this room until you promise not to talk politics. There, no more, go! He's gone, thank the Lord, and I'll have a little rest once more. But, I tell you, that boy is smart. Who but Jeremiah would think of that parade?'

An exchange says: Man oft looks like he is happy—judged outwardly; inwardly he has great griefs, tight boots, corns on both toes, and a boil on the back of his neck. Disappointments and tribulations are around and about us, and, as we journey down this fleeting vale of tears, we are often at a loss to know where to go and borrow a dollar, or get a square meal. The prosaic lingers and abides with us, while the ideal vanishes in the distance., like a dog with a tin can tied to its tail. A man having all to make life happy and enjoyable and having great capacities therefor, but born with a wart on his nose and red hair, becomes misanthropic thereby, and a dweller apart from his fellow man. Even a three-ring circus could not cheer him.

Billy Barry, the Irish comedian, back in 1862 was office boy for Horace Greely. One day the great editor noticed the boy doing dancing steps behind a door and called him out to interrogate him. Barry's hair stood on end and he thou't it meant instant dismissal.

What do you dance for? asked the great eccentric.

Because I can't help it, ventured the Coquelin of Irish comedy.

Well, I'd like to see you do it right, if you are going to do it, granted Greely, at the same time giving him a card to a teacher of dancing. Go and learn to dance properly he said, and don't let me see any more bow-legged jigs.

This is what started the comedian on his stage career.

WROTE HIS OWN EPITAPH.

Uncle Ezra Cole, of Weston, whose death was noted a few days ago, frequently wrote sketches of rhyme, and the following was composed and placed on his monument which was erected a number of years ago, as the cemetery is located on the land he first cleared, and may be interesting to the public:

'Way back in eighteen thirty-five, in nature's wilds we come,
Through dark, wild woods we cut our way, to make this farm our home.
Here we have toiled through all these years, here ends our earthly race.
Here this bronze monument will mark our lone, long resting place.
Here these same hands that cleared this farm will moulder back to dust.
Here we shall rise beyond the skies, to God in whom we trust.

The New South is progressing nicely and appears able to meet all emergencies. Even in the matter of a new form of marriage ceremony a Georgia Justice places his state in the immediate lead. Hear what this Georgia Justice says: By the authority vested in me as an officer of the State of Georgia, sometimes called the Empire State of the South; by the fields of cotton that lie spread out in snowy whiteness around us; by the growl of the coon dog, and the gourd vine, whose clinging tendrils will shade the entrance to your humble dwelling place; by the red and luscious heart of the watermelon, whose sweetness fills the heart with joy; by the heavens and earth, in the presence of these witnesses, I pronounce you man and wife. After all that, the fee should have been in proportion to the language.

The mutilated income tax law is in a position to extend sympathetic greetings to the Wilson bill.

POSTPONEMENT.

To give all our subscribers a fair chance in the "sewing machine scheme," we have decided to defer the presentation one month. It will positively take place on Saturday, May 4th, next, at three o'clock p. m., at Sutton's opera house. Every person can surely pay his subscription before that date, if so disposed. Hustle in your subscriptions during April. There will be no further postponement.

One Hundred Dollars Given Away.

Here is an offer to our patrons which is well worth their careful consideration. Probably nine-tenths of our subscriptions expire during January, February and March of each year. All subscribers who shall pay for the full year 1895, prior to April 1st, will be entitled to a chance in the distribution of four sewing machines, worth one hundred dollars. These are—

A New Home,	Value,	$30 00
An Eldridge B.,	"	30 00
Weeeler & Wilson, No. 8,	"	25 00
Wheeler & Wilson, second hand,	"	15 00
Total value,		$100 00

The three machines first named are new, right from the factory. The last one has been carefully used a few months and is practically as good as new. Each paying subscriber will get a numbered receipt and that will be his number in the distribution. The few persons who have already paid for 1895 can call and get a duplicate receipt with a new number. The few subscribers who have paid in advance beyond April 1st can secure the benefit of this offer by paying in advance for the balance of the year, or until Jan. 1st, 1896. The distribution will take place at Sutton's opera house, Tecumseh, on Saturday afternoon, May 4th, 1895, at three o'clock, when the property will be formally given to our advance paid patrons, to be allotted among themselves in such manner as they may elect. An expenditure of only $1.00 or $1.25 if you live outside of Lenawee county, will secure a chance for one of these premiums. This offer means business.

The Easter supper given at the Town Hall by the Episcopal ladies, Monday evening, was largely attended and very enjoyable. The supper was what is always expected from these ladies, elegant and nicely served, and the receipts were nearly $30.

Mrs. A. W. Stalker is making her first visit here since the family left for Detroit. She came Tuesday and will make her headquarters with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Huntington. She is accompanied by the two youngest children. It seems good to have her among us as of yore, and only regret her stay will be temporary.

Easter day was generally observed by all the religious bodies here. The floral decorations in the M. E., Congregational and Baptist Churches were fine, and the services at 10:30 a. m. appropriate to this great festival. St. Dominic's Catholic church was tastefully decorated and Father Ternes gave a strong sermon. Many Protestants were present. In the evening the union service was at the Congregational church and at the Episcopal Easter service.

Ed. Clark is full of business these days. He is having his barn resided and fixed up generally will make some improvements to his residence and as soon as they begin excavating for the new hotel will use the dirt to fill and grade his home lot. He has removed the fence from around his father's home and is having the lot graded in fine shape which will greatly improve the place. As soon as this is completed they will start in on the hotel corner.

At the annual parish meeting of St. John's Episcopal society Tuesday evening, the following vestrymen were elected: A. B. VanDeMark, Dr. J. E. White, B. F. Thompson, J. L. Kishpaugh, A. F. Kishpaugh, C. F. Clark.

Delegates to the Convention—B. F. Thompson, J. L. Kishpaugh. Alternates, A. F. Kishpaugh, F. D. Lancaster.

The vestrymen elected officers as follows:

Senior Warden—B. F. Thompson.
Junior " —Dr. J. E. White.
Clerk—A. F. Kishpaugh
Treasurer—F. D. Lancaster.

The exercises of the children of St. John's Episcopal Sunday school on Easter day were very pleasant and their Lenten offerings amounted to over $15. In the evening the church was filled to its utmost capacity and many could not be accommodated. The church was beautifully trimmed and the services were joyous and very interesting all through. Mr. Blachford's sermon was listened to with close attention and the music by the choir was of a high order. They rendered an anthem in a manner that delighted every one. The playing of Mr. Judge was fine, and the choir feel that they have in him a great help. It was indeed a glad Easter service.

Mrs. Carrie Reeves is quite ill.

C. M. Fellows was the guest of Rev. C. M. Stout Monday.

Charles Kensler, of Brooklyn, was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Geo. Miller, of Manchester, assisted in the musical part of the services at St. Dominic's church Sunday. She was the guest of Patrick Murphy and daughters during her stay.

Two gentlemen came down from Jackson Tuesday to see about starting a drug store. They were very favorably impressed with the town and business outlook, and the probabilities are that they will locate here providing they can secure suitable quarters.

Mr. Warner, of Lansing, State Superintendent of missions, filled the pulpit at the Congregational church, morning and evening, and his addresses were very fine. He is an able and pleasant speaker and held the attention of his hearers. We hope he will come again.

They have been making some important changes at the woolen mill recently. The new building is now occupied for the purpose it was designed, viz: wool sorting, cleansing, etc. The old sorting-room has been transformed into an office for the Superintendent's use; this is connected with every department by speaking tubes which will save Mr. Huntington and assistant Parker many steps. This room will also contain all the pattern looms. We hoped to find time to inspect it for ourselves, but could not, but hope to ere long.

The following is the program of the entertainment to be given at the Hall, by the young people of St. John's church assisted by the Congregational society, Wednesday evening, April 24.

Blanch Hampton was obliged to leave school on account of ill health, but expects to return to her duties in the Normal at the close of the present vacation.

An incident which occured at the burning of Frank Marshall's house shows what men can do under strong [illegible] of themselves, if they are very strong or well, rescued a 20 gallon crock of pork, which afterward required four stout men to remove to the barn.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to our kind friends and neighbors who so kindly aided us at the burning of our home, and especially all those who offered us shelter and sympathy. FRANK MARSHALL.

SPRINGVILLE SPRAYS.

Theo. Stafford has returned from Detroit.

The condition of Mrs. Calvin Daniels does not improve.

Peter Benton is recovering from quite a severe attack of pneumonia.

A. J. Monagin arrived in town Saturday. He will stop over in Brooklyn on his return to Detroit and visit his father, who is reported very low.

Charley Vaughan is home from the University for a short stay. He entertained his young friends Tuesday evening.

The death of Samuel Bridges occurred April 9. The end came quickly at the last, although he had been in failing health for nearly a year. He was born in England in 1816, came to America in 1845, and in 1848 settled on the farm where he resided at the time of his death. He was an excellent man, quiet and unobtrusive, and his memory and virtues will always be cherished by his bereaved children and neighbors. The funeral services were attended in the family residence April, 12th, Rev. Eichbaum of Brooklyn officiating.

"A little farm well tilled,
A little cellar well filled,
A little wife well willed."

What could you wish a man better than that? The last is not the least by any means, but how can a wife be well willed if she be the victim of those distressing maladies that make her life a burden? Let her take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and cure all painful irregularities, [illegible] and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. It is a boon and a blessing to women. Thousands are in the bloom of health through using it, when otherwise they would be under the sod. Are you a sufferer? Use it, or some day we may read—

Do These Questions Apply to You?

They are sure to interest hundreds of readers of this paper. Nine out of every ten people are troubled with these symptoms, and really don't know what's the matter with them. Here are the questions:

Are you nervous?
Have you a cough?
Is your throat sore?
Is your appetite poor?
Do you hawk and spit?
Is your nose stopped up?
Is it always full of scabs?
Is your breath offensive?
Is your hearing affected?
Is your tongue frequently coated?
Is your mouth full of slime upon arising?

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last for hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Didcovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Orr & Temple's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00. 1

A Valuable Find.

After years of study and labor, there has at last been discovered a sure and never failing remedy. It has been tested on patients who have despaired of ever being cured, the results have been, in every case, wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of chronic and acute inflamatory rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia; especially ovarian neuralgia, dysmenorrhoea and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable blood purifier, being especially useful in eczema, psoriasis, scrofula, all glandular enlargements and diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by Orr & Temple, Tecumseh, Mich.

A BACK BLOW.

The Weapon Small,—but None More Certain or Effective.

In these times when backs are lame, when almost every other one we meet has now and then, or all the time, a back that aches or pains—"a weak back," "a bad back," a back that makes their life a misery to bear—and still they go on day by day in pain and suffering. Now 'tis the easiest thing in the world to give this played out back "a blow" that will settle it, and put in its place a new one equal to any. It's just like this: hit at the cause; most backaches come from kidney disorders. Reach the kidneys, start their clogged-up fibres in operation; when this is done you can say good-bye to backache.

Here is a case from Battle Creek: Mr. Josiah M. Shoup lives at 51 Broad Street, he was a member of the Battle Creek police force for many years. As a member of the force he served the city well, but the rough weather he was often subjected to laid the foundation of kidney disorder, which has troubled him very much. Here is what he says about it:

"About three years ago, while on the police force, I contracted from exposure a kidney trouble, which has since given me no end of trouble. The pain was right through my kidneys and across the small of my back; if sitting down and I wanted to stand up, I had to arise very slowly and gently to avoid increasing the pain; I had such tired-out feelings all the time, and I was steadily getting worse. About two months ago, hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box. Their action and effect was most complete, they removed the old aching pains for good. I can now get around as quickly as anybody. Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly as represented."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

BRITTON BUDGET.

Vern Smith was the guest of Detroit friends over Sunday.

Lee Bros' have a change of add on 4, page—Look at it.

Civil Engineer Phillips, of Ogden, was in town Wednesday.

Another hay suit at Dundee yesterday filled quite a number from here.

George Exelby has been building on his home a kitchen and woodshed.

Will Britton is building quite an addition to his already pleasant home.

Miss Ethel Sweet, of Tecumseh, came down Wednesday for a visit with friends.

Geo. Hawks and wife and son Milton spent Easter Sunday with friends in Tecumseh.

Rev. E. Modge left Monday for Chicago where he has a son. He expects to be away a week or two.

Mr. VanDeVenter, of Dundee, arrived Tuesday morning and began canvassing for the Standard Dictionary.

Charles Gorham and wife went to Grahall Saturday to spend Easter; they returned home Monday night.

Neil Exelby does not believe in half doing a thing, as a glance at the fine barn he is having built at his home will testify.

Will J. Clark was again in Tecumseh Monday holding down a dental chair. He says he profers station work by a large majority.

The base ball organization have secured the same grounds they used last year and very soon will have things in shape for use.

Carl Lenardson has been confined to the house this week although not to bed. He has been troubled with la grip and malaria.

Lyman Hause is adorning and beautifying his residence by a liberal use of paint. Ezra Sink wields the brush and good work will be well done.

A. J. Helm made a business trip to Tecumseh Wednesday after a little help he needed in consequence of the loss of goods which were ordered.

The K. O. T. M's had another pleasant session Tuesday evening. Bert Hall, of Ridgeway, was the honored guest on this occasion, as he had a ride on the goat.

Justice Beasley officiated at the funeral of Hoagland's colt and proved himself to be an adept that he is thinking of entering opposition to undertakers Osborn & Linn.

Charles Howard and John Comstock, of Ypsilanti, were the guests of Ben Fisher, from Saturday until Monday. While they drove over to Tecumseh and called on several friends.

Allen & Hendershot have everything set at the brick and tile works for the new boiler recently purchased of C. Ellington. When it arrives and is set they will begin active operations.

The Aeolian Quartette delighted an audience Friday evening and they and an audience before them. It is the course and the committee entitled to great credit for the fine entertainment presented.

Messrs. Curtis and Wallace Linn, of Britton, have contracted for the stock of goods and although the terms are not yet made out there is no doubt but what they will soon be ready to wait upon their customers.

Hood's meat market a very pleasant room has been partitioned off for the use of Mr. Chauncey Andress a shoemaker who has recently come from Ohio. He comes well recommended and is prepared to do all kinds of repairing. Give him a call.

Our citizens have serious apprehensions that they are soon to lose Rev. E. Stead from our midst and they feel if the news be true, it will be a great loss as he and his estimable wife have gained a strong hold on the affections of all and have done a grand work for the church and society at large.

Mr. Hoagland had the misfortune to lose his high bred colt, Tuesday. His father-in-law put a harness on him, hitched him up and was about to drive off when he reared, fell over backwards, striking his head on the hitching post and in a short time died. A post mortem was made and his skull was found to be crushed. Mont regrets his loss as he was a promising animal.

Last Saturday forenoon Editor Stacy created a sensation among our business men by appearing before them with a dollar bill in his fingers which he had changed. The sight of an old bill with that amount of money in it was something unusual, and on inquiring to find one of them able to tell it was stranger still. They soon fully recovered their equanimity and dropped into Mrs. E. Sink's millinery emporium Wednesday and was pleased to see so fine a display in one of the size of Britton; it would favorably with a city store. Mrs. Sink understands her business thoroughly and exhibits superior taste in trimming, certainly our ladies need not go away from home for their hats as long as Mrs. Sink is doing business.

Mr. Pilbeam from here and Ralph Hall of Ridgeway, evidently actuated by a spirit of adventure and a desire to see the natives, left rather unceremoniously Sunday night without saying good bye to their friends and left no word has been received from them, the families are very much worried, but being young men and they are able to look out for themselves, and as their conduct is unobjectionable at the least, their parents should not allow it to worry them to any extent.

Lyman Hause had a very narrow escape from serious injury if not death, Monday morning. She was going to the barn on an errand and was crossing the railroad tracks near the station, when the Wabash was rapidly approaching from the east, Mrs. Hause, being deaf, was about crossing the track when Will Clark seeing her danger ran to her but of course she did not hear him and proceeded on her way. As she, about to step on the track John Hall, conductor of the local on the M. C. drew her back and thus saved her from harm. Mrs. Hause did not realize the danger, but those who witnessed it did.

The C. E. society gives a musical concert by Jackson's orchestra, of Adrian, at Holloway Hall, April 23d; let there be a packed house, for it is to help the church. Everyone is cordially invited. Admission 15 cents.

SARAH MOORE.

At half past four in the morning of Saturday, April 13th, after a long and wasting illness, Sarah, the daughter of Robert and Eliza Moore died, and on the following Monday was buried in the cemetery of the Raisin Presbyterian church. Her funeral was attended by a large company of relatives, who feel her loss deeply; and the church was filled by a congregation of friends who appreciate her Christian character and sympathize with her family.

Sarah Moore was born on October 3d, 1866, in County Antrim, near to the north-eastern coast of Ireland. In childhood and early youth she received a religious training in connection with the Presbyterian church. Her home was within the Killymurris parish, where for over thirty years Rev. John Wilson was pastor. From the beginning of his ministry until his death this good man devoted himself to that church, and in Raisin township there are a number of families who remember his ministrations with great affection. He used to give special attention to the children. Calling at their homes, he would assign psalms for them to memorize, which at later calls they would recite to him. These early influences had a permanent effect upon the character of Sarah Moore. During the twelve weary weeks that the last stage of her illness consumed, she experienced much comfort as she repeated to herself the psalms she had learned in her childhood; also she remembered the Shorter Catechism which she had been taught when she was very young, and her belief in its doctrines made it easy for her to face approaching death without any fear.

Nine years ago, shortly after with parents, brothers and sisters she had removed from Ireland to Michigan, she became a member of the Raisin Presbyterian church, and the many friends whom she gained during those years testify to her amiable and conscientious life. She was an invalid for many months, slowly and in spite of every effort to rescue her from the grasp of consumption she faded away, tenderly cared for till the last in the shelter of her home, surrounded by those who loved her. Gently and patiently she waited as the wearisome days and sleepless nights went by. As her thoughts turned to the home of her girlhood, to the church and pastor, to the school and to the sea-beach, where she used to play, she craved the taste of the dulse, the sea-weed that she would gather from the rocks when at the time of a former illness a summer beside the ocean had restored her strength, and when friends anxious to gratify her, had procured some specimens from our eastern sea board, its salty flavor served the dying girl as a reminder of earthly memories. But these receded, and she looked forward eagerly to the new home that she expected, to health and activity when free from the perishing body, to life with welcoming friends, to the joy of meeting Jesus.

As the sun set on Friday evening she anticipated with pleasure the possibility that she might live till the Easter Day, and when, robed in white and surrounded by flowers her body lay at rest, we felt that all that has been secured by the victory over death which the garden and the open sepulchre symbolize had become hers forever.

Lou Arner went to Detroit Friday for an indefinite stay with friends.

Patrick Curry and Henry Barnes are under the doctor's care at present.

A. J. Terwilliger, of Detroit, was the guest of Emma Miller Sunday and Monday.

Purdy Haight is confined to his bed, having had a bad spell Sunday afternoon.

D. W. Smith and Lawrence Rappleye spent Easter Sunday with friends in Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell left for Boston, Mass. Monday, where they expect to spend some time.

M. M. Florance was called to Pen Yan, N. Y., last week by the death of his brother, Floyd Florance.

Mrs. Floyd Gordon, of Ypsilanti, is spending the present week with her father, Lester Osgood, and family.

The Easter exercises passed off very nicely, the Sunday school missionary collection amounting to nearly $15.

E. M. Coller, of Tecumseh, spent Sunday with lady friends here, attending the Easter exercises at the church, in the evening.

N. C. Miller, who lost his house by fire a week ago, has moved into R. S. Housman's house on North street, for the present.

George Cone, of Hudson, spent Saturday and Sunday with his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Montgomery, who are quite poorly.

Mrs. Romine Miller, of Big Rapids, who has been spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Houseman, returned to her home the fore part of the week.

The election of officers of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. F. E. Pocklington, on Friday of next week, and a full attendance of the members is desired.

Supervisor Lowe is taking the assessment this week but wait until Treasurer Smith calls for your rent in December and then you will have to put up or shut up.

Frank Winterstein, while returning from Tecumseh Sunday night collided with a buggy when near Frank Davidson's, throwing him out with force enough to dislocate his shoulder, requiring three men to put it in place again. He is doing nicely at present.

The leading article in this month's Sanitarian is entitled "The Need of a National Board of Health," from the pen of C. O. Hiscock. Mr. Hiscock is said to be the first under-graduate of the institution whose manuscript has been given a place in a national magazine. He has our compliments, for his paper is commendable, and a credit to our work.

The above was taken from the Pink and Green, of the 13th. inst., published in the interest of Albion college. We [illegible] the receipt of the number of the Sanitarian containing the article by Mr. Hiscock and have read it with much interest.

Murder Will Out.

Several years ago the rush of emigration was for the western prairie lands, where droughts, hot winds, cyclones and blizzards were plenty. No water; no fuel; low prices for products and high prices for everything a person had to buy. Times have changed and The C. S. Graves-Land Company, R 311, 56 Fifth ave., Chicago, have an advertisement in this paper offering land in central Wisconsin well supplied with fuel and good water and centrally located for all the great markets North, South, East and West, with good school privileges. The best of farm land can be had at from $5 to $10 per acre and on easy terms. 1w

There have been bosses who never knew when they had enough, and Mr. Platt may profit by their example.

Great Opportunity to Make Money.

I have had such splendid success that I can't help writing to you about it. I have not made less than $5, and some days from $15 to $25. I am really elated, and can't see why others do not go into the Dish Washer business at once. I have not canvassed any; sell all my washers at home. They give such good satisfaction that everyone sold, helps to sell many others. I believe in a year I can make a profit of three thousand dollars, and attend to my regular business besides. When a Climax Dish Washer can be bought for $5, every family wants one, and it is very easy selling what everybody wants to buy. For particulars address The Climax Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio. I think any lady or gentleman, anywhere, can make from $5 to $10 a day. I would like to have your readers try this business, and let us know through your columns how they succeed. 1w

Heart Disease 30 Yrs!

Short Breath, Palpitation.

Mr. G. W. McKinsey, postmaster of Kokomo, Ind., and a brave ex-soldier, says: "I had been severely troubled with heart disease ever since leaving the army at the close of the late war. I was troubled with palpitation and shortness of breath. I could not sleep on my left side, and had pain around my heart. I became so ill that I was much alarmed, and fortunately my attention was called to

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

I decided to try it. The first bottle made a decided improvement in my condition, and five bottles have completely cured me."

It will not be so very long before some newspaper will be interrupting the proceedings to inform Chicago's reform mayor that his halo is on crooked.

Use it in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucus membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and [illegible] mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across the forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

"Where Farming Pays."

Is it in the north-west with wheat at less than 50 cents a bushel with zero weather and blizzards in winter and cyclones in summer? No! Go to Virginia; land is cheap, climate perfect all the year round. Ask any one who knows and he will tell you that in the tidewater section one acre of land has produced as high as $2,000.00 in one season. It is worth looking into. Apply to C. H. Bovee, Gen'l. Land and Excursion Agent, Coldwater, Mich., for pamphlet "Facts for Farmers" free. No statements made that are not corroborated by practical farmers who have grown rich on their Virginia farms.

In our adv. two weeks ago we told of our very superior all-steel hand and power feed cutter to be offered at $10 worth $40

Last week we told of the process of galvanizing and its indispensable preservative qualities. Next week we will give you the experience of two representative business firms of Illinois, one of whom has sold 400 and the other 500 Aermotors. The week following we will quote a price on the best pumph made (hand, wind mill and irrigating) lower than was ever before dreamed of, and the week following that we shall talk to you of steel galvanized tanks, with covers, at the unheard of price of 15 cents per gallon. This is cheaper than wood. They do not shrink, leak, rot, rust or give taste to water.

The Aermotor Company treats the public generously. While state legislatures are passing laws to secure repairs for farm machinery at reasonable prices, IT IS A FACT THAT THE AERMOTOR COMPANY HAS FOR THE YEAR 1895 BEEN COMPELLED TO RAISE ITS PRICES ON REPAIRS BECAUSE SOME OF ITS CUSTOMERS HAVE BEEN ORDERING INDIVIDUAL PARTS TO MAKE UP COMPLETE MACHINES, SINCE IN THAT WAY THEY COULD GET A MACHINE CHEAPER THAN BY ORDERING IT ASSEMBLED. People are not compelled to buy machinery; they are compelled to buy repairs. The Aermotor Company aims to do fair. If it were to sell this expert product so low that customers could buy the repairs and assemble a machine at less than the assembled machine would cost. But since it was not certain that they would get the machine assembled in good shape, for the protection of its own reputation, the Aermotor Company has raised the price of certain repairs, and refused to sell in future. Not only has the Aermotor Company always given the best goods at the lowest prices for its repair parts, but it has now ESTABLISHED TWENTY BRANCH HOUSES IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE COUNTRY IN ORDER TO GREATLY INCREASE THIS GOODS HANDY ACCESSIBLE. REPAIRS WITHIN EASY REACH. It expects soon to greatly increase this number of houses. This is a matter of the greatest importance to those who are purchasing machinery. Accidents will happen, and a wise man will look to it when he is buying an article that requires quick repair. Not only is it desirable that repairs can quickly be had at reasonable cost. Our very low prices and high standards on everything connected with water supply and power production by wind, together with the accessibility of a full line of our goods and repairs, will be appreciated. The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

TRASK'S
Magnetic Ointment.

The worst Sores, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, Sprains, Skin Disorders, Sore Throat, Croup, Rheumatism, Lameness, Piles, and all external and internal affections characterized by INFLAMMATION, yield to its influence as if by magic. It is a purely vegetable preparation by a regular physician of eminence, and its success has been marvellous in the most obstinate cases. Sold by Druggists and Dealers at 25 and 40 cents.

It never fails to restore the natural functions of the skin and equalize the circulation of the blood. By this means a controlling power is gained over the most malignant forms of disease. It penetrates to every portion of the human frame; every bone, muscle, vein, nerve and ligament is searched out and made sensible to its soothing and healing influence. Hence it copes readily with internal as well as external diseases.

Over 40 Years.

This Ointment has been used by the people throughout the United States, and our confidence in its qualities is such that as we have no space here to insert any of the numerous certificates of cures which we have from all parts of the country, we simply ask those readers of this notice who have never used this Ointment, to frankly state their experience with it to inquiring friends. If but one in a hundred would do this we should be perfectly satisfied with the result. Full directions for use will be found on pamphlet around each bottle.

Prices 25 and 40 cents per bottle. Sold by a dealers in medicine.

COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL.

This little book is one of the most extensive treatises on the money question that has ever been written. It shows up the evil effects of our present monetary system in a most emphatic manner. Every voter in Lenawee county, regardless of party affiliations, should read it. The Chicago Times says: "A book that will create a profound impression throughout the United States." The New York Recorder says: "It mercilessly scourges the money changers in the Temple of the Republic." The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "This book tells its readers more about gold, silver and currency, generally, than any other publication we know of, and in a way that every man can fully comprehend." A supply is kept on hand at the HERALD office. Single copies 25 cents. Every new advance paying subscriber to the HERALD will receive a copy free. Now is your time to get good reading cheap. Pass in your orders.

EASTER DAY SERVICES.

This great festival was appropriately observed by all of our religious bodies. Perhaps more generally this year than ever before. The churches were all tastefully decorated with flowers, some of them quite elaborately. The weather was not as bright and sunshiny as a model Easter Day is expected to be, but it was not uncomfortable and people were out to enjoy the religious services to the ut most.

At St. Peter's church a six o'clock morning service was held, attended by a large congregation. At the regular morning hour another service was held concluding with the holy communion. At four o'clock the Sunday school held a special Easter service, the offeratory amounting to $17.00.

At the Presbyterian church a six o'clock prayer meeting was held. A large congregation was assembled at the morning hour and listened to a fine discourse from Rev. C. M. Brown, and the communion followed.

Rev. H. A. Smith gave a discourse appropriate to the day, in the morning, and in the evening the Sunday school gave a concert which crowded the house.

Rev. J. P. Varner delivered a strong discourse on the resurrection, in the morning, and Easter gifts were distributed among the classes of the Sunday school.

At the Friend's church an Easter sermon was given by the pastor to a large congregation.

At the Universalist church a special Easter service was held at the morning hour, after which the church members partook of the rite of the sacrament.

THE BACHELORS' BANQUET.

"Where there is a will there is a way," always, and when the nine ladies who constitute the board of directors of the Library Association willed there should be a free reading room opened in connection with the library, they left no stone unturned to find a way. Two of them started out among our merchants to see how much money they could raise in monthly pledges of from ten to fifty cents each. In this way a sufficient sum was raised to warrant them in beginning their scheme.

On December 1st the room over Lilley's State Bank was decided upon and fitted up in comfortable style and opened in due time to the public.

Every afternoon and evening from 4 until 10 o'clock this room is warmed and lighted. The tables are supplied with the best newspapers and periodicals, and everybody is welcome. No talking or merriment is allowed and no one is disturbed. An average attendance of thirty people daily shows how well the reading room is appreciated.

The ladies have done nobly in this good work and yet there is a chance for more effective work, if the money was only at hand to do it. To raise more money the ladies have hit upon a novel plan of an elegant supper, served by the bachelors of Tecumseh and called the Bachelors' Banquet, to be held at Armory Hall, Thursday afternoon, April 25. Everybody who is interested in the welfare of the youth of our town should turn out and give the reading room a grand benefit.

The sum of twenty-five cents will be charged for the supper and all other attractions free. The young ladies are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to see the bachelors' efficiency in the domestic department, for leap year is coming and if woman is to step out into the work of the world she will want to know that her husband is able to take charge of the home.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

John F. Hicks left for the Saginaw Valley the first of the week.

Mrs. W. R. Wooden and daughter Dot. left this morning for their home in Battle Creek.

Ben C. Ellis was called to Hillsdale, Wednesday, his father having met with a serious accident.

S. P. Haight, the shoemaker at Ridgeway, died this a. m. (Friday). He was the father of James Haight, of Britton, and Mrs. W. P. Cadmus, of Harvey, Ill. Mrs. Cadmus reached there yesterday.

The supper at the Armory Monday evening furnished by the ladies of the Relief Corps was very fine, the members of Company C waited on the tables, furnished dishes, etc. The receipts were divided, after which at G. A. R. Hall was held the social. The members from Macon furnished a delightful program.

The subjects in the Universalist pulpit for next Sunday will be. A. M.: Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry; for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. Ecc. VII: 9. Eve. How hard is it for those that put their trust in riches to enter into the Kingdom of God. St. Mark X:24. Y. P. C. U. meeting at 6 p. m—topic: Our Faith.

Scove Walker has severed his connection with the Tecumseh post office. He has made a very efficient and valuable assistant and his relations with postmaster Kyle have been of the most friendly character. Other business arrangements which he has in contemplation have induced him to resign his position. John Campbell has taken a clerkship in the office and will undoubtedly fill the place to the satisfaction of both the postmaster and the public.

Mrs. G. T. Thurman, the popular colored elocutionist of Jackson, Mich., gave a highly appreciated entertainment at St. Peter's A. M. E. church, December 28. As an elocutionist she has few equals. She has a clear voice, and is natural and graceful in her manners and gestures, and sways her audience at will. Her recitation of the 'Creeds of the Bells' and 'Wreck of River Mouth', was received with hearty applause and her Irish and negro dialect selections cannot be excelled. We predict for her a brilliaut and successful future.—Minneapolis Appeal.

The annual parish meeting of St. Peter's church society was held Monday evening, (Easter Monday.) The following vestry was elected: Wm. Hayden, Dr. C. M. Woodward, Jno. F. Hicks, C. F. Field, W. H. Hayden, W. H. Spalding, Joseph Crosby, Samuel Haight, L. P. Tribou and C. D. Keyes. After which the vestry proceeded to elect officers as follows:

Senior Warden—Wm. Hayden.
Junior " —J. F. Hicks.
Clerk—C. F. Field.
Treasurer—L. P. Tribou.
Collector—Joseph Crosby.

The following were chosen delegates to the convention. C. F. Field and C. D. Kies. Alternates—W. H. Spalding, C. M. Woodward.

Monday afternoon, while Horace Baker was alone in the store, and at the desk, he heard something snaping and crackling, and looking up saw flames at the front end of the store. He found the brooms in the rack on fire. Fortunately he had some water close at hand and soon had the fire out, but not until several brooms were destroyed, and the glass in one end of a show case cracked. Mr. Baker remembers two men being in and one scratching a match to light a cigar and giving the match a toss as they passed out, thinks it must have lodged in one of the brooms with the above result. It was a narrow escape from a serious conflagration.

'The Beautiful Models of Paris,' in the March Cosmopolitan, satisfy a long-felt curiosity in regard to the women who have been posing for the world' famous paintings. The Cosmopolitan has carefully gathered a collection of the most famous of these portraits and used them to illustrate an interesting article by a distinguished French critic, Fr. Thiebault Sisson. Nor does the beauty of the originals fall short of the ideal on the painter's canvas. In the same number is a delightful article about the famed sea-girt isle, for so many centuries a fortress and prison—Mont-Saint-Michel. 'Pearl-Diving and Its Perils,' by an English naval officer, written from personal experiences, is perhaps the most thrilling tale of exploration of the depths ever put on paper. The fiction of this number is usually entertaining.

LILLEY HOUSE BLOCK.

LET US SPRAY OUR TREES

And Have a Good Crop of Apples.
What More Desirable and Profitable?

From late experiments it has been proved it can be done. E. Tindall has been appointed agent for the selling of the best and most improved apparatus for the spraying of all kinds of fruit trees, vines, etc., including two different styles, from the small, cheap hand pump to the horse power machine for large orchards, having the most perfect Nozzle. The pumps are made of brass and copper which can not rust nor corrode, and are furnished with a long hose (or longer, if desired) and the Vermorel nozzle; also an air chamber, whereby a steady pressure is obtained so that a continuous stream from 50 to 100 pounds on the nozzle can be had with very ordinary exertion, and not affected by the movements of the plunger, throwing water 50 to 80 feet high. Also, peculiar to these outfits, hose are attached by which a portion of the liquid is re-discharged at the bottom of the reservoir with great force, which keeps the solution and water well mixed, which is very important so as not to hurt the foliage. Reservoirs of 50 gallons, of copper or galvanized iron, are furnished with these pumps for hand use. Orchards or larger uses a second hand power or tight barrel may be used, on which the outfit can be placed and moved about as desired. A complete and exhaustive treatise and directions on "How, When and What to Spray, and the Ingredients Best Suited to Fruits, Vines, Etc.," found in pamphlet form furnished with these outfits. For sale by C. A. SLAYTON'S warehouse, Tecumseh, Mich., for inspection, farther information and purchase of these outfits.

The work of preparation at the Cotton States and International Exposition grounds, is going on rapidly. Over a thousand hands and nearly two hundred teams are at work getting things in shape. The buildings are rapidly going up, and the timbers of the Fine Arts and Electrical buildings are already in position, and will be under roof in a short time. Most of the buildings will be under roof by May 15th, and completed by June 1st. The grading and landscape gardening is being pushed, and the park will soon begin to resemble its completed form.

Our Cambridge letter arrived too late for insertion this week.

Miss Dora Grayson is well known in this community as a musician of rare merit, and a superior teacher of vocal music. She has been training her younger brothers in vocalization, all of whom possess the musical talent, and the family will give their first public concert on the 23d. Our citizens can rely upon having a fine entertainment. Let us all turn out and give them a rousing benefit.

At the Lilley House Sunday, landlord Patterson served an elegant dinner. The menu was most complete and placed before the guests in a very unique and tasty manner, viz: On Easter eggs of different hues, which had been drawn, having knots of narrow ribbon at either end. On the surface of each egg the bill of fare was artistically placed with a pen by Mrs. Chas. P. Patterson and were given as souvenir's.

Mrs. M. A. Freeman's Millinery opening Thursday Friday and Saturday of last week surpassed any given by this popular milliner. The rooms were really a work of art, so beautifully were they decorated. The display of trimmed and pattern hats was large and very attractive, as were all the novelties in trimming, etc. The lady and her capable and accomplished assistants may justly feel proud of this Easter opening.

The following clipping taking from Tuesday's Free Press will be of interest to our readers, many of whom are acquainted with the parties named. "A dispatch from Asheville, N. C., announces the death on Sunday of James Moreland, of the firm of Moreland Bros. & Crane, of Adrian. Mr. Moreland was 38 years of age. He leaves a son about 6 years old, his wife's dying legacy. No more popular young business man lived in the city, and his extensive acquaintance, made as a representative of his house, will unite in paying tribute to his memory.

Henry Jones now occupies the half of one of his double houses on east Chicago Street, having exchanged with his tenant, Michael Kennan, who wanted a yard for the use of his children. Henry is ever ready to accommodate when possible.

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society will be held at the M. E. church parlors, Wednesday afternoon, next, April 24th, at 3 o'clock. As the delegates to the district convention are to be appointed a full attendance is desired.

John Hicks and Will Hayden have been appointed by St. Peter's Society a committee to secure a memorial tablet to the memory of Rev. Josiah Phelps, who by his long rectorship and saintly life and character endeared himself to all. It will be placed in the church.

BRITTON, March 14, 1895.

Messrs. Orr & Temple, Gentlemen: I have used your Texas DeHorner on calves from two weeks to six months old and it worked complete with only one application, and with proper use I can reccommend it highly. Yours truly, WILLIAM BRITTON.

The Bachelors' of Tecumseh are working night and day, getting up their Menu, and they promise such rare delicacies as these: Bachelors' Soup; Roast Whale, Humming Birds stuffed with suspender buckles, Spider's Eyebrows, larded; Mud Pies, etc. In fact, a most elaborate supper for twenty-five cents.

Next Sunday evening at the Methodist church, Rev. J. P. Varner will begin a series of ten sermons on the Sacred Mountains: "Mount Ararat, Mount Moriah, Mount Saini, Mount Pisgah, Mount Horeb, Mount Carmel, Mount Zion, Mount Tabor, Mount Calvary, and Mount Olivet." These sermons will be given on successive Sunday evenings.

Remember the entertainment to be given at the Opera House next Tuesday evening, April 23d., by Miss Dora Grayson, assisted by her brothers and Mrs. G. T. Thurman of Jackson, a reader of marked ability. A glance at the program below will show that it will be fine:

PART FIRST.

That simple little song—Chorus.
Alone on the midnight sea—Welling Grayson.
Reading—Mrs. G. T. Thurman.
Love's Answer—Peter Ridgley.
Signal—Dora Grayson.
Watermelon Song—Chorus.

PART II.

O, that we two were maying—Dora Grayson, Peter Ridgley.
Reading—Mrs. Thurman.
She was a daisy—Welling Grayson.
The sweetest story ever told—Dora Grayson.
Reading—Mrs. Thurman.
The Irish christening—Chorus.
Creole love song.
The Captain of Company C—Chorus.

Violetta, sister of Eugene Camburn, was horribly burned at her home in Tipton this morning. There are no hopes of her recovery, her entire clothing was burned from her body.

Co C. will attend St. Peter's church next Sunday morning in a body. The Episcopal choir of Clinton, which is said to be a very superior one, will furnish the music on this occasion, and the services throughout will doubtless be very interesting.

Teachers' Examination.

A special teachers' examination will be held at the East Side school building, Blissfield, on Friday and Saturday, April 26th and 27th, beginning Friday morning at 6 o'clock. Candidates will please bring pens, ink and legal cap paper. C. F. FIELD, School Commissioner.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to them of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

KILLED FOR INSURANCE.

Man and Woman Arrested on a Serious Charge at Muskegon.

MUSKEGON, April 12.—Mrs. Mary E. Houghson and George W. King were arrested Thursday, charged with the murder in 1892 of Nathan Douglas. The latter lived in Fruitport on a small farm and was worth about $3,500, to secure which, it is charged, the woman married him. Two years before her husband, Justin L. Hissing, a printer employed on the News, died suddenly, complaining of inflammation of the stomach. His life insurance, $1,000, went to his widow, and shortly afterward she and King took up their quarters in a block and were on the best of terms. Two years after the death of Hissing she was married to Douglas, and King was out at the farm more or less. Sixty-four days after the marriage Douglas died suddenly, complaining of pains in his stomach. A week before he made a will, leaving his property and his life insurance to who had been caring him up to the time of his marriage. The will was drawn by King.

The sister, Mrs. Eunice Williams, protested that his death was unnatural and complained to the great tent of the Maccabees, in which he was insured, that he had been murdered. The tent made an investigation, but did not go into the matter very deeply, and the subject never becoming public was dropped. Mrs. Houghson admits lending King nearly $1,000, but says she did so out of friendship. An examination of Douglas' body reveals arsenic in quantities sufficient to kill.

Since his death the woman has been twice married. M. P. Fadner, her third husband, deserted her because she insisted on claiming his pension money and secured a divorce. She married Henry Houghson last December. The evidence against the couple was discovered while the officers were hunting for testimony in proceedings which were pending against King, who was on trial for arson.

King was the proprietor of a drug store in Ottawa street in this city and was recently arrested charged with setting his store afire, but was released because of insufficient evidence. Mrs. Houghson is an aunt of King.

MICHIGAN BASEBALL MAD.

Every City of Importance in the State a Member of a League.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 13. The Western Baseball league season will open May 1st Grand Rapids at Indianapolis, Toledo at Detroit, Kansas City at St. Paul and Minneapolis at Milwaukee. The league is the same as last year, with the exception that St. Paul takes the place of Sioux City.

In Michigan this year baseball will rank first as a popular sport. In addition to having two cities, Detroit and Grand Rapids, in the western league, there will be a Michigan league, made up of Kalamazoo, Port Huron, Adrian, Owosso, Jackson and Saginaw. There will also be a northern Michigan league, with such cities as Muskegon, Big Rapids, Traverse City, Cadillac, Petoskey and Charlevoix on the list. The upper peninsula will have a four or six city league, including Marquette, Negaunee, Houghton and Ishpeming. The interest aroused in the game last season gives fairly good assurance that baseball will be sufficiently popular this season to make all the leagues profitable financially.

Wages Restored.

DOWAGIAC, April 17.—The Round Oak Stove company has restored the former schedule of wages, and the strike, which has been in progress for six months is now over. All non-union men now employed will be retained, union men to be employed when vacancies occur. Manager F. L. Lee says the company makes the concession because other stove manufacturers were about to make a cut in wages on account of the Dowagiac reduction, and he did not desire to cause a general cut in wages.

Franchise Tax Law Defined.

LANSING, April 17.—The supreme court has denied a mandamus to compel State Treasurer Wilkinson to return a $400 franchise fee paid last year under protest by the Moline Plow company, of Moline, Ill. The court holds that the franchise-fee act of 1891, as amended in 1893, is not in contravention of the provision of the federal constitution conferring upon congress the power to regulate interstate commerce.

Grewsome Ornaments.

ANN ARBOR, April 17.—The medical faculty is trying to locate a freshman student who has a purse and a pair of gloves made of human skin. The department has rigid rules against taking any "cadavers" from the dissecting-room, and it the faculty succeeds in identifying the student his suspension will follow.

Hurt at a Fire.

MENOMINEE, April 15.—Fire destroyed Fred Schale's saloon, causing a loss of $2,500. While the fire was in progress horses attached to the chemical engine ran away, smashing the engine and seriously wounding Fireman Benthouse. Christ Hansen was also hurt.

Fear Foul Play.

NILES, April 17.—O. F. Campbell, a prominent citizen of Lawton, has been missing since April 10. He went to Kalamazoo, that day, taking a large amount of money to make some purchases, and it is feared he has been murdered.

Convicted of Perjury.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 17.—Will Macard was convicted Tuesday of perjury, and the jury recommended him to mercy. He gave false testimony in the trial of his brother, Charles Macard, for murder in an effort to establish an alibi.

New Record Keeper.

IONIA, April 17.—Grand Chancellor F. M. Douglass has appointed Fred Cutler, Jr., of this city, as grand keeper of records and seal of the Knights of Pythias, to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of James W. Hopkins.

Becraft, Dowagiac secretary and treasurer. An immense dam on St. Joseph river will be built directly on the state line to transmit power for an electric line from South Bend to Niles, and probably through Berrien Springs to St. Joseph.

Sensation at Jackson, Mich.

JACKSON, Mich., April 17.—Dr. J. D. North, one of the oldest physicians in this city, and Curtis Harwood have been arrested charged with having caused the death of Miss Fannie Fox, who died at the Home of the Good Samaritan Monday from the effects of a criminal operation, it is claimed.

Sawmill Burned.

MENOMINEE, Mich., April 17.—The sawmill of Nadeau Brothers, located at Nadeau, on the line of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, about 30 miles north of this city, has been totally destroyed by fire. Loss, $20,000; partly insured.

State Military Encampment.

LANSING, April 15.—The state military board, in session here, decided to hold the annual encampment of the state troops at Island lake, Livingston county, commencing August 6.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., April 12.—The senate on Thursday passed the much-discussed bill for the government of all cities in the state having a population of 10,000 or less. Unless they decide otherwise at a special election, all such cities will be subject to the provisions of the general charter after January 1 next. Senate committees reported favorably on a bill providing for the appointment by the governor of five commissioners to have charge of Mackinac park, recently donated to the state by the general government, and making an appropriation for their expenses.

LANSING, Mich., April 13.—In accordance with a resolution of the state board of health in session here Friday, for investigation of charges against it for extravagance and incompetency by members of the house, the investigation was ordered. The bill for the licensing of plumbers was agreed to committee of the whole. It applies to all cities having over 6,000 inhabitants.

LANSING, Mich., April 17.—The senate Tuesday passed the house bill creating a legal department for the city of Detroit, and compensating Judge Speed, present city counselor, by extending his term for two years.

House.

LANSING, Mich., April 12.—The friends of a 500 uniform liquor license fee met defeat Thursday in the house. In addition to a uniform tax of $500 the bill made other concessions to the saloon men, particularly allowing them to remain open New Years, Washington's birthday, Labor day and Fourth of July, also to open after the closing of the polls on election day. The entire bill was wiped out, except the first section, and that was amended by raising the tax to $500. The bill was then passed by a vote of 72 to 32 and was given immediate effect. The only change the bill accomplishes is to make the tax upon the sale of beer $500, the same as spirituous liquors. Its fate in the senate is uncertain.

LANSING, Mich., April 13.—The senate on Friday in committee of the whole amended the Foote bill providing an open season for deer from November 1 to November 25 by having it begin November 10. The opponents of the $500 uniform liquor tax bill, which passed the house Thursday, scored a victory by having it referred to the committee on liquor traffic.

LANSING, Mich., April 17.—The house on Tuesday passed a bill for the creation of the office of state statistician for a period of two years at a salary of $1,500, his duties to be the gathering of information and statistics upon the subject of taxation and the making of an annual report to the governor for the benefit of the legislature.

PLEASANT FOR CONVICTS.

Mayor Pingree's Scheme to Seclude Them All on an Island.

DETROIT, April 15.—Mayor Pingree believes convicts should be secluded on a large island somewhere in the great lakes. They should be divided into classes and taught all branches of farming and gardening. Experiment plants should be established where all kinds of foreign vegetables would be grown. Seeds enough to supply all the farmers in the state could be raised on the convict farms. When the terms of the convicts expired, instead of seeking the cities with their temptations, they could be settled on farms and thereafter lead reputable lives. The mayor thinks it wrong for convicts to manufacture articles which paid labor produces. The mayor has also announced all city street sweepings will be saved to enrich the land the poor will cultivate with potatoes this year.

FLAG IS REFUSED.

German School Refuses to Subscribe to the Words.

SAGINAW, April 17.—The Women's Relief corps recently decided to present American flags to all public school rooms in the city, and included the German Lutheran School of the Sacred Heart. Following the presentation it was arranged that the school children should take a pledge to the flag embracing the words: "One country, one language, and one flag." R. H. Richter, the superintendent of the German school, refused to accept the flag, owing to the words: "One language."

Kidnaped.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 16.—Lillie Williams, 10 years old, was kidnaped from the Wealthy avenue school Wednesday afternoon by her divorced mother. In 1893 George Williams was divorced from Inez L. Williams and given the custody of the only daughter. Since the separation the mother has been trying to get possession of the child and succeeded this afternoon through the aid of an accomplice, a man from Saginaw. The police are on the trail of the kidnapers.

Given a New Trial.

DETROIT, Mich., April 17.—The supreme court has granted a new trial to William C. Lippardt, the member of the school board who was convicted of receiving a bribe and sentenced to serve five years' imprisonment. The court decides that the cross-examination of the complaining witness was unduly restrictive.

Resigned.

LANSING, April 13.—Hon. James N. Neasmith, of Schoolcraft, has resigned his position on the state board of corrections and charities. His colleagues adopted complimentary resolutions. Mr. Neasmith has been a state senator and a commissioner of the state land office.

Emperor William of Germany has named a battleship after a song he wrote. He feels that now indeed his bark is on the sea.

A TOO MODEST WOMAN!

Is such a thing possible?

It is.

Many a woman suffers month after month, whole years, because she shrinks from talking about her complaints.

Foolish do you say?

No, it is simply due to a natural, commendable modesty. Still she owes it to herself either to consult a good Physician or else to get the Zoa-Phora Medical Book on Diseases of Women and Children, and, after satisfying herself that Zoa-Phora is what she needs, obtain a bottle or a box of it and use it faithfully. Both the book and medicine may be obtained either direct from the Zoa-Phora Medicine Co., at Kalamazoo, Mich. or through your druggist. All correspondence is kept strictly confidential.

ASSIST NATURE a little now and then in removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels and you thereby avoid a multitude of distressing derangements and diseases, and will have less frequent need of your doctor's service.

Of all known agents for this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best. Once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity with sufferers from habitual constipation and their attendant discomfort and manifold derangements. The Pellets are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. No care is required while using them; they do not interfere with the diet, habits or occupation, and produce no pain, griping or shock to the system. They act in a mild, easy and [illegible] and thereby [illegible] ward. Their help lasts.

The Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said, that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in sealed, glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are mildly cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, or to relieve distress from overeating, take one after dinner. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules; any child will readily take them.

Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

FITS AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

When Henry M. Hall, M. D., late surgeon U. S. A., Department of Tennessee, returned from the war he found a child afflicted with epilepsy. Leading physicians were consulted, without apparent benefit. Noted specialists could give but little if any relief. To rescue his child from a fate worse than death became the object of his life. For several years experiment followed experiment, until at last success crowned his efforts. In 1889 old age and infirmities induced him to impart the knowledge of how to manufacture it, under the agreement that a bottle should be sent free of all charges to any one applying for it, who was afflicted with epilepsy. Since then over 20,000 free bottles have been sent to the afflicted. Experience has proved that it cures Insomnia, St. Vitus' Dance, and all forms of Nervous Affliction. If you want to try this wonderful remedy free of all charge, write, stating your disease as plainly as possible; give your age and post office. Address The Hall Chemical Co., West Philadelphia, Pa.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the probate office, in the City of Adrian, on Monday the 8th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

Present, Richard R. Robbins, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the Estate of Ezra F. Blood, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Charles H. Blood and J. O. Blood, executors of the last will and testament and upon the estate of said deceased, alleging that the funeral expenses and debts of said deceased and the expenses of administration thus far incurred have been fully paid, and praying that said account may be allowed, and praying that said account may be allowed, and the residue of said estate may be assigned and distributed according to the terms of said will, and that they may be discharged and their bond cancelled, and to such other order and decree as to this court shall seem proper.

It is Ordered, That Monday, the 6th day of May next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is Further Ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in THE TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

RICHARD R. ROBBINS, Judge of Probate. (A True Copy.) A. E. Farager, Probate Register.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. In the matter of the estate of Anzolette Osgood, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the probate court of said County, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet at that purpose at the office of Charles Burridge, in the village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, on the 30th day of April, 1895, and on the 25th day of March, 1895, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that six months from the 4th day of February, A. D., 1895, are allowed by said Probate Court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated, April 5, 1895.

HENRY C. CONKLING, HORACE WELLER, Commissioners.

Has Her Hands Full—the woman who won't use Pearline—her hands full of work, and her head full of worry. Suits herself. If she'd rather work hard, and keep everlastingly at it, it is nobody else's business. But that isn't all of it. The clothes that she washes, with her careless, tiresome, rub, rub, rub, are soon worn out. That's your business, if she washes your clothes. It will pay you to look after it. Pearline saves them.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE. Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 324 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

THE POET'S GIFT.

The poet looks with unsealed eyes
Upon the everchanging skies,
The vale and mountain, plain and brook
He reads like pages of a book.

His ear attuned, earth's melody,
The zephyr and the moaning sea,
The bird's song and musician's art,
All find an echo in his heart.

He feels the charm and subtle power
Contained in every wayside flower.
He is akin to all things wild,
For he is nature's simple child.

All living things to him are dear,
And God is ever very near.
To poets only this is given—
To find on earth a part of heaven.

—Henry Coyle.

A FEUD.

"I'll tell you, Frank, it's got to the point where something must be done," said Mrs. Burnett, and as she spoke she rapped at the small knuckles that were moving toward the sugar bowl. Morton, aged 9, jerked his hand out of the way and laughed at his mother, who pursed up her lips to conceal a smile.

"Don't do that, Morton," said Mr. Burnett. Then, turning to his wife, he asked, "What have they been doing now?"

"That boy and some more of his crowd put tin cans along the top of the fence and then threw at them to knock them off. About every other stone went over the top of the fence and went sailing across our back yard. If one of them had struck anybody, he wouldn't have known what hurt him."

"What did you do?"

"What did I do? I went out and told them if they didn't stop I'd send for a policeman. I said to that Deakin boy, 'It's a shame your mother can't teach you to be a little better than a savage.'"

"Maybe she didn't know they were doing it."

"I do believe she puts 'em up to it. That boy's enough to try the patience of a saint."

"Next time he comes into our yard I'll bet I throw something at him," put in Morton, whose chin was dripping with a mild mixture of milk and coffee.

"You leave him alone," said the male parent. "You get into enough fights already."

"Well, Frank, these boys are forever picking on him," said Mrs. Burnett.

"Boys are a good deal alike," responded her husband. "I'll bet when he gets out he's the same as the rest of them."

Morton grinned and said nothing.

The only member of the Burnett family who had not joined in the arraignment of the neighbors was Alice, 6 years of age. She knew all about the feud and shared in the suspicions of her mother, but at present she was too busy with her supper.

The Deakins lived next door, and although there was a dividing fence it had not kept the two families apart.

In the year during which the two households had dwelt side by side there had been a growing enmity. Yet Mrs. Burnett had never spoken a word to Mrs. Deakin, and her husband knew nothing of Mr. Deakin, except that he worked with his hands for a living and spent a great many evenings at home.

It would have been rather difficult for either the Burnetts or the Deakins to explain how the feud started, but it was operated from the first through the children.

There were two Deakin children—Lawrence, or Larry, aged 10, and little Willie, who, at the tender age of 3, had learned to regard the Burnett tribe with scorn and hatred and suffer to some degree under the indignities heaped upon his family by that arch fiend of juvenility, Morton Burnett.

For when the Deakins sat around the supper table and cast up the accounts of the day it was Larry who posed as the persecuted and abused child, while Morton Burnett was pictured as an infant of dark intents, headed straight for the bridewell.

"If I was a man, Tom Deakin," said the wife, "I'll warrant you I'd go over to that house and give notice that things are simply going too far. Today that boy got up on the fence and called Lawrence all kinds of names."

"He said that his mother had said that ma didn't have clothes fit to wear," suggested Lawrence, who had begun to breathe hard during the recital of his grievances.

"Anyway, I don't try to make myself look like a peacock every time I start to church," said Mrs. Deakin.

This comparison of Mrs. Burnett to a peacock tickled the children, and they laughed immoderately. Tom Deakin restrained them with a quiet "Tut, tut!" and said that the proper way to get along was to pay no attention to the neighbors.

"I'd like to know how you can help it," said his wife. "That boy is up to some mischief every hour of the day, and his mother seems to encourage him in everything he does. He throws things over into our yard, teases Willie and makes faces at him."

"Next time I see him pick on Willie I'll give him another licking," suggested Larry.

"You'll do nothing of the kind," exclaimed his mother. "Don't you remember the talking to I gave you the other time you had that fight with him?"

Lawrence remembered the mild rebuke, and his inward resolution was not changed. Tom Deakin went for his pipe, oppressed with the thought that he had been very unlucky in his selection of neighbors.

These complaints had come to him day after day from the downtrodden members of his family.

The feud had grown from a thousand aggravating circumstances.

Suppose Morton Burnett to be on the fence. His mother would open the back door and say loudly enough to make herself heard through the open windows of the Deakin house: "Morty, get down from that fence! Haven't I told you about that?"

Mrs. Deakin would hear and understand. Then she would wait her opportunity to appear on the back stoop and retaliate.

In summer time, when both women were out of doors much of the time, they occasionally exchanged glances which were more significant than anything they could have said.

When Mrs. Burnett put out her washing, she knew that Mrs. Deakin was watching her and counting the number of pillow slips and tablecloths.

When Mrs. Burnett came to the back door and called out, "Come, Alice, dear, and practice your music lesson," it was equivalent to saying to Mrs. Deakin, "Aha, we have a cottage organ in our house, but you haven't any in yours."

Mrs. Deakin had frequently informed Tom that the Burnett organ was a cheap secondhand thing.

One day, when Mrs. Deakin came home from a funeral in a covered carriage, there was consternation in the Burnett family, and accounts were not fairly balanced until a new coat of paint was put on the Burnett house.

The Deakin children told the Burnett children all that their mother had said about the probable character of Mrs. Burnett. Likewise the Burnett children repeated to the Deakin children all that they heard at the supper table. Mrs. Burnett knew that she was being reported to Mrs. Deakin, and Mrs. Deakin felt it her duty to learn what the viperish thing had been saying. Frank Burnett and Tom Deakin became convinced each that the other's family was probably more to blame over the fence, clothesline and garbage box issues.

Allie Burnett started to run across the street one day in front of a delivery wagon. She fell, scrambled to her feet again, and the horse's knee struck her in the back. She fell on the block pavement and lay quiet.

Mrs. Deakin saw it all from her front window. She ran into the street and gathered the muddy child in her arms. The frightened driver had left his wagon, and he followed her timidly to the front door of the Burnett house.

Mrs. Burnett screamed, and then began to cry.

"Run for a doctor, you loony!" said Mrs. Deakin to the driver as she placed the limp little body on a bed and then ran for cold water and cloths.

When the girl opened her eyes, she found her mother on one side, Mrs. Deakin on the other, while a reassuring physician smiled at her over the footboard.

"She's a little jolted up and bumped her head when she fell, but it was mostly shock," he said.

"Law me," gasped Mrs. Deakin; "when I saw that child fall, my heart just went into my throat! Don't cry, Allie; you ain't a bit hurt. The doctor says I can put some more poultice on your bad old bump."

"I'll get it," said Mrs. Burnett.

"No; you sit still. You are as pale as a ghost."

That is how it happened that Frank Burnett, coming home from the works by the back way, found in his kitchen the hated vixen, the trainer of criminals, the woman without character—Mrs. Deakin.

She told him what had happened and begged him not to frighten his wife, as there wasn't any real danger.

Mr. Deakin was likewise surprised upon arriving home. Supper was not ready, and his wife had gone over to the enemy. He went after her and was taken in.

Mrs. Deakin told him she couldn't come home because Mrs. Burnett was all upset, and some one would have to take care of the child. So Mr. Deakin and his two boys ate a cold lunch with Mr. Burnett and his boy.

Mr. Burnett sent Morton out to get two cigars, and while the women sat by the bed in the front room the men sat in the back room and smoked, while the three boys, awed by the revolution, kept very quiet.

"If Morton ever bothers you, Mr. Deakin," said Mr. Burnett, "you just let me know, and I'll tend to him."

"I was just going to say to you that Larry's apt to be too gay now and then, and if I ever hear of him picking on your children I'll make him remember it."

In the front room Mrs. Burnett was thanking Mrs. Deakin, who was hoping that her children had never bothered Mrs. Burnett very much. The little girl went to sleep, and the Deakin family went home.

That was the end of the feud. In each household there was a general order that in case of a neighborhood riot punishment should be visited upon those nearest at hand.

Those two houses, side by side, became the peace center of the west division.

The Deakin children were at liberty to go over and thump on the Burnett cottage organ.

But who ended the feud—the men, the women or the 6-year-old?—Chicago Record.

Runaway on the Ocean.

A runaway steamer must be an exceedingly unpleasant sort of sea serpent for the passengers on board her. The steamer Marchioness of Breadalbane, while making the passage from Rothesay to Gourock, met with an accident to her machinery, and the engineers were unable to stop her. The captain therefore took her out into midchannel and spun round in a circle till the steam was nearly exhausted, when the runaway was headed for Gourock, where she was secured by ropes and the rest of the steam run off.—London Graphic.

Positive as to One of Them.

"What lessons should we learn, Wendell," asked the Sunday school teacher, "from this story of demoniacal possession?"

"One of the lessons we should learn from it," replied the little Boston boy, "is that the word demoniacal is accented on the antepenultimate."—Chicago Tribune.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning April 21. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, The Three Friends.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Job ii, 11-13.

He's a slave who would not be
In the right with two or three;
He's a slave who would not choose
Hatred, slander and abuse
Rather than in silence shrink
From the truth he needs must think.
—Lowell.

The Gift of Power.

It is as true now as it ever has been that as many as receive Christ "to them He gives power to become the sons of God." The Spirit of God dwelling in the soul energizes all faculties. The mind receives enlightenment to know the will of God; the affections receive fresh impulses to love the divine truth and ways; the will power is strengthened in purpose to do the right. Impulses to evil and gratification of the lower sensual or carnal nature lose their power as one walks in the Spirit till they scarce seem to exist and finally become [illegible] nature, with its needs and appetites, still lives, and often in greater strength and beauty, but all its impulses are under control of the spiritual nature and act in harmony with the requirements of the soul. Not only is there freedom from actual wrongdoing, and hence freedom from guilt, but there are power and possession of active righteousness and holiness of nature. Even the native sinward tendency of nature is counteracted, and the positive Godward impulse alone lives in the will and possesses the heart.

Silent Influence.

In a time when men are swinging from their faith and confidence I despair of books, I despair of arguments, I despair of any special work to save men from unbelief. But no man can resist the argument of holiness brought in a personified form before him, in its gentleness, in its sweetness, in its aspiration, in its love, in all its blossoms and fruits of peace and joy. Let men see that, and they do not want to disbelieve. All their hearts are set a-yearning. No real conception of Christ is reproduced before men that they do not long to have the same thing in themselves. And out of this yearning comes aspiration, and out of aspiration comes intuition, and out of intuition comes realization, and out of realization come conversion and sanctification. So that no man preaches so much and so effectually as the man that does not speak a word, but whose whole life is one revelation of higher forms of Christian development.—Beecher.

The Holy Spirit.

All spiritual power is from the influence of the Spirit of God operating on the human nature. Working in the material world, he is manifested as physical force. In human nature he imparts moral ability or power to know right and to act right and love righteousness. As intellectual powers and spiritual ability unfold his influence is felt in quickening these soul powers into activity. He enlightens and energizes. If one chooses to follow the gracious leadings, new power is imparted until birth into full conscious spiritual life results. Yet there are higher and more glorious gifts from this same source. Pardon for actual sins committed and the testimony of acceptance and favor with God are wondrous blessings, but gifts of richer and higher degree are still stored up for the soul who earnestly longs after the full development of the divine life within.

In the Secret Place of the Most High.

F. W. Farrar tells the following as the explanation of the wondrous spiritual power of his mother. "My mother's habit was every day, immediately after breakfast, to withdraw for one hour to her own room and to spend that hour in reading the Bible, in meditation and prayer. From that hour, as from a pure fountain, she drew the strength and sweetness which enabled her to fulfill all her duties and remain unruffled by all worries and pettishnesses which are so often the intolerable trial of narrow neighborhoods."

Gaining and Giving.

In his late years John Wesley exclaimed, "Oh, that God would enable me once more, before I go hence and am no more seen, to lift up my voice like a trumpet to those who gain and save all they can, but do not give all they can." It requires talent to make money. It requires a higher degree of talent to save money. But the highest talent of all is required to use money rightly. Many get, some keep, few indeed ever acquire ability to wisely use and give.

Susannah Wesley's Grave.

The grave of the mother of the Wesleys is in Bunhill Fields cemetery, London, opposite City Road chapel. It is annually visited by thousands from all parts of the world. The spot is marked by rather a shabby stone. Its size and appearance are neither suitable. A suggestion has been made among the young Methodists of Canada that a contribution of 5 or 10 cents apiece be solicited with which to erect a suitable memorial to this mother of Methodism.

What It Means.

"The object of the League is to promote intelligent and loyal piety in the young members and friends of the church, to aid them in the attainment of purity of heart and constant growth in grace and to train them in works of mercy and help."

In Sleep.

Not drowsihood and dreams and mere idless,
Nor yet the blessedness of strength regained
Alone are in what men call sleep. The past,
My unsuspected soul, my parent's voice,
The generations of my forbears—yea,
The very will of God himself—are there,
And potent working so that many a doubt
Is wiped away at daylight, many a soil
Washed clean, many a puzzle riddled plain.
Strong, silent forces push my puny self
Toward unguessed isthes, and the waking man
Rises a Greatheart where a slave lay down.
—Richard Burton.

Death of Mrs. P. C. Mills.

The sad news is received by Adrian friends of the death of Mrs. P. C. Mills, at Nunda, N. Y. After a short seige of la grippe she passed away gently and quietly, as she had lived, without much real suffering. This intelligence is conveyed by her son, C. E. Wilcox, to her step-children, the sons and daughters of the lamented and revered Philo C. Mills. Mrs. Mills was a lady of much refinement of character—a sweet, gentle, Christian woman, a devoted, loving wife and mother—and during the brief time she lived in Adrian she greatly endeared herself to those about her. In early life she married Mr. Edwin Wilcox, of Nunda, N. Y., and after the death of Mr. Mills it was her pleasure to return to her old home, to live and there to be buried. But she carried with her the warmest love of her Michigan children, and in her loss they grieve a second time a previous mother.

The above, taken from the Adrian Times, will find a responsive echo in the hearts of many of her old friends in Tecumseh and Franklin.

Then and Now.

There was a time when he who would keep informed of the progress of knowledge, the record of discovery and invention, and the currents of human thought, could and indeed must rely chiefly if not wholly upon books. That day has passed. Books we must still read, as the crystallization and permanent embodiment of human thought and knowledge. But today it is the newspaper, the magazine, the periodical review, upon which we must chiefly depend if we would follow closely the intellectual movements of the day. And now a new difficulty has arisen. This newspaper and periodical literature has become so multitudinous and bulky as to be a heavy burden to the busy man or woman, while even the person who has leisure and inclination to read widely is often unable to get access to the current publications. Especially in the smaller cities, villages, and rural districts is the lack of such opportunity felt. It is felt by the clergymen, the teacher, the lawyer, the physician, the merchant, the artisan, the farmer and the cultured and thoughtful women of the household. With all these and many other classes of persons the great practical literary question is: How can I best supplement my indispensable home paper? It was to answer this question and meet this demand that Public Opinion now published in New York City was founded nine years ago. It selects the best, condenses it to the last degree, and serves it in convenient and attractive form.

"Where Farming Pays."

Is it in the north-west with wheat at less than 50 cents a bushel, with zero weather and blizzards in winter and cyclones in summer? No! Go to Virginia: land is cheap, climate perfect all the year round. CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

Purify the System of Catarrhal Impurities and Cure is Certain.

Spring time is most favorable to the cure of chronic catarrh. Hundreds of letters are received, testifying to extraordinary cures. Wm. Mandel, of Sleepy Eye, Minn., writes: "I have been troubled with chronic catarrh for thirty-five years and had tried nearly every catarrh cure known, until by accident I was advised by a friend to give Pe-ru-na a trial. In one week from the time I took the first dose I began to feel like a new man. I kept on using it for some time and I am entirely cured. I have no symptoms of chronic catarrh whatever. I am 74 years of age and am sure Pe-ru-na is the best medicine I ever used and would not be without it in the house for anything."

The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, of Columbus, Ohio are offering free, post paid, two medical books, one on catarrh and catarrhal diseases, the other on spring medicines and spring diseases. These books contain the very latest and most reliable information on these important subjects.

THE C. E. CONVENTION.

Fourth Semi-Annual Meeting of the Lenawee County District Union.

Many people, engrossed with secular cares, doubtless do not appreciate the proportions to which the Christian Endeavor organization of our land has grown, nor the important position it has assumed in the active working force of our Christian churches. An observation of the proceedings in our village this week would, however, convince anyone of these facts. The occasion was the fourth semi-annual meeting of the Lenawee County District Union of the Christian Endeavor. The program which was carried out, with two exceptions, was as follows:

MORNING SESSION.

Song Service.
Prayer and devotional, led by Rev. Warner, Clinton.
Music.
Address, 'Backbone of C. E.' by Rev. Chandler, Adrian.
Music.
Paper, Denominational Loyalty, by Rev. Gulick, Macon.
Business Meeting.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Singing.—Opening Prayer.
Roll Call of Societies. Response, Report of Societies.
Song—Miss Jessie Case.
Recitation, 'Prepare for the Tempest'—Miss Lida Pate, Adrian.
Paper, 'Christian Endeavor in Active Life.'—Frank Stead, Holloway.
Singing.
Paper, 'How Help Juniors Keep their Pledge.'—Rev. Spencer, Adrian.
Junior Open Hour, conducted by Miss Edith Ingersoll, Tecumseh. For Junior Supt. and Societies.
Singing.

EVENING SESSION.

Song Service.
Consecration Service, led by W. H. Strong, Detroit. Topic, 'What I have Received and what I Am Going to Do With It.'
Benediction.

The convention was held in the spacious auditorium of the Presbyterian church, which was tastily decorated for the occasion with bunting and flowers. President Frank Stead called the meeting to order with about one hundred and thirty members present. The session of the morning as well as those which followed was replete with thoughts of interest not only to those of the society but also to many others who were present. Rev. Gulick, of Macon, was unfortunately absent from the morning session, having been called to a death bed at that time.

The Lenawee County District Convention represents the unity of the local societies of this county which number thirty. Of this number twenty one responded by delegates at roll call. This represented twenty towns, there being two societies in Adrian; a remarkably good showing for one county. 165 delegates registered and about three hundred" members attended during the afternoon and evening sessions. The following are the officers of the District Union: Frank Stead, Raisin, President; Minnie Havens, Hudson, Cor. Secretary; Emma Cotton, Macon, Rec. Secretary; Edward Rawson, Rollin, Treasurer; J. S. Leland, Adrian, Chairman of Lookout Committee; great credit is due them in so carefully choosing their subjects and speakers, as the success of the meeting has shown.

A large patronage of friends interested in the Christian Endeavor swelled the attendance of the evening session to the full capacity of the church. The song service and consecration service, which was conducted by W. H. Strong, of Detroit, president of the State organization, was listened to by all with most rapt attention and satisfaction.

Visiting members were entertained in the church parlors by the local societies of the Friends and Presbyterian churches, and most worthy hosts they proved. Altogether the officers and members of the Union and Endeavorers generally are to be congratulated on the work, attendance and enthusiasm of this meeting.

Three Crops a Year

Can be grown on the same land in eastern Mississippi and southern Alabama along the line of the Mobile & Ohio railroad. The summers are cooler, the winters are milder, the death rate is lower, than in the north. Improved farms $10 to $15 per acre, unimproved land $3 to $5 an acre near railway stations. It is the best portion for raising fruits and early vegetables, stock raising and general farm crops. Lands are advancing, now is the time to buy. Very low rate excursions monthly. The Mobile & Ohio has put on two through fast trains each way daily between St. Louis and Mobile. It is the shortest and quickest route to the south. An illustrated pamphlet telling all about our country will be sent free to all who wish it. Apply to E. W. Greene, General Agent, No. 108 North Broadway, St. Louis, Mo., or to E. E. Posey, General Passenger Agent, Mobile & Ohio railroad, Mobile, Ala.

THE DEMAND FOR BICYCLES.

An Industry That Is Destined to Have An Immense Growth.

From a late copy of the Grand Rapids Herald we clip the following statistics in regard to the bicycle industry. Although still in its infancy, it has had a phenominal growth during the last three years:

It is estimated that five out of every one hundred residents of Grand Rapids are bicycle riders, and the season for buying wheels has just opened.

Every manufacturer and dealer in the country is behind with his orders and the demand continues unabated. The reason for the unprecedented boom in the wheel business lies largely in the fact that the price of high grade bicycles has been reduced 20 per cent below what they were last year. Of the estimated 4,000 riders in this city fully 500 are women and girls. The use of the wheeled steed by professional men of all classes is becoming more general every day. No less than a dozen physicians in this city have discarded the use of horses, as a rule, and many of them have sold their animals. The bicycle, they say, does not 'eat its head off' and it is always ready for use. The services of a hostler are dispensed with, along with all the annoyance and exasperating delays of this servant's inefficiency. The idea that a professional man lowers his dignity when he gets astride of a bicycle is now fast wearing away, although it has taken a long time for this impression to be overcome. Among a certain class of people who proverbially cling to old things, just because they are old, the bicycle is still unpopular. In this class may be found some physicians. They are saying something now, though, seeming to prefer to jog along in the ruts made in the bygone ages as man has fought his way to higher planes in every department of his manifold and complex nature. The ox-cart and wooden plow were good—in their day—but the steel plow and locomotive were better, even as the steam plows and electric motors are superior to the later inventions. In America where energy and unceasing activity are such factors of our civilization the bicycle is bound to be the vehicle for business and pleasure. Its cheapness at the present time has enabled hundreds of Grand Rapids mechanics to put them into use in going to and from their work. The investment is found to be economical, too, as the saying of car fare is alone a large rate of interest upon the amount of money represented.

Grand Rapids stands at the very front in the line of progress in this direction, as being the first city in the Union where the government has formally sanctioned the use of the bicycle in the postoffice department. The use of the wheels by the postal carriers of this city is in the nature of an experiment on the part of the government, and the results will be watched for with the greatest interest throughout the whole country. It is known that like experiments have been tried in some other cities, and the results have been most satisfactory. The use of the machine was not officially authorized, however, and this accounts for the absence of any statistics or reliable information upon the subject.

The number of new bicycles that has been sold at retail since January 1, is estimated in round numbers at 2,000. This estimate is based upon six of the leading dealers, and cannot be far from the actual figures. A great many wheels have been bought this year on the club plan. This plan consists of an agreement between any number of persons to buy wheels, and the order for the whole number is placed with one dealer at once, thus securing a discount which brings the price down from a retail to a wholesale price. A club has been formed of members of the Peninsular club and it bears the double appellation of 'Peninsular Club Bicycle Club.' Twenty policemen of the city have formed a club for the purchase of bicycles and it is stated that a permanent organization may result.

A number of ladies' clubs are in process of formation and their identity will probably soon be made known. Great interest in cycling has been recently aroused among the foremost society people of the city and some concerted action on their part may be looked for with certainty.

Grand Rapids is an important cycling center, as is proved by the fact that wholesale and retail buyers from all parts of the country have visited the city in large numbers since the opening of spring. There are now three factories turning out high grade wheels only and not one of them is able to keep up with its orders. The total number of men engaged in manufacturing and repairing is something more than 200. There are two good reasons why the supply of wheels is not equal to the demand this spring. First, is the fact that the demand exceeds the anticipations of the most sanguine manufacturers. They were not prepared for it and, therefore, thousands of people are waiting for the machines to leave the shops. Second, there are only two places in the United States where the steel tubing used in bicycles is manufactured. Both are in Ohio, one at Elwood and the other at Shelby. Their combined capacity is far below the present demands. Many American cycle manufacturers have been compelled to get their supply of tubing from Europe. This is the case in one of the Grand Rapids factories at present. It is believed by some of the local dealers that the spring rush is over and that factories will be filling orders promptly in a short time.

THE MAY MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Complete Announcement of the Program for Two Days of Music.

The Festival Journal, published in the interests of the Second Annual May Festival given by the Choral Union of the University of Michigan, has just been issued. The University Musical Society, an organization unique among universities—in many respects unlike anything in the world—has made an enviable record by virtue of its many ventures, as for example, the purchase of the magnificent instrument formerly known as the Columbian Organ, the building up of the University School of Music, etc., but the annual Choral Union series of concerts, culminating in a grand festival each year, have established the reputation of Ann Arbor as a musical center.

When we reflect that we have in our midst artists of world-wide reputation, one of the finest organs in the world, one of the largest choruses in the country—a School of Music which already began to be talked about in the larger eastern cities—and above all, when we realize that all these are due to the enthusiastic support of musical art by the citizens of a city of eleven thousand inhabitants, supplemented by the students of our great University—we do not think that we are assuming too much when we speak of Ann Arbor as a center of musical culture.

The facts we have just cited lend interest to the announcements contained in the Festival Journal. We find among the list of artists engaged, Lillian Nordica, the greatest American soprano, an artist who recently conquered Europe and won for herself the proud title of one of the greatest Wagner singers in the world; Miss Rose Stewart, a singer who always wins her way into the hearts of her hearers; William H. Rieger, the finest tenor in America; Max Heinrich, inimitable prince of artists, the greatest in his line of them all; Gertrude May Stein, another fine artist whose reputation has grown so marvellously within the last five years; Wm. H. Clarke, a magnificent bass singer; Clarence Eddy, the king of American organists, Martinus Sieveking, the brilliant pianist. Such an array of soloists gives to the Festival a metropolitan character.

Added to these artists, we have the magnificent Festival Orchestra, of 60 players, under the lead of that talented young conductor Emil Mollenhaur, a man whose steadily increasing reputation is a satisfaction to all who appreciate his sterling worth as a man and brilliant attainments as a musician. Besides this fine orchestra, the Choral Union of 300 voices, under the masterly training of Prof. A. A. Stanley, will be heard in that remarkable work of Hector Berlioz' 'The Damnation of Faust.'

The concerts include a Symphony Concert, on Friday evening May 17th. The Anacreon Overture, Cherubim—Vorspiel to 'Tristan and Isdote' Wagner, the 'Unfinished Symphony,' Schubert, and Tannhauser March, Wagner, (in which the Choral Union takes part) are the principal numbers. Saturday morning, May 18th, Mr. Clarence Eddy gives a recital on the grand organ. Saturday p. m., a brilliant Orchestral Matinee with a somewhat popular program will be given. In the evening, the Festival closes with the production of the 'Faust,' with the finest cast ever brought together west of New York City, viz: Lillian Nordica, Margaretha; William H. Rieger, Faust; Max Heinrich, Mephistopheles; William Clarke, Brander; Choral Union, and Festival Orchestra. Reference to the Journal shows us that the programs are artistically arranged, and contain many novelties as well as standard works.

The price for season tickets for the entire Festival has been placed at $3.50. The railroads of Michigan have agreed to sell tickets at half rate, that is an open rate of one fare for the round trip. These tickets are good until May 20th. It will be seen that this Festival is in reality a magnificent affair. The character of these musical attractions shows plainly that the managers of this enterprise have determined to leave no stone unturned to make these events of increasing importance.—Ann Arbor Courier.

GALA DAY AT DEERFIELD.

Celebrating the Seventy-Sixth Anniversary of Odd Fellowship.

A very enjoyable seventy-sixth anniversary of the Southeastern association of Michigan Odd Fellowship, was observed last Friday. Lodges were present from Dundee, Carlton, Rockwood, Maybee, Tecumseh, Ottawa Lake and Deerfield, while Monroe was represented by two lodges. Three bands helped to make the day an enjoyable one, Dundee, Blissfield and Carlton.

The procession was large and presented a very creditable appearance. The greater number of visitors arrived on a special train, which was made up at Trenton, and remained until the departure of the guests late in the evening.

The speaking was held in Burnham's hall, which was packed to overflowing. A. W. Burgess gave the address of welcome, which was responded to by Rev. L. B. Bissell, of Monroe, Rabbi L. Grossman, of Detroit, made the principal address.

The ladies' aid society, womans' relief corps, and a committee of Catholic ladies materially contributed to the success of the day by furnishing abundant and excellent refreshments.

As a whole the day will be remembered as an enjoyable success in every particular.—Adrian Times.

COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL.

This little book is one of the most extensive treatises on the money question that has ever been written. It shows up the evil effects of our present monetary system in a most emphatic manner. Every voter in Lenawee county, regardless of party affiliations, should read it. The Chicago Times says: "A book that will create a profound impression throughout the United States." The New York Recorder says: "It mercilessly scourges the money changers in the Temple of the Republic." The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "This book tells its readers more about gold, silver and currency, generally, than any other publication we know of, and in a way that every man can fully comprehend." A supply is kept on hand at the HERALD office. Single copies 25 cents. Every new advance paying subscriber to the HERALD will receive a copy free. Now is your time to get good reading cheap. Pass in your orders.

POSTPONEMENT.

To give all our subscribers a fair chance in the "sewing machine scheme," we have decided to defer the presentation one month. It will positively take place on Saturday, May 4th, next, at three o'clock p. m., at Sutton's opera house. Every person can surely pay his subscription before that date, if so disposed. Hustle in your subscriptions during April. There will be no further postponement.

One Hundred Dollars Given Away.

Here is an offer to our patrons which is well worth their careful consideration. Probably nine-tenths of our subscriptions expire during January, February and March of each year. All subscribers who shall pay for the full year 1895, prior to April 1st, will be entitled to a chance in the distribution of four sewing machines, worth one hundred dollars. These are—

A New Home,	Value,	$30 00
An Eldridge B.,	"	30 00
Weeeler & Wilson, No. 8,	"	25 00
Wheeler & Wilson, second hand.	"	15 00
Total value,		$100 00

The three machines first named are new, right from the factory. The last one has been carefully used a few months and is practically as good as new. Each paying subscriber will get a numbered receipt and that will be his number in the distribution. The few persons who have already paid for 1895 can call and get a duplicate receipt with a new number. The few subscribers who have paid in advance beyond April 1st can secure the benefit of this offer by paying in advance for the balance of the year, or until Jan. 1st, 1896. The distribution will take place at Sutton's opera house, Tecumseh, on Saturday afternoon, May 4th, 1895, at three o'clock, when the property will be formally given to our advance paid patrons, to be allotted among themselves in such manner as they may select. An expenditure of only $1.00 or $1.25 if you live outside of Lenawee county, will secure a chance for one of these premiums. This offer means business.

Clinton Column.

CLINTON, MICH., MAY 3, 1895.

Clare Kimball drove to Tecumseh Saturday.

Miss Cora Ward and Geo. Semark now ride Ramblers.

Joe Alexander is the proprietor of an Eclipse wheel.

Joe Everett returned to work at the Woolen mills this week.

It is much easier to tell what has not happened sometimes.

Gat Ellis has not moved his cigar factory into the new brick.

Congregational social last Wednesday night at the church.

Ground has not yet been broken for the new hotel on the corner.

Wallinger Bros. have moved their saloon business to Tecumseh.

Rev. Warner assisted on the program at the C. E. convention this week.

E. R. Smith's residence Thursday night.

M. G. Ettinger, formerly of Clinton, now of South Bend, is visiting in town.

E. W. Freese & Son are invoicing preparatory to making some important business changes.

Mrs. Henry Mensing and family visited Clinton friends Tuesday, before moving to Toledo.

It is doubtless quite apparent from the drought of news in this column that the HERALD has changed correspondents.

Orville Barns and Miss Jennie Lacy, both of this place, were made one by 'the tie that binds,' last Friday night, Rev. Warner officiating.

The C. E. Convention at Tecumseh Tuesday, drew quite a delegation of members and others from Clinton. Among others was Mrs. Demuth, Mrs. Niblack, Mrs. White and Miss Hause.

Mrs. Jno. Jenkins arrived in town Monday with a first-class photograph gem car. It is the same well known Sink car whose work already adorns the albums and bric-a-brac of many homes.

Thos. Woodward has received a car load of the superior Albion flour to stock up his new flour and feed store. The new brick already has the appearance of a grist mill in full operation.

Clinton has been threatened with a protracted drought. The saloon bonds have been raised to $5,000 by the council. However, marshal are persistent in some things and the town will probably escape such a sad fate.

Two car loads of lumber were received the first of the week for Smith and Huntington's building on the corner. We expect the foundation is well under way ere this, providing they have been able to locate the exact geographical corner which is supposed to exist near the spot.

FRANKLIN FACTS.

The cheese factory at Tipton is doing a thriving business.

Dell Whelan sheered sheep for E. C. Wisner the first of the week.

Mr. Crane was in this vicinity Monday in the interest of the cheese factory.

The spooning parties that perambulated Evans Creek have had fairly good luck.

It is said that one of our citizens caught a bushel of fish in Evans lake recently.

Mrs. Frank Marshall and sons drove to her brother James McCook's Saturday, returning Sunday.

Hudson Davenport has gone to Bay City, where he has secured a lucrative position in machine works.

Mrs. McCook, mother of Mrs. Marshall, was very sick last week with heart trouble. She was much better Sunday.

Wonder if Prof. Stump don't teach 'em to read writing too. Some correspondents heartily wish that all compositors would patronize the school.

A party of ladies botanizing in the woods, discovered an enormous snake, so they say. It must have been like the Irishman's snake a 'quare bird' for some of them say it was blue, while others insist that it was green. All agree as to its immense size.

We learn from a correspondent at Ypsilanti that L. S. Loomis was prize winner in the mock congress debate, that Hon. Cyrus G. Luce, Hon. Washington Gardner, Hon. Junius E. Beal were the judges, that speeches were made by Luce and Gardner.

Wm. Beebe returned from Chicago with two car loads of cows. Among the lot are a number of thoroughbred Holstein's, some of the cows registered. Such cattle of course commanded fancy prices. The cattle were not selected in the city but from the large dairy and milk farms of Illinois.

SIGNAL TRIUMPHS WON.

By Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

Two signal triumphs have been achieved by Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. First it received Highest Award and Diploma at the World's Columbian Exposition of 1893. Next it secured Highest Award and Gold Medal at the California Midwinter Fair of 1894. At both Fairs it surpassed all competitors in every respect. The award, in each instance, was for strongest leavening power, perfect purity and general excellence. It was sustained by the unanimous vote of the judges.

The victory at Chicago establishes the supremacy of Dr. Price's as "The Foremost Baking Powder in the World." The triumph at San Francisco confirms and emphasizes it.

An Old Rhyme Reset.

'Affliction sore long time she bore
Physicians were in vain.'
At last one day, a friend did say,
'You'd soon be well again'

if you would take, as I did, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for that is the cure for all the peculiar ailments of women. It is safe, simple and sure remedy. It banishes those distressing maladies that make woman's life a burden, curing all painful irregularities, uterine disorders, inflammations and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. As a nervine it cures nervous exhaustion, prostration, debility, relieves mental anxiety and hypochondria and induces refreshing sleep.' She took the advice and is well. CATARRH OF THE KIDNEYS

Sometimes Called Bright's Disease—Dr. Hartman's Latest Lecture.

In the course of a recent lecture at the Surgical Hotel Dr. Hartman said:

"Catarrh of the Kidneys is a very common disease, growing more and more common each year. The symtoms are pain in the back; scanty, high colored urine, containing albumen and various sediments; nausea and sometimes vomiting; puffiness of the face and feet; dropsy of legs, shortness of the breath and general weakness, pallor and dryness of the skin, chilly feelings, alternating with fever and sleeplessness. "A tablespoonfull of Pe-ru-na should be taken before each meal, between meals, and at bedtime, and enough Man-a-lin at night to produce one natural action of the bowels each day. When the disease is of long standing heated Pe-ru-na should be applied to the back in addition to the above treatment, and the diet consist principally of milk and dry toast. Avoid liquors and tobacco."

MEDICAL BOOKS FREE.

The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co. of Columbus' Ohio, are offering free post-paid, two medical books, one on catarrh and catarrhal diseases, the other on spring medicines and spring diseases. These books contain the very latest and most reliable information on these important subjects.

For free book on cancer address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follows its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Orr & Temple's Drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Well, George, I suppose we will go to the lake again this summer? Well, no, my dear. Now that you have a baby, I don't think, we'd better. Squalls are always dangerous in lake regions.

Be Your Own Doctor.

For one dollar get a bottle of Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure. It will last for three months and is absolutely guaranteed by your druggist.

Doctors say the only way to cure Catarrh and Hay fever is by inhalation. We have worked for years to accomplish a good simple method for inhaling medicine, and offer Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure, which is used by this new method, to the public, and guarantee it to cure any case, no matter of how long standing. One bottle is all you need to accomplish a cure. It will last for three months. Ask your druggist or address THE MAYERS DRUG CO.

'In all my career,' said an eminent statesman, 'I can say that I have never done anything to be ashamed of.' 'You mean,' sneered the cynic, that you have never done anything you were ashamed of.'

Speech Restored.

For five years I suffered with pain and discharge of the throat, hacking cough, frontal headache, weak eyes, etc., at times could not talk above a whisper; lost weight continually, and not able to be at work. I was treated by the best physicians in the country, but received no relief. After giving up all hope I was recommended to use a bottle of Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure. After using it for four weeks my speech returned. All symptons of catarrh have disappeared and I feel like a different person.'

A Valuable Find.

After years of study and labor, there has at last been discovered a sure and never-failing remedy. It has been tested on patients who have despaired of ever being cured, the results have been, in every case, wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of chronic and acute inflamatory rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia; especially ovarian neuralgia, dysmenorrhœr and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable blood purifier, being especially useful in eczema, psoriasis, scrofula, all glandular enlargements and diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by Orr & Temple, Tecumseh, Mich.

One application of Thomas' Eclectric Oil takes away the pain of the most severe burn. It is an ideal family liniment. 1w

TOO MUCH WORK

For a Healthy Existence.—That's Why the Kidneys so often Fail.

Nature has provided a certain amount of work for every organ of the human body; overtax them and disease eventually follows. There is not one portion of our organism that is so overworked as the kidneys; on them is placed the important function of filtering the blood of the impurities which naturally form in the regular action of life and digestion. The kidneys are consequently termed the sewerage of the system; clog up this sewer, and the blood becomes tainted with poisonous uric acid, which brings on disease in many forms. The back is the first to show this stoppage. From there comes the warning note; it should be heeded, and the kidneys receive prompt attention. Doan's Kidney Pills will right the action of the kidneys quickly, relieve the back of pains and aches, and cure all troubles of kidneys and bladder. Read the following:

Mr. Wm. Nelson is a well-known business man of Kalamazoo, he resides at 822 Portage Street, and his business is that of a grain buyer. He says:

"For five years I have suffered from an inability to urinate, which resulted from what was said to be a stoppage of the bladder. During these years I have taken mineral and electric baths and used other means in expectancy of getting better, but they all proved unavailing. Some months ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I had heard highly recommended, and I can now say that the flattering reports were not greater than they deserved. I got better right along, and I am free from any trouble now. I feel better than I have done for three years past. If Doan's Kidney Pills were well known all over they would do an immense amount of good."

Sold by all dealers—price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Irate Customer: 'See here! All my friends are laughing at this bargain suit I bought of you. They say it is a mile too big.' Dealer (gently): 'Mine friend, I know de clothing pessness better dan your friends do. Shust you wait till it rains.'

High Prices Must Go.

The idea of paying $25 to $75 per acre for land that is improved and with only a prospect of making a living is preposterous.

The chances for selling such farms at an advance are limited.

The C. S. Graves Land Company, R. 311, 56, 5th Ave, Chicago, is offering fine farming land, unimproved, in Central Wisconsin (see advertisement in this paper) at such low rates and on such favorable terms that prices will increase from year to year. This land is located within easy reach of good markets with plenty of fuel, good water and excellent schools, and is selling at from $5 to $10 per acre. 1w

THAT'S QUEER!

You say a collar and cuff that are waterproof?
Yes.
And perspiration will not affect them?
Yes.
And when dirty you need only wipe them off with a wet cloth or sponge?
Yes.
Wonderful! How are they made?
A linen collar covered on both sides with waterproof "CELLULOID." Looks exactly like a linen collar.
Is it the only waterproof collar and cuff made?
No, but it is the only one made with the linen interlining and consequently the only one that can give entire satisfaction, because it is the best.
How can I know that I get the right kind?
Because every piece is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Inquire for that and refuse anything else, or you will be disappointed.
Suppose my dealer does not have them?
He probably has, but if not, send direct to us, enclosing amount. Collars 25c., Cuffs 50c. State size, and whether collar wanted is stand-up or turned-down.

a discovery of the greatest possible benefit to mankind was made in medicine. Physicians universally recognized its beneficent results and welcomed it as one of the most valuable remedial agents that has been developed in medicine, because it covered such a wide range of usefulness and brought into requisition the most remarkable food-medicine in existence. This discovery was

LATER EXCESSES IN MANHOOD

MAKE NERVOUS, DISEASED MEN

THE RESULT of ignorance and folly in youth, overexertion of mind and body, indiscretion by lust and exposure are constantly wrecking the lives and ruining the happiness of thousands of promising young men. Some fade and wither at an early age, others at the blossom of manhood, while others are forced to drag out a weary, fruitless and melancholy existence. Others reach matrimony but find no solace or comfort there. Such victims are found in all stations of life: The farm, the office, the workshop, the learned professions, the trades and the professions.

NOT MORE

My life has found its noonlike, and my days
Have gone in quiet by to outward gaze,
In such side places have my feet been set,
So few of all my fellows have I met,
So small the ground my scanty strength could gain
To hold and till. What wonder if the grain
I reap is told by shore and slender sheaves,
And if where flowers might bloom are only leaves,
Yet shall I sorrow that my friends are few,
That wealth I have not, that my power to do
Is held in narrow bounds? The power to be
Is mine, unchained, to-morrow as to-day,
As winged wind that blows across the night
Or morning sunshine on a mountain height.
So I, deed poor, also have whereof to yield
To you, brave worker, in newsier field.
If what I am has blessed your lot, my own,
I ask no more than my still life has known.

—Aurilla Parker in Housekeeper.

A PRIMEVAL STORY.

Chug did not know that he belonged in the post tertiary period of the world as he stood beside the tawny waters of a great inland sea whose waves gently washed the warm shores of the young earth.

He was in Kansas, although he was not aware of it, although as he stood he looked off into the northwest anxiously for the clouds that would bring rain to break the drought.

The little brook which now winds through the valley where he stood is a mere glimmering ghostlet of its mighty post tertiary predecessor, the sea.

Chug was young and litho and stalwart, like the machairodus of the cataclysmic caves. His whole body was hard as wood and covered with a coat of thick nut brown hair that harmonized with the reddish beard that flowed over his broad chest as that of a post tertiary Peffer.

His heavy mane of weather beaten locks had never felt a hat.

About his loins from one shoulder was draped the skin of a cave lion.

A ponderous mace of flint lashed by leather thongs to the handle lay at his feet.

Chug, who derived his name from the sound of the mighty blow with which he smote to death the cave lion whose hide he wore, was not thinking of the pterodactyl from which he narrowly escaped the night before.

Nor did he notice the cyclopean crocodiles in the sea.

His thoughts were sad and roamed afar

At a distance, too great for his computation, he had been born amid a little clan of post tertiarians.

A strange impulse, such as his brothers and sisters had never known, came over him.

The monosyllable conversation of his kin made him tired. Chug was wont to twine wild flowers in his hair and wear sandals of woolly hippopotamus hide.

"Spat-Spat," a young woman who could skin an Irish elk quicker than any woman of the clan and who scorned the luxury of sandals or robes of hide, one day pointed her reeking finger at Chug as she paused in her work and cried contemptuously, "Dude, dude!"

"You didn't say 'dude' when I saved you from the claws of the ichthyosaurus!" retorted Chug and passed on.

Thus Chug gathered up his weapons and went forth alone and wandered from his own fireside.

Long he had pondered over the mystery of life.

He had repeated in his sleep the refrain, "There are others."

If his clan existed, he argued, why not other clans somewhere?

Was it not possible that in their society he could lose that tired feeling which had so oppressed him?

But moons had come and waned, he had traversed unknown leagues of morass and forest, crossed the tide of rushing rivers, and still nothing but packs of great hyenas, trumpeting mammoths, giant graminivorous and carnivorous mammalia and monstrous reptiles and amphibia.

Man was nil, and woman existed not.

If Chug had lived nowadays, he would have known what troubled his breast.

He would have found love in the eyes of beauty and become happy.

Poor Chug did not understand love. His soul yearned unconsciously.

His thoughts went back homeward.

It had not been quite so bad there as in this solitude.

He thought of how he built a house for his mother of the ribs of a horned iguandon that in life was 70 feet long, with legs thick as the fluted columns of a Corinthian temple.

He recalled how he used to arise early and build the fire, and how he once had mashed his finger while chopping kindling with the old stone ax.

An idea came to him as he stood there looking across the great sea.

Why not float upon its bosom on a raft and mayhap come upon another people?

Chug worked with feverish fervor, and in two days was launched upon his hazardous journey.

But, alas, as he was putting to shore a few days thereafter, an air breathing, cold blooded pleiosaurus, which was hidden in the reeds, suddenly shot its horrible head at him, its long, flexible neck seeming like a monstrous serpent.

Chug pushed away madly, tore himself loose from the jagged jaws, but fainted across his raft, and the tawny waters bore it out to sea, the rude funeral car of a post tertiary hero.

For days the apparently dead voyager floated.

His system stood the strain, and the spark of life remained due to the fashion of the time of eating but once a week or so.

Chug had dined the day prior to his misadventure.

Old Chief Tushe-tushe of the fishermen at the mouth of the river, now known as the Arkansas, intercepted the raft and found Chug.

After due consideration among the tribe it was decided to put him to death.

The Tushe-tushes had dwelt by the sea many generations, and the legends gave their origin as the children of a gigantic mastodonsaurus which had formerly infested the coast.

Their village was on the site of the present city of Wichita, somewhere near the soap works, and was laid out in town lots even into the bed of the sea.

They were brown skinned, beardless, and with hair black as the alluvial soil and stiff as the whiskers of the giant post tertiary leopard.

Their numbers had brought about many improvements in the mode of living, such as wearing loin cloths of native grasses and the hanging of shells from the ear and nose.

For generations the fashion of flattening the forehead had prevailed.

Chug had small hands and feet, was hairy as a cavedion and were whiskers, and besides his head was not flattened.

Such a monstrosity could not be permitted to live.

The natural curiosity of the Tushetushes, however, impelled them to nurse Chug to life to see what he was like when well.

The task of nursing Chug fell to Sunbird, the only daughter of the old chief.

She marveled at the brawny proportions of the strange voyager.

She whiled away the long hours by plaiting his whiskers and grooming his brown fur until he shone like a blooded carriage horse.

Sunbird was young and impressionable.

She had been wooed by every youth of the clan, had listened for awhile, and then repulsed every man of them.

No woman of the tribe was so beautifully shaped as Sunbird, nor was there so smart a flathead among the Tushetushes.

She had a Trilby foot and the shoulders of a Lillian Russell.

Her old father loved her devotedly, still he chided her.

"You are getting much too gay for the tribe, my precious darling," he would say in his blunt, rough way.

During Chug's convalescence his days were sweet with newness.

Instead of bullet headed Spat-Spat, covered with fur like a megatherium, here was a creature with a head like a triangle, and with a graceful figure, smooth and soft to the touch, and the broiled steak of post tertiary reindeer was charming to his palate.

The vocabulary of the language of Chug and Sunbird contained but 600 words and nurse and invalid could soon converse.

So happy was Chug that he hated to tell the story of the passion which filled his heart, and he reserved it from day to day.

But his stalwart form trembled with emotion as Sunbird's hand gently smoothed the fur of his broad shoulders.

When Sunbird's father comprehended the trend of affairs he did not grate his teeth because, as a matter of fact, he was a fish eater and toothless.

But he spoke his mind.

"Come—the pig is up!" he shouted, and dragged Chug to the place of execution.

This denouement astonished Chug so much that he was pinioned by withes of elastic bush before he could make up his mind to resist.

The executioner brandished a ponderous dinotherium fusk, when Sunbird dashed through the throng of Tushetushes and wrested it from him.

"Stand back!" she shrieked, with the furious mien of a post tertiary saber toothed tigress robbed of her cubs.

"I love him, and if he dies I d-i-e with him!" cried Sunbird as the tribesmen wavered before her as before the awful presence of a 50 foot high pterodactyl.

"What! that hairy animal with small hands and feet and little round head—that Populist freak!" yelled the old chief.

"I love him because he is so different from other men, papa. He is so perfectly unconventional!" replied Sunbird.

"That's all right," said old Tushetushe as he released Chug and blessed his children. "It will be my turn to laugh when you want a divorce, young woman! Remember that Chicago is only 20,000 years hence!"

But Chug eventually became chief of the tribe, and through his example the people became exceedingly mild mannered and took to whisker raising.—Kansas City Star.

He Mistrusted His Sex.

A Durham miner, aged 73, visited a Newcastle lawyer, a bachelor, for the purpose of making his will. The old man's property consisted of two small cottages, which had cost him £150, and a little furniture.

The lawyer having asked his client how he wished to dispose of his property, the latter replied:

"Ma auld woman hes to hov all so laug as she's ma widdow. Efther that ma hairns gets all."

"What age is your old woman?" asked the lawyer.

"Seventy-two," replied the miner.

"And how long have you and your wife been married?" asked the lawyer.

"Over 50 years," replied the miner.

Thereupon the lawyer suggested to his client that he should give the wife the interest during her life, whether she continued a widow or otherwise.

"Hinney, I winnot. I'll hev me aan way," said the miner.

"But, surely," replied the lawyer, "you don't expect your old woman, now 72 years old, would marry again after your death?"

The miner, looking the lawyer full in the face, answered, with much solemnity:

"Wey, hinney, thor's nae knaning what young cheps like yourself will do for money."—London Tit-Bits.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning April 7. Conducted by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, Job's Piety and First Trial.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.—Job 1, 1-22.

Three months have been spent in the study of Old Testament symbols and New Testament interpretations. In all the worship of tabernacle and temple we found that the Christ of God was foreshadowed as high priest and sacrifice for sin. "Christ In All" was the topic of the quarter. It is appropriate that we now consider the subject of "Man Sinning and Suffering," which is the topic of the Bible study for the next three months. The lessons are taken from the book of Job. This is one of the most interesting books in all the volume of Christian Scriptures. It will well repay careful study. Many commentaries and explanations have been written, but nothing can be a substitute for careful reading and thought upon the word itself.

Much useless speculation has been expended on the question, "Was Job a real person?" Are the first chapter of the book and the conclusion of the last chapter true as history, or are the facts related imaginary? Endless debate can be indulged on these points, but all to little profit. The value of the book lies deeper than these things. The problem of human suffering and divine justice is the all absorbing theme. It is the question which has pressed for solution in all ages since men began to think of an Almighty Governor in the affairs of men. What is the relation of suffering to sin, and how does God stand over against the world of men in these things?

All piety and reverence are involved in the issue. What the man is in religious character will depend largely upon the view he takes of these matters. The lesson for this week opens the drama with disasters which wrecked the material prosperity of Job. Under all his trials and losses and sorrows he still preserves his integrity and trusts unwaveringly in God. In devout submission he recognizes God as righteous. "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord."

Work or Die.

No chapter ever died of overwork. Some are in danger of dying of paralysis. Every one should do something in each department. Not all members can be interested in every branch of work, but each can do something. It is a serious mistake to entirely neglect any one of the great departments. A chapter which works exclusively in the devotional line and holds only prayer meetings may be much less spiritual than it would be if literary and social work also received attention. It is dangerous to starve any part of the nature. Narrowness is no mark of piety and may lead to censoriousness and even bigotry. Intelligent piety is our aim. The well rounded League is the strong League.

In Other Lands.

A chapter of the League was recently organized in Belfast, Ireland. This is the most Methodistic and thrifty town in the island. In Japan the native preachers are much interested in League work. Dr. Sturatz has been appointed secretary for India and Malaysia. One hundred charters have been forwarded to him to be issued to chapters in that field. A League paper is to be issued in Norwegian language. The constitution, bylaws and pledges have been translated into Spanish, Italian, Japanese and Norwegian, and charters will be issued in those languages. The German Leagues are numerous and full of zeal. We have several junior Leagues in Mexico, Norway and China.

Practical Mercy and Help.

One of our Leagues recently furnished the physicians of the city with 100 postal cards, accompanied with this request: "DEAR DOCTOR:—Please use these cards to inform us of cases which come under your observation where we can serve the needy or suffering. We will gladly furnish delicacies of any kind, medicine or watchers when needed. We offer our services without regard to the church affiliations of those who need our help."

This is a sample of the ways our young people are finding to make their sympathy with the suffering really helpful.

Getting Ready.

Chattanooga is preparing for a grand convention in June. The portraits of the local committee are published in a recent issue of The Epworth Era. The hotels on Lookout mountain and the homes of the citizens will be utilized. Some are planning to camp out on the mountain. A good time is assured all who attend. Reduced fares on all railroads are secured, and many excursions are planned. It will be such an occasion as was never before seen. It will be a meeting not for sentimentality, but there will be plenty of deep, true Christian sentiment.

The Ministry of Pain.

Mysterious it often seems that we are called to suffer so much pain of body and perplexity of mind. When tempted to despondency, it is strengthening to remember that Christ suffered more for us, and that his Spirit will give grace for every hour of trial. Pain becomes blessed to us if it only brings the consciousness of his favors.

Spiritual Work.

All work should be truly spiritual. Mercy and help, literary and social, and surely the financial work should have the deep true spirit of devotion pervading and consecrating all.

Cheerfulness.

'Tis well to work with a cheerful heart
Wherever our fortunes call,
With a friendly glance and an open hand
And a gentle word for all.

Since life is a thorny and difficult path,
Where toil is the portion of man,
We all should endeavor while passing along
To make it as smooth as we can.

MORTGAGE SALE.

ON the thirty-first day of January, 1891, Charles Shaler and Rosa Shaler mortgaged to Henry Smith all those certain pieces or parcels of land situated in the township of Macon, in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: All that part of the southeast quarter of section twenty-nine (29) of town five (5) south of range five (5) east, bounded as follows: Beginning at the southeast corner of said section and running thence north on the east line of said section seventy-four (74) rods; thence west on the south line of land now, or formerly, owned by one Talbot, and on the south line of Linton's land, forty-nine (49) rods to the southwest corner of said Linton's said land; thence north on west line of said Linton's land twenty-six (26) rods to Sherman's land, formerly so called; thence west on south line of said Sherman's land fourteen and two-thirds (14⅔) rods to the southwest corner thereof; thence north on the west line of said Sherman's land sixty (60) rods to the north line of said quarter section; thence west on north line of said quarter section fifty-six (56) rods to Miller's land; thence south on east line of said Miller's said land one hundred and sixty (160) rods to the south line of said section; thence east on the south line of said section one hundred and twenty (120) rods to the place of beginning; containing ninety-two (92) acres of land, more or less, also, all that part of section twenty-eight (28) of town five (5) south of range five (5) east bounded as follows: Beginning at the point of intersection of the center line of the Ridge road with the west line of said section; thence southeasterly at right angles with said Ridge road eight (8) rods; thence southwesterly twenty-three (23) rods to the southwest corner of said section; thence north on west line of said section to place of beginning; to secure the payment of four thousand dollars ten years from the date thereof, with interest at seven per cent per annum, payable annually. Which mortgage was, on the 12th day of February, 1891, recorded in the register of deeds' office for the county of Lenawee, Michigan, in Liber 115, of Mortgages, on pages 398, etc., and said mortgage contains a provision that, in case any default be made in the payment of said interest or any part thereof on any day whereon the same is made payable, as above expressed, and should the same remain unpaid and in arrears for the space of thirty days, then the aforesaid principal sum of four thousand dollars, with all arrearages thereon, shall, at the option of said parts of the second part, his executors, administrators or assigns, become and be due and payable immediately thereafter.

Default having been made in the payment of the interest to the amount of twelve hundred, ninety-five and 89-100 dollars, and the same having remained unpaid and in arrear for more than thirty days, the undersigned mortgagee hereby elects to declare, and does hereby declare, the whole amount due both principal and interest, amounting at the date of this notice to the sum of five thousand, two hundred, ninety-five and 89-100 dollars, and no proceedings at law or in equity have been taken for the recovery of said sum or any part thereof.

Notice is therefore hereby given that, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute of the state of Michigan in such case made and provided, for the purpose of realizing the moneys so due and unpaid on said mortgage, and the interest thereon from the date of this notice hereafter to become due, the costs and expense of this foreclosure and sale, and the attorney's fee provided by law, the said above described lands and premises will be sold at public vendue to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house in the city of Adrian, Lenawee county, Michigan, (that being the place where the circuit court for said county of Lenawee is holden,) on the twenty-second day of June 1895, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated March 29, 1895.

HENRY SMITH, Mortgagee.
CHARLES BURRIDGE, Attorney for Mortgagee.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss

At a session of the Probate Court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Monday, the 4th day of March, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five

Present, Richard B. Robbins, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of William Totten, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition duly verified of Jacob Totten, a brother of said deceased, praying that administration of the estate of said deceased may be granted to Berkley Griffin, of Dover, Lenawee county, Michigan, or to some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that Tuesday, the 23 day of April next, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate Office in the city of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendancy of said petition and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

Leon McRoberts, who has been working Uncle George Pocklington's farm for the past two years, has moved on to a farm of his own near Lansing. Oral Freer left with the car containing the household goods, farm tools and cows, on the local freight Wednesday.

EDITOR HERALD.—I received a copy of a publication mailed from Britton, and purporting to be the Britton Journal, devoted to the business and social interests of Britton and vicinity, containing a paragraph, the author of which makes himself quite familiar with my name, saying that "Frank DePuy is greatly exercised over a problem, now it is there is usually so many Irish on the republican ticket, and now, lo and behold! an Irishman is at the head of the democratic ticket in his own town," signed, 'One of the Irish.

And now for the benefit of that "One of the Irish" I ask Just a little space. I am not exercised nor even interested why or how the Irish get on the republican ticket. To the average mind it's plain enough the democrats don't want them, and the probibs won't have them, consequently they have no other place to go since the Fenian organization was broken up by the strong hand of the law. In our town to which they swarmed from the potato fields of Ireland, they own the republican ticket as to the petty offices, such as drain commissioner, etc. but have never been able yet to put one of their number on the head of the ticket, with one exception, that was when they elected John Boyd, a man eminently qualified for the position.

An Irishman at the head of the democratic ticket. Yes, we expected the republicans to nominate an Irishman, and we were going to "fight the devil with his kind." The equasion would have been to reduce majorities. Irishman represent democratic ticket—Irishman represent republican ticket—plus town meeting—wake, results two less voters.

In conclusion, I want to give this he, she, or it, who signs "One of the Irish," a little advice, and, I want he, she or it to ruminate on it. The Town of Macon is democratic; the better element in the town came to the polls in '93 and turned the thieving gang down and out. Since which time we have paid little attention to potatoes only to make equasions to reduce majorities. POINDEXTER.

SCISSORS AND QUILL.

Clippings and Condensations From our County Contemporaries.

Miss Eunice Welch, a maiden lady, 80 years of age living alone about a mile and a half south of Palmyra village, was found dead on Saturday. She was last seen alive on Thursday.

The bloomer craze has not yet struck Hudson. Even the lady bicyclists are content to wear the old-fashioned skirts. Hudson ladies may not be progressive in this respect, but they are mighty sensible.

The best way to dispose of coal ashes is to use them on the walkways and paths. They soon make a hard surface. For filling up holes on the road they are excellent, and it will pay to collect them for such work.

The Hudson cheese factory began operations on Monday. The first day's product was an even half dozen of excellent cheese.—Hudson Gazette.

No trouble to make an even half dozen. It's when they make an odd half dozen, that the fact is worthy of note, neighbor.—Adrian Press.

A four-year-old son of Henry Bernholtz, of Riga, thought to have some fun with a calf and set the bushy end of its tail on fire. He had the fun, but the calf was badly burned, and so also was a straw stack. When the boy's father tanned the seat of his pants the youngster concluded there wasn't so much fun after all.

Many months ago J. R. Skutt, of Wheatland, had a pig which had one great failing. It ate so much that there was danger of making a hog of itself. As it ate and grew it assumed immense proportions, so that when it was sold last Saturday to Chas. Price it weighed 590 lbs., and Mr. Skutt's pocket book bulged out $23.60. Moral: The habit of making a hog of one's self almost always terminates fatally.—Hudson Post.

The clerical force in the court house and abstract office have noticed that much time and expense has been given to the instruction of agriculturists, horticulturalists and dairymen during the last few months and they are about to raise a fund to secure a teacher in penmanship to give instructions to Hank Smith, Alanson Bennett, Frank Priddy and D. B. Morgan, of our city, and John Riley, of Blissfield, Walter Burridge, of Tecumseh, and several others in outlying districts, and sincerely trust that they may improve so much that their writing can be read. Bennett and Burridge rather insist that a lady teacher be secured.—Adrian Telegram.

Last winter Carland & Head bought hay at Britton and some of the obligations were not paid. Geo. L. Snydam sued Mr. Carland for a balance of about $59. The case was tried in Justice Owen's court Monday afternoon, and a judgment for the amount was rendered after a bitter fight.—Dundee Ledger.

Yes, these are the chaps who brought suit against George Smith, one of the leading business men of Britton, charged with theft, and having him arrested in Toledo, O., but they finally abandoned the prosecution, and failed in their scheme to bleed him. It was the most outrageous case of malicious prosecution that ever came up in the county, and we hope he may yet bring them to account for it. Mr. Smith had done absolutely nothing to warrant the arrest or the complaint, and the prosecution was a most glaring abuse of judicial power.—Adrian Press.

Fast Time to the South.

The Mobile & Ohio Railroad has put on a double daily fast train service between St. Louis and the South. This makes the Mobile & Ohio the quickest as it is now the shortest route to Memphis, New Orleans, Mobile, Birmingham, and all Florida winter tourist points. All trains are equipped with Pullman Palace Buffet Drawing Room Sleepers and handsome easy riding day coaches. The Mobile & Ohio has always been popular with the traveling public, and this fast train service will make it still more so.

The C., J. & M. Extension.

Mr. Williams, the chief engineer of the C., J. & M. Railway Co., spent Tuesday and Wednesday making a personal inspection of the line surveyed by Brooklyn citizens for the extension of the roads of his company, (the M. & O. and the C. J. & M.) from Devil's Lake to Jackson. Mr. Williams was pleased with the easy construction and good grades which the route would afford. The claims of the projectors of the line were fully sustained. Mr. Williams said that he should make a favorable report of the route to the board of directors of his company. As to the immediate construction of the extension to Jackson there has been much favorable talk among the officials of the company, but he hopes and expects that there soon will be.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Senator Quay is in Florida, and it is expected that he will catch his usual large string of tarpon stories.

SNEDICOR.

Died, at his home in Macon, April 23, of heart failure, Philetus Snedicor, aged nearly 77 years. Deceased was born in Orange county, N. Y., May 18, 1818, and fourteen years later removed with his father to Monroe county, Mich. January 14, 1839, he married Prudence Morrison, of his native place. They settled on a farm three miles from Monroe city, which was afterward developed into a pleasant, comfortable home. Three children were born to them; John N., of Cherokee, Iowa; William N., of Howell, Mich.; Mrs. Mary J. TenEyck, of Macon; all of whom are living. Philetus was the youngest of seven brothers, now all deceased. He was the last one of his generation. In his prime he was a man of strong frame and robust health. His life was one of unselfish toil. He has been in poor health for some time, though not confined to the house. On the day of his death he was about the house and yard, seemingly no worse than usual; but in the early evening he suddenly grew worse and at eight o'clock the wheels of life stood still—the tired body was at rest. The funeral services were held at the M. E. church in Macon on Friday, April 26 Rev. D. H. Ramsdell, of Clinton, officiating. His children were all present at his funeral, as were also the eldest and youngest members of the succeeding generation, namely: Artemas D. Snedicor, of Ypsilanti, and Charles H., of Tecumseh. His body rests in the Tecumseh Cemetery beside that of his wife who crossed the river some eleven years ago. If his epitaph is ever written may it be, "He hath done what he could."

Rev. Frank Hoyt will give his celebrated lecture entitled 'The Maccabees under the Search Light,' at the opera house next Tuesday evening. Seventy-eight stereopticon views will be shown. Not only Maccabees, but outsiders as well, will be interested in this lecture. Admission free.

The hall was crowded Friday evening on the occasion of the repetition of Rev. Frank Hoyt's stereopticon lecture on 'K. O. T. M. Up to Date.' The largely increased audience and the fact that so many attended the first presentation were glad to pay their money to enjoy a repetition of the same lecture is the best possible proof of the entertainment. Mr. Hoyt is a speaker of such eloquence that it would require nothing but his word pictures to interest an audience, and with the wonderful life-like views to illustrate his language, his power over his listeners is unbroken. The lecture opens with an interesting history of the ancient Maccabees, profusely illustrated. Then there are side-splitting burlesque initiation views. What it means to be a Maccabee is made impressive by pictures as well as words, and the pitiful pictures of misery and wretchedness by which the lecturer portrays what it means not to be a Maccabee, brought tears to many strong men's eyes.—Independent Democrat, Petosky, Mich., Feb. 1, 1895.

OBITUARY.

The following notice is taken from the Dundee, N. Y. Observer. The deceased was a resident of Tecumseh and Ridgeway many years ago, and many of the older residents of these towns will remember him. He was a shoemaker by trade and worked for B. J. Bidwell for some time. He then served thro' the war and in 1866 moved to New York state.

In this village, on Sunday, March 24, 1895, George W. Dense, in the 69th year of his age.

Deceased was born in Starkey, Aug. 20, 1826, and with the exception of a few years' residence in Michigan, about 35 years ago, he has passed his days in the home of his childhood. Mr. Dense was twice married, his first wife being Mary Ann Mattison. Three children were born of this marriage, but only one is now living, Frank, who resides in Toledo, Ohio. His first wife died Aug. 5, 1857. In March, 1858, while residing in Michigan, he married Lizzie R. Stone, who survives him. Two children were born to them but both are dead.

Mr. Dense was a veteran of the late war, having joined the army while in Michigan. He enlisted Oct. 8, 1861, in Company K, Third Michigan Cavalry, and served his country honorably and faithfully for four years. He was a charter member of Cook Post, No. 71, G. A. R., and filled important offices in his Post.

At the early age of 21 Brother Dense was made a Mason. For twenty five years he served as Junior Deacon of Dundee Lodge, having resigned the position last January on account of failing health. He was at once made an honorary member of the Lodge, in recognition of his faithful and valued services.

Deceased followed the occupation of drayman. For twenty five years this was his chief business, and until the construction of the Fall Brook road he did business between Dundee and Starkey. Upon the opening of that road he dropped the Starkey route, and confined himself to village service. He handled all the freight and express matter for every business man in Dundee. He made all collections, and thousands of dollars of other people's money passed through his hands. Not a penny of it was ever misplaced. He was strictly honest, a true Christian, and a man respected by everyone. Instead of wealth, he has left behind him that which is far better,—a good name, a clean record, and an example worthy the emulation of all.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the M. E. church, of which he was a member. The services at the grave will be under the auspices of the Masons, with the Grand Army Post acting as an escort. Burial in Hillside. During the funeral services the business places of the village will be closed.

'Dear me, said young Mrs. Hunimune, 'I must see our grocer right away.' 'What for?' asked her husband. 'I have some instructions to give him. I want to tell him to make our coffee a little stronger and our butter a little weaker.

Jimmy: 'Timmy Grogan is talkin' of gettin' him a bisickle.' Micky: 'Him? He ain't got the price fer de wind wot goes in de tires.'

LET US SPRAY OUR TREES

And Have a Good Crop of Apples.

What More Desirable and Profitable?

From late experiments it has been proved it can be done. E. Tindall has been appointed agent for the selling of the best and most improved apparatus for the spraying of all kinds of fruit trees, vines, etc., including twenty different styles, from the small, cheap hand pump to the horse power machine for large orchards, all having the most perfect Nozzle. The pumps are made of brass and copper which can not rust nor corrode, and are furnished with 4 to 10 rods of hose (or longer, if desired) and the Bordeaux nozzle; also an air chamber, whereby a steady pressure is obtained so that a continuous stream from 50 to 100 pounds on the nozzle is obtained with very ordinary exertion, and not affected by the movements of the plunger, throwing a spray 50 to 80 feet high. Also, peculiar to these outfits, hose are attached by which a small portion of the liquid is re-discharged at the bottom of the reservoir with great force, which keeps the mixture and water well mixed, which is very essential as not to hurt the foliage. Reservoirs from 50 gallons, of copper or galvanized iron, furnished with these pumps for hand use. For orchards or larger uses a second hand can be used, or a tight barrel may be used, on which these outfits can be placed and moved about on a wagon as desired. A complete and exhaustive directions on "How, When and What to Spray, and the Ingredients Best for Different Fruits, Vines, Etc.," found in printed form furnished with these outfits. Please call at C. A. SLAYTON'S warehouse, Tecumseh, Mich., for inspection, further information and purchase of these outfits.

Friday evening the first of a series of five lectures on Parlimentary law and practice will be given in the Universalist church. These five lectures are a capitulation of the winter's study of that subject. All interested are cordially invited. Lectures begin at 8:15 p. m.

Messrs. Reed, Moody and Coburn, of Mason, visited Tecumseh Tuesday to investigate our electric light system. This may read like a fairy story, but it can be credited when we know that the gentlemen labored under the impression that we had a new plant.

Mrs. Wellington White, ex-Missionary to China, delighted the audience at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning, afternoon and evening. Mrs. White has the rare faculty of presenting the story of her varied experiences in an unusually entertaining and instructive manner.

The Forum for May will contain a noteworthy study of the career and character of Prince Bismark, by Col. Theodore A. Dodge, the well known military writer. Col. Dodge has recently returned from a long sojourn in Europe, and he has prepared this paper after fresh study of the historical events covered by Bismark's remarkable career.

An inventive genius has gotten up a contrivance that ought to sell like hot cakes in church circles. It is in the shape of a triumph in its way. The coin falls through slots of different sizes, and dollars, halves, quarters and dimes drop on velvet, but the nickles and pennies drop on a Chinese gong and make a noise that can be heard all over the church.

Subject in the Universalist pulpit Sunday May 5th. 'Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing; for in the wilderness shall waters break out and streams in the desert. Isaiah 35: 5 and 6. Y. P. C. U. meeting at 6:30. Topic; 'What am I doing for Christ,' 2 Cor. 11. Regular evening service suspended until October next.

The Japanese village has been located on the shore of the lake, just east of the Woman's building. This village will be one of the attractive foreign features on the grounds of the Cotton States and International Exposition Company. The concessionaire requested that he be allowed space away from the Terraces, as he intended to make a unique and beautiful affair of the Japanese village. In the location assigned it will be almost in the center of the grounds, and will be one of the most charming sights at the Exposition.

A current writer puts a good deal of sense in a few sentences when he remarks: "There is a mistaken idea that 'culture' means to paint a little, to sing a little, to dance a little and to quote passages from popular books. As a matter of fact culture means nothing of the kind. Culture means mastery over self, politeness, charity, fairness, good temper, good conduct. Culture is not a thing to make a display of. It is something to use so modestly that people do not discover at once that you have it.

A letter from Clarence A. Cotton informs us that he has resigned his position on the staff of the Evening News to accept the office of assistant secretary of the Art Club of Detroit. The Club will give the great Art Loan and Exhibition during the latter half of May. The patrons of Art in Detroit and Michigan are looking forward to this event with great expectancy. The best artists of this country will be represented, the railroads promise reduced rates, which, together with the past experience of the club will insure a grand success.

The current issue of AMERICAN GARDENING (New York City), contains a most interesting article by Professor Taft, on the subject of irrigating small farms, gardens, etc. Professor Galloway, Chief of Division of Vegetable Pathology, United States Department of Agriculture contributes a remarkably interesting article (illustrated) on Physical Properties of the Soil as a Factor in the Growth of Crops. This is a branch of study which has been neglected. Fruit growers, and plant raisers generally will find in the Spraying Calendar a formulae in this number which will aid them in the protection of their crops from the ravages of insects and of fungous diseases.

The World's Fair Tests
showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

Mr. C. H. Reed has severed his connection with the HERALD office and the vacancy thus caused has been taken by Mr. W. B. Odion, of Hudson. Mr. Reed has made many friends in Tecumseh, during his three years' residence here, who will regret his departure. With his skill as an artistic job printer he can doubtless better himself as foreman or part owner of a job office in some large town. With the reputation he has made in the HERALD job rooms, his future advancement in the "art preservative" is assured.

—When the Waterbury watch Company stopped manufacturing their old style watch, the flood gates of cheap Swiss factories were opened, and poorly made, very unreliable watches were forced on the market in place of the very accurate Waterbury, which had but the one fault—its long wind. The clock factories, with their cheap clock watches, added to the stock of poor stuff, and the Waterbury Company were appealed to for something good and cheap in the quick wind series. The result is the new 'Trump' watch, which sells at $2.50. Call on ADAMSON BROS. and see this new watch.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

TROOPS ARE ORDERED OUT.

Companies of Militia to Protect Ore Trimmers at Marquette.

HOUGHTON, April 30.—Two companies of the Fifth regiment, Michigan state troops, left at midnight for Marquette to keep peace on the ore docks of the South Shore railway. The ore trimmers refuse to honor Judge Stone's injunction, and the civil authorities are powerless to protect the Finns brought to fill the regular trimmers' places.

MARQUETTE, April 30.—The old ore trimmers and the new men had a collision on No. 4 dock at 6:30 Monday evening and the new men were routed at the first charge. The Pontiac arrived at 9 o'clock and William O'Mera, who had a contract to trim her, started for the dock at the head of thirty men, mostly imported from Ishpeming. They were escorted by Sheriff Broad and ten special deputies taken from the imported men. The old trimmers met them in front of the first pocket and a collision ensued. The special deputies fled without striking a blow, leaving the sheriff helpless. Quite a number on both sides had their heads broken, but no serious injuries were reported. One of the rioters was arrested by Marshal Maloney.

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 1.—Eight men are known to have been seriously hurt in Monday's riot at the ore docks. Officers are preparing papers for the arrest of the leaders in pursuance of an order of the circuit court enjoining them from unlawfully interfering with Flynn, McCartland and O'Mera in performing their contracts to trim ore vessels. Charges of contempt of court and deadly assault will be made against thirty men and arrests will be made as soon as papers can be prepared and served.

TWO GIRLS TAKE POISON.

One Dead and the Other Is Dying in Traverse City.

TRAVERSE CITY, May 1.—Julia Curtis, daughter of a farmer living 2 miles from Traverse City, went out to gather wild flowers. She did not return and a search was made without success. Tuesday night her body was found in a cedar swamp 2 miles from her father's house. Near her was her basket, containing a few flowers and a two-ounce bottle half full of poison. She was 22 years old and highly respected.

Monday night Bertha Schwab, 17 years old, living in Traverse City, took poison with suicidal intent and will probably die. The alleged cause was a hard-hearted father, who refused to allow her lover to visit her.

CLAIMS SHE IS NOT INSANE.

Bay City Woman Seeks to Get Out of a Michigan Asylum.

DETROIT, May 1.—A strange story has come to light regarding the case of Mrs. Addie A. Randall, of Bay City, who has been confined in the insane asylum at Pontiac for fifteen months, although her friends and several of the asylum attendants, the latter, at the risk of being discharged, claim that she is entirely sane. Mrs. Randall claims that her husband, abetted by certain physicians, is responsible for her present situation. A thorough investigation will doubtless be made.

THE BOUNDARY FIGHT.

Attorney-General Maynard Looks Into the Michigan-Wisconsin Dispute.

MENOMINEE, April 29.—Attorney-General Maynard, of Michigan, has been here making a personal investigation of the Michigan Wisconsin boundary line, which has been the subject of considerable controversy between the cities of Menominee and Marinette for some time past. The matter was submitted to him by both the city and county. Mr. Maynard made a thorough inspection of the old bridge, the river which it spans and the islands in that immediate vicinity. He will render his opinion soon.

MICHIGAN CATTLE INFECTED.

Sixteen of a Herd of Twenty-Six Are Found to Have Tuberculosis.

COLDWATER, April 30.—Dr. Range, state veterinary surgeon, and two members of the live stock commission have been in the city two or three days examining the herd of twenty-six cattle at the state public school from which came the diseased animal recently shipped from here to Toledo. In the herd they found sixteen cattle afflicted with tuberculosis. The United States commission will send an expert here to report on the condition of other animals.

GOLD IN MICHIGAN IRON ORE.

Value of the Yellow Metal Exceeds That of the Other.

ISHPEMING, April 29.—Assays of carefully selected samples or iron ore from the 3,000-ton stock pile of Dexter mine give almost $4 a ton in gold. Traces of gold are found in many iron ores of this district, but this assay, which is reliable, shows value of gold is greater than value of iron ore a ton. Experiments will be made in stamping ore for the gold contained and utilizing the tailings for the metallic iron and manganese.

Chosen by the Governor.

LANSING, May 1.—Among the delegates appointed by Gov. Rich to the national conference of charities and corrections in New Haven, May 24-30, are: Mrs. John T. Winship, of Saginaw; Mrs. Fred E. Lee, of Dowagiac; Mrs. T. F. Giddings and Mrs. L. Hull, of Kalamazoo.

An Octogenarian's Suicide.

SAGINAW, April 29.—Dederich Rohlf, a well-known Saginaw county farmer, committed suicide at the home of his son in Fairgrove township by cutting his throat with a razor. He was 83 years old, and his mind had been unbalanced by a long illness.

Assigned.

BUCHANAN, April 26.—John G. Holmes and Peter English, owners of the electric light plant, water works and dam, have made an assignment. Their assets are over $75,000. J. H. Richards is the assignee.

TO BUILD A BIG DAM.

Work to Begin in May by a Corporation with $1,000,000 Capital.

BENTON HARBOR, April 30.—Work will commence in May on one of the largest enterprises undertaken in this part of the state for fifteen years. The plan is to build a dam 1 mile north of here which will give a fall of 20 feet over the 200 feet of main dam, there being 1,400 feet of dam approaches. This structure of steel, timbers and earth will back water in the river, overflowing 1,200 or more acres of lowlands which have been bought up at a cost of $50,000. The river, now navigable by rowboats and skiffs only, will then become navigable by large steamers. The primary cruse for erecting the dam is the valuable power to be attained, which will be used for electric light, heat, and power purposes, also for furnishing power to manufactories that will be located near the dam. The company will capitalize in a few days under the state laws at $1,000,000, with $500,000 paid up stock. Peter English is the active solicitor and overseer of work as it progresses.

Increase in Tax Levy.

LANSING, April 30.—Auditor General Turner is preparing the estimates that go to make up the tax levy for the years 1895 and 1896. The total levy will approximate $4,500,000. This exceeds the levy for the last biennial period by $875,000, while the last levy exceeded that of the years 1891 and 1892 by $757,000. The increase is due to the large appropriations necessary for the home for the feeble minded and the upper peninsula hospital for the insane.

New Trial Given J. G. Clark.

LANSING, May 1.—James G. Clark, the only one convicted of the ten persons indicted for the famous salaries amendment frauds of 1893, was granted a new trial by the supreme court Tuesday on the ground that the court failed to properly instruct the jury as to the means used by the prosecuting officers in securing the confession which alone convicted Clark.

Michigan Mines to Resume.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., April 29.—The Hamilton & Ludington mines will resume, as will several smaller mines in their vicinity. The mines have contracted for the placing of their output for the season at an advance over last year's prices. The idle men are all being put to work at better wages than paid last season.

Novel Suit.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 30.—The Grand Rapids Engraving company used a photograph of the daughter of Philip Sherman, clothier, on a calendar last winter without the father's consent, and Sherman has sued the company for $5,000. The engraving company secured the photograph of a photographer.

Three Drowned.

MARQUETTE, May 1.—Mrs. Mary Post, her daughter, Mrs. P. Finley, and little Ethel Finley were drowned in the Au Train river in Alger county some time last Friday afternoon. They were missed from home Saturday evening and a boat was also gone. The bodies of all three were found in the river Sunday.

Big Lumber Deal.

SAGINAW, April 29.—The Central Lumber company of this city has purchased 60,000,000 feet of standing pine on Blind River, Ont. It will be cut and floated to the Zilwaukee mill at the rate of 20,000,000 feet a year.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., April 18.—The senate on Thursday in committee of the whole agreed to the Bially health bill, repealing the present law and providing for the appointment of a new board of six members, of which the governor shall be a member ex officio. The committee also agreed to the Foote deer bill, making the open season from November 1 to 25 inclusive and limiting to five the number of deer each hunter may kill in one season. The senate agreed to a bill establishing the Mackinac Island park commission and making an appropriation of $2,000 therefor; also to a bill for the erection or purchase of an executive mansion.

The $500 uniform liquor tax, which passed the senate Wednesday night, was signed by the governor Thursday and will become a law in May.

LANSING, Mich., April 25.—Senator Townsend on Friday introduced a resolution deploring "the lack of principle in the national government's conduct of foreign affairs, a fresh example of which is given in the cowardly attitude of the United States in view of England's treatment of our sister republic, Nicaragua." A majority of the senators were of the opinion that the resolution was in bad taste and it was withdrawn. The senate has passed the bill appropriating $10,000 for a statue of Austin Blair, Michigan's war governor, to be erected on the state capitol square. The Johnson pure-food bill was agreed to by the senate in committee of the whole. It contains the same provision prohibiting coloring of oleomargarine or butterine to resemble butter that was stricken out in the house the present week.

LANSING, Mich., May 1.—The senate on Tuesday passed the mining school appropriation bill after cutting the amount from $105,000 to $90,000, and in committee of the whole agreed to a bill establishing normal schools in both central and northern Michigan at places to be hereafter designated by a commission.

House.

LANSING, Mich., April 26.—The house on Thursday for the second time defeated the bill repealing the mortgage law of 1883 on final passage, and although the vote was reconsidered and the bill tabled it is not likely to pass. The house also killed a bill for the establishment of a state normal school at Mount Pleasant.

LANSING, Mich., May 1.—In the house Tuesday the Redfern pure-food bill was amended so as to prohibit the coloring of artificial jellies in imitation of fruit jellies and then passed. No attempt was made to restore the provision requiring that no substitute for butter be colored to resemble butter. A bill was also passed by the house appropriating $10,000 to enable the state board of agriculture to hold farmers' institutes in every county of the state.

FIRE AT CORUNNA.

Eleven Stores Are Burned with a Loss of $35,000

CORUNNA, April 28.—A smouldering fire and a mass of ruins are all that is left of the eleven stores in this village, the result of an incendiary fire which was discovered in a vacant store on Shiawassee avenue at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. Delay caused by the fire department's difficulty in getting water from the river led many to believe the entire business portion would go. The total loss is about $35,000, and the heaviest losses are: August Serrs, saloon, owned by Anna Dickerson, of Detroit, $4,000; F. E. Welch, $5,000; Gorusch & Welch, publishers Corunna Journal, $3,000; John Driscoll, $4,000; D. B. Silcox, of Plymouth, $4,500; Mason & Haviland, $3,000; L. Etschmann, $5,000. Very light insurance was carried.

RAIN IS NEEDED.

Drought Already Beginning to Tell Upon All Vegetation.

LANSING, May 1. The weekly weather crop report issued by the Michigan weather service here Tuesday says:

The past week has been a dry one, and following immediately upon the very dry period of the week before, and a generally dry spring, is beginning to have a marked effect upon all vegetation. Winter wheat is reported in fair condition in all sections except in the district known as the "Thumb," and as far south as Oakland county. Oat and grass seeding is being pushed as far north as the upper peninsula. Fruit prospects continue excellent in all parts of the state.

Costly Blaze at Melbourne.

BAY CITY, April 28.—Fire destroyed H. A. Batchellor & Son's sawmill, the salt block and 3,500,000 feet of lumber at Melbourne Saturday. The fire departments of Bay City, Saginaw and Carrollton sent help, and four fire tugs were there helping to save a large quantity of lumber and a number of tenement houses occupied by mill employes. The loss on the mill and salt block was $85,000, insured for $23,500. The lumber belonged to Whitney & Batchellor, was worth $35,000, and insured for about $28,000.

Track for the Twin Cities.

BENTON HARBOR, May 1.—W. S. Kirby, proprietor of the Valley stock farm near Galesburg, is in the city negotiating with parties interested in establishing a race track here. He offers a bonus of $15,000 toward the track, which is to be 1 mile long and located on the marsh between the twin cities. The project is meeting with encouragement, and a meeting will be called soon.

Fees from Foreign Corporations.

LANSING, April 30.—The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company filed articles of association with the secretary of state, paying a franchise fee of $2,300 on its capital of $5,000,000. During the month of April $5,000 in fees were collected from foreign corporations which have organized in Michigan.

A TOO MODEST WOMAN!

Is such a thing possible?

It is.

Many a woman suffers month after month, whole years, because she shrinks from talking about her complaints.

Foolish do you say?

No, it is simply due to a natural, commendable modesty. Still she owes it to herself either to consult a good Physician or else to get the Zoa-Phora Medical Book on Diseases of Women and Children, and, after satisfying herself that Zoa-Phora is what she needs, obtain a bottle or a box of it and use it faithfully. Both the book and medicine may be obtained either direct from the Zoa-Phora Medicine Co., at Kalamazoo, Mich. or through your druggist. All correspondence is kept strictly confidential.

Zoa-Phora sold and books given away by C. A. WRIGHT and BAKER & HALL, Druggists.

MOTHERS and those about to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its torture, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding Nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and also the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child. During pregnancy, it prevents "morning sickness" and those distressing nervous symptoms from which so many suffer.

Tanks, Cottle Co., Texas,
DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:
Dear Sir—I took your "Favorite Prescription" previous to confinement and never did so well in my life. It is only two weeks since my confinement and I am able to do my work. I feel stronger than I ever did in six weeks before.
Yours truly,
Cresda. Culpepper

A MOTHER'S EXPERIENCE.

South Bend, Pacific Co., Wash.
DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:
Dear Sir—I began taking your "Favorite Prescription" the first month of pregnancy, and have continued taking it since confinement. I did not experience the nausea or any of the ailments due to pregnancy, after I began taking your "Prescription." I was only in labor a short time, and the physician said I got along unusually well.

MRS. BAKER.

We think it saved me a great deal of suffering. I was troubled a great deal with leucorrhea also, and it has done a world of good for me.
Yours truly,
MRS. W. C. BAKER.

Lesson For the Week Beginning May 5. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, The Daysman.

SCRIPTURE READING.—Job ix, 30-35.

Nowhere in the whole range of literature is there presented a sublimer theme than that treated in the book of Job. Nowhere do we find loftier flights of imagination, deeper philosophy, more impassioned rhetoric, purer morality, sublimer faith or simpler worship. It is different from all other parts of the Bible in language as well as in the subject discussed and the manner of its presentation. It is a poem of the highest order, having a brief introduction and conclusion in prose.

The poetical portion begins with Job's complaint in the third chapter and ends with Job's confession of faith at the seventh verse of the forty-second chapter.

The arrangement of the book is very regular. It has three grand divisions. Each of these is subdivided into three parts, and the threefold division is carried into the minute details of the work.

The whole book is a dialogue concerning the government of the world. The main discussion has reference to the question of good and evil in the present state of existence. Does God deal here with men according to their character, so that good and bad get their deserts? Job's three friends maintain the affirmative and declare that the character of a man can be known by the events that happen to him in this life. Sufferin, and calamity prove to them that the afflicted one is a wicked man. Wealth and prosperity show that one is righteous. So they infer that Job, in spite of all his protestations, has been a wicked man and hypocrite, and his reverses are well deserved because of his iniquity.

Job strenuously maintains the opposite opinion—that suffering does not prove the sufferer to be wicked. He protests his own innocence most vehemently, though perplexed at some of the arguments of his friends and unable to refute them.

That the sufferings of the good man may be disciplinary, and that a future life may abundantly recompense and equalize the inequalities of deserving and receiving in this world, was not clearly revealed to Job or his friends as they afterward were by Jesus.

In the first division of the book Job opens the discussion by cursing the day of his birth and wishing for death as a release from his suffering.

Eliphaz, as the eldest and most sagacious of the friends, speaks first. The greatness of Job's calamity and sufferings has struck them all speechless, because so much at variance with all their notions of the method of the divine government. No suspicion of Job's insincerity had been entertained till he speaks and curses his life. That speech and his sufferings confirmed them in the opinion that, instead of having been a man of eminent piety, he was a man of deep guilt. Eliphaz directly but delicately charges him with this.

Job replies, maintaining that he is innocent of iniquity even though the poisoned arrows of the Almighty have struck and wounded him sorely.

Bildad speaks, maintaining that God does not pervert judgment, but gives every man his just deserts in this life.

Job replies in the ninth and tenth chapters, from which the lesson for this week is selected. He acknowledges the truth that Bildad had asserted that no man can be absolutely pure and just in the eyes of God and perfect in all his ways. God must be right in His dealings with men. Yet these sufferings do not prove his own guilt. God is great, and Job cannot argue with Him, since God, by His very power, could reduce him to silence, and there is no daysman to stand between them. Then the sense of his sufferings and troubles overwhelms him, and he gives vent to a passionate torrent of emotion, wishing for death as a relief from his woes.

It all illustrates the conflict of emotions of a good man when under trials. Doubts and feelings of pain struggling with faith and filial affection.

The Great Gathering.

No doubt the Chattanooga convention, June 27-30, will be the greatest thing of the kind ever held in Methodism. It is a union of the best strength of the three largest bodies of the Methodist church in America. The Methodist Episcopal, the church south and the Canadian church are the organizers and promoters of the meeting.

It will be held in a city possessing a multitude of objects of national interest.

The greatest men in the three Methodisms will be present and speak on the grandest themes of the present times—revivals, missions and Christian citizenship.

Two events on the programme—the John Wesley sunrise prayer meeting and watch night-meeting, with which the conference will close—will be worth the cost of the trip.

The Curse of Rum.

The city of New York has many day nurseries in which thousands of children from the slums are cared for. In one of these there was recently a baby which had been rescued from its fighting parents. It died in a few days. The doctor who performed the autopsy said it died as truly a victim of alcoholic poisoning as any older case he had ever diagnosed. The baby was 15 months old. It had been nursed by a drunken mother, and when it cried liquor had been poured down its throat to quiet it.

No Night.

There is no night for one with perfect trust—
Just one long day;
E'en though trials come, as come they must,
Along life's way,
The sun shines on with pulsing glow the same,
An undimmed light,
Shadows fall, but darkness hath no name—
There is no night. —John viii, 12.

A high moral aim steadily pursued clears the mental vision, quickens the affections and fixes determination.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

In the matter of the estate of William Pilgeam, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the Probate Court of said County, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at James W. Wightman's office in the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, on the 18th day of May, 1895 and on the 8th day of October, 1895, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that six months from the 8th day of April, A. D., 1895 are allowed by said Probate Court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated April 12, 1895.

J. F. GILMORE,
JAMES H. HECK,
Commissioners.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office in the city of Adrian, on Wednesday, the 17th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

Present, Richard B. Robbins, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Ann Norcross, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Charles Burridge praying for the probate of an instrument now on file in this court purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, and that administration of said estate may be granted to Petitioner, the executor nominated in said will, or to some other suitable person.

It is ordered, That Monday, the 13th day of May, nex., at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said Petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said Petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

RICHARD B. ROBBINS, Judge of Probate.

Prohibition for Villages.

It seems that the incorporated villages of Michigan are now authorized to prohibit saloons, no matter whether the counties in which they are situated have adopted local option or not. Under the old village charter law this prohibitory section became inoperative because of the subsequent passage of the general liquor law, but as the passage of the new village charter law by the present legislature re-enacts the prohibitory clause its original effect is restored, and the villages may now proceed to adopt prohibition. The clause reads: "The council may by an ordinance, suppress saloons for the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquor in said village." The opinion of Attorney-General Maynard has been invoked whether the above clause can really mean what it says, and whether village councils may proceed to act upon its provisions. He decides that the clause means exactly what it says, and that the legislature in enacting it kept strictly within its power under the constitution. He adds: There can be no question, but what, under the section that I have considered, the council of any village of this state, incorporated under the act referred to, can suppress the liquor traffic in said village, by suppressing the saloons in which the liquors are sold, and the easiest way to do this is to refuse to approve of the bonds offered by the man who would engage in the business. This is a staggering blow to the liquor traffic, and a tremendous surprise to the liquor men. Whether anything can or will be done by the present legislature to make the clause of none effect remains to be seen. Several villages are already taking the necessary steps for the suppression of the saloon evil. Let others do so.

Why Vote for Prohibition?

There are many forms of intemperance. Each form is a root which under favorable conditions, produces the full grown tree, with all its poisonous roots, branches and deadly fruits. Intemperance is an enormous crime. It is a deadly foe to the home, the church and the state. It is founded in avarice on the part of the rumseller, and in selfish ambition on the part of the bad politician, and in unholy appetite on the part of the drunkard. The chief obstacle to the temperance reform are the ignorance and indifference of the churches and the bad politicians who control political parties in the interest of the rum power, and who prevent the people from voting directly on the question of prohibition.

The four great corner stones in this wholesale crime are:

1st. Pat behind the bar.

2d. The officials who grant licenses and should execute the laws.

3d. The legislators who make the laws.

4th. The voters who make the legislators.

In our judgment the attempt to suppress the crime of intemperance merely by moral suasion or good advice, while at the same time the state prohibits by law the crimes it occasions, and legalizes the crime of intemperance and tempts to drunkenness by the bloody license system, is the most consummate folly. License, either high-priced or low-priced, perpetuates and increases the liquor traffic. For the suppression of intemperance regulation and taxation are worse than useless. We need not only moral suasion in the home, the school from the pulpit and the press but we need most of all State and National constitutional prohibition.

And this can only be had when a party becomes dominant whose political platform clearly advocates prohibition, and whose nominees for office are genuine prohibitionists. Only such a party will execute prohibitory laws.

Reader vote with no political party that ignores, or attempts to be neutral on the subject of prohibition. Support no political party whose nominees for office are not genuine prohibitionists, and whose party platform does not distinctly and fully advocate State and National prohibition.

The liquor dealers feel most of all a genuine prohibition party in power and prohibition ballots are the only dynamite that can destroy the rum horror.

Intelligent Christians vote for the right, they vote in faith leaving results with God. They do evil that good may come. They are not fooled by free trade and tariff bubble and promises of more work and higher wages into voting for one rum party and beat another. They cannot be bribed or frightened into voting for crime, when professed Christians talk and pray temperance and then vote with rum parties. Candid sinners honestly wonder whether they are fools or knaves. Prohibition is right, then vote for it. God will give it success.—Rev. A. Smith.

Was St. Paul in Love?

This question has been considerably discussed, at one time and another. Was this Star Apostle of Christianity subject to the same heart-throbs as ordinary mortals? Was his apparent indifference to woman the result of an early disappointment?

One is reminded of these questions in the poetical novel commenced by Will Carleton in the April number of EVERY WHERE, and entitled "A Saint's Love."

METHODIST SCORCHER.

The Rev. F. F. Passmore Denounces His Brethren—A Methodist Tells of Ministers and Their Indifference.

The sermon given below was recently preached by Rev. F. F. Passmore, a prominent Methodist minister of Denver, Colorado:

A BURNING INDICTMENT.

The Rev. F. F. Passmore, in commencing his sermon, preached from the following text:

"Woe unto them that call evil good, and good for evil; that put darkness for light and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter." Isa. v. 20.

He said: 'The true church of God is a divine institution for the destruction of sin, the enlightenment and salvation of the world. This institution is controlled by men who claim to be set apart by God as teachers, shepherds and watchmen. The true relationship of the minister to the church is that of a shepherd. When ministers have been true to their people without selfish aims the church has always been strong in the right and spiritual power.

According to history, there has never been a falling away of the power of the church that was not preceded by the unfaithfulness of a worldly and money loving ministry. In all the ages of Old Testament history there was never a relapse from the true worship of God to idolatry or a loss of spiritual power that could not be traced to an immoral and worldly ministry. An unfaithful ministry prolonged to centuries the dark night of the middle ages. I have looked into human history, human effort and human nature; I have watched the human race in its effort to rise, wondering why the world had made so little advancement, why civilized nations were so uncivilized, and why the Christian church had so little influence in the affairs of men and nations. I am astonished to find that the men, or class of men, whom God intended should be the foremost men in all reformations have been the men who have, as a class, discouraged reformations and holped to persecute and burn the reformers. It was the ministry of the days of Wycliffe, Huss, Jerome and Savonarola that not only discouraged those men in their search for light and truth, but kindled the fires of hate and death.

OLD SPIRIT OF PERSECUTION

When Luther, Calvin, Knox and Wesley came on the scene in their respective countries and ages, the old relentless, persecuting spirit of the ministry came to the front to silence those men of God and humanity or subject them to the same cruel treatment as the men who had gone before them. In the oppressions of the peasantry preceding the French revolution, it was the same old story of the ministry taking sides with the oppressors against the oppressed. In the struggle of Cromwell against Charles the First, the ministry was for king, against the people. We come down to our own nation, and in the great anti-slavery contest waged for the liberation of African slaves, the ministers were on the side of the masters, against the slaves. So it was that in all those great struggles and revolutions referred to the ministry, with few exceptions, were found on the side of the wrong and against the right. Does any one believe that with the status of the ministry as it is to-day, that we can ever establish justice, purity political institutions, right wrongs, and save this nation?

God's word is a sufficient guide in all things of faith and practice. This is the foundation stone of the reformation, and an acknowledged fact of the Protestant world. The Bible says that 'righteousness exalteth a nation,' but sin is a reproach to any people.' I look over our country to-day, and see a nation that makes great pretentions to Christian civilization—a nation which, according to the last census, contained about 22,000,000 professed Christians, a nation of school houses, colleges and universities, many of which claim to be distinctly Christian. We have about 150,000 churches or places of worship, and about 100,000 ministers—the boast of the American people.

One would be justified in believing that a people possessing all these marks of advancement, to say nothing about the advancement of science and the improvement of inventions, would be prosperous, contented and righteous. But when we look over our nation, however, do the conditions meeting us everywhere justify the conclusion? No! Candor compels us to answer, No!

MILLIONS ARE HUNGRY.

Notwithstanding the fact that this is the richest nation that the world has ever seen, yet there is distress and poverty and hunger to millions of people. So called Christian men are holding wealth, contrary to the teachings of God's word, while women and children are hungry, cold and sick. The Sabbath-day has lost its sanctity. Trains, street cars, factories, mines, resorts and everything that the greed, covetousness and the cupidity of man can suggest to make money or gain pleasure, are running full blast on the Sabbath. Our politics, state, municipal and general government are corrupt, reeking with rottenness, falling with corruption.

THREE DAYS IN MORENCI.

The Hustling Town On the Ohio State Line.

Our hustling neighbor on the south confines of the county was our temporary home the first three days of the present week, having a "Snap Shot" engagement to fill at the Baptist church. The entertainment was given, for the benefit of B. Y. P. U., which is a strong society there. Rev. V. L. Garrett, the pastor, has been settled there over six years, and during his ministry the church has greatly prospered. The society have a very convenient church edifice, a fine parsonage, and they have just erected a row of wagon sheds, comprising eight compartments, which will be a great convenience to those members living in the country. The copious rains of Monday and Tuesday interfered somewhat with the attendance, but there was a fair turn out, nevertheless. During our sojourn we enjoyed the hospitality of Elmer Porter and Wm. Kauman. Mr. Porter is the Tommy Mark of Morenci, and always makes himself useful at the right time. Mr. Bauman holds a clerkship in Humphrey's clothing store and is one of the most promising young business men of Morenci. He has a beautiful, cozy home and a model family, consisting of a wife and little boy. He is nicely fixed and ought to enjoy life. Don Bowen spent most of his time with T. W. Booream, where he had very fine quarters. Mr. Booream, in company with Mr. Ackland, runs a blacksmith and carriage repair shop, and is evidently doing a good business.

Morenci has improved very much in the past ten years. Several new blocks have been erected during that period and the frame buildings on the business street are mostly cleaned out. The Hotel Saulsbury is an elegant three-story brick structure that would be a credit to a town of ten thousand inhabitants and is one of the best kept hotels in southern Michigan. One of the best creameries in the county is located here, and the village can boast of several manufacturing establishments, among which are a good roller mill, two saw mills, a brick and tile factory, a general machine shop and a planing mill. They have two banks, the Bank of Morenci and Wakefield's Bank. Also a fine three-story school building and four churches. If Morenci keeps on growing for ten years at the present rate, the town will slop over into Ohio territory.

We made the Observer office our headquarters, where we found all the daily newspapers, the county exchanges, plenty of copy paper and a big arm chair. The Observer is forging right ahead under the management of the Allen Bros. Vern pushes the quill and runs the business end of the establishment, while Gus manages the mechanical department, and they make a strong team. But few towns of that size have as good newspaper facilities. The office contains a Campbell country cylinder, a half medium Globe, a quarto Challenge and a Van Dusen gasoline engine, with a very full supply of job type and office furniture of all kinds. The firm have recently purchased a two story building across the street from their present location, and expect to occupy their new quarters within a month. They will erect a 25 foot addition in the rear for a press room and will then have a very convenient building for their use. We congratulate the boys upon this evidence of business sagacity and prosperity. Their success has been earned by long and faithful service.

THE MAY FESTIVAL.

The Recital on the great Columbian Organ, by Clarence Eldy, will be one of the most attractive features of the coming May Festival at Ann Arbor, May 17, and 18. This Organ it will be remembered, was built for the World's Fair and stood in Festival Hall during the Exposition. After the Fair was over, it was shipped to Ann Arbor and set up in University Hall, as the gift of alumni and friends to the University. Mechanically it is the most perfect great organ in existence. It contains 3,901 pipes, the largest of which is 32 ft. long. Connection between the pipes feet and keys is made by electrical apparatus so that the reponse of the pipe to the fingers of the player is immediate, as in the case of a piano. Wind is furnished by immense bellows, to which force is applied by means of two electric motors, one of five, the other of two, horse-power. The organ has four manuals, and 116 stops. Professor Clarence Eddy is so well known that further account of him seems unnecessary; he ranks among the great organists of the world. The Organ Recital will be given Saturday morning, May 18.

MICHIGAN MINING SCHOOL.

At a recent meeting of the board of control of the Michigan Mining School it was unanimously decided to accept the recommendation of the faculty and adopt the elective system. This change continues the institution to the front, as having greater freedom for the student in the choice of the special subjects which he is to use on graduation, than is now given in any other technical school in the country. The new departure does not cause the school to wander from its particular field, in which it has already won a national and European reputation; but it does permit the student to follow branches for which he is best fitted.

The unit of work is taken as three hours a week in recitation or nine hours a week in the laboratory, etc., for thirty-four weeks, and any study taking this time is called a full course. A subject occupying a longer or shorter time is credited for its proportionate part of a full course.

To obtain the S. B. degree will require eighteen full courses, while the E. M. degree requires the completion of twenty-two full courses.

Owing to the fact that the Mining School is in session for forty-five weeks during the year this elective system will enable a good student to take his degree in either three or four years, depending upon the question whether he remains during the summer work or not.

The working of this plan will be watched by all the schools in the country with great interest, but it is not believed that it will lower the standard of education in the school at all, as whatever will be lost in breadth will be made up in greater thoroughness.

This new departure is only one other proof of the same progressive spirit that has marked the Michigan Mining School since its organization, and which, since 1890, has made it one of the leading technical schools in the country.—Copper Country Evening News.

ART IN TEXAS.

A late copy of the San Antonio Daily News reveals the fact that our whilom old friend LaVern Wheeler is taking a position of deserved prominence in the art circles of that city. His old Tecumseh acquantances will be glad to learn of his good fortune;

Last Wednesday afternoon was the seating capacity of the Art League rooms inadequate for the large turn-out of the members, called together for the special purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Percy M. Knight presided at the meeting, as Mrs. Kroeninger was too ill to attend the meeting and occupy the chair.

After the reports of the committees had been heard by the society, the election took place. Mr. Knight made a very earnest speech, in which he declared his positive determination to withdraw from the race for the presidency of the Art League. Although a number of the members has counted on his election, they accepted his withdrawal, and Mr. Lee Adams was elected to the presidency by a unanimous vote. The choice gave satisfaction, as it is the opinion of the members of the League Mr. Adams will work for the promotion of the best interests of the society.

The League showed its appreciation of Mrs. Kroeninger and her work for the society by re-electing her as its vice president. Mrs. Kroeninger has been a most enthusiastic supporter of the League and has done much to spread the influence of the League.

Mrs. Ferlet was elected to fill the position of second vice-president, with Mrs. Rounds as third, Mr. McCan fourth, Miss Scott fifth and Mr. Cadwallader as sixth vice-president.

The election of a secretary was next in order, for which office there were two candidates, Miss Overton and Mr. Wheeler. Miss Overton made a short speech, in which she eulogized the other candidate and said that had she understood the facts in the case at the last meeting she would not have allowed her name to be put in nomination for the office against one whom she thought had filled the office with credit to the society and to himself. Miss Overton then made a motion that Mr. LaVern F. Wheeler be declared the unanimous choice of the Art League for its secretary. The motion was seconded and carried without a dissenting vote.

THE MAY PARTY.

A Pleasant Social Event Enjoyed by a Large Company.

Last Tuesday evening was held at Armory Hall the tenth annual May party given by the young men of Tecumseh. The May and Christmas parties of Tecumseh have come to be looked for as regular events in the social life of our town and a departure from this custom would be keenly felt by all lovers of the art. Although the parties of late have been more modest in the way of decorations, music, etc., they have lost none of their interest or social importance on this account, and the last was one of the prettiest and most successful ever given. Armory Hall was plainly but handsomely decorated for the occasion, an out door balcony being arranged on the east side, where warm and weary dancers might refresh themselves under the admiring stars for surely the stars themselves could but wonder that such dainty gowns, such pretty faces and such forms divine could be and live upon this mundane sphere, as their twinkling eyes looked down upon that night. Indeed, it was a pretty ball. The ladies were gracious and charming; the gentlemen dignified and gallant; the music by Jackson's mandolin orchestra, inspiring, and all the company in profound sympathy with the spirit of the occasion. The piano was a little late, and the supper a trifle hasty but both faults were soon forgotten by the generous dancers.

The participants from abroad were: Messrs. Frank Welch, Chas. Whitney, Dr. Geo. Gibson, Clark Baldwin, and Misses Cooley, Stainforth, Rose, Baker and Sickles of Adrian; Whitney Watkins, of Manchester; Miss Elkbaum of Brooklyn; Barney Ward and Miss Poole of Deerfield and Miss Corlett of Toledo.

High School Happenings.

One of the finest games ever witnessed in Tecumseh was played Thursday afternoon between the Sophomores and Seniors. The flip of the silver dollar decided which side would take the field and cheer after cheer arose from the well filled grand stand as the Sophomores lined themselves on the diamond. The first inning was closely contested, as also the succeeding ones were. Pennington and Grayson were the battery for the Sophomores and played a fine game. Pennington threw a very speedy ball and watched the bases well. It being his first game he felt a trifle choice of his arm and did not pitch as hard a game as he might have pitched. Calhoun pitched phenomenally for the Seniors. He had had no practice before hand and was not prepared for the box. Will Hicks pitched in the latter part of 5th inning. The fielding was excellent on both sides while the base playing was one of the principal features of the game. A splendid career is in store for most of the players and Tecumseh may feel proud of her talent. The score at the close of the 5th inning was 14 to 16 in favor of the Seniors. A game is expected next week between the same teams. The Sophomores had a yell all ready but did not use it.

Speech Restored.

For five years I suffered with pain and discharge of the throat, hacking cough, frontal headache, weak eyes, etc., at times could not talk above a whisper; lost weight continually, and not able to be at work. I was treated by the best physicians in the country, but received no relief. After giving up all hope I was recommended to use a bottle of Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure. After using it for four weeks my speech returned. All symptons of catarrh have disappeared and 'I feel like a different person.'

Monday the council adopted the state hours for openiag and closing saloons, which are from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. standard. You will have to work short time if you get a nip in the morning now.

W. D. VanTuyle and D. [illegible]inbridge have bought the east part of Mrs. Jennie Brown's lot, 50x100 ft., and will soon commence the erection of a handsome brick thereon. Let the good work go on.

A new side track has been laid to the plant of the plow works, which will be a great convenience in their business. The company intends starting a lumber yard and several car loads have already arrived.

C. W. Edwards, wife, and daughter, have been spending the week with A. C. Huntington's family. Their performance here last winter so delighted their audience that they have been again secured to appear at the Town Hall tomorrow night.

Father Heidenrich, who was recently ordained at Detroit, last week took charge of the missions at Manchester, Clinton, Freedom and Cambridge. Father Ternes has taken up his labors at Marine City. Father Ternes' work will long be remembered by his parishoners, by all of whom he was most highly esteemed, both as a friend and priest.

On Monday last the firm of E. W. Freeze & Son passed out of existence and was changed to a joint stock company to be known as the Freese, Whittelsey Co., incorporated. The stockholders are E. W. Freeze, G. W. Freeze, W. S. Whittelsey, Fannie F. Whittelsey and Miss Lina Jones. The enterprise and business integrity of the old house has stood the test of over thirty years, first being established in 1864, and we bespeak success and favor for the new company.

The building boom in Clinton seems to have come to stay. It is not of the mushroon variety but is a good big life sized, healthy boom, with a good appetite for brick and morter. Moreover it is a point of great satisfaction to our citizens to know that the enterprise and confidence of those interested will assure to the town substantial, handsome brick buildings, and no other movement on the part of our business men could be half so auspicious for future prosperity as this.

It will be of considerable interest to Clinton people to know that the North shore of Sand Lake is opening up this spring with a great boom in the summer resort business and promises soon to eclipse the south side in popularity. This movement is largely due to the enterprise and accommodation of the Kennedy Bros. who took charge of the hotel there last year. They are now finishing the old ball room on the third floor, into bedrooms, and thoroughly renovating the whole house. The groves and grounds are also being cleaned up and put in the most attractive appearance. A. B. VanDeMark will soon put an attractive cottage on this side. Parties from Richmond, Ind., are about to establish a resort colony. They have decided to erect two double cottages of commodious size and handsome finish, with the prospect of more to follow. Surely there is no more desirable locality for spending the summer months and with good accommodations and congenial cottagers the north side will be a delightful resort.

A Bad Wreck

of the constitution may follow in the track of a disordered system, due to impure blood or inactive liver. Don't run the risk! The proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery take all the chances. They make a straightforward offer to return your money if their remedy fails to benefit or cure all disorders and affections due to impure blood or inactive liver. The germs of disease circulate through the blood; the liver is the filter which permits the germs to enter or not. The liver active, and the blood pure, and you escape disease.

When you're run down, debilitated, weak, your weight below a healthy standard, you regain health, strength, and wholesome flesh, by using the 'Discovery.' It builds up the body faster than nauseating Cod liver oil or emulsions.

A Valuable Find.

After years of study and labor, there has at last been discovered a sure and never-failing remedy. It has been tested on patients who have despaired of ever being cured, the results have been, in every case, wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of chronic and acute inflamatory rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia; especially ovarian neuralgia, dysmenorrhœa and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable blood purifier, being especially useful in eczema, psoriasis, scrofula, all glandular enlargements and diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by Orr & Temple, Tecumseh, Mich.

A GRAND TRIUMPH.

Baffled Many Times but Success Comes at Last.

(From the Grand Rapids Press.)

The following incident would be hard to believe if it had not occurred right here in Grand Rapids, and investigation by our representative has placed it beyond the reach of doubt. These are the facts in detail: Mr. J. H. White of No. 25 Hafley Place, has been an instructor in penmanship in different business colleges for the past fourteen years. He says: "Last October I was suddenly taken ill. I consulted a physician, who said the pain was from 'gravel' stones; gradually grew worse; the pain was in my back and side. My back swelled up in a great ridge, and I finally grew so bad that I was taken to bed, as helpless as a child. I passed blood, and when the pain was at its worst I was like one crazy. The doctor injected morphine to give me relief, but further than that he said he was powerless, and nothing would do me any good but a surgical operation. I believe my flesh was literally cooked in the attempts to relieve my agony, everything was used, mustard plasters, turpentine, hot cloths and all such things. I was in this condition, given up by the doctor, and almost out of my mind with suffering. I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and really I felt easier in 20 minutes. After about two hours I had a passage of urine, and passed blood and some 'gravel' stones which greatly relieved me. I rapidly improved. I took in all six boxes, and I feel to-day entirely well. Mine has been a wonderful case. I feel that I cannot say anything strong enough for Doan's Kidney Pills. My great wish is that they may become well known. They will prove a boon to mankind.

FITS AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

When Henry M. Hall, M. D., late surgeon U. S. A., Department of Tennessee, returned from the war he found a child afflicted with epilepsy. Leading physicians were consulted, without apparent benefit. Noted specialists could give but little if any relief. To rescue his child from a fate worse than death became the object of his life. For several years experiment followed experiment, until at last success crowned his efforts. In 1880 old age and infirmities induced him to impart the knowledge of how to manufacture it, under the agreement that a bottle should be sent free of all charges to any one applying for it, who was afflicted with epilepsy. Since then over 20,000 free bottles have been sent to the afflicted. Experience has proved that it cures Insomnia, St. Vitus Dance, and all forms of Nervous Affliction. If you want to try this wonderful remedy free of all charge, write, stating your disease as plainly as possible; give your age and post office. Address The Hall Chemical Co., West Philadelphia, Pa.

What is an Emulsion

Milk is a true Emulsion, and as milk or cream is easier to digest and assimilate than butter, so is milk or cream of Cod-liver Oil easier to digest and assimilate than raw Oil. This is why Scott's Emulsion is much more useful and effective than the natural Oil, why it accomplishes so much in arresting waste and building up the body.

But it is much more than ordinary fat food. It has other constituents that have wonderful healing and strengthening power, and in addition we add the Hypophosphites (or Phosphorus), another most important element in overcoming decreased vitality or loss of flesh. These are the reasons why Scott's Emulsion is benefiting to-day hundreds of thousands of consumptives and anæmic persons, as well as being a food and remedy for sickly, wasting children that is surprising both to physicians and parents.

NERVOUS, DESPONDENT, DISEASED MEN

Emissions, Varicocele, Seminal Weakness, Self-Abuse, Syphilis, Gleet, Stricture, Unnatural Discharges, Loss of Vital Fluid, Urine, Impotency, Sexual and Mental Weakness, Kidney and Bladder Diseases Positively CURED OR NO PAY.

16 Years in Detroit. 200,000 Cured.

Young or Middle Aged Man. You have led a gay life or indulged in the vices of early youth. The symptoms stealing over you. Self abuse or later excesses have broken down your system. Mentally, physically and sexually you are not the man you used to be or should be. Lustful practices reap rich harvest. Think of the future. Will you heed danger signals? Are you nervous and weak; despondent and gloomy; specks before eyes; back weak and kidneys irritable; palpitation of heart; dreams and losses at night; sediment in urine; weakened manhood; pimples on face; eyes sunken and cheeks hollow; poor memory; careworn expression; Varicocele; tired in morning; lifeless; distrustful; lack energy strength and ambition. Our New Method Treatment will positively cure you. It will make a man of you and life will open anew. We guarantee to cure you or refund all money. No names used without written consent. $1,000 paid for any case we take and fail to cure.

SNATCHED FROM THE GRAVE—A Warning From the Living Dead.

Emissions Cured. "At 15 I learned a bad habit. Had losses for seven years. Tried four doctors and nerve tonics by the score, without benefit; I became a nervous wreck. A friend who had been cured by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan of a similar disease, advised me to try them. I did so, and in two months was positively cured. This was eight years ago. I am now married and have two healthy children."
C. W. LEWIS, Saginaw, Mich.

Varicocele Cured. "Varicocele, the result of early vice, made life miserable. I was weak and nervous, eyes sunken, bashful in society, hair thin, dreams and losses at night, lack ambition. The "Golden Monitor" opened my eyes. The New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy & Kergan cured me in a few weeks."
I. L. PETERSON, Iowa.

Syphilis Cured. "This terrible blood disease was in my system for eight years. Had taken mercury for two years, but the disease returned. Eyes red, pimples and blotches on the skin, ulcers in the mouth and on tongue, bone pains, falling out of hair, weakness. My brother, who had been cured of Gleet and Stricture by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan, recommended them. They cured me in a few weeks, and I thank God I consulted them. No return of the disease in six years."
W. P. M., Jackson, Mich.

A Minister Speaks. The Rev. W. E. Sparks, of Detroit, says: "I know of no disease so injurious to the mind, body and soul of young men as that of Self Abuse. I have sent many victims of this lustful habit to Drs. Kennedy & Kergan for treatment. I can heartily endorse their New Method Treatment which cured them when all else failed."

A Doctor Recommends "I know nothing in medical science so efficient for the cure of Sexual Diseases as the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. In it cases which had baffled scores of physicians were cured in a few weeks. I have seen this with my own eyes and know it to be a fact."
T. E. ALLISON, M. D.

Reader Have you been guilty? Has your Blood been diseased? Are you weak? Do you desire to be a man? Are you contemplating marriage? Our New Method Treatment will positively cure you. Cures Guaranteed or No Pay. Consultation Free. No matter who has treated you, write for an honest opinion free of charge. Charges reasonable. Books Free.—"The Golden Monitor" (illustrated), on Diseases of Men, sent in close postage, two cents. Sealed.

BRITTON BUDGET.

Horse forks, ropes, pulleys, at Jas. Haight's.

Frank Gibson made a business trip to Toledo Wednesday.

McMillan, of Milan, shipped a car of hogs from here Saturday.

Mrs. John Britton and Anna visited Toledo friends Thursday and Friday of last week.

Prepare for haying by getting your hay forks, pulleys, ropes, etc., at Jas. Haight's.

Mrs. W. E. Allen and children visited her mother and sister at Ridgeway, part of last week.

Harvey Welling has received an entire new line of musical instruments and they are dandies.

Lewadson Bros' are in the egg business with both feet. They have taken in this week 100 cases.

Frank L. Woodward, of the Chamberlin & Bean Plow Company of Hudson, was in town Wednesday.

Miss Anna Hardy attended the W. C. T. U. convention at Reading this week. She went as a delegate from here.

The school board has invited both the teachers to remain another year and they have accepted the invitation.

James Hillock moved into the parsonage instead of the Exelby house as stated last week. We make the correction.

L. L. Keeler, of Adrian, shipped a double deck car of hogs and sheep Saturday and yesterday two cars of hogs.

Mrs. Ezra Sink, accompanied by Ella Sweetby, visited the county seat Wednesday and took in the sights of that pretty city.

The elevator will not be moved from Ridgeway until the foundation is laid, the stone for which is being brought by rail from Whelerton.

Quite a number of our base ball cranks took in the excursion to Toledo Sunday and witnessed the trouncing of the Toledo team by Indianapolis.

Misses Nettie Fowler, Mettie Owen and Lena Wyrell, of Tecumseh, were the guests of Lizzie McCarbery Saturday and Sunday. They attended the photograph social.

Mrs. Will J. Clark was called to La Porte, Indiana, Wednesday morning, in consequence of a serious accident which befell her mother, Mrs. Jane Wilbraham, whereby her hip was fractured.

Geo. Exelby was circulating a petition on Wednesday to have the school children kept within the school yard during school hours, and not allow them to be in the stores or in the streets as they are liable to get run over when allowed to run at will.

Saturday being Web Underwood's 26th birthday about twenty five of his friends walked in on him at his home, in the evening. Web soon rallied from the surprise and proved himself an agreeable host. All had an evening of pleasure.

The Britton Journal has changed hands recently and the new proprietor C. K. Smeed, expects to become a resident here in the near future, and as soon as possible the office will be moved. Until that is accomplished, the paper will be printed at Petersburgh, as it has been.

Rev. E. Mudge left Sunday night for Chicago and Mrs. M. followed Wednesday morning. We regret to have them from us for they have a strong hold on the affections of the entire community, as Mr. Mudge retains his pastorate here for the balance of the year at least. We hope Mrs. M. will come over with them frequently.

Andrew Gogoline and Aleck Champlain each got a Ben Hur bike Saturday evening and Sunday they undertook to coast down them on our main boulevard. The efforts they put forth and the tactics adopted were witnessed by a crowd of spectators who were so delighted with the entertainment furnished them there was some talk of raising a sum of money as a testimonial of their appreciation.

Lee Bros. have an immense cigar in their case which is to be given to the person bringing in the largest hen's egg between May 1st and July 4th. James P. Underwood brought an egg in Wednesday, laid by a barred Plymouth Rock hen, which measured eight and one-half inches one way and seven and three-fourth inches the other and weighed six ounces. It is expected there will be great strife among the hens in this vicinity for a time at least, as each flock will endeavor to win for their owner this cigar.

The first game of ball was played on the home grounds Saturday afternoon, when our boys crossed bats with the team from Lake Ridge. It proved to be a very closely contested and interesting game from start to finish. Eastlick, Britton's old pitcher was in the box for Lake Ridge, and Biggs, who has not pitched a game in three years, was the pitcher for the home team and proved by his ability to pitch good ball. At the end of the 8th inning the score stood 6 to 4 in favor of Britton. In the 9th, our boys made some costly errors which cost them the game, and the score stood 10 to 7 in favor of Lake Ridge:

Score	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Britton	0	0	0	0	0	6	0	0	1	7
Lake Ridge	0	0	0	1	1	0	2	0	5	9

Henry Taylor, Monday noon, drove his horse to the hotel tank to water and being considerate of the animal's comfort, slipped the bridle off that he might enjoy his draught the more. To his surprise the horse became frightened, kicked himself loose from the wagon and ran across the hotel yard, just missing Lottie Gifford, who was going into the hotel, broke down Geo. Exelby's wire fence, then went over into Will Clark's yard and scaled the fence between Clark and Fred Rupp going clear over Rupp's little boy who was playing by the fence and out into the road where he was caught. Although no damage was done, there were two miraculous escapes. No doubt this will prove an object lesson to Henry which he will not soon forget.

I have used Burdock Blood Bitters in my family for two years. It is the best medicine I ever used. It cured me of erysipelas in very short time; also cured my son of scrofula after the doctors had failed.' Louis S. Woodward, Laurel Hill, Fayette County, Pa. 1w

HOLLOWAY HASH.

Mrs. Jacob Wright, of Raisin Center, is quite sick.

Harve Hartman will soon serve ice cream to the public.

The Ladies' Social is held at Mrs. Horace Holdridge's, May 16. All are invited.

F. G. Florance and family visited James Sutherland and wife, of Adrian, Sunday.

Chas. Anthony soon leaves for Virginia where he is agent for the Tecumseh Fence Co.

Wm. Cox is attending circuit court at Adrian this week. He is a juryman from Raisin.

Elmer Lewis is having a struggle with rheumatism. Dr. Jones, of Tecumseh is attending him.

The Holloway creamery caught fire and would have been in ashes, but for Mr. Holt seeing the fire in time to put it out.

Mrs. A. J. Stead and Mrs. B. I. Laing attended the W. C. T. U. convention at Reading, Hillsdale county, as delegates from this Union.

Mrs B. I. Laing, entertained the W. C. T. U, and also her Sunday School class, at her home Thursday afternoon. All report a pleasant time.

Frank Stead's paper, which he composed and read at the convention, was very good, and we are proud to say of him that he did finely and compliments are his.

Quite a number attended the convention which was held in Tecumseh. To say that the people of Tecumseh are not royal entertainers would be clear out of the question. The cordial welcome with which they greeted everyone and the dinner that the ladies served in the church parlors was very nice indeed and highly complimented by all who attended.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Decoration, May 30th, is the next holiday.

The sick in and about the village are improving.

Cleaning house and cutting lawns are the present occupation.

There were only a few who took in the excursion to Toledo, Sunday.

Look out for change of time on the C. J. & M. time cards soon to take effect.

The much needed rains have come and make all nature burst forth in grandeur.

A. E. Palmer and family, of Adrian, visited his brothers, Henry and Ed., over Sunday.

Supervisor Lowe and son Charles, W. B. Arner and Harvey Hines, went to the lakes fishing Wednesday.

Mrs. Geo. Church and children, of Tecumseh, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ransom.

Hiram Wescott and wife of Tecumseh, and Mr. and Mrs. Ives of Raisin, spent Sunday with Mrs. Wescott's parents Mr. and Mrs. George Rexom.

Mrs. John Arner and Mrs. Daniel Linn, went to Reading Wednesday, as delegates to the district W. C. T. U. convention being held there this week.

MACON MUSIC.

Miss Addie Crittenden was home from Northville to spend Sunday.

The school entertainment given by Miss Camburn last Saturday night, proved quite an attraction.

Leroy Chamber's family, of Kankakee, Wis., arrived in this place Wednesday and expects to make it their home here for some time.

Owing to the absence of Mr. Gulick from the Reformed church and the quarterly meeting service in the evening at the M. E. church, there was no preaching service during the day last Sunday.

The concert Friday evening, by the Grayson Family and others, called out a full house, the only disappointment being that Miss Grayson had to act as organist, and that the "Austin Boys" could not come. Receipts were over $29.00.

Tired, Weak, Nervous Could Not Sleep.

Prof. L. D. Edwards, of Preston, Idaho, says: "I was all run down, weak, nervous and irritable through overwork. I suffered from brain fatigue, mental depression, etc. I became so weak and nervous that I could not sleep. I would arise tired, discouraged and blue. I began taking and now everything is changed. I sleep soundly, I feel bright, active and ambitious. I can do more in one day now than I used to do in a week. For this great good I give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine the sole credit.

It Cures."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Magnetic Ointment.

The worst Sores, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, Sprains, Skin Disorders, Sore Throat, Croup, Rheumatism, Lameness, Piles, and all external and internal affections characterized by INFLAMMATION, yield to its influence as if by magic. It is a purely vegetable preparation by a regular physician of eminence, and its success has been marvelous in the most obstinate cases. Sold by Druggists and Dealers at 25 and 40 cents.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

It never fails to restore the natural functions of the skin and equalize the circulation of the blood. By this means a controlling power is gained over the most malignant forms of disease. It penetrates to every portion of the human frame; every bone, muscle, vein, nerve and ligament is searched out and made sensible to its soothing and healing influence. Hence it copes readily with internal as well as external diseases.

Over 40 Years.

This Ointment has been used by the people throughout the United States, and our confidence in its qualities is such that as we have no space here to insert any of the numerous certificates of cures which we have from all parts of the country, we simply ask those readers of this notice who have ever used this Ointment, to frankly state their experience with it to inquiring friends. If but one in a hundred would do this we should be perfectly satisfied with the result. Full directions for use will be found on pamphlet around each bottle.

Prices 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Frank Bauer went to Adrian Wednesday.

Editor Blosser and wife of Manchester took dinner at the Lilley to-day.

The second lecture on parliamentary law will be given at the Universalist church, at 8:30 this evening.

Stein and Frank, the Detroit opticians, who have become quite well known through their work in town, will be at the Lilley House for the week beginning May 13.

B. C. Knapp, M. A. Zimmerman, J. S. Temple, Joe Russell, J. W. Wightman and Will J. Ingersoll were all in Adrian yesterday as witnesses in the Stout—Mensing suit.

The Friends' social, announced to take place next week at the home of Miss Libbie Satterthwaite has been deferred until some future date, by reason of the death of Joshua Taylor.

Subject for Sunday, May 12th in the Universalist church: "And in Hell he lift up his eyes being in torments," St. Luke XVI. Y. P. C. U. meeting at 6:30 p. m. Topic, My Favorite Hymns, and why.—Ps. 98:1-9; 147: 1-7; 144: 9-15.

A Citizens' and Soldiers' meeting is called for at 7 p. m., May 15th, to be held at the Armory, for the purpose of making arrangements for Decoration Day, May 30th. The ladies of the W. R. C., and all loyal women are cordially invited to be present. By request of the officers of Beers Post, No. 140.

The free entertainment "Under the Search Light", given Tuesday evening by Rev. Frank Hoyt under the auspices of the local tent of the K. O. T. M. was eagerly enjoyed by a large and appreciative house, last Tuesday evening. Rev. Hoyt is an eloquent and lucid speaker, and when aided by the graphic illustration of a 3000 candle calcium light, his presentation of the workings and objects of the Maccabees is most profound and impressive. The lecturer begins with the early wars, trials, and progress of the ancient Knights who were the first to make assessments for the succor of the widow and orphan and thus boldly set an example of benevolence and humanity which has resulted in the modern Maccabees, perhaps the greatest insurance and benevolent organization in our land to-day. The Maccabees themselves, who are best to judge, were delightfully surprised with the force and logic with which their own ideas of benevolence were presented, and those outside of the order were awakened to a greater sense of their duty to themselves and families in providing for the hour of need and want. Altogether the lecture was a most powerful argument in favor of secret beneficiary organizations and especially the Maccabees, and we predict will work great good in this locality.

GONE TO HER REST.

The sudden death of Mrs. Philip S. DePuy, which occurred at her home on Friday morning, April 29th, 1895, was a surprise and grief to her many relatives and friends, the majority of whom had not even heard of her sickness.

About three weeks previous to her death Mrs. DePuy was taken with the Grip and was confined to the bed for nearly two weeks, but was not considered dangerous. In fact she so far recovered from the attack as to sit up several hours through the day, write to her absent children and converse with those around her in her usual cheerful spirit. But on Wednesday night about midnight, of the third week of her illness, she was taken worse, and in the following morning about nine o'clock had a stroke of apoplexy, from which she never rallied. She was unconscious from the first, living only twenty-four hours after the fatal attack.

Mrs. DePuy's maiden name was Milaney Chandler. She was the daughter of Henry and Sally Chandler and was born in Coventry, Chenango County, N. Y., Jan. 29th, 1820. She was descended from an old puritanical, New England family, her Chandler ancestors having come from England to America and settled in Massachusetts as early as 1637. On the Chandler side she had many illustrious relatives among whom were the late senator Zach Chandler, of Michigan, Louisa Chandler Moulton, the authoress, Bancroft, the historian, and the late ex-President Hayes, who was her double cousin.

In her girlhood days, Miss Chandler's parents moved from Coventry to Nunda, Livingston County, N. Y., where they subsequently lived and where, on February 26th, 1845, she was married to Philip S. DePuy, of Mt. Morris, N. Y. Of this union six children were born, five of whom are now living. In 1854 Mr. and Mrs. DePuy came to Michigan and settled at Tecumseh where they have since lived.

Mrs. DePuy was a life long member of the Baptist church and was always identified with all matters pertaining to christian work. Tender, loving, gentle, she was the truest of friends and ever had a welcoming smile for all, whether it were the bidden or unbidden guest. She was the tenderest of mothers and her children loved and worshipped her as their beautiful mother whose loving life never spoke a harsh or angry word, whose tender eyes never gave them a frowning look. At her knee she taught them their childish prayer and her good night kiss, will ever linger in the memory like a parting benediction to bless and strengthen the future years they must now live out without her loving council. Hallowed home of childhood days! Blessed indeed are they who can associate its memory with the sacred influence of such a mother. Of refined tastes and endowed with rich intellectual gifts Mrs. DePuy enjoyed literary works and pursuits and manifested the keenest interest and delight in any pen production that came from any member of her own family. For many months past she had longed to live until the fiftieth anniversary of her marriage and this she realized, Mr. and Mrs. DePuy having celebrated their golden wedding last February, thus rounding out their married life in fifty golden years.

Mrs. DePuy's youngest daughter, Emma C. Keith, died March 25th, 1882. Besides her husband, her remaining five children, Mrs J. M. Hendershot, of Tecumseh, Ray W. DePuy and Rev. Wellington DePuy, of Grand Ledge, Mich. Mrs. Thomas Taber, of Madison, Wis., and E. Cora DePuy, the well known author and journalist of Ann Arbor, Mich., survive her.

The funeral services were held at the family residence on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Mr. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of this village and were largely attended. The remains were interred in the family lot in Oak Grove cemetery.

Gone! and the world to go on as before!
Gone, with a smile from the old home door.
Dear, gentle mother, to come back nevermore

FARMERS' SOCIAL CLUB.

The May meeting of the club will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rector on the afternoon of May 24th. The following is the program:

Music—Ellen Fisher and Grace Gillespie.
Rec.—Mrs. G. B. Garlinghouse.
Dec.—Earl Rector.
Reading—Mr. Finch.
Poem—Mrs. Remington.
Essay—Mrs. F. D. Rector.
Dec.—Mr. I. H. Schreder.
Music—Ora and Jennie Gillespie.
Question—Does spraying fruit trees pay, and best method of spraying? Question opened by Mr. Fisher. Mrs. B. J. Rector will furnish the supper.

Was St. Paul in Love?

This question has been considerably discussed, at one time and another. Was this Star Apostle of Christianity subject to the same heart-throbs as ordinary mortals? Was his apparent indifference to woman the result of an early disappointment?

One is reminded of these questions in the poetical novel commenced by Will Carleton in the April number of EVERY WHERE, and entitled "A Saint's Love."

LET US SPRAY OUR TREES

And Have a Good Crop of Apples.
What More Desirable and Profitable?

From late experiments it has been proven that it can be done. E. Tindall has been appointed agent for the selling of the best and most approved apparatus for the spraying of all kinds of fruit trees, vines, etc., including twenty different styles, from the small, cheap hand pump to the horse power machine for large orchards. All having the most perfect Nozzle. The pumps are made of brass and copper which can neither rust nor corrode, and are furnished with 4 to 8 feet of hose (or longer, if desired) and the Excelsior nozzle; also an air chamber, whereby a constant pressure is obtained so that a continuous force of from 50 to 100 pounds on the nozzle is secured with very ordinary exertion, and not affected by the movements of the plunger, throwing a stream 50 to 80 feet high. Also, peculiar to these outfits, hose are attached by which a small part of the liquid is re-discharged at the bottom of the reservoir with great force, which keeps the poison and water well mixed, which is very essential so as not to hurt the foliage. Reservoirs up to 50 gallons, of copper or galvanized iron, are furnished with these pumps for hand use. For orchards or larger uses a second hand oil, or water tight barrel may be used, on which these pumps can be placed and moved about on a wagon, as desired. A complete and exhaustive discussion and directions on "How, When and Where to Spray, and the Ingredients Best for Certain Fruits, Vines, Etc.," found in printed matter furnished with these outfits. Please call at C. A. SLAYTON'S warehouse, Tecumseh, Mich., for inspection, further information and purchase of these outfits.

E. TINDALL.

The editor of an Ohio weekly announced not long ago that he "had been dying for several months." It seems he is running a dyehouse in addition to his newspaper business. It is to be hoped that the longer he lives the better he dyes and the longer he dyes the better he lives.

Our sewing machine premiums were awarded last Saturday according to announcement. They were drawn by Mathew Montgomery, George Swartz, Ora McBride and Andrew McCreary, in the order named. C. E. Williamson acted as chairman of the meeting and a fair gathering witnessed the proceedings.

A Frenchman living in Russia is said to have attained the immense age of 126 years. It appears he was born in Paris, April 17, 1768. He joined Napoleon's army in 1798. He fought in the battles Austerlitz and Jena, served in the campaigns of Egypt and Spain, and finally was one of the 400,000 men who followed Napoleon to Moscow.

Frank Harris, recent pitcher for the Monroe league team and whose pitching at Flint Wednesday was so flatteringly noticed in the Detroit papers, is home for a few days. The league charter has been transferred from Monroe to Port Huron, and Frank is undecided whether he will remain with Monroe or accept an offer to sign with Port Huron.

Little Marie Edwards is certainly a wonderful child as those who witnessed her musical performance last Wednesday evening can testify. The entertainment throughout was most interesting and enjoyable, though witnessed by a rather small house. Mr. Edwards and Marie were very acceptably assisted on the program by Rev. W. R. Blachford and Miss Jessie Case, and Mr. George Sanford of Clinton, whose performance on the mouth organ brought forth a hearty encore.

Joshua Taylor died very suddenly last evening at his home in Raisin. He ate his supper as usual, but shortly after complained of slight pain and passed quietly away. Mr. Taylor was 80 years of age. The time of the funeral has not yet been fixed as some of the relatives live at considerable distance.

The North American Review for May opens with an interesting article upon "The Preacher and His Province," by his Eminence Cardinal Gibbons. It discusses the various duties and responsibilities resting upon ministers of religion, irrespective of creed, and advocates in a practical manner a closer study by the clergy of their fellow men.

While stopping a couple of hours at Adrian, the other day between trains, we called to see Bro. Grandon in his new quarters. The Telegram is now housed in a domicile of its own and it is a model newspaper office, the business office and press room on the lower floor, and the news and editorial rooms on the second floor. The Telegram is bound to succeed under the efficient management of Grandon & Kingston.

The rain fall in Tecumseh for each month during the year just ended taken by one of our most reliable statisticians, was as follows: May 8.12; June 2.17; July .86; Aug. .72; Sept. 2.54; Oct. 3.03; Nov. 1.71; Dec. 1.74; Jan. 1.49; Feb. .13; March .65; April 1.33. Total 24.49. The average for April for the past 25 years has been 2.23. Thus it can be seen that our present shortage is largely due to the light fall during February and March.

We have heard of the wonderful curative properties of mud baths and hot springs, but were not aware that the simple black muck of our celery farms contained a rare somniferous virtue within its marshy bosom. However it has been found that Morpheus can there be woed with sure success by some who seek in vain his favor elsewhere. This is a rare boon in this busy world to those who have the opportunity. We advise all nervous people to ask those who have tried it.

On the occasion of the recent visit of the famous Sousa Band to Detroit one of the most attractive numbers making up the program was the Detroit Journal March. It was composed for the Journal by Wm. C. G. Wright and arranged for the band by Willard Bryant. Mr. Sousa's appreciation of the march was later shown when he played it as an encore a few days later at Toledo and other cities. The reception given the march is but in keeping with the reception that is being given the Journal of late throughout the whole state. The Journal is recognized as a clean, reliable newspaper, and is forging to the front at a rapid rate. It deserves, too, all the success with which it is meeting.

Mrs. Richard Ford has recently received a letter from an old friend, C. H. Nichols, of Grass Lake, giving an item of personal history. An old silver poplar standing in the southwest corner of his garden was cut down in Feb. 1894. It was then 125 feet high and 20 feet in circumference and was the largest tree in Grass Lake township. The letter says: 'In 1842 a young man by the name of Richard Ford was cleaning up a place for a garden spot, took out his knife and was about to cut off the sprout for a whip. His mother thought it had better be left and now you can see the result.' The boy Richard Ford was Mrs. Ford's husband. The tree contained 40 cords of 16 inch wood, 2,000 fence pickets and a log which scaled 2,000 feet of lumber.

The World's Fair Tests

—When the Waterbury watch Company stopped manufacturing their old style watch, the flood gates of cheap Swiss factories were opened, and poorly made, very unreliable watches were forced on the market in place of the very accurate Waterbury, which had but the one fault—its long wind. The clock factories, with their cheap clock watches, added to the stock of poor stuff, and the Waterbury Company were appealed to for something good and cheap in the quick wind series. The result is the new 'Trump' watch, which sells at $2.50. Call on ADAMSON BROS. and see this new watch.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

A Field Day.

LANSING, May 8.—A field meeting of the Michigan Academy of Sciences will be held at Orion, Oakland county, on Decoration day, May 30. After some consultation small parties will be formed to search for natural objects of most interest to them, whether it be algae, fungi, mosses, the higher plants; whether birds, reptiles, fishes, shellfish, insects, crustacea; or geology, archaeology, or the microbes affecting the sanitary condition of the neighborhood.

Pardon for James Harcourt.

LANSING, May 8.—Gov. Rich has pardoned James Harcourt, convicted in September, 1891, of killing the notorious Dan Dunn, of Seney, the keeper of an immoral resort in the north woods, who was a terror to the entire community. While it was not shown that the killing was in self-defense, it was established to the satisfaction of the pardoning board that Dunn would have shot Harcourt on sight.

Women Buy a Fountain.

MUSKEGON, May 5.—A half dozen of the representative women of the city appointed as a committee by the Soldiers' and Sailors' association have purchased a handsome fountain which they have presented to the city and will erect it on a triangular lot of green at the intersection of Peck and Terrace streets. The fountain cost $1,000 and is a handsome thing.

Stove-Molders' Strike.

LANSING, May 7.—Over 100 molders employed by E. Bement & Sons, stove manufacturers, went out on a strike Monday because of the refusal of the company to restore wages paid previous to a cut of 10 per cent. made two years ago. The men have not lost a day's work during the last three years, the factory having been run every day despite the business depression.

Held for His Son's Murder.

BATTLE CREEK, May 7.—A. C. Arnold, charged with murdering his son and secreting his body in the river, where it was found six weeks later frozen stiff, was held for trial at the next term of court without bail on the charge of murder in the first degree.

Paid His Shortage.

MOUNT CLEMENS, May 4.—Ex-Treasurer Czizek has assigned property to the amount of some $12,000 to James G. Tucker. This will secure his bondsmen and protect city from any loss. Mr. Czizek is not accused of any intentional wrongdoing.

A Strike Threatened.

ISHPEMING, Mich., May 8.—The miners in the different workings have presented requests for increased pay, and a strike will follow refusal to grant their request. A definite answer is expected from the mine owners this week.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., May 1.—The senate on Thursday struck out all after the enacting clause of a bill providing for a township unit system of schools.

LANSING, Mich., May 4.—The senate on Friday passed the Johnson bill placing all building and loan associations under the supervision of the commissioner of insurance, to whom they are to make reports and by whom they are to be inspected. The judiciary committee reported favorably on a bill providing for police matrons in cities of 10,000 inhabitants and upward. The Jewell bill restricting the Michigan Central railroad to two-cent fares on its main lines was made a special order for May 8.

LANSING, Mich., May 6.—An attempt was made in the senate Tuesday to re-refer what is known as the Jewett Michigan Central 2-cent-fare bill to the joint committee on railroads and judiciary, but it was defeated by a vote of 10 yeas to 19 nays. The public health committee reported favorably on the Johnson bill prohibiting coloring of oleomargarine to resemble genuine butter.

The special legislative committee which has for the past four months been making an investigation of the prison labor question has submitted a report to the senate in which it is recommended that no change be made in either the existing contract system or the manufacture of furniture on state account at the Ionia reformatory until some better means of employment of the convicts is devised. The report suggests that the prisoners be employed in raising flowers for market, manufacturing children's toys, raising such agricultural products and as far as possible manufacturing all such articles as can be consumed and used in the various state institutions. It also recommends that all state printing and binding be done in Jackson prison, and also that text books for the public schools be printed there.

House.

LANSING, Mich., May 3.—The house on Thursday passed the senate joint resolution appropriating $10,000 for a statue to ex-Gov. Austin Blair upon the capitol grounds, and the bill appropriating $24,000 for improvements at the agricultural college, and approved the senate resolution fixing the date of final adjournment as May 31. The bill for a state system of free text books was lost on final passage by a vote of 35 to 24, as was the bill for a state board of plumbing inspectors.

LANSING, Mich., May 4.—The house judiciary committee has made a favorable report on the resolution providing for a general compilation of the laws of the state, such compilation to be the property of the state when completed.

LANSING Mich., May 8.—The house has agreed to the bill cutting passenger rates on all railroads in the upper peninsula to three cents per mile.

FOUR LIVES LOST.

Two Boys and a Man and Wife Drowned at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., May 6.—The summer season opened on the river here Sunday with two double drownings. George H. Baugh, roller of the Baugh forge department of the Michigan Peninsular car works, was out with his wife and a male companion in a rowboat Sunday afternoon when the boat capsized and all three went into the river just off Sandwich Point on the Canadian side. Baugh and his wife were drowned. Their companion was rescued.

About the same hour Frank Connelly and John Moriarty, boys aged 14, were swimming in the River Rouge south of this city when Connelly was taken with cramps. Young Moriarty jumped in to save him, but Connelly grasped him so hard that he was helpless, and both were drowned. The bodies were recovered.

ELECTRIC MAIL CAR.

A Scheme to Run from New York to Chicago in Five Hours.

IONA, May 7.—A. P. Crell, after five years' work, has invented an electric mail car which he claims will make the journey from New York to Chicago in five hours, or at the rate of 200 miles an hour. The car is made of steel and weighs forty tons. It is to run over an elevated track of steel throughout, 18 feet from the ground and supported by a cable. The car, which carries no living persons, will be adjusted to pick up mail at a limited number of stations along the line. It will cost $10,000 a mile to build. Ex-Postmaster-General Bissell has approved the scheme, and several New York capitalists are now figuring on it. Power will be drawn from Niagara Falls.

Fatal Accident at Sturgis.

STURGIS, May 5.—The body of a man about 33 years of age was found on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad near Sturgis Sunday. In his pocket was found a diary, on which was written: "My name is H. H. Thomas. My home is in Ogden, Iowa. My father's name is I. W. Thomas, of the same place." In his pocket was found a letter from his mother, stating that she would send him $10 to come home with.

Can't Move the Logs.

HOUGHTON, May 6.—Two hundred million feet of logs are hung up along the various upper-peninsula streams. The lumber cut of last winter was unusually heavy, as it was necessary to log the sections burned over in September last. The situation is a very serious one to the lumber interests, and heavy losses are unavoidable.

They Had a Still.

GRAND RAPIDS, May 6.—Freeman Lavalley and C. W. Fuller, who have been distilling illicit whisky in the wilds of Cato township, Antrim county, were brought into town by Deputy Marshal O'Donnell and placed in the county jail. Both men have been farmers in Antrim county for a good many years.

Michigan Town Passes a Curfew Law.

NEGAUNEE, May 8.—The city council has passed a curfew ordinance, and all children under 16 caught on the streets after the bell rings at 9 p. m. will be arrested. This is the first trial of the experiment in Michigan. It is working successfully in several Minnesota towns.

Named by the Governor.

LANSING, May 6.—Gov. Rich has appointed Prof. H. C. Adams, Ann Arbor; B. M. Cutcheon, Grand Rapids; Harry A. Conant, Monroe; Edward Cahil, Lansing, and Cyrus Lothrop, Detroit, inspectors of the Michigan Military academy.

Many Indicted.

CHARLOTTE, May 6.—The grand jury has returned indictments against thirty-six men of the county for violating the local option law and keeping gambling houses.

AN ORDINANCE.

Village of Tecumseh, Mich., Council Room, May 6, 1895.

An Ordinance requiring the building and maintaining of sidewalks within the Village of Tecumseh.

SEC. I. The Common Council of the village of Tecumseh ordains: That every owner or occupant of a lot or parcel of land within the village of Tecumseh, fronting, abutting or adjoining a public street, shall grade, construct, reconstruct, repair and maintain sidewalks adjoining such lots or parcels of land.

SEC. II. The Council may require, by resolution, the building, rebuilding or repairing of sidewalks when the same shall be, by the Council, deemed necessary for the public good, or provided the Council may require the building of sidewalks when two-thirds of the property owners along the line where such sidewalk is proposed to be built shall request, in writing, the Council to pass a resolution requiring the construction thereof; provided, no sidewalk shall terminate short of the intersection of streets at each extremity, unless it sooner joins a sidewalk already constructed. All sidewalks built, rebuilt or repaired as above provided, shall be built, rebuilt or repaired within ten days from the date of service of a copy of said resolution on the owner or occupant of the lot or parcel of land along which it is proposed to build, rebuild or repair such sidewalk.

SEC. III. It shall be the duty of the Marshal to serve a copy of the resolution mentioned in the preceding section within five days after its passage, upon the owner or occupant of every lot or parcel of land along and adjoining which such sidewalk is proposed to be built, rebuilt or repaired, either personally or by leaving the same at the residence or dwelling house upon such and every lot with some person of suitable age who may be found thereon; and in case said Marshal shall not, after diligent search, be able to serve the same as above provided, then he shall, within five days after the expiration of the five days above limited for the service thereof, post three notices thereof in three of the most public places in said village; said notice shall contain a copy of said resolution and a description of lots the owner or occupant of which said Marshal was unable to serve personally.

SEC. IV. After the expiration of the ten days within which said sidewalk shall be built, rebuilt or repaired as above provided, and the owner or occupant having failed or neglected to complete the same as commanded in said resolution, it shall be the duty of the Street Commissioner of said village, under direction of the Common Council, to build, rebuild or repair such sidewalk and finish the incomplete parts thereof forthwith; said Street Commissioner shall report at the first regular meeting of the said Common Council after the completion of said sidewalk, the expense of building, rebuilding or repairing such sidewalk adjoining each lot or parcel of land.

SEC. V. The expense of building, rebuilding or repairing such sidewalk, with a penalty of ten per cent added thereto, shall, by resolution of the Council, be certified under the hands of the President and Clerk to the board of special assessors of the village, as a special assessment, such resolution shall contain the name of the owner or occupant of each lot or parcel of land adjoining or abutting on which such sidewalk shall be built, rebuilt or repaired, a description thereof, together with the amount of the costs of building, rebuilding or repairing such sidewalk and said penalty; said board of special assessors shall spread the same on their special assessment roll as a special assessment, entering thereon the name of the owner or occupant of such lot or parcel of land, a description thereof, and the amount of said special assessment, and shall certify the same under their hands to the Council; such special assessment shall be numbered and filed in the office of the village clerk. Before such special assessment shall be confirmed and adopted by the Council they shall cause notice thereof to be published for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published within the village, in such notice designating a time and place when and where the Council and said board of special assessors will meet to review said assessment and hear objections thereto. After such review said special assessment shall be confirmed and adopted, together with such changes as shall be made therein; the certificate of confirmation and adoption shall be endorsed thereon, signed by the President and Clerk, and certified to the village assessor, who shall spread the same on the village assessment roll as special assessments entering thereon the name of the party or parties to whom assessed, a description of the lot or parcel of land on which such special assessment is a lien, and the amount thereof, and shall certify the same as other taxes. Provided, that when it shall be deemed expedient the Council may order such expense and penalty collected by suit, and may sue for the same, together with said penalty, in an action of assumpsit, before any court of competent jurisdiction, together with costs of suit.

SEC. VI. On receipt of the tax roll with his warrant annexed, the treasurer shall proceed to collect said special assessment. If any person shall neglect or refuse to pay the same on demand the treasurer shall seize and levy the same upon any personal property of such person, found within the county, and sell the same at public auction, first giving six days' notice of the time and place of such sale, by posting three notices in three of the most public places in the village or township where such property shall be found; the proceeds of such sale, or so much as shall be necessary for that purpose, shall be applied to the payment of the assessment, together with a percentage of five per cent on the amount of the assessment, for costs and expenses of such seizure and sale, and the surplus, if any, shall be paid to the person entitled thereto. Within one week after the expiration of the time limited in the warrant for the collection of the taxes levied in said roll, or within one week after the time to which said warrant may have been extended or renewed, if the treasurer has been unable to collect any of the taxes assessed therein as special assessments for the building, rebuilding or repairing any sidewalk, he shall return all such unpaid taxes to the county treasurer of the county, in the same manner and like effect as returns by township treasurers. Such returned tax shall be collected by the county treasurer under the provisions of the general tax laws of the state, together with interest and charges thereon.

SEC. VII. All sidewalks hereafter constructed, reconstructed or repaired within the village, except as herein provided, shall be built of sound pine plank, not less than one and one-half inches in thickness and not exceeding six inches in width, laid lengthwise and well spiked down on white oak stringers, not less than two by four inches in size and placed not more than two feet apart and doubled at the joints in the planking, and such walk shall be of such width as the Council shall determine in the aforementioned resolution, but no sidewalk shall be less than four feet in width.

SEC. VIII. Sidewalks constructed of cement may be built by the owners or occupants of lots or parcels of land abutting on the public streets of the village according to such specifications as the Council shall, by resolution, adopt, three-fourths of the cost thereof to be paid by the owner or occupant of said lots or parcels of land and one-fourth from the general fund of the village. Such sidewalks shall be constructed under the supervision of the street committee of the village.

SEC. IX. If the owner or occupant of any lot or parcel of land building cement sidewalks according to the provisions of this ordinance, shall refuse or neglect to pay his respective portion of the cost thereof, the same shall be collected as is here in provided for collecting costs of original construction of other sidewalks.

SEC. X. Sections one, two and three of chapter VI of the Compiled Ordinances of the Village of Tecumseh, and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in anywise conflicting herewith are hereby repealed.

This ordinance shall take effect June 1st, 1895.

J. H. SMITH, President.

W. J. INGERSOLL, Village Clerk.

Child's Play

— washing with Pearline. Everything that makes it hard work is taken away.

Everything that makes the wear and tear, too—there's no rub, rub, rubbing about it. It's absolutely safe. Remember that, if you've had your clothes eaten, frayed or ravelled by cheap imitations. Pearline is as cheap as anything can be that is safe. It costs no more at the start than common soap—and it saves money from the minute you start with it.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. 327 JAMES PYLE, New York.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning May 19, Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, Man's Frailty and Mortality.

SCRIPTURE READING.—Job xiv, 1-12.

This speech of Job closes the first division of the book.

Eliphaz and Bildad have each spoken and been answered in turn by Job. The last of the three friends, Zophar, has also made his argument, to which Job now makes reply. Zophar has charged Job with garrulity, arrogance and impiety in maintaining his own innocence. He gives a sublime description of God, and without attempting to explain the equity of the Divine government maintains that men should submit to it without question. He promises Job if he will do so he shall again enjoy prosperity.

Job begins his reply with keenest sarcasm. They had repeated truisms as if they contained profound wisdom. He knew as much of such things as they did. He reaffirms his integrity and discourses most eloquently upon God. He expresses an earnest desire to transfer his cause from the court of these men to that of God Himself. He then makes a most solemn appeal to God. In this we find the exquisitely beautiful and pathetic passage on the shortness of human life and the frailty of man. He is alternately tossed by hope and fear. He doubts regarding a future state of existence and finally settles into despondency and longs for the silence of the grave.

S. A. STEEL, D. D.
(General secretary Epworth League of M. E. church, south.)

On Lookout.

It was a great day when fighting Joe Hooker and the boys in blue contended with the Confederate forces on Lookout Mountain and fought that historic "battle above the clouds." But Chattanooga will see a grander gathering in June next when the great Methodist army corps of the church militant is mustered on that ground.

Grander themes are to be discussed and greater results, we trust, will be achieved.

Preparations will be made to seat 10,000 persons in the Auditorium. A platform for 500 persons will be used for choir, speakers and guests. A grand chorus choir will lead the singing.

What a trip that will be! The inspiration of the convention, the visit to the great National Battlefield park and the view from old Lookout!

League Literature.

The rapid increase in books for the use of the League is remarkable. Hymn books of various styles and qualities, histories, Bible studies, manuals and hints for the various departments and for junior work multiply, till it is difficult to keep track of the fast developing literature. The weekly papers of the various branches of the League add to its volume. All these aids to the cultivation of intelligent piety are to be welcomed, but need to be carefully used. We need to sift them and save the best. Nor should it ever be forgotten that the best helps are useless or may be positively harmful if so used as to stunt instead of stimulate the development of the powers of each individual.

Conference Anniversaries.

The growing custom of holding an anniversary of the Epworth League some evening during the session of the annual conference or the evening preceding the opening is an indication of good. It is specially valuable from the fact that the preachers are nearly all present and are brought into closer touch and sympathy with the work of the League than is possible at most of the conventions. The presence of the presiding bishop or some general officer both deepens interest and increases the value of the service, as from their wide experience they speak of the various phases of the work.

Epworth Guards.

Great enthusiasm and much opposition has been developed over the organization of the boys into companies for military drill. More heat and discussion has been evolved than the subject seems to demand. Physical culture is a topic of deep interest at the present. The public schools are doing somewhat on this line in many places. Is it not possible to utilize the good features under some form of drill, and to avoid the dangerous or disagreeable elements supposed to be involved in military discipline and equipment?

The Ultimate Aim.

Social culture and development of knowledge and literary taste are good. Relief of the poor and distressed is a pressing duty. Support of church services and loyalty to vows are essential in Christian life, but the most needful thing to all members of the League is true and deep heart devotion to God. The daily communion of the soul with God in quiet, alone by itself, can never be neglected without grave loss. No attendance upon meetings can take the place of private devotions.

Dated April 12, 1895.

J. F. GILMORE.
JAMES H. HECK.
Commissioners.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Wednesday, the 17th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

Present, Richard B. Robbins, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Ann Norcross, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Charles Burridge praying for the probate of an instrument now on file in this court purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, and that administration of said estate may be granted to Petitioner, the executor nominated in said will, or to some other suitable person.

It is ordered, That Monday, the 13th day of May, next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said Petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said Petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

RICHARD B. ROBBINS, Judge of Probate.

Moved and supported that marshall cause all sidewalks to be inspected and to notify the owners to repair or rebuild such sidewalks where defective. Carried.

The druggists bond of Baker & Hall, in the sum of two thousand dollars, with Alfred D. Hall and James H. Heck as sureties, was presented and accepted and sureties approved.

The bond of George W. Knapp, as village treasurer, in the sum of eight thousand dollars, with John D. Shull and Joseph Russell as sureties, presented, approved and sureties accepted.

The resignation of H. W. Conkling, as member of the board of water commissioners, was presented; same was laid upon the table until next meeting.

The following ordinance relating to the construction and maintainance of sidewalks was introduced:

An Ordinance requiring the building and maintaining of sidewalks within the Village of Tecumseh.

SEC. I. The Common Council of the village of Tecumseh ordains: That every owner or occupant of a lot or parcel of land within the village of Tecumseh, fronting, abutting or adjoining a public street, shall grade, construct, reconstruct, repair and maintain sidewalks adjoining such lots or parcels of land.

SEC. II. The Council may require, by resolution, the building, rebuilding or repairing of sidewalks when the same shall be, by the Council, deemed necessary for the public good, or provided the Council may require the building of sidewalks when two-thirds of the property owners along the line where such sidewalk is proposed to be built shall request, in writing, the Council to pass a resolution requiring the construction thereof: provided, no sidewalk shall terminate short of the intersection of streets at each extremity, unless it sooner joins a sidewalk already constructed. All sidewalks built, rebuilt or repaired as above provided, shall be built, rebuilt or repaired within ten days from the date of service of a copy of said resolution on the owner or occupant of the lot or parcel of land along which it is proposed to build, rebuild or repair such sidewalk.

SEC. III. It shall be the duty of the Marshal to serve a copy of the resolution mentioned in the preceeding section within five days after its passage, upon the owner or occupant of every lot or parcel of land along and adjoining which such sidewalk is proposed to be built, rebuilt or repaired, either personally or by leaving the same at the residence or dwelling house upon such and every lot with some person of suitable age, who may be found thereon; and in case said Marshal shall not, after diligent search, be able to serve the same as above provided, then he shall, within five days after the expiration of the five days above limited for the service thereof, post three notices thereof in three of the most public places in said village; said notice shall contain a copy of said resolution and a description of lots the owner or occupant of which said Marshal was unable to serve personally.

SEC. IV. After the expiration of the ten days within which said sidewalk shall be built, rebuilt or repaired, as above provided, and the owner or occupant having failed or neglected to complete the same as commanded in said resolution, it shall be the duty of the Street Commissioner of said village, under direction of the Common Council, to build, rebuild or repair such sidewalk and finish the incomplete parts thereof forthwith; said Street Commissioner shall report at the first regular meeting of the said Common Council after the completion of said sidewalk, the expense of building, rebuilding or repairing such sidewalk adjoining each lot or parcel of land.

SEC. V. The expense of building, rebuilding or repairing such sidewalk, with a penalty of ten per cent added thereto, shall, by resolution of the Council, be certified under the hands of the President and Clerk to the board of special assessors of the village, as a special assessment, such resolution shall contain the name of the owner or occupant of each lot or parcel of land adjoining or abutting on which such sidewalk shall be built, rebuilt or repaired, a description thereof, together with the amount of the costs of building, rebuilding or repairing such sidewalk and said penalty; said board of special assessors shall spread the same on their special assessment roll as a special assessment entering thereon the name of the owner or occupant of such lot or parcel of land, a description thereof, and the amount of said special assessment, and shall certify the same under their hands to the Council; such special assessment shall be numbered and filed in the office of the village clerk. Before such special assessment shall be confirmed and adopted by the Council they shall cause notice thereof to be published for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published within the village in such notice designating a time and place when and where the Council and said board of special assessors will meet to review said assessment and hear objections thereto. After such review said special assessment shall be confirmed and adopted, together with such changes as shall be made therein; the certificate of confirmation and adoption shall be indorsed thereon, signed by the President and Clerk, and certified to the village assessor, who shall spread the same on the village assessment roll as special assessments entering thereon the name of the party or parties to whom assessed, a description of the lot or parcel of land on which such special assessment is a lien, and the amount thereof and shall certify the same as other taxes. Provided, that when it shall be deemed expedient the Council may order such expense and penalty collected by suit, and may sue for the same, together with said penalty, in an action of assumpsit, before any court of competent jurisdiction, together with costs of suit.

SEC. VI. On receipt of the tax roll with his warrant annexed, the treasurer shall proceed to collect said special assessment. If any person shall neglect or refuse to pay the same on demand the treasurer shall seize and levy the same upon any personal property of such person, found within the county, and sell the same at public auction, first giving six days' notice of the time and place of such sale, by posting three notices in three of the most public places in the village or township where such property shall be found; the proceeds of such sale, or so much as shall be necessary for that purpose, shall be applied to the payment of the assessment, together with a percentage of five per cent on the amount of the assessment, for costs and expenses of such seizure and sale, and the surplus, if any, shall be paid to the person entitled thereto. Within one week after the expiration of the time limited in the warrant for the collection of the taxes levied in said roll, or within one week after the time to which said warrant may have been extended or renewed, if the treasurer has been unable to collect any of the taxes assessed therein as special assessments for the building, rebuilding or repairing any sidewalk, he shall return all such unpaid taxes to the county treasurer of the county, in the same manner and like effect as returns by township treasurers. Such returned tax shall be collected by the county treasurer under the provisions of the general tax laws of the state, together with interest and charges thereon.

SEC. VII. All sidewalks hereafter constructed, reconstructed or repaired within the village, except as herein provided, shall be built of sound pine plank, not less than one and one-half inches in thickness and not exceeding six inches in width, laid lengthwise and well spiked down on white oak stringers, not less than two by four inches in size and placed not more than two feet apart and doubled at the joints in the planking, and such walk shall be of such width as the council shall determine in the aforementioned resolution, but no sidewalk shall be less than four feet in width.

SEC. VIII. Sidewalks constructed of cement may be built by the owners or occupants of lots or parcels of land abutting on the public streets of the village according to such specifications as the Council shall, by resolution, adopt, three-fourths of the cost thereof to be paid by the owner or occupant of said lots or parcels of land and one-fourth from the general fund of [illegible] constructed under the supervision of the street committee of the village.

SEC. IX. If the owner or occupant of any lot or parcel of land building cement sidewalks according to the provisions of this ordinance, shall refuse or neglect to pay his respective portion of the cost thereof, the same shall be collected as is herein provided for collecting costs of original construction of other sidewalks.

SEC. X. Sections one, two and three of chapter VI of the Compiled Ordinances of the Village of Tecumseh and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in anywise conflicting herewith are hereby repealed.

This ordinance shall take effect June 1st, 1895. Passed May 6, 1895.

J. H. SMITH, President.

W. J. INGERSOLL, Village Clerk.

Moved that above ordinance be passed and adopted, supported.

Yeas—Boyd, Satterthwaite, Heesen, Wright. Nays—Hall, Smith.

Ordinance declared passed.

Matter of engaging teams for the ensuing year was refered back to the street committee.

The bill of Frank B. Rae, for preparing estimates of cost of erecting and operating electric lighting plant, was allowed at the sum of $20.00.

Moved and supported that a committee of three be appointed to obtain bids for furnishing electric lights for the ensuing year and also to obtain reduction of the present cost of commercial lighting. Carried.

President Smith, and trustees Boyd and Satterthwaite appointed as such committee.

Council then adjourned.

At a session of the Probate Court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Thursday, the 18th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

Present, Richard B. Robbins, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Martha O'Hara deceased.

On reading and filing the petition duly verified of Charles O'Hara a son of said deceased, praying for the probate of an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased and that administration of said estate may be granted to Walter C. Burridge, the executor in said instrument named, or to some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 13th day of May next, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendancy of said petition and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

THE RESEARCH CIRCLE.

A Review of the Work Done During the Past Six Months.

For the past six months the members of our circle have, in imaginary wanderings, visited some of the wonderful places one often hears of; but wide as the scope is we have confined ourselves to but portions of the three countries, France, Italy and America; and what a mine for thought and research it has been.

In reality we are but loyal nineteenth century citizens of the 'Land of the Pilgrim's Pride,' but in Friday evening dreams we have been the companions of kings and queens. We have dared to tread their marble halls, to rest upon their dainty couches and gaze at their priceless paintings and sculptures. We have danced in their gardens and attended their private theatricals; in short, we have had a Marie Antoinette time of it, but, we have been forced to leave this gaiety and view, horror stricken, the Reign of Terror. We have shivered in the dungeons of La Bastile and have passed with downcast eyes that dread instrument of death, the Guillotine.

We have heard the boom of cannon and clash of arms and been told 'twas the Battle of Austerlitz, one of the most wonderful battles ever fought. One moment in admiration of Napoleon and again in condemnation, and then, woman like, in pity and sorrow at his life's sad, lonely ending. But, time was pressing and we could not spend it all with gloomy things so we tried to comprehend some of the beauties of the Louvre and spent a part of one evening at the Grand opera house in Paris.

They say in Europe that 'all roads lead to Rome,' so of course we eventually brought up there and even invaded the Pope's domain, the Vatican. Here again, in fair Italy, we found monuments enough that marked scenes of bloodshed. Many were the martyrs because of their religous views. And this reminds us of other things we saw; grand old churches and cathedrals where, in the dim, religious light, a hush fell upon us like the benediction that follows prayer. We have fancied that we heard the beautiful music at La Madeleine, and again we are in the Sistine Chapel listening to the chanting of the Misere and viewing the Last Judgment.

And then, for it is such a little space from the sublime to the ridiculous, it is night and we are dreaming that we are old Romans enjoying (?) an afternoon at the Coliseum. A gladiatorial contest, you know, or something of that nature; for while in Rome we must do, as nearly as we can, as the Romans did; so they tell us, anyway.

But we must hasten, and now, flight the third takes us to Florence. We will linger just a little time on the old bridges, just a glance at that old palace whose exterior somehow will remind us of Jackson prison, but whose interior is exquisite beyond description; and then on, on to a

"White phantom city whose untrolden streets
Are rivers, and whose pavements are the shifting,
Shadows of palaces and strips of sky."

And yet, Venice, fair as ye are, we have ventured to weigh you in the balance, and found you wanting, likened, as you have been, to a

'White swan in her nest of reeds.'

There is a dark blot in your history and it is with a sigh that we turn from your beauties to your Bridge of Sighs and your damp, moldy prisons which, tho' useless now, are haunted by memories of bygone misery. But now, whether we would or not, we must leave you behind and extend our trip to those magic islands, made so delightful by the patience and ingenuity of man.

Queer, lazy Naples, with your enchanting bay and Sorrento, we cannot pass you by; but just here we have an introduction to one who was once king of the Italians. Carlo Alberto, you have long since paid the debt of nature, but it does not matter, the record of your noble life is with us. You have left 'Footprints on the Sands of Time.' Did some one say 'where is Pisa?' Have we forgotten the Arno, the bridge, and above all, the Cathedral with its Baptistry and wonderful leaning tower. Fanum Fortunae, one of the ghosts of a far away time, and quaint Bologna, in all our doings about, you must be included, and then we come to the last place in our list, on foreign shores.

Somewhere we have read that, 'Wisely, the Hebrews have no present tense, for while the word is yet being spoken it is past; but not into the past of a day or year would we go, but, back over the centuries to over 1800 years. If there is a present it is strangely blended with that ancient time. Many tombs have we seen as we journeyed but not one have we found to equal thee, buried Pompeii, nor seen that raised so many conjectures as to who of what laid buried beneath, but to quote from one writer: 'Excavations were begun and Pompeii, shaking off as it were, her musty grave clothes stares from the classical and poetical world of the first into the prosaic modern world of the nineteenth century.

France and Italy, you have furnished us with much food for thought and we have enjoyed your numerous attractions, or such of them as we have had time to study. But, the last two months of our six have come; four of them we have spent with you, and now we turn to greet our own native land. Perhaps we have not the crumbling ruins of what was once magnificent piles of masonry or palaces with contents beyond price or galleries stored with the art treasures of centuries; perhaps we cannot point with pride to the work of a Michael Angelo, a Raphael or DeVerici and say, 'they were our countrymen;' but you have not the Grand Canons of Colorado, solitary, wierd and awful, nor the wonders of the Yellowstone with its geysers, throwing up their volume of hot water and steam to a height, some of them, of 150 feet, with the regularity of clockwork; its mammoth hot springs; Pulpit Terrace, caused by the peculiar action of the hot water and lime, and Yellowstone Lake, where trout are so plentiful that it is no sport to catch them. Then too, it is near here where is to be found what is considered to be the only thing of the kind in the world, a carriage way a quarter of a mile in length composed of glass, with the Obsidian Cliff, from which the material was obtained, on either side. All this, together with the mammoth Paint Pots containing their liquid mixture which resembles white paint, go to make a collection to be proud of. If you would see more wonders and beauties just take a trip to the Yosemite Valley, here are more canons, rivers, and falls, mountains miles high some of them with their summits lost in cloudland, an exquisite combination, and little Mirror Lake like a gem in the midst. And if you would go back into prehistoric times just take a peep at the what was once, the homes of the Cliff dwellers, whoever they might have been. Certain it is that some such race existed, but who they were or whence they came are questions which have not been satisfactorily answered. Another thing Europe has not, and that is the Territory of Utah. It should envy us in the possession, still Utah has many things to recommend it, it has too its Mormons. We visited Salt Lake City and found it very agreeable if you can escape the dust and the tongues of so many wives.

Among other places that came into our trip were the National Buildings at Washington D. C., with a short ramble through the city taking in the Washington Monument. St. Augustine the oldest city in the United States, and the elegant hotel Ponce De Leon, one of the finest buildings in the city. Boston with its common around which cluster so many recollections of the Nation's struggle for independence and last but far from least Luna Island and the Falls of the Niaagara. Thus while,

"The snow was on the mountain,
And the frost was on the vale,
Where the ice was on the fountain,
And the storm rode on the gale."

We have summoned from those little store houses the scientists tell us of, memories of June days, with the songs of birds, and sweet perfume of flowers, and gone on our way oblivious of grim old winter.

Three Crops a Year

Can be grown on the same land in eastern Mississippi and southern Alabama along the line of the Mobile & Ohio railroad. The summers are cooler, the winters are milder, the death rate is lower, than in the north. Improved farms $10 to $15 per acre, unimproved land $3 to $5 an acre near railway stations. It is the best portion for raising fruits and early vegetables, stock raising and general farm crops. Lands are advancing, now is the time to buy. Very low rate excursions monthly. The Mobile & Ohio has put on two through fast trains each way daily between St. Louis and Mobile. It is the shortest and quickest route to the south. COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL.

This little book is one of the most extensive treatises on the money question that has ever been written. It shows up the evil effects of our present monetary system in a most emphatic manner. Every voter in Lenawee county, regardless of party affiliations, should read it. The Chicago Times says: "A book that will create a profound impression throughout the United States." The New York Recorder says: "It mercilessly scourges the money changers in the Temple of the Republic." The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "This book tells its readers more about gold, silver and currency, generally, than any other publication we know of, and in a way that every man can fully comprehend." TIRED WOMEN.

The Housewife, the Farmer and the Toilers of all Vocations.

Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is a fertile source of blood impurities. That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter, quickly disappears when Pe-ru-na is taken. Thousands are daily testifying to its priceless benefit. General lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feelings, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep. Pe-ru-na meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Pe-ru-na invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and procures regular sleep.

This tired-out feeling is especially true of the housewife in spring time—used up, faged out, jaded and weak. There are thousands of them everywhere. A few bottles of Pe-ru-na would do them untold benefit. As a tonic and nerve invigorator it has no equal. It builds up the nerves, it gives strength to the circulation and at once restores the appetite and digestion. No feeble woman should be without Pe-ru-na.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

It has often been said that you can't please everybody. Such may be the case, but the first word of adverse criticism has yet to be said of Stowe & Co's Uncle Tom's Cabin, because the presentation is away above the average production. The company comprises 35 artists, white and colored; beautiful scenery; grand orchestra; new musical specialties; latest songs and dances; nothing old only the title. Secure seats at usual place; prices 35 and 50cts., children 25cts.

It would seem almost incredible that a recluse should live for years almost unknown within the confines of Lenawee county, and at last meet death attended only by poverty and wretchedness. Such, however, was the fate meeted out to Theodore Pentecost, once a prominent and well known man of Franklin township. The body was found Wednesday morning in the squalid hut which had been his only home for years, by parties who had become curious from not having seen him for a long time. The remains were turned over to the township authorities who will give them proper interment.

High School Happenings.

Much too fine weather to have to sit in school.

'Roast to death or leave the room' is the motto in B room.

Miss Josie Baldwin, of Palmyra city, visited school Tuesday.

'Oh, that we two were Maying' can be sung from the heart since this elegant weather.

The senior class boys, except one, indulged in athletics on the H. S. campus Thursday afternoon.

Clarence Hurry and the other girls delivered Shakespearian quotations Thursday morning. No tears were shed over Hurry's address.

The senior girls are wrathy because one of the senior youthfuls 'burrey'd' out after German and perambulated the city with one of the freshmen ladies.

POSTPONEMENT.

To give all our subscribers a fair chance in the "sewing machine scheme," we have decided to defer the presentation one month. It will positively take place on Saturday, May 4th, next, at three o'clock p. m., at Sutton's opera house. Every person can surely pay his subscription before that date, if so disposed. Hustle in your subscriptions during April. There will be no further postponement.

One Hundred Dollars Given Away.

Here is an offer to our patrons which is well worth their careful consideration. Probably nine-tenths of our subscriptions expire during January, February and March of each year. All subscribers who shall pay for the full year 1895, prior to April 1st, will be entitled to a chance in the distribution of four sewing machines, worth one hundred dollars. These are—

A New Home,	Value,	$30 00
An Eldridge B.,	"	30 00
Weceler & Wilson, No. 8,	"	25 00
Wheeler & Wilson, second hand,	"	15 00
Total value,		$100 00

The three machines first named are new, right from the factory. The last one has been carefully used a few months and is practically as good as new. Each paying subscriber will get a numbered receipt and that will be his number in the distribution. The few persons who have already paid for 1895 can call and get a duplicate receipt with a new number. The few subscribers who have paid in advance beyond April 1st can secure the benefit of this offer by paying in advance for the balance of the year, or until Jan. 1st, 1896. The distribution will take place at Sutton's opera house, Tecumseh, on Saturday afternoon, May 4th, 1895, at three o'clock, when the property will be formally given to our advance paid patrons, to be allotted among themselves in such manner as they may elect. An expenditure of only $1.00 or $1.25 if you live outside of Lenawee county, will secure a chance for one of these premiums. This offer means business.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mecury will destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucus surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheeney & Co. Testimonials free.

The happy couple are very popular and have a large circle of acquaintances who wish for them a happy life. They left on the morning train for Detroit and other points.

The entertainment given at the Town Hall Wednesday evening by St. Joan's society assisted by the little folks of the Congregational society, was a very pleasing event. The program was varied and every number was well rendered and received a hearty encore. The solos duetts and choruses were all good and the solos by Edith Kirk and Mamie Keyser and duetts by Mamie and Nettie Keyser and Nellie and Grace Whittlesey were beautifully rendered. The nursery drill was as before a delightful feature of the evening's enjoyment. The instrumental duetts were artistically rendered and Mrs. Whittlesey's reading was enjoyed by all.

Active Service.

and good food in plenty, tends to plenty, tends to make children healthy. If children suffer, however, from Scrofulous, Skin or Scalp Diseases—if their blood is impure and pimples or boils appear, they should be given the right medicine. Dr. Pierce's Golden medical Discovery brings about the best bodily condition. It purifies the blood and renders the liver active as well as builds up health and strength. Puny, pale, weak children get a lasting benefit and a good start from the use of the 'Discovery.' It puts on wholesome flesh, and does not nauseate and offend the stomach like the various preparations of cod liver oil. Once used, it is always in favor.

TO ABSENT FRIENDS.

Though far beneath the southern skies
Where southern breezes gently play,
And southern sunlight o'er you smiles,
Remember those so far away,

Who long once more to clasp your hand
And hear your voice in greeting dear,
Whose thoughts will rove to that fair land
And fondly wish that you were here.

When soft the southern moonlight falls,
And sadly sweet the night-birds sing,
May scenes like these, fond memory recalls,
And thoughts of absent dear ones bring,

Who think of you when morning comes,
When all the world seems glad and bright,
Who miss you in the dear old home,
When gently falls the dewy night.

If death should step between us, e'er
We meet this side the grave's dark gate
Let loving thoughts of those who go
Fill all the hearts of those who wait.

A Valuable Find.

After years of study and labor, there has at last been discovered a sure and never failing remedy. It has been tested on patients who have despaired of ever being cured, the results have been, in every case, wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of chronic and acute inflamatory rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, especially ovarian neuralgia, dysmenorrhœa and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable blood purifier, being especially useful in eczema, psoriasis, scrofula, all glandular enlargements and diseases of the liver and kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by Orr & Temple, Tecumseh, Mich.

The Lexow investigation cost $67,000, which is cheap enough. for Tammany would have been glad to pay forty times as much to prevent it.

A WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

Related by a Keeper of the Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

(From the Jackson Citizen.)

Mr. A. E. Wing resides at 612 N. Jackson Street, Jackson, Mich. He is a keeper in the Michigan State Prison, a man of sterling integrity, and whose word is beyond dispute. He tells the following story of a wonderful escape, and the incidents connected with the dangerous position in which he was placed. He says, some months ago my attention was attracted by a swelling of my groins, which began to increase in size to such an extent that I was alarmed. It spread down my legs to my feet, and I was bloated from my waist down, so badly that I could not pull my pants, over my legs, and I had to open my shoes fully two inches before I could get them on. Even my face became puffed up; and my whole system seemed affected. I could hardly drag myself upstairs to unlock my men. I consulted a physician, one of the best in the city. He said the swelling was caused by an irritation of the kidneys, and I commenced treatment with him. But I seemed to be getting worse. I was strongly urged by a friend to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I finally consented. After the first week I commenced to see a change, and felt much better. This was encouraging, and I continued their use. I took five boxes in all, with the happy result that I was completely cured. I have never heard of any medicine which had such a pronounced and radical effect, and yet not affect the system generally and leave it in such a good condition. I feel better now than I ever did. After the effect was once established the swelling gradually disappeared until it was entirely gone. I regard Doan's Kidney Pills as a most wonderful agent in the curing of any form of kidney disorder.

For sale by all dealers—price, 50 cents per box. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

What is an Emulsion

Milk is a true Emulsion, and as milk or cream easier to digest and assimilate than butter, so is milk or cream of Cod-liver Oil easier to digest and similate than raw Oil. This is why Scott's Emulsion much more useful and effective than the natural oil why it accomplishes so much in arresting waste building up the body.

But it is much more than ordinary fat food. It other constituents that have wonderful healing strengthening power, and in addition we add the hy phosphites (or Phosphorus), another most important element in overcoming decreased vitality or loss flesh. These are the reasons why Scott's Emulsion benefiting to-day hundreds of consumptives and anæmic persons, as well as being a food remedy for sickly, wasting children that is surpassed both to physicians and parents.

HOLLOWAY HASH.

House cleaning is all the style now days.

Mrs. Wilson and Mattie attended church Sunday.

Mr. Volney Jackson was a caller in town Thursday.

Miss Jennie Calhoun left for Milan Friday morning.

Miss Nina Anthony returned Tuesday from Adrian.

Mrs. L. C. Winship drove to Odgen Center, on a business trip.

Miss C. E. Winship made a short call at Raisin Center Tuesday.

The painting class is progressing finely under Mrs. Hogland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Macham attended the convention at Palmyra.

Mr. Joe Bilkmyer returned to Ann Arbor Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Cynthia Sutherland, of Adrian, visited friends here Thursday.

Mr. Chas. Rothfus and wife entertained friends from Blissfield Sunday.

Mrs. Campbell has returned after a winter's sojourn with her children.

Dr. Bogell's familiar figure is in town shaking hands with old time friends.

Quite a number attended the Sunday school convention at Palmyra Saturday.

Miss Olla Wilder went to Adrian Saturday evening to remain over Sunday.

Mrs. Brown went to Adrian Monday to order her spring and summer stock of milliner goods.

A. D. Macham and F. L. Florence attended the lodge, at Tecumseh, Wednesday evening.

Mr. Lon Carpenter left Saturday evening for Morenci where he has secured work for the summer.

The funeral of Miss Sara Moore was largely attended and the floral decorations were beautiful.

We are informed that Chas. Anthony and family occupy the little house owned by the Kelley estate.

The ladies' social at the home of Mrs. Anthony was not largely attended as it is a very busy time with farmers now.

Mr. Lewis' new house is getting along finely and is all ready for raising the frame. It will make a nice house for himself and wife.

Mrs. Brown, the milliner, is very busy trimming hats and has selected a very nice stock of flowers and hats, to suit everybody's taste.

Mrs. May Anthony has returned from an extended visit in the northern part of the state where she spent some time visiting her brother, Frank.

Miss Florence Kishpaugh sang a solo at the Easter concert in her usual happy manner. She has a fine voice and much praise may be said of her singing, which was very fine and well rendered.

MACON MUSIC.

Miss Florence Camburn and J. W. Howell returned to their work at Ypsilanti this week.

Addie Crittenden, who has been taking a course in the Business college at Ypsilanti, has secured a position at Northville. We feel that her employers are to be congratulated on their choice.

The Grayson family, of Tecumseh, will give a concert at the M. E church on Friday evening, May 3d. Miss Grayson is the teacher of music in the Tecumseh schools. The entertainment which they gave last Tuesday night at the Tecumseh opera house drew a large house.

The well known face of our mail carrier will be seen on our streets no more. For some time past Mr. Snedicor has been in very feeble health, and last Tuesday night the tired body refused to do its work any longer. He leaves a lonely home for his daughter and granddaughter.

At a business meeting on Friday, and at the Sunday service at the Reformed church, two members of the church board were present to look after the interests of the new church, and it was decided that with the assistance which they offered the work should go right on. Accordingly the building committee Monday evening planned for a church considerably larger than the old one, with a tower and also a number of the modern church conveniences.

The following is the program of the entertainment to be given at the M. E church next Friday evening, May 3d, for the benefit of the Epworth League.

That Simple Little Song—Grayson Family.
Recitation—Ellen Burleson.
Love's Answer (solo)—Peter Ridgely.
Music—Biddie Trio
Alone on the Midnight Sea (solo)—Welling Grayson.

Alabama Coon—Grayson Family.
Recitation—Grace Collins.
Oh, That We Two were Maying—Dora Grayson. Peter Ridgely.
Music—Austin Quartette.
The Leader of Co. C.—Grayson Family.

Single tickets 15 cents. Children 10 cents. Reduction to families. Entertainment begins at 8 o'clock.

Only One Chance Offered.

There is one chance in every person's lifetime, which, if taken advantage of leads to prosperity and happiness. That chance is offered now and it may be yours, as it relates to good farming land at from $5 to $15 per acre in Central Wisconsin, Clark County. Why any one who will pay high prices for farms, or rent them, when they can get this land we can not see. For more information, see advertisement in this paper, of The C. S. Graves Land Company, R 311, 56 5th Ave. Chicago.

It looks as if Mr. Addicks might break the record of a long-distance legislative freight payer.

People often think their liver, kidneys or stomach is out of order, when in truth it is the Nerve System controlling these organs that is diseased. Dr. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer cures all Nerve diseases. $1 bottles at Orr & Temple's.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Wm. Riggs and wife were in Saline with friends Sunday.

R. S. Housemanand David Gibson are hustling the Page wire fence business.

Mrs. Chas. Rankin, of Rea, spent Sunday, with her sister, Miss S. A. VanVleet.

Daniel Linn and son Elmer, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Azalia.

Beginning May 1st the library will be open only in the evening, from 6:30 until 9 o'clock.

W. L. Jones is building quite a fine hen house and will launch out into the poultry business.

Mr. Todd and Mr. Riggs, of Ypsilanti, spent Wednesday night with Lafe Rappleye and family.

Emma Cheever went to Detroit Monday, for an indefinite stay with her mother Mrs. L. Priest.

Several from here attended the township Sunday school convention held at Britton last week Friday.

Richard Cadmus of North Harvey, Ill. arrived last week Thursday to look after his farm interests here.

Fred Gorton, of Ypsilanti, spent a few days with relatives, returning Monday in company with his wife.

Dr. Howell, of Tecumseh, was called in consultation in the case of Mrs. James Pocklington, Wednesday.

The oldest inhabitant cannot remember so dry a March and April as this spring. The wheeling has been fine.

Mrs. Fenner Palmer went to Detroit the first of the week for a few days visit with her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Priest.

Mrs. W. P. Cadmus, of Harvey, Ill., was called here last week by the sickness and death of her father, Purdy Haight.

There was quite a large number of friends from Britton, Sunday afternoon to attend the funeral of Uncle Purdy Haight.

Ella Southard, having resigned her connection with the post office, leaves postmaster Santus without any assistant again.

Will Snedicor, of Howell, who was called to Macon by the death of his father, Philetus Snedicor, was in the village Wednesday.

Those who attended the Grayson Family concert at Sutton's opera house, Tecumseh, Wednesday night, speak of it in the highest praise.

Patrick Curry and Henry Barnes, who were reported under the doctor's care in our last week's Rambles are on the gain at present writing.

Francis Wiggins of Tecumseh has moved with his family and household effects to their home south of the village where they expect to make their future home.

Fern VanDuser, who has been spending some time with her father at Toledo, returned Saturday night for an indefinite stay with her grandmother, Mrs. L. V. Miller.

Chas. Pocklington has placed his house and lot at Britton, occupied by ... terms call at his residence, on the Ridge, south of the village.

Last week Thursday night thieves entered the homes of Mrs. Jacob Arner, C. L. Lowe and Mrs. L. V. Miller and helped themselves to some eatables. As suspicion rests rather heavy in a certain direction it would be well for them to heed a warning or they may be called upon to act as a fit subject for a dissecting table.

Mr. A. Lake of Chicago, Ill. having purchased the Waring house and land ajoining, arrived ... his wife and daughter Bessie last week, and is making some fine improvements, which, when completed will make one of the finest residences in the village. We, in behalf of the enterprising citizens, extend to them a cordial welcome.

HAIGHT.

Uncle Purdy Haight, who has been failing for several weeks, being confined to his bed but four days passed away Friday morning. For the last ten years he has been a citizen of the village and worked at the shoemaker's bench, and was engaged in the shoe business with W. P. Cadmus. By his death the village loses an old pioneer and a citizen who had no enemy, being an open-hearted obliging and accommodating neighbor and friend. The school children will feel the loss of Uncle Purdy as much if not more than any in the community. Mr. Haight was a native of New York and among the pioneers of Michigan. He passed his seventy-fifth birth day in March. He leaves two children to mourn his loss, Mrs. W. P. Cadmus, of Harvey, Ill., and James Haight, of Britton. The funeral service was held at the church Sunday afternoon, Rev. Cansfield officiating and the remains were laid to rest in the evergreen cemetery.

"GENTLEMEN:—Regarding prospects for the coming year, would say, we hope to double our last year's output of Aermotors, or, at least, as we have done in the past, sell twenty-four out of every twenty-five windmills that are sold. Since commencing the sale in 1889, WE HAVE SOLD ABOUT

500 AERMOTORS

We do not attribute this fairly good record entirely to our efforts, but to the superiority of the goods which you make. Beaver & Dixon, Urbana, Ill. February 18, 1895."

GENTLEMEN:—We bought and put up Aermotor No. 2, and out of the first fifty which you made we had thirteen. Since that time we have sold about

400 AERMOTORS

In our small territory is represented the history of the Aermotor and the Aermotor Company from the beginning to the present hour. That history is one of unbroken triumph. Aside from the Aermotor there have been but few other windmills put up in our territory—just enough with which to show the infinite superiority of the Aermotor in design, finish, self-government, and ability to run when all others stand still. We should have sold more, but there was well supplied with wind power when the Aermotor appeared, it being only 60 miles from the battle ground of the largest, best known and longest established MFG. CO. IN THE BUSINESS MANUFACTURING WOODEN AND STEEL WINDMILLS WITH STEEL TOWERS. You say you have during the past seven years proved by your own experience the battle ground of the largest, best known and longest established MFG. CO. IN THE BUSINESS MANUFACTURING WOODEN AND STEEL WINDMILLS WITH STEEL TOWERS. You say you have during the past seven years proved by your own experience that it is impossible to make a first-class windmill for less than $60. Counter on the Aermotor never stood further above all competitors in reputation and in fact than to-day.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

TRASK'S Magnetic Ointment.

The worst Sores, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, Sprains, Skin Disorders, Sore Throat, Croup, Rheumatism, Lameness, Piles, and all external and internal affections characterized by INFLAMMATION, yield to its influence as if by magic. It is a purely vegetable preparation by a regular physician of eminence, and its success has been marvellous in the most obstinate cases. Sold by Druggists and Dealers at 25 and 50 cents.

It never fails to restore the natural functions of the skin and equalize the circulation of the blood. By this means a controlling power is gained over the most malignant forms of disease. It penetrates to every portion of the human frame; every bone, muscle, vein, nerve and ligament is searched out and made sensible to its soothing and healing influence. Hence it copes readily with internal as well as external diseases.

Over 40 Years.

This Ointment has been used by the people throughout the United States, and our confidence in its qualities is such that as we have no space here to insert any of the numerous certificates of cures which we have from all parts of the country, we simply ask those readers of this notice who have ever used this Ointment, to frankly state their experience with it to inquiring friends. If but one in a hundred would do this we should be perfectly satisfied with the result. Full directions for use will be found on pamphlet around each bottle.

Prices 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

The Most Thorough Purifier of the Blood Yet Discovered.

It purifies the Blood.
It invigorates the Liver.
It regulates the Bowels.
It strengthens the stomach.
It gives vivacity in place of lassitude; cheerfulness in place of gloom, and robust vigor in place of debility.

Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Disordered Liver, Constipation, Nervous Affections, General Debility, in short all the numerous diseases and discomforts caused by impure blood are speedily conquered by this powerful corrector, the chief and sovereign of all ancient or modern medical discoveries—KING OF THE BLOOD.

Its name is its best description as it is a royal dispenser of the blessings of health and vanquishes the foes that lurk in the blood.

It banishes PIMPLES, SALT RHEUM, SCALY ERUPTIONS, ULCERS, SCALD HEAD, FEVER SORES and all SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

It checks CONSUMPTION in its early stages, has frequently cured it when advanced.

It disperses TUMORS and CANCERS without the Surgeon's knife.

It cures DYSPEPSY, general or partial.

It cures FEMALE WEAKNESS and DISEASES.

It reduces in a safe and effectual manner all swellings, external or internal.

It eradicates the effects of Venerial Disease and Mineral Poisons and establishes a sound constitution.

Many certificates, much further information and full directions for using will be found in the pamphlet, "TREATISE on Diseases of the Blood," in which each bottle is enclosed.

Price $1 per bottle containing 12 ounces, or 50 doses. Sold by dealers in medicine.

If your druggist does not happen to have it on hand, request him to order a supply of it for you. It will be cheaper than for you to order direct of us, and less trouble.

Teachers and friends of education are invited to attend an educational rally at Hudson on Saturday, May 4th. An interesting program is being prepared, among the leading features of which will be papers by Prof. Wade Millis, of Addison, Miss Rose Caniff, James Schermerhorn, Grant Fellows, Miss Matie King, five minute talk by Prof. Hawkes, Tripp, Kellogg and others, discussions, etc.

A few days since it was our good fortune to visit the dairy farm of Frank Bryan's, west of town. Having heard much about the arrangement of the barns, the care given the cattle and the completeness of the milkhouse, we felt a rare treat was in store for us. We found the barns large and convenient, the stables airy and models of neatness. The cattle looked as though fitted for a fair, they were as slick as minks and in prime condition. It is seldom one sees so many grand specimens in one herd. When the hour for milking arrived we could not resist the temptation to try our hand at the business, and demonstrated even to Frank, that we were masters of the art. On visiting the milk house we found everything scrupulously clean, and a very fine device used for cooling the milk before being bottled. The milk is poured into the top and passes slowly over a cone shaped surface, made perfectly cold by being filled with ice, and thence through several different strainers. One has but to visit here to know that the milk is not only the very best quality but every care taken in its preparation for delivery.

We understand that the School board has invited all the teachers to remain another year. This will cause much rejoicing among many of our people outside of school as well as in.

Abraham VanAntwerp, who resided in Tecumseh many years ago, and will be kindly remembered by many of our citizens, died on the 3d of April at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Oliver Emlay, in Oakland, California, at the advanced age of 81 years. Mr. Emlay conducted the old tannery and a harness shop here for many years.

Subjects for Sunday April 28: Morning, 'What Constitutes a Christian? Evening, 'Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye unto them, for this is the law and the prophets.' St. Matt. 7:12. Y. P. C. U. meeting at 6:30 p. m. Topic—What has Christ Done for Me? After May 1st evening service will be suspended until Oct 1st.

THE BACHELORS' BANQUET.

It is a rare occasion that the ladies of the town condescend to toast and banquet the celibates who have chosen to wander through life alone without their advice and aid. However, the ladies of the library association seem to think it their duty to occasionally administer to the bodily wants of these poor lowlies as well as to cater to the public taste for letters and literature. Accordingly the tables were laid and the banquet spread last evening in a way entirely befitting the occasion. Although the decorations were very plain and even grotesque in their quaint and suggestive disorder, they were arranged with such care and delicacy that the carefully trained modesty of the most confirmed bachelor was scarcely ruffled by their appearance. But where the efforts of the fair ones were most appreciated was at the tables. Here the ladies did themselves proud, as everyone who participated can testify.

The proceeds of the entertainment were about $25.00, which was not large considering the work and provisions furnished.

It is almost needless to praise, in this place, the enterprise and perseverance of the ladies' library association as their endeavors for public good have become a matter of regular occurrence here.

For the benefit of those unfortunates who were not there we subjoin the program.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss

At a session of the Probate Court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Thursday, the 18th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five

Present, Richard B. Robbins, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Martha O'Hara deceased.

On reading and filing the petition duly verified of Chales O'Hara a son of said deceased, praying for the probate of an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased and that administration of said estate may be granted to Walter C. Burridge, the executor in said instrument named, or to some other suitabse person.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 13th day of May next, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendancy of said petition and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

RICHARD B. ROBBINS, Judge of Probate.

LILLEY HOUSE BLOCK.

LET US SPRAY OUR TREES

And Have a Good Crop of Apples.
What More Desirable and Profitable?

From late experiments it has been proven it can be done. E. Tindall has been appointed agent for the selling of the best and most improved apparatus for the spraying of all kinds of fruit trees, vines, etc., including twenty different styles, from the small, cheap hand pump to the horse power machine for large orchards. All having the most perfect Nozzle. The pumps are made of brass and copper which can neither rust nor corrode, and are furnished with 4 to 8 feet of hose (or longer, if desired) and the Excelsior nozzle; also an air chamber, whereby a constant pressure is obtained so that a continuous force from 50 to 100 pounds on the nozzle is secured with very ordinary exertion, and not affected by the movements of the plunger, throwing a spray 50 to 80 feet high. Also, peculiar to these outfits, hose are attached by which a small part of the liquid is re-discharged at the bottom of the reservoir with great force, which keeps the liquid and water well mixed, which is very essential so as not to hurt the foliage. Reservoirs up to 200 gallons, of copper or galvanized iron, are furnished with these pumps for hand use. For orchards or larger uses a second hand oil, or water tight barrel may be used, on which these pumps can be placed and moved about on a wagon, if desired. A complete and exhaustive discussion and directions on "How, When and Where to Spray, and the Ingredients Best for Certain Fruits, Vines, Etc.," found in printed matter furnished with these outfits. Please call at C. A. SLAYTON'S warehouse, Tecumseh, Mich., for inspection, further information and purchase of these outfits.

E. TINDALL.

TECUMSEH, MICH., APRIL 26, 1895.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Did you ever see Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Bay Wiggins is moving to Ridgeway this week.

Mina J. Hughes has gone to work for Ah Wilson.

Gussie Burlingame returned to Ypsilanti Monday.

Chas. Cummins was in town the fore part of the week.

Joe Everett is laying off this week on account of sickness.

Walter Burridge went to Monroe on business last Tuesday.

Mrs. W. R. Wooden and Dot returned to Battle Creek last Friday.

On Monday, April 24—to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hooton, a ten pound son.

Shall we have that bicycle factory? That is the leading question now.

Mrs. L. B. Ayres entertained about sixty of her friends Wednesday evening.

Jerry Root, J. J. Freeman and W. W. Whiting were Detroit visitors Wednesday.

J. M. Bittman, of Saginaw, W. S., is sowing celery seed in these parts at present.

The regular monthly supper at the Universalist church takes place this evening.

Mrs. H. C. Snedecor, of Ypsilanti, visited Tecumseh friends from Friday till Monday noon.

Who thought Undertaker Tansley would blossom out this spring as a full fledged milliner?

Edith Ward, of Clayton, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. H. A. Stacy, at Newburg.

Mrs. Margeson's committee will give the regular supper at the Baptist church parlors next Thursday, May 2d.

Cleo Hall returned Monday from a trip to the Upper Peninsula, where he has been inspecting lumber for A. W. Slayton.

Only one week more. If you have not already done so, hand in your subscription at once and secure your number.

Temperance exercises at the Friend's church next Sabbath evening at 7:30. This service no doubt will be helpful and interesting to all who attend. The public invited.

Miss Cora DePuy, of Ann Arbor, is spending the present week with her many Tecumseh friends. She expects to return next Monday. Her mother has been quite sick for the past two weeks, but is now on the gain.

The semi-annual convention of the Lenawee county Y. P. S. C. E. will be held at the Presbyterian church, Tuesday, April 30. There will be sessions morning, afternoon and evening, to which all are cordially invited.

A. W. Slayton is still using more and more printer's ink and the United States mails are his channels of distribution. He has used 6,100 one-cent stamps in the last twenty-four days and expects to increase that amount soon.

Hiram Rogers, representing the well known nursery firm of Ingelfritz & Rogers, of Monroe, has made a spring delivery here of nearly a car load of nursery stock. This speaks well for the enterprise of both the nursery men and the farmers.

The State Supreme Court last week handed down an opinion in Anderson vs. the Lenawee Co. Circuit Judge, of considerable interest to lawyers and officers. They hold that it is not necessary for officers to certify copies of records or papers that are served, although required to do so by the statute.

D. C. LeBaron was on our streets last Tuesday.

Thirty-five artists in Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Squire Smith, of Clinton, was on our streets Monday.

Miss Mary Burridge was home from Ann Arbor last week.

Don't forget to see the specialties in Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Tom O'Connell and Roy Treat took a spin over from Adrian Sunday.

Lee B. Millard and wife, of Adrian, were Tecumseh visitors Sunday.

Coin's Financial school for sale at this office; twenty-five cents a copy.

Everybody will attend the C. E. Convention, to be held here April 30th.

Chas. A. Sloan and Chas. Whitney, both of Adrian, were in town Sunday.

The case of Ford vs. Cheever is expected to come on in the Supreme Court, this week.

Do you want a chance at one of those sewing machines? Then pay up in April and get a receipt.

The Michigan Woman's Press Association will hold their summer meeting at Lansing, June 11, 12 and 13.

John Riley took a brief respite from his labors in Freeman's cigar factory by spending Sunday in Adrian.

Bert Carpenter and Josephine Leroy of Ridgeway, were married by Justice Wightman at his office Saturday.

The April term of the Circuit Court for Lenawee county is now in session, with a large calendar to dispose of.

How to get a copy of Coin's Financial School free—subscribe for the HERALD and pay one years, subscription in advance.

C. H. Reed has been busy with his Tecumseh souvenir for the past two weeks. He will soon have the canvass completed.

Co. C. attended divine service at St. Peter's church in a body last Sabbath, after which they enjoyed the hospitality of Capt. Hayden at the Lilley House for dinner.

W. B. Odlon and Geo. Benton, two Hudson typos, came over to Tecumseh on their wheels last Saturday. The HERALD acknowledges a friendly call from them.

Will Ingersoll has got nicely settled since the change in his rooms and he has a very neat office now. One would be almost tempted to give him a case for the fun of it, after making him a call.

We are glad to hear that Ben Strong, of Adrian, is to ship on the Marquette as wheelsman for Capt. Chilson, this season. With Ben at the wheel we feel like letting the Captain brave the stormy main with perfect assurance.

Abner Wilson is getting ready for a big plant trade this year. He has a good sized green house stocked up with pansy, verbena and other bedding plants. He has added to his hot beds and cold frames and expects to do quite a wholesale business.

C. D. Keyes has severed his connection with the HERALD. Mr. Keyes has proven himself a valuable assistant, and with his natural aptitude for clerical work, he cannot remain long unemployed. May success attend him wherever his lot may be cast.

The City Bakery is upside down at present, that is, figuratively speaking. Mr. Bice has caught the prevailing epidemic and is enlarging his ice cream room, painting and papering the same and giving the whole concern a general overhauling.

Scove Walker began work in the HERALD counting rooms Monday, and he will have charge of the local department hereafter. As he has had considerable experience in the HERALD office, he will settle down to business at once. This arrangement has been in contemplation for some time.

As Zebedee Stout and wife were returning from the funeral of their relative, Miss Violetta Camburn, whose death was the result of horrible burns from her clothing taking fire, they were met by the shocking intelligence of the death of their little grandson, Clifford Knight, who had strayed upon the railroad, where he received injuries causing his death.—Adrian Times.

'I want two pounds of CHASE & SANBORN'S coffee. I have had no decent coffee for three months.' Thus said a lady, who had been buying a new brand of coffee that an inexperienced dealer called the best in the world. She joins with hundreds of others in saying that CHASE & SANBORN'S FAMOUS BOSTON COFFEES are the best. AVERY & Co., Sole agents for Tecumseh. 1w

A letter from T. B. Gould at East Jordan, says: We have already commenced farming, after coming through the winter in good shape. One hundred and fifty men will soon go to work on the railroad from Alba to East Jordan. The saw mills are in full blast with a larger cut on hand than usual. I often think of home and recall to mind the old associates there.

The thrilling escape of Eliza over the frozen river, the fight on the rocky pass, Eva's ascent to Heaven, and the great Cotton-picking scene with the slaves at work, are a few of the many scenes and incidents witnessed in Stowe & Co's spectacular Uncle Tom's Cabin at the Opera House, Monday evening, April 29. Look for the grand Monday street parade. Seats secured at usual place; price 35 and 50cts; children 25cts.

The weather is hot, dry and dusty.

J. J. Orr and wife spent Sunday in Jackson.

Julia Wood has returned to her work in Toledo.

Ora McBride and wife spent Easter at Napoleon.

Mrs. Anna Stoepel, of Detroit, is visiting at her old home.

Capt. Lawrence is taking a trip to Denver, Col., this week.

John I. Knapp, of Adrian, was in town Wednesday and gave the HERALD a call.

Mrs. James Winans, of Toledo, spent Sunday at her father's, Hon. B. F. Baxter.

Rev. J. P. Varnef will have for his subject next Sunday evening: "Mount Moriah."

Mrs. M. A. Freeman has an apprentice in the person of Miss Nellie Sayers of Petersburg.

Wheat has been worth one cent per pound this week—the highest price for some time.

Ernest Kemp, Mary Wagner and Gertruce Schreder were Clinton visitors Sunday evening.

Wm. Warring, of Streator, Ill., was called here this week by the serious illness of his mother.

Geo. H. Melody has moved back from Battle Creek and will work his own farm in Franklin this season.

Kennedy & Rogers have got through house cleaning and now have a very commodious and tasty looking store.

Miss Lovisa Schreder may now be found at Miss Hough's millinery emporium where she is learning the business.

A high grade Victor wheel, almost as good as new, can be bought very cheap if taken at once. For particulars call at this office.

Summer visitors at Sand Lake will be glad to hear that the C. J. & M. is putting up a new depot at Pentecost, or Sand Lake crossing.

Wade Waring began clerking for Tansley & Son last Monday, and his place at Avery & Co's will be filled by Guy Belding of Clinton.

The W. C. T. U. wish to call attention to their Mother's meeting the first Friday in May to meet at the home of Rev. David Lewis. Come.

Mr. Stickle, of the firm of Barkwell & Stickle who run the steam laundry, has moved his family from Mt. Pleasant and occupies a part of E. Tindall's house.

The Tecumseh Coal and Lumber Company have erected a fine portico in front of their office. By a change in the arrangement of the office furniture they have made more room for their stock of groceries, of which they are keeping a large assortment.

We have received a copy of a pamphlet called the Hand-book of Louisiana, which contains much valuable information about the Pelican state. It will be mailed free to any one on application to the State Immigration Commissioner, 620 Common St., New Orleans, La.

To avoid the smoke arising from burning leaves, etc., William Hayden would esteem it an especial favor if persons cleaning their yards would notify him and allow the rakings to be drawn away rather than burned. If notified, Mr. Hayden will gladly remove them free of charge.

Tuesday, April 16th, was the 90th birthday of Daniel D. Sinclair of Adrian. He is still in vigorous health and likely to remain on earth several years more. His Tecumseh friends and acquaintances will extend to him their congratulations upon his reaching that milestone in life which so few attain.

By request of many of his old pupils Prof. W. H. Stump has secured one of the school rooms in the Central Building, and on Monday evening organized a class in penmanship. Mr. Stump's work in our public schools during the last three seasons is sufficient commendation that his pupils will be greatly benefited by his training. Two evenings a week will be devoted to the work, the term consisting of thirteen lessons.

Tipton was somewhat startled Friday forenoon by the fatal burning of Miss Violetta Camburn. It appears that Miss Camburn was cleaning door yard and burning straw which had been used for banking about the house during the winter. In this way her clothing was ignited and her body so badly burned that death ensued before night in spite of medical assistance which was promptly summoned. Miss Camburn was 52 years of age, being born and raised on the farm where she so sadly met her death.

The Grayson concert last Tuesday evening at the opera house, was an excellent one in every particular. The solos by Miss Dora Grayson were given in her usual felicitous style and the boys all did finely in the choruses. The two songs by Welling Grayson were beautifully rendered. Mrs. Thurman added much to the interest of the program by her readings, which were well received. Almost every number on the program was greeted with an encore. It is no flattery to say that the entertainment fully equalled many that have been given in Tecumseh by professional troupes that command a high price. Miss Jennie Root rendered her assistance as accompanist in her felicitous style. The family possesses the elements for a first-class concert troupe, if properly cultivated, and they ought to travel some of these days.

Henry H. Keyser has in his possession an old newspaper relic, which is quite a curiosity. It is volume one, number one, of the Democratic Free Press, published at Detroit and dated May 5, 1831. It is a five column four page sheet. It contains a good assortment of general news and considerable politics, but no local news whatever. It has the resignations of Martin Van Buren and J. H. Eaton from Gen. Jackson's cabinet, with the latter's acceptance of the same.

—When the Waterbury watch Company stopped manufacturing their old style watch, the flood gates of cheap Swiss factories were opened, and poorly made, very unreliable watches were forced on the market in place of the very accurate Waterbury, which had but the one fault—its long wind. The clock factories, with their cheap clock watches, added to the stock of poor stuff, and the Waterbury Company were appealed to for something good and cheap in the quick wind series. The result is the new 'Trump' watch, which sells at $2.50. Call on ADAMSON BROS. and see this new watch.

—A. W SLAYTON'S cut rate shingle yard opens up well. He sold 90,000 shingle this week and sold them very cheap for cash. Still have more on hand.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., April 19.—The senate committee on liquor traffic on Thursday reported the house 3.2 uniform liquor tax bill, so amended as to leave it optional with the councils in cities whether saloons should be open on civil holidays or not; also changing the fiscal year for the payment of taxes to July 1, to conform with the government date.

LANSING, Mich., April 20.—The Jewell bill reducing the maximum rate of fare to be charged by the Michigan Central Railway company to two cents per mile was reported in the senate Friday without recommendation. The bill making it a misdemeanor to fraudulently use union labels was passed by the senate.

LANSING, Mich., April 24.—The senate on Tuesday passed a bill providing for a state medical board consisting of four regular physicians, two homeopathic, two eclectic and six class two homeopathic, two eclectic and one physio-medical, to constitute a board of registration for the regulation of the practice of medicine. The Eaton apportionment bill, the first of a series of measures for dividing the state into twelve congressional districts, was killed in the senate.

House.

Gov. Rich has appointed Claude W. Case and Arthur A. Henderson, of Newberry; Henry W. Jones, of Houghton; George A. Loupe, of Bessemer; Charles T. Fairbairn, of Sault Ste. Marie, trustees of the upper peninsula asylum for the insane.

LANSING, Mich., April 19.—In the house on Thursday, by a vote of 40 yeas to 52 nays, the bill authorizing the joint use of a portion of the Citizens' Street Car company's track on Woodward avenue, Detroit, by the Detroit company was lost.

LANSING, Mich., April 20.—The house committee on state affairs on Friday made a favorable report on the Jamieson bill repealing the law of 1877 which permits Roman Catholic bishops to hold real estate in trust. The bill passed the senate last week.

LANSING, Mich., April 24.—The house passed the senate municipal commission charter bill for fourth-class cities, under which about fifty-three cities become incorporated by passive consent January 1, 1896, unless they previously decide to the contrary by vote. The Redfern pure food bill was agreed to in committee of the whole after striking out the most important provision, which prohibited the coloring of oleomargarine or butterine. An amendment was adopted early in the discussion to the effect practically that it could be colored with any substance not injurious to health.

TO FOUND A STATE.

Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin Would Contribute to Its Territory.

MARQUETTE, April 19.—The old scheme of creating a new state out of portions of northern Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin has been revived by Capt. Alex McDougall, of West Superior, inventor of the whalebacks. The name "Superior" or "Mining state" would suit Captain McDougall. He proposes to make the Mississippi river the western boundary and a line drawn along the southern boundary of the northern tier of Wisconsin counties the southern boundary.

What is aimed at particularly is to place the three great iron ranges, the Vermillion, the Mesaba and the Gogebic, in one state, so that the interests of none of them could be injured by conflicting legislation and all might be treated from the same basis.

The new state would be one of the richest in wealth in the union; it would have more than 500 miles of water front and contain "the head of the lakes" harbor, which is the gateway for the trade and commerce of the entire northwest. "Superior," or "the mineral state," would at once become one of the greatest states of the union, it is firmly believed by its advocates.

ESCANABA, April 19.—There is a very strong sentiment here in favor of the new state of Superior.

SHOWS A PROFIT.

The Ionia Prison Furniture Plant Is Making Money.

IONIA, April 24.—Gov. Rich and all the members of the board of control met at the state house of correction Tuesday and listened to a report verbally from State Accountant O. C. Tompkins, who has been investigating the books of ex-Warden Parsell. He found that the books balanced within $10, and that the furniture plant for three and a half years under Parsell had paid the state nothing. Under Warden Fuller, the present incumbent, he stated that from July, 1894, to March, 1895, the profit or clear gain to the state from the furniture plant was $17,600, or a profit of $1,400 after deducting 50 cents a day for convict labor.

CUT TO PIECES.

Sawmill Employe Meets a Terrible Death in Saginaw.

SAGINAW, Mich., April 23.—A horrible accident occurred at 6 o'clock Monday morning at Wells & Webber's sawmill. The machinery was not yet in good motion when head sawyer, Frank J. Mavelle, in some way fell on the saw platform in front of the circular saw and had his scalp taken off and a gash cut 8 inches into the right shoulder, severing the spinal column and spinal cord and cutting into the lung which filled with blood. He lived an hour and a half and was conscious most of the time. Mavelle was 38 years old and leaves a widow and six children, the youngest just two weeks old.

Michigan Royal Arcanum.

FLINT, April 18.—The annual session of the Michigan Grand Council, Royal Arcanum, has closed. S. F. Woodcock, of Niles, was elected grand regent. The report of the grand regent showed seventy councils in good standing in the Michigan jurisdiction. Three councils were suspended during the year. The grand secretary's report showed the membership to be 6,161. The grand treasurer reported receipts from all sources for the year ending March 30, 1895, $10,134.22; expenses, $7,078.27, and $2,612.92 on hand. Fifty deaths occurred during the year. The next session will be held at Jackson.

Identified.

DETROIT, April 20.—The remains of the girl who died at a lying-in-hospital recently have been identified as those of Emily Hall, and information has been obtained showing that her seducer is a minister who resides in England, and who brought her to this city, a distance of thousands of miles, so that his reputation might not be damaged by the birth of the child. He has returned to England, but steps are being taken to secure his arrest.

Gas Works Change Hands.

GRAND RAPIDS, April 24.—The Grand Rapids gas works has changed hands, the last installment of the purchase price, $1,200,000, having been paid to the old stockholders. Emerson McMillin, of New York, who negotiated the purchase, will be at the head of the new company, and H. B. Walbridge will be secretary.

HER SON A VICTIM.

Strange Poisoning Story Told by Mrs Adams Darling.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Mrs. Adams Darling, the Virginia poetess whose volume of southern war poems was recently published in this city, called last week upon District Attorney Fellows and made a startling charge against Mrs. Irving I. Darling, her dead son's wife. She said:

"My son's wife is a wealthy Washington girl, not more than 17 years of age, and I believe she is weak-minded. She owns forty houses in the best part of Washington, other real estate, representing in all about $1,000,000, and bond holdings of $70,000 more. They were married in this city last year, and shortly after received to Detroit, where he met with a serious accident. Ultimately he fully recovered. Then, upon a second illness occurring, his wife called in a physician in Detroit. My son frequently told me that some one was poisoning him."

From this point Mrs. Darling's story becomes less coherent. She relates the death of her son. It is learned that samples of the medicine taken by the dead man have been submitted to experts for analysis. Darling died in Detroit, February 13, 1894, and his body was cremated two days afterward. Previous to death Darling made a statement that his wife and Dr. Spranger had systematically poisoned him and that he would die from the effects of the drugs given him.

The motive, according to the dead man's mother, has now been established through the public marriage of Dr. Spranger to Mrs. Darling in Baltimore on March 6 of this year. Dr. Spranger and his wife are now in southern California enjoying their honeymoon.

Mrs. Darling's son, Edward Irving Darling, was a musical composer and a poet. Prominent among his best productions was a book entitled "Echoes of the Lake." Among his musical works was "The Viking," which is to be produced in a short time. Others were the "Jolly Bachelors" and the "Gentleman Savage."

ARBOR DAY.

Friday, May 3, Named for Its Observance by Gov. Rich.

LANSING, April 18.—Gov. Rich has issued the following Arbor day proclamation:

"In accordance with a custom that cannot be brought to our state and its people, I hereby designate Friday, May 3, as Arbor day. To beautify and adorn our homes and highways by the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers is a duty that should not be neglected, and I most earnestly recommend that the day designated be observed in that way by every citizen of our state. The value and importance of such a custom should be impressed upon the minds of our youth and the exercises in our schools upon that day should be of such a character that its lessons will not be forgotten. Let the day be so observed that every home and school yard will bear witness in the years to come that we turned aside from our usual occupations and devoted one day to beautifying and adorning our fair state."

ENOCH ARDEN UP TO DATE.

Walter Barker Returns to His Family After Thirty-Five Years.

DETROIT, April 22.—Walter Barker, a veteran of the war, has just been reunited to his family, whom he had not seen since he left for the front nearly thirty-five years ago. He kept up no correspondence with home during the war and his family removed from Wisconsin to this county. When the war closed Barker returned home, but could find no trace of his wife and children and finally went west. A few weeks ago he learned his wife and children were living near here and Saturday he found them. A touching reunion followed.

Crack Shots at Battle Creek.

BATTLE CREEK, April 24.—The Michigan League of Trap Shooter's tournament opened Tuesday. Participants were present from Grand Rapids, Detroit, Manchester, Litchfield, Kalamazoo, Jackson and Battle Creek, and O. von Lengerke, of Chicago. Nine events were shot. The first average was won by Parker, of Detroit, who scored 97 out of a possible 112; Widdicombe, of Grand Rapids, second, with 90. In the team championship race Grand Rapids team No. 1 scored 59; team No. 2, 65; Battle Creek team, 61.

An amendment to submit the question of woman suffrage to a vote of the people has now passed both branches of the State Legislature. It is all over but the voting.

FOR WOMEN.

There are facts which every woman should know and should teach her daughters, but which many never learn because they have no trustworthy teacher and don't know where to find one. To supply this want the Zoa-Phora Medicine Company, at Kalamazoo, Mich., publishes a book on Diseases of Women and Children, well illustrated, easily understood. Every woman, or girl above 15 years, should read it. For the purpose of advertising they will, on receipt of 10 cts. to cover cost of mailing, send a pamphlet edition, in sealed envelope to any lady (and to ladies only) who desires it.

TO PUT ON needed flesh,

no matter how you've lost it, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works wonders. By restoring the normal action of the deranged organs and functions, it builds the flesh up to a safe and healthy standard—promptly, pleasantly and naturally. The weak, emaciated, thin, pale and puny are made strong, plump, round and rosy. Nothing so effective as a strength restorer and flesh maker is known to medical science; this puts on healthy flesh not the fat of cod liver oil and its filthy compounds. It rouses every organ of the body to activity, purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood so that the body feels refreshed and strengthened. If you are too thin, too weak, too nervous, it may be that the food assimilation is at fault. A certain amount of bile is necessary for the reception of the fat foods in the blood. Too often the liver holds back this element which would help digestion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery stimulates, tones up and invigorates the liver, nourishes the blood and the muscles, stomach and nerves get the rich blood they require.

Spent Hundreds of Dollars with no Benefit.

M. J. COLEMAN of 11 Sargent St., Roxbury, Mass., writes: "After suffering from dyspepsia and constipation with untold agony for at least 18 months, I am more than pleased to say that after using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' for one month, I was entirely cured, and from that day to this I do not know, thank God, what even a slight headache is. I paid a doctor on Tremont St., Boston, in one day (for his advice only,) the sum of $10.00 with $1.50 for medicine, and derived no benefit. I got more relief in one hour from your medicines, as far as my stomach was concerned, than from all the other medicine I used.

If any person who reads this is suffering from dyspepsia or constipation and will use your medicine as I have done, he will never regret it."

M. J. COLEMAN, Esq.

FITS AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

When Henry M. Hall, M.D., late surgeon U. S. A., Department of Tennessee, returned from the war he found a child afflicted with epilepsy. Leading physicians were consulted, without apparent benefit. Noted specialists could give but little if any relief. To rescue his child from a fate worse than death became the object of his life. For several years experiment followed experiment, until at last success crowned his efforts. In 1880 old age and infirmities induced him to impart the knowledge of how to manufacture it, under the agreement that a bottle should be sent free of all charges to any one applying for it, who was afflicted with epilepsy. Since then over 20,000 free bottles have been sent to the afflicted. Experience has proved that it cures Insomnia, St. Vitus' Dance, and all forms of Nervous Affliction. If you want to try this wonderful remedy free of all charge, write, stating your disease as plainly as possible; give your age and post office. Address The Hall Chemical Co., West Philadelphia, Pa.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss
At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the probate Office, in the City of Adrian, on Monday the 8th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
Present, Richard R. Robbins, Judge of Probate.
In the matter of the Estate of Ezra F. Blood, deceased.
On reading and filing the petition of Charles H. Blood and L. C. Blood, executors of the last will and testament and upon the estate of said deceased, alleging that the funeral expenses and debts of said deceased and the expenses of administration thus far incurred have been fully paid, and that they are now ready to close said estate and to render their final administration account, and praying that said account may be allowed, and the residue of said estate may be assigned and distributed to such other order and decree as to this court shall seem proper.
It is Ordered, That Monday, the 6th day of May next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon be assigned for the hearing of said petition and that the heirs at law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.
And it is Further Ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in THE TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.
RICHARD R. ROBBINS, Judge of Probate.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss
In the matter of the estate of Anzolette Ogden, deceased.
The undersigned having been appointed by the probate court of said County, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at the office of Charles Barrige, in the village of Tecumseh Lenawee County, Michigan, on the 18th day of May, 1895, and on the 28th day of September, 1895, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.
And that six months from the 6th day of February, A. D., 1895, are allowed by said Probate Court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.
Dated, April 5, 1895.

but they don't show it, the clothes that are washed with Pearline. They last just about twice as long without showing signs of wear. Why shouldn't they? They're spared the weekly rub, rub, rub over the washboard. That's what wears out clothes, that's what wears out women, too. But, because Pearline makes easy work, don't think that it must do harm. It's just as harmless as good soap—and it costs no more than the poorest. 223 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

FORCED TO THE WALL.

THE WELL KNOWN CHICAGO CLOTHING CO. COMPELLED TO CLOSE ITS DOORS.

The Entire Stock Passes Into the Hands of the Union Clothing Co., One of the Largest Clothing Concerns in the United States.

This sale will open Saturday, April 27, at 9 a. m., and continue from day to day until the entire stock is turned into cash.

CONDITIONS GOVERNING THIS SALE.

Our word is as good as our bank note. We meet you upon honor. Anyone making a purchase at this sale, no matter how large or how small that purchase may be, and finding it not just as represented, can have their money cheerfully refunded by returning the goods at once. The company has engaged 75 experienced sales people that you may get good and prompt attention, and be kindly and courteously treated whether you buy or not.

The well-known Chicago Clothing Co., located for the past two years at No. 4 Monroe avenue, Detroit, wholesale and retail dealers in clothing, hats, furnishing goods and ladies' cloaks and jackets, has been forced to close its doors on account of the pressure brought to bear against them by some of their creditors. By an agreement with the creditors and also the consent of the court, the Union Clothing Company has taken possession of this stock, which consists in all of about $185,000 worth of merchandise, and in order that the stock may be turned into cash at once, and the affairs of the defunct firm settled up, this elegant and immense stock is now thrown on the market at retail for any price it will bring. To turn this stock into cash quickly means a great saving in expenses to the creditors, therefore cost or value will not be considered in the disposing of these goods. We candidly state without fear of successful contradiction that such prices and such value has never been the good fortune of the people of Detroit and vicinity to see previous to this most unexpected failure of the Chicago Clothing Company. The Union Company has taken this stock to close out. We want you to believe in us. We will do all in our power to merit your implicit confidence, and all we ask you to do is to visit this sale, examine the goods, compare the prices, and satisfy yourself that this sale is just as advertised before you make your purchase. Remember, the greater part of this stock consists of new spring clothing just received by the Chicago Clothing Co., shortly before the creditors swooped down upon them and closed their doors.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning April 28. Comment by Rev. Walter J. Yates. Topic, The Mystery of Evil.

SCRIPTURE READING.—Job vi. 1-4; vii. 1-11.

Loss of flocks and herds had fallen to Job without warning. Oxen and asses were captured by Sabeans, the camels driven off by the Chaldeans and the sheep consumed by lightning. In each case the servants in charge had lost their lives. Seven thousand sheep, 3,000 camels, 500 yoke of oxen, 500 she asses and a very great household had been possessed by this man of princely power. He was not only the greatest among the "sons of the east," but was a man of unblemished private character and untarnished reputation in business and governmental affairs.

To add to his calamities, his seven sons and three daughters, while at a feast in the elder brother's house, were buried in the ruins of the edifice and killed. A windstorm from the desert had struck and demolished it, giving no time for the inmates to escape.

Besides this sudden plunge from great wealth to poverty, from the position of father of a large family to childlessness, a loathsome disease afflicted him and ceaseless and excruciating pain racked the body while the mind was intensely strained by financial embarrassments.

But pain of body and anxiety of mind were less grievous than the anguish of soul he was called upon to endure. Suddenly cut off as his children had been his anxiety was great for their spiritual well being. He had done all a father could do in the line of religious duties by offering sacrifices and purifying them individually each morning.

In conscious rightness of intention toward God and man Job had seen these calamities fall upon him and yet had not uttered a murmur or complaint.

Why all these afflictions should come upon him was a mystery he had scarcely tried to fathom as he sat stunned and dumb with grief.

Three of the friends of his prosperous days came to sympathize with him. Seven days speechless they sat with him! What comfort could they offer a man in such distress and grief?

Up to this time Job had endured all afflictions with great patience and firmest trust in the Divine power. He recognizes God as the giver of all prosperity, and that His hand had also taken away the blessings, and he is resigned to the Divine will. Now begins the great conflict of soul, in which he is tempted to doubt the goodness and justice of God.

His first utterance is a groan. He wishes he had never been born. In all his days of prosperity he had continually feared that losses of property and death of children might come, and now, at one stroke, the worst possible disasters had fallen and wrecked all. Why should life be prolonged? Death would be more welcome to him than the discovery of hidden treasures to one who was eagerly searching for them.

Chattanooga Convention.

The second international conference of the Epworth League is to be held in Chattanooga June 27, 28, 29, 30, 1895. The general secretaries, Rev. S. A. Steel, D. D., Nashville; Rev. E. A. Schell, D. D., Chicago, and Rev. W. H. Withrow, D. D., Toronto, have charge of the programme and general oversight of all arrangements. A very efficient local committee are energetically planning for the accommodation and entertainment of the League hosts sure to rally at this great gathering.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE CHATTANOOGA COMMITTEE.

The Place.

Chattanooga is a historic city. No place in the country has greater and more varied attractions to interest visitors. Near this place were fought some of the most thrilling and important battles of the civil war. Missionary Ridge and Chickamauga battlefields are being converted into a national military park. It is now the most complete of its kind in the world. Tablets mark the position of all troops. Monuments and observatories are in process of erection, and 50 miles of magnificent boulevards have already been completed.

Lookout Mountain affords one of the finest views of scenery in America. In the city proper are forts, breastworks, military prisons, hospitals, headquarters and large cemeteries for the dead of both armies.

All who attend the conference will have opportunity to visit these places of deep historic interest and also to enjoy the magnificent scenery of this region.

We are not to stand in the world to testify to Christ, but to stand in Christ to testify to the world.—A. J. Gordon.

Lord, pardon what I have been;
Sanctify what I am;
Order what I shall be;
That Thine may be the glory,
And mine the eternal salvation,
For Christ's sake.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

In the matter of the estate of William Pilsbeam, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the Probate Court of said County, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at James W. Wightman's office, in the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, on the 15th day of May, 1895 and on the 5th day of October, 1895 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that six months from the 5th day of April, A. D., 1895 are allowed by said Probate Court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated April 12, 1895.

J. F. GILMORE.
JAMES H. HEUK.
Commissioners.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Wednesday, the 17th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

Present, Richard B. Robbins, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Mary Ann Norcross, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Charles Burridge praying for the probate of an instrument now on file in this court purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, and that administration of said estate may be granted to Petitioner, the executor nominated in said will, or to some other suitable person.

It is ordered, That Monday, the 13th day of May, next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said Petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said Petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

RICHARD B. ROBBINS, Judge of Probate.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Village of Tecumseh, Mich., Council Room, April 15, 1895.

Regular session. Present the entire council excepting trustees Hall and Heesen. Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Committee appointed at last meeting to prepare resolution setting forth necessity for building a passenger depot at Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway station, submitted the following:

Whereas some three years ago the passenger station of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company, at Tecumseh, Michigan, was totally destroyed by fire, and, whereas the said Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company has not rebuilt or constructed a suitable and convenient passenger station, within the said village of Tecumseh, to replace the one destroyed by fire, as aforesaid, but on the contrary, have used and utilized, since destruction of said passenger station, the offices of the freight warehouse as freight, telegraph and ticket offices, said office not being intended to be used or devoted to such purposes and is entirely inconvenient, inadequate and unsuitable therefor, the space therein alloted to the traveling public as a waiting room being about fifteen feet in length and eight feet in width and being too small to afford suitable space for transacting freight, telegraph and the sale of tickets and the accommodation of passengers; said apology for a passenger station being without suitable conveniences and necessaries for comfort of the traveling public and is dangerous and difficult of access and egress; and, whereas, the citizens of the village of Tecumseh and the traveling public having occasion to and being under the necessity of transacting business thereat are placed in imminent peril of loss of life or limb by reason of having to cross the main track, where all trains of said Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway pass at a high rate of speed, and also cross two side tracks to reach said apology for a passenger station, to obtain tickets etc., and then recross said dangerous tracks to reach the platform to board said trains, said platform being on the said farthest side from said freight warehouse, where tickets are sold.

That at the time of arrival of two of the passenger trains passing South through said village of Tecumseh, there are usually freight trains standing or switching freight cars on said main and two side tracks, and all persons desiring to become passengers on said trains or transact such business as they may have at said freight warehouse, are compelled and obliged to pass around and between said cars, at their peril of life and limb; and by reason thereof there have been several narrow escapes from death or serious bodily injury.

And, whereas, by reason of lack of suitable passenger station, waiting, baggage rooms etc., the traveling public are compelled to stand about the streets and business places in said village while awaiting the arrival of passenger trains that commercial travelers and the traveling public are put to great trouble and inconvenience by reason of lack of suitable and safe accomodations at said freight warehouse for the safe storing and keeping of baggage etc., that commercial travelers are compelled to store their sample cases about the said village and in the places of business over night and when desiring to take the early train of the said Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway, both travelers and the business men of said village are put to great trouble and inconvenience.

And, whereas, the Common Council of the said village of Tecumseh, Michigan believing, considering the amount and importance of the passenger and freight traffic of said village over the lines of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway, that the citizens thereof and the traveling public are entitled to demand due recognition and consideration from the officials of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company.

Therefor, be it resolved by the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh, Michigan. That the attention of the officials of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company be respectfully called to the necessity of erecting a suitable and convenient passenger station at the said Village of Tecumseh, and that said officials be and hereby are requested to take such immediate action toward erecting such a passenger station, and thereby remove the inconvenience and dangers the traveling public and citizens of Tecumseh are subjected to, as to them shall seem necessary and proper.

Be it further resolved. That this resolution be spread at length on the official records of the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh, and that copies thereof be forwarded to the officials of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company.

On motion, duly supported, above resolution was adopted.

The chairman of the street committee recommended that I. B. Thomsson be engaged as teamster, for ensuing year, at $60 per month; recommendation deferred until next meeting.

PETITIONS AND APPLICATIONS.

Petition of David VanTyne, asking permission to erect a building in rear of store building, on Chicago street, to be 12 ft. by 16ft. and 12ft. high, to be used for baking, roof to be covered with iron; granted, if same is covered entirely with metal sheathing.

Petition of Trustees of Raisin Valley Seminary, asking permission to erect two story storehouse in rear of store occupied by Satterthwaite Bros., same to be entirely covered with iron. Granted.

NEW BUSINESS.

The following bills were reported by the Clerk and referred to the Finance Committee: D. L. Whitnack & Co., oil, $5.06; C. F. Field printing, $14; J. M. Ingersoll, 25c; J. H. Smith, expenses paid on trip investigating electric lighting systems, $12.25; E. N. Satterthwaite, same, $10.25; H. W. Stevens, Marshall, $5; Labor, Wm. Mellon $13.75; T. S. Langridge, $4.25; J. McWilliams, $4; Chas. Dixon, $3.62; A. Hyde, street commissioner, $17; Water Works; Telephone Co., telephone rental, $7.50. Finance Committee reporting favorably on all of above, Clerk was instructed to draw his orders for same.

The following bonds were presented; W. J. Ingersoll, Village Clerk $500, sureties, Alva Spayde and C. A. Slayton, on motion, supported, above bond with sureties named was approved and ordered filed.

The following saloon bonds, in the sum of $3,500, with sureties named, were presented for approval.

W. J. Arnold, sureties, I. P. Keyser and Geo. Merritt. Approved. Frank Wallenger, sureties, W. J. Arnold and Jacob Cheever. Approved. Jacob Cheever, sureties, I. P. Keyser and Eugene Service. Approved. Kennedy and Kolkhosch, sureties, Geo. Teachout and B. F. Reynolds, Approved. Eugene Service, sureties, Jacob Cheever and A. J. Osborn. Approved.

Druggists' bonds Orr & Temple, sureties, S. P. Hosmer and J. A. Boyd Approved. C. A. Wright, sureties, Eugene Service and Francisco Davidson. Approved.

Petitions for doing village printing for ensuing year were received from S. C. Shaw and C. I. Field, of $60.00 each; laid on table until next meeting.

President named C. A. Wright as purchasing agent for ensuing year; on motion supported, same was confirmed.

President Smith, as chairman of committee appointed to investigate electric lighting systems of neighboring towns, reported that committee had visited Monroe where the Stanley system is used, 242 arc lamps being used, lighted every and all night during year for $58.50 per lamp; company also lights council rooms and fire engine houses. At Toledo they interviewed Mr. Germain and much valuable information was secured. At Owosso the plant is owned by the town, 50 arc lamps are used on streets. The town has a bonded indebtedness on water works of $50,000 and electric $15,000; last year proceeds paid for operating expenses, interest on bonds and at close of year left balance of $500 on hand.

Moved and supported that President correspond with a committee of electric engineers and have him visit Tecumseh to investigate electric lighting system and give such information as council may desire. Carried.

Council then adjourned.

W. J. INGERSOLL,
Village Clerk.

FAYETTE NORMAL UNIVERSITY.

A School of Growing Reputation and Usefulness.

Last week we visited Fayette, Ohio, with our "Snap Shot" lectures and passed three days very pleasantly in that Buckeye town. It is a beautiful little village about the size of Clinton, the business blocks are almost entirely built of brick, the streets are well kept and the residences neat, with tidy yards and lawns. Fayette has gained the reputation of being quite an educational center, a reputation which is extending every year. We had the pleasure of visiting the Normal University during our stay there, and were somewhat surprised at the extent of its educational facilities. A few items about the institution may be interesting to our readers.

The school was founded by a special act of the Ohio legislature in 1888. It started on a small scale, but has been gradually improving in equipments and facilities and gradually extending its influence since that time. Its teachers are selected from the leading colleges and institutions of learning and are leaders in their work. Its special aims are these: To prepare teachers for their work in graded and district schools; to bestow a sound academic education, to offer special courses in literary, musical and educational lines, and to afford a thorough business training. There are now fourteen regular teachers and twelve departments. The institution has two large three-story brick buildings, with a boarding hall. The Normal school has a large chapel, a library and reading room supplied with many dailies, weeklies and magazines, well equipped physical and chemical laboratories, and plenty of apparatus for illustrating physiology, geography and astronomy.

The Normal is located in the eastern part of town and the Business College in the western part. Both are under one management, however, Prof. J. E. Dodds being superintendent. The school gathers a large number of outside people every year, and this is a valuable help to the town, in a financial point of view. Fayette has every reason to be proud of her Normal University.

THE BICYCLE INDUSTRY.

Why Should'nt Tecumseh Start That Bicycle Factory?

A late copy of the Grand Rapids Herald contains some additional information in regard to the past growth and future prospects of the bicycle industry. In an interview with M. Navarro, a resident of the Argentine Republic, he says:

"The manufacturers of this country do not understand their own interests in regard to our country. The American manufacturers are being buncoed, as the German, English and French imitate American goods and sell them to the Argentines as American goods, for the Argentines believe, and rightly so, that this country produces the best of everything. The manufacturers do not realize the great wealth of our republic and its rapid development. For instance, the city of Rozario ten years ago had 25,000 inhabitants, now it has half a million. Buenos Ayres has 800,000 inhabitants. There are 1,000 cities on the lines of the railroads which form a network over the entire country, the greatest railroad being the Andes, 2,000 miles in length.

GOLD FOR BICYCLES.

"No furnishing goods to speak of direct from North America are seen in our country, and I believe in all the country there are but two houses furnished with American carpets, and these are hotels in Montevideo, and, by the way, it was a Grand Rapids house that furnished them. Bicycles are a craze there, and our house in Buenos Ayres could sell 1,000 a month if we could get them at a reasonable price. We will pay $40 in gold for good bicycles delivered on board steamer in New York. We receive many million dollars worth of furniture from England, France and Germany and but little from this country, and that only of the cheapest grades."

The Grand Rapids Cycle Company's factory has been running from twelve to fourteen hours a day in a vain endeavor to keep up with orders. Since last season the factory capacity has been doubled. The output is now about 350 wheels a week. Among recent orders received is one for six wheels to be shipped to Chili.

Concerning bicycle costumes for women it "goes without saying" that the bloomer has a firm hold upon the affections of the fair sex.

A great many ladies have already shown the courage of their convictions and donned the only real sensible costume that has yet been suggested for their use. "As far as the question of modesty is concerned," said a prominent lady bicyclist, "objection exists only in the mind of the beholder or in the con- [illegible] whether it be bloomers or long skirts. It is my belief that a woman has a greater opportunity for immodest behavior when dressed in long skirts than if she were clothed in the more sensible bloomers. There is no doubt that there are hundreds of women bicycle riders in this city who would be glad to adopt the modern dress if they can feel assured that the custom has become so general that they will not be conspicuous. Within a few days a meeting of all the lady cyclists in the city will be called with a view of adopting, by concerted action, a rational bicycle costume, presumably bloomers. Samples of all articles of apparel that go to make up a complete cyclist's outfit, including underwear, will be provided for inspection.

It is believed that the time will soon prevail, as is already in Boston and other Eastern cities, when a lady who rides a wheel in skirts will be much more conspicuous than she who considers her own comfort and grace superior to the old ideas. Until the present year there have been bold suggestions that, if a lady wears bloomers, there could be no objection to her riding a gentleman's make of wheel. This proposal was made because none of the ladies' wheels were made so light as the diamond frame variety used by the gentlemen. This objection has been overcome, however, in the 1895 models. Ladies' wheels are now constructed to weigh no more than those used by gentlemen. There is little or no likelihood that the ladies will ever ride any other machine than those built especially for their use. Among the new cycling enthusiasts are counted quite a large number of public school teachers, and a permanent organization would be nothing surprising in that direction.

Why Shouldn't You Become Famous?

The average American reads of the inventions and achievements of Franklin, Fulton, Morse, Edison, and Westinghouse, with a thrill of patriotic feeling. And yet, it is simple, trivial inventions, after all, out of which the greatest fortunes may be made in modern times, and which perhaps, may accomplish the greatest good to the greatest number. If you want to test the value of your ideas as an inventor, write to the Press Claims Company, Philip W. Avirett, Managing Attorney, Lock Drawer 588, Washington D. C., and mention this paper. They will send you a clever little booklet on patents and patent law, and if you apply for an invention through the medium of this agency, you may receive their monthly award of merit of one hundred dollars, which goes to the inventor who applies for a patent on the most meritorious invention through the medium of this great combination of two thousand or more American Newspapers. The Press Claims Company also prosecutes pension cases, land and other claims against the General Government, and its fees are as moderate as is consistent with intelligent service.

AN OGDEN GUSHER.

Gas Well that Produces a Twenty-Foot Flame.

A big pocket of gas was developed last Friday on the farm of Jas. Bolton, in Ogden, at the bottom of a 100 foot hole, says the Blissfield Advance. The gas escapes with a roar that can be heard for quite a distance and is said to be the biggest gas well yet uncorked in this locality, where nearly all deep wells develop more or less gas. When lighted a flame shoots up twenty feet high. The well is perfectly dry. So far there has been no diminishing of the [illegible] and while it cannot be said that the regular gas rock has been struck, it certainly is coming from a source where the supply is stored in large quantities. How long it will hold out cannot, of course, be determined, but the opinion seems to be that it is only a temporary flow that will soon settle down to a level found in other wells in that section. The matter, however, has caused quite a revival of "gas talk," and a firmer belief than ever that gas and oil can be found in Riga and Ogden if people will only "go after it." It may be but a short time before the Ohio oil people will take hold of the matter and thoroughly develop the field.—Evening Telegram.

The Star Spangled Banner's Author.

Many interesting things about Francis Scott Key—the author of the Star Spangled Banner—are contained in a pamphlet, which may be obtained free, from the Key Monument Association of Frederick City, Maryland, by sending one 2 cent stamp for postage. This Association is raising funds for a suitable monument to the poet, and they suggest that in the schools and every where, upon or before Flag Day (June 14th), this subject be suitably recognized. Contributions, however small, are asked for. Every one who loves the flag ought to have some small share in building this monument. The governor of Maryland has strongly endorsed the movement. The names of all contributors will be preserved in the crypt of the monument, and published (without amount) in the history of the monument when completed.

Speech Restored.

For five years I suffered with pain and discharge of the throat, hacking cough, frontal headache, weak eyes, etc., at times could not talk above a whisper; lost weight continually, and not able to be at work. I was treated by the best physicians in the country, but received no relief. After giving up all hope I was recommended to use a bottle of Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure. After using it for four weeks my speech returned. All symptoms of catarrh have disappeared and I feel like a different person.

THE LAWN MOWER.

Go get the old lawn mower out,
And polish off the rust;
Put oil in all the little holes,
And clean out all the dust.
Do all you can to soften down
That irritating click,
And sharpen up the cutting knives—
You'll need it pretty quick.

The emerald whiskers on your lawn
Will soon be getting long,
The exercise of trimming them
Will make your muscles strong.
So get the old lawn mower out—
But make this little mem.:
Don't ever try to cut your grass
Till after 7 a. m.

HOW THE RECORD WAS BROKEN.

Here is how the last eight seconds have been clipped off the trotting record since 1880, when Rarus made a mile in 2:11 3-4. In the same year Rarus reduced his record to 11 1-4, while Maud S. cut it down to 10 3-4 and to 10 1-4 in 1881. It was not until 1884 that Jay-Eye-See reduced the record to 10, which was lowered to 9 1-4 the same season by Maud S. and to 9 by the following year by her. In 1891 Sunol cut it down to 8 1-4, and in 1892 Nancy Hanks scored 7 1-4. Last year she reduced the record to 4, and now Alix makes it 3 3-4. It has taken fourteen years to lower the record eight seconds, and it is pretty safe to say that the present century is going to make it two minutes flat.—Boston Herald.

Noboly has gone to the county seat to see his best girl. Items are scarcer than ever. A recent copy of the Ashley (Ind.) Times has this item:

At a meeting of the citizens of Ashley, in Clark's hall, Monday morning, it was necessary to become responsible for $800 cash to secure the furniture factory. A note for that amount was prepared and every man in the room endorsed the same, thirty-four in number. That is the kind of spirit that will make Ashley a 10,000 instead of a 3,000 town.

And the same spirit manifested in Tecumseh would secure a bicycle factory here within thirty days. Wake up, men and bretheren. Wake up

It would only be proper for somebody to hail gentle spring—if they can find her—and inform her that she seems to be going crazy. From the raw, ragged, freezing edge of winter in April, we jumped into midsummer, 90 degrees in the shade, the first of May. People stood in danger of being sunstruck before they were rid of their winter cold. People laid off their ulsters, only a few days ago to put on their neglige shirts. Yesterday they dropped the neglige shirts and went back to the ulsters. In fact there seems to be no regularity or stability to spring in this year of '95, and whether we are going to have spring, summer, or winter, or a day about of each, is yet an unsettled question.—Evening Telegram.

A recent number of the Detroit Tribune has this item: "Clinton is enjoying a first-class boom, and is one of the most prosperous villages at the present time on the Jackson branch of the Lake Shore road. During the past year building operations have been more active than during the entire previous five years. A woolen mill, the plow works plant, and several new stores have gone up, besides numerous dwelling places. The woolen mill proprietors pay out about $60,000 a year in wages, and is one of the largest institutions of the kind in the west. If the property should be moved away, land here would not be worth fifty cents on the dollar."

Children Who Suffer

from scrofulous, skin or scalp diseases, ought to be given Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for purifying the blood. For children who are puny, pale or weak, the "Discovery" is a tonic which builds up both flesh and strength. What is said of it for children applies equally to adults. As an appetizing restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, rouses every organ into natural action, and brings back health and strength. In recovering from "grippe," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, and other wasting diseases, it speedily and surely invigorates and builds up the whole system.

For all diseases caused by a torpid liver or impure blood, as dyspepsia, biliousness, blotches and eruptions, it gives most perfect satisfaction. 1w

FITS AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

When Henry M. Hall, M. D., late surgeon U. S. A., Department of Tennessee, returned from the war he found a child afflicted with epilepsy. Leading physicians were consulted, without apparent benefit. Noted specialists could give but little if any relief. To rescue his child from a fate worse than death became the object of his life. For several years experiment followed experiment, until at last success crowned his efforts. In 1889 old age and infirmities induced him to impart the knowledge of how to manufacture it, under the agreement that a bottle should be sent free of all charges to any one applying for it, who was afflicted with epilepsy. Since then over 20,000 free bottles have been sent to the afflicted. Experience has proved that it cures Insomnia, St. Vitus' Dance, and all forms of Nervous Affliction. If you want to try this wonderful remedy free of all charge, write, stating your disease as plainly as possible; give your age and post office. Address The Hall Chemical Co., West Philadelphia, Pa.

If You Have, Here's the Way to Rid Yourself of the Weariness and Pain Attending It.

Some people suffer with headaches, many people are worn out and weary all the time, many more people have lame back and backache. Few people understand the real cause of their aches, and fewer yet know how easily they can find a cure. Just a word of explanation before we prove that what we say is true. The back is the key-note of the kidneys. It aches; that's a sign that the kidneys are not working properly; it is lame; another sign, the kidneys are out of order. The kidneys, you know, are the filters of the blood, but filters sometimes get clogged up. This means in their case that the blood courses through the entire system impregnated with poisonous uric acid, bringing on many a disorder which, if neglected, means disease perhaps incurable. And now about the cure:—Don't take our word for it; read what others say:

Mr. David C. Oaks is proprietor of the well known hardware and paint shop at 220 East Main Street, Kalamazoo. Mr. Oaks has suffered a great deal from kidney ailments; he described his condition and cure as follows: "I had a bad, lame back, which I suppose was caused by my kidneys; was confined to my bed during bad attacks. I might say, from time to time, I have been in that condition for years. The urinary organism was affected, urine being scanty, highly colored, and difficult in passage. I was in a bad shape when I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, about which I had heard. I have used now two boxes of them, and the pills have removed all the pain and trouble. There was a marked improvement right from the first, and it has continued right along. Doan's Kidney Pills are the right thing in the right place."

After THREE MONTHS of Daily Wear

This Collar

is Still in Good Condition.

That's because it's the "CELLULOID" Collar. Its original cost was 25 cts. and it cost the wearer nothing afterwards to keep it clean. When soiled, simply wipe off with sponge or wet cloth.

These collars and cuffs are waterproof, and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining of linen; therefore the only ones that look and last and give absolute satisfaction. Every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

Refuse anything that is not so marked, and if your dealer has not got the right kind send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you a sample postpaid. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. Give size, and state whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

For Thin Children.

Children are always thin and pale when they do not assimilate enough fat. This seems strange, perhaps, but it is literally true. Unless there is a healthy assimilation of fat food the blood becomes deficient, tissues waste away, vitality becomes low and the child languishes for the need of proper nourishment.

Scott's Emulsion

is useful to children, especially in two ways. It is Cod Liver Oil emulsionized, thus being easily assimilated and rendered palatable, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda added to tone up the nervous system and nourish the bones. This combination of these powerful nutrients is just what thin children need to give them flesh, color and vitality. Almost all children like it.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

STEEL TANKS

We furnish steel tanks with covers, all galvanized after completion, in nests of ten, 8 to 12 feet high and 30 to 36 inches in diameter, at 2½c. per gallon. They do not rust, shrink, leak, give taste to water, nor allow foreign substances to get in. They can be put in garret or barn and thus are protected from freezing. They take no setting up, are cheaper than wood. Tank substructures of all sizes made to order. Send for price list and designs for substructure and ornamental water supply.

AERMOTOR CO. CHICAGO.

2½ CTS PER GAL.

Did you ever stop to think how completely the Aermotor Co. made the modern windmill business? How it has monopolized this entire line of manufacture because of its ideas, inventions, designs, qualities and prices, or forced others to be liberal and servile imitators? Witness the steel wheel, the back geared pumper, the high geared power mill, the steel towers, fixed and tilting, the galvanizing of work after completion, the grinder centrifugal feed, the improved irrigating and other pumps, the all steel pole saw—one of the most popular things we ever put out—the steel storage and stock tanks. Everything we have touched we have bettered and cheapened. It is the thing we have delighted in and it has paid. We have established a score of branch houses, so as to have all these goods near those who want them. The Aermotor Co. has but one more ambition. It wants to build and fill one more new building. It has 2 acres of land at its present location unoccupied by buildings. It expects to commence in June to cover that 2 acres with a single building, 7 stories high. This will give it 14 more acres of floor space. Then when the public demand requires more goods than can be produced with this added space, it will refuse to extend further, or make any effort. It will have done its share to supply that demand. It will then turn away all new comers UNTIL THAT TIME IT EXPECTS TO CONTINUE TO SUPPLY THE WORLD WITH THE GREATER PART OF ITS WIND WHEELS, TOWERS, GRINDERS, FEED CUTTERS, PUMPS, STEEL FRAME BELT SAWS, STEEL STORAGE AND STOCK TANKS, STEEL SUBSTRUCTURES, ETC., ETC., GALVANIZED AFTER COMPLETION. IT WILL CONTINUE TO DEAL MOST LIBERALLY WITH THE PUBLIC, FURNISH REPAIRS AT A LOW PRICE, AND BE THE GREAT MODEL SQUARE-DEALING WIND POWER AND WATER SUPPLY HOUSE OF THE WORLD. AERMOTOR CO., CHICAGO.

We Employ Young Men to distribute our advertisements in part payment for a high grade Acme bicycle, which we send them on approval. No work done until the bicycle arrives and proves satisfactory.

Young Ladies employed on the same terms.

If boys or girls apply they must be well recommended. Write for particulars.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

The latest snowstorm of the season came Tuesday morning.

Preparation for moving the elevator Sunday, began Wednesday.

Miss Emma Miller is spending a portion of the week in Detroit with friends.

Kittie Clark presided at the organ Sunday in the absence of the organist.

Leila Sutton went to Toledo Saturday afternoon for a week's visit with friends.

Mrs. Moore, of Detroit, visited her sister, Mrs. Lake, and family, a portion of last week.

Mrs. Catherine Cox went to Pittsford, Mich., Wednesday to spend a few days with relatives.

We are informed, by good authority, that the elevator will be moved to Britton next Sunday.

The hard frosts for the past few nights has hurt grapes and garden truck very badly in this section.

The M. E. Sunday School County Convention will be held at Hudson the 28th and 29th of the present month.

Mrs. H. Bodle returned Monday from ... with friends, accompanied by her sister, Miss Pearl Countryman.

Henry Smith, of Tecumseh, who has the Shafer farm on the ridge, known as the David Coryell farm, is repairing the barns.

Mrs. Sarah Rappleye while wringing clothes Wednesday morning, had her left arm caught in the gearing of the wringer and was lacerated quite badly.

In our village it only costs a fellow a quarter to hold his best girl on his lap on Sunday evening, and this fact is hidden from the wise and prudent and revealed to the small boy.

The friends of Lynn Fuller will regret to learn of his death, which occurred Thursday afternoon of last week, after a lingering illness with consumption, at his home in Detroit.

Harry Smith, our hustling tinsmith, has purchased the building of W. P. Cadmus used for his shoe business, where ... will be located in a few days in quarters of his own.

T. H. Temple, having the accounts of W. P. Cadmus to settle, will consider it a kindness if those in account with Mr. Cadmus, will call at his home and settle the same as soon as possible.

Miss Lena Swick, of Milan, met the junior members of the Sabbath School, at the close of Sunday School Sunday, and organized a Junior League to be known as the Hartly Junior Epworth League.

The third quarterly meeting of the M. E. church will be held next Sunday. Preaching in the morning at 10:30, after which the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. Love Feast in the evening at 6:30 and preaching at 7:30 by Presiding Elder L. P. Davis.

The ninth annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, Adrian district, will be held at Ridgeway, Wednesday and Thursday, May 22d and 23d, 1895. Following is the program:

COIN'S FINANCIAL SCHOOL.

This little book is one of the most extensive treatises on the money question that has ever been written. It shows up the evil effects of our present monetary system in a most emphatic manner. Every voter in Lenawee county, regardless of party affiliations, should read it. The Chicago Times says: "A book that will create a profound impression throughout the United States." The New York Recorder says: "It mercilessly scourges the money changers in the Temple of the Republic." The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "This book tells its readers more about gold, silver and currency, generally, than any other publication we know of, and in a way that every man can fully comprehend." A supply is kept on hand at the HERALD office. Single copies 25 cents. Every new advance paying subscriber to the HERALD will receive a copy free. Now is your time to get good reading cheap. Pass in your orders.

Canker Worms in the Apple Orchard.

The time for the orchard canker worm is near. The wingless female moths are now climbing the trees from their winter quarters in the ground to deposit their eggs, and the canker worms that hatch from them will soon appear. They are not a difficult pest to control if dealt with intelligently.

Some of the moths lay their eggs on the apple tree limbs, but more deposit them in the spring. The eggs hatch at the time the buds are swelling, and the young canker worms scatter over the trees and begin feeding at once on the tender foliage. By the time the leaves are partly open the worms are large enough to be easily seen. They are nearly half an inch long, a little larger around than a common pin and vary in color from a light brown, with darker stripes, to a chocolate brown. Annoy one of them and it will stand out like a dead twig, or start off at a looping gait. Jar or shake the limb lightly, and many of them will drop, and suspend themselves in mid air by a web which they spin as they fall.

It is while the canker worms are in this very young stage that the trees should be given a thorough spraying with Paris green or London purple at the rate of three ounces to forty gallons of water.

A quart or two of glucose or molasses or a pound of freshly slaked lime (strained) added to each barrel of water, will help to retain the poison on the foliage. The lime will at the same time insure the leaves against injury from soluble arsenic.

Up to this time the canker worms have merely eaten a few holes in the leaves, but if they remain a week or two longer they will destroy every leaf on the trees, if as commen as they were last spring. They grow very fast and soon are from an inch and a quarter to an inch and a half long and as large around as a small twig. This is the time when people usually notice that something is eating the leaves in their orchard. Last spring letters came from all parts of the southern and central portions of the state, asking for help, but there was little that could be done as the calls came too late; the canker worms were mostly grown and were leaving the trees.

These facts regarding the canker worms demonstrate the importance of early spraying. Heavy rains may prevent complete success and a second spraying may occasionally be necessary.

Be An All-Around Man.

"Every shield has two sides." A public question may have many sides. To read but one newspaper is to get but one side—one man's view. To read half a dozen papers is still to get only half a dozen views—half a dozen men's opinions. In order to get the general drift of public sentiment, it is necessary either to read a great number of papers and magazines—more than the average man can take time to read, even if he can get access to them—or it is necessary to read a journal that makes it its business to collect and condense and summarize the views found in all these papers and magazines. Such a journal is Public Opinion, formerly published in Washington but recently removed to New York city. Write for a sample copy, or call at this office for information and special club rate if taken in connection with the HERALD.

Just a Moment, Please.

TRASK'S
Magnetic Ointment.

The worst Sores, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, Sprains, Skin Disorders, Sore Throat, Croup, Rheumatism, Lameness, Piles, and all external and internal affections characterized by INFLAMMATION, yield to its influence as if by magic. It is a purely vegetable preparation by a regular physician of eminence, and its success has been marvellous in the most obstinate cases. Sold by Druggists and Dealers at 25 and 40 cents.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

It never fails to restore the natural functions of the skin and equalize the circulation of the blood. By this means a controlling power is gained over the most malignant forms of disease. It penetrates to every portion of the human frame; every bone, muscle, vein, nerve and ligament is searched out and made sensible to its soothing and healing influence. Hence it copes readily with internal as well as external diseases.

Over 40 Years.

This Ointment has been used by the people throughout the United States, and our confidence in its qualities is such that as we have no space here to insert any of the numerous certificates of cures which we have from all parts of the country, we simply ask those readers of this notice who have ever used this Ointment, to frankly state their experience with it to inquiring friends. If but one in a hundred would do this we should be perfectly satisfied with the result. Full directions for use will be found on pamphlet around each bottle.

Price 25 and 40 cents per bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

METHODIST SCORCHER.

The American republic is no longer 'The land of the free and the home of the brave,' but it is the land of the millionaire and the home of the slave. The land is filled with tramps, suicides, murders, lynchings, burnings, violence and bloodshed. The great government of Washington and Lincoln is to-day in the hands of the moneyed power of the world.

"The president and congress, elected by the American people, are the agents or tools of the Rothschilds. Our government heeds every beck and call of the rich, but the cry of the helpless and needy poor goes unheeded, unanswered. In all the wrongs, wickedness, distress, oppression and corruptions to which we have referred, where has stood the ministry and where do they stand to-day? Under the 'woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter.'

"The Methodist church is strong in numbers, wealth and educated talent. She has sixteen bishops, a great many editors of church papers, several hundred presiding elders, about [illegible] effective ministers and as many local preachers, with a membership of about 3,000,000. With these great resources to say nothing about their schools, colleges and universities, with their corps of professors and [illegible] should be a power for justice, righteousness and the spiritual uplifting of the world. And she would be if the ministers were faithful to their trust. Take the Colorado conference and examine the rich men who are working poor men on the Sabbath in the city of Denver. When did Bishop Warren, Chancellor McDowell or Dr. McInTyre ever preach a sermon against John Evans or other rich Methodists for this desecration. The street cars carry hundreds of Dr. McInTyre's congregation every Sunday. These same cars take the people by the thousands to the resorts about Denver, where drinking and gambling and all manner of Sabbath desecration is going on. But when did these great ministers ever denounce these things from their pulpits.

SABBATH DESECRATION.

"Dr. McInTyre grows eloquent in his indignation towards the corrupt management which permitted a grand stand to be built on the holy Sabbath and criticises these Republican sinners without mercy, but a wealthy Methodist sinner may desecrate God's holy day with impunity and never hear a word of protest. If the doctor is really sincere let him denounce the Sabbath breaking which goes on within the hearing of Trinity pulpit every Sunday. The saloon is destroying about 150,000 souls a year and making 2,000,000 of drunkards. There is also gambling, Sabbath-breaking, licentiousness, immorality, general wretchedness and misery; and instead of our ministers thundering against these great evils, they are calling evil good and good evil, putting 'darkness for light and bitter for sweet'. It is a shame, a sin, a crime that we pay our bishops $5,000 a year to preach against all wrong, they must see the sin, misery and corruption that is growing out of the licensed saloon, yet I do not know of one who has strongly denounced these sins. The trouble is that most of our bishops, elders, editors and great preachers are such good Republicans that if they were to preach against the saloons they would offend the saloon keeper, Levi P. Morton, Phil Zang, and other good Republicans of the same character. At the last election the Prohibition party selected good, clean men and women as candidates, yet Bishop Warren, Chancellor McDowell and Dr. McInTyre did not support this ticket, but rather joined hands with gamblers, saloon keepers, brewers and fallen women of Market street to 'redeem' Colorado. When ministers are so lost to their ministerial vows, to the high and lofty work and influence of their profession, the salvation of souls and the glory of God; I say, when they are so far lost to these grand considerations as to ally themselves with fallen women and the other corrupt elements, as they did in supporting the godless and oppressive Republican party, it is time to stop and think where the church and world are driving.

WAITE'S GAMBLING FIGHT.

"When ex-Governor Waite, who has done more for the morals of Denver than any other governor the state has ever had, was closing out the gamblers and bringing the saloon men to time, where stood your preachers? Did you go to him and encourage him in his good work? No, you did not, but rather formed an alliance to 'redeem' the state with the very classes the governor was fighting. It will be to your everlasting shame that you did not join in with Governor Waite in the suppression of the immoral and lawless classes. Brother Methodist preachers in supporting the Republican party you turned your backs upon the discipline of the Methodist Episcopal church and the word of God. Instead of standing up like true men for the right, you championed the cause of the worst classes of the day.

"You are a nice lot of preachers. You voted for the cause of the saloon, you voted with gamblers and prostitutes, you voted with the Republican party, that promised protection to gamblers. Are you any better than the classes whose cause you championed? If you ministers had done your duty, preaching against saloons, gambling and corruption, and supported the Prohibition party, as it was your duty to do, and had stood with Governor Waite in his war on the disreputable classes, those business houses would not have thought of petitioning for the gamblers to go unmolested. You voted for and with the worst elements of the state, and for a party without one single moral idea, but pleged to the protection of the greatest abomination of the age; and when expostulated with for such unmanly, un-Christian and unministerial conduct, you say, in justification of your unrighteous and sinful action, that this is the 'quickest way to get prohibition.' You know that it is the money, wealth and social influence in the Republican party that made you vote as you did. You knew then, just as well as you do now, that the vote was not to the glory of God nor the good of humanity. You knew that the vote would not remove a single temptation, elevate manhood, protect womanhood, feed the hungry nor clothe the naked. If the Prohibition party had the wealth and power that the Republican party now has, and were the Republican party as weak as the Prohibition party now is, how many preachers would have voted the Republican ticket? You Republican, saloon-supporting ministers of this age are a curse to the world. You are lying right across the pathway of the salvation of this country. You are responsible for the oppression, the poverty, drunkeness and immoralities of the age.

HELPED THE GAMBLERS.

I told the ministers, at their meeting at Trinity church in June, that the saloons, with drunkenness, immorality, poverty and crime, had increased under their preaching in Denver. I wish now to add that the conduct of the Republican preachers in Denver and Colorado in the last election was such that it has helped on the gambling spirit. No doubt while those preachers were exercising their exalted privilege of franchise in 'redeeming' the state, she gamblers who voted the same ticket justly expected their sympathy.

The Discipline says 'the liquor traffic cannot be legalized without sin.' The Bible says, 'Woe unto him that putteth the bottle to thy neighbor's lips.' But this does not deter you; you keep on making drunkards and increasing poverty and encouraging immoralities. The power behind the saloon is the Methodist Episcopal church. The power behind the Methodist Episcopal church is the Republican party. The children of Israel never bowed more submissively and with more adoration and worshipfulness to the golden calf at the foot of Sinai than most of the bishops, elders, editors, and first-class pastors of the Methodist Episcopal church are doing to-day bowing at the shrine of the whiskey-supporting Republican party. Such preachers are not going to deceive [illegible] people much longer; they are gradually getting their eyes open to such unjustifiable and unchristian conduct, as never before. I do not hesitate to say that a bishop or preacher who will vote for a saloon candidate or party is no better than the man who votes to license. The lines are being drawn, the conflict is on. 'Choose ye this day whom ye will serve.' If you are going to serve the Republican party, then serve it! But do not bide behind the pulpit and your ministerial vows, and thus dishonor manhood and cripple the power of the church. I speak thus strongly because the church has lost her power and the country is in an unsettled condition. The ministry of to-day, by its world-loving and world-pandering spirit, is encouraging and upholding dancing, card-playing, theater going, gambling, Sabbath-breaking and prostitution.

REFORM THE MINISTRY.

"The next reformation that must be agitated and materialized is to reform the ministry and to bring it to that high, efficient, all-conquering Bible standard of spiritual power. There never has been a reformer burned or persecuted that the ministry did not have a hand in the work. There never has been an era of slavery and oppression that the ministry as a class were not with the oppressor. It was the preachers who crucified Christ, opposed Luther and upheld the nobility against the peasantry before the French revolution and proclaimed slavery in America. Amid all the rumbling and unrest of this dissatisfied age, three great enemies of the prosperity of the church are the ministers, the saloons and the millionaires. Taking all things into consideration, there never was an age in the history of the world when the ministry gave its influence to the wrong against the right as it is doing to-day. Tetzel sold indulgences. For a money consideration he absolved men from sins and crimes that they wanted to commit. How much worse was this than for our bishops and elders to vote for a party and for men that would license men to make men drunk, break the Sabbath, destroy female virtue, commit rape, murder and corrupt a whole nation? The saloon license system of this nation is more inhuman, ungodly, destructive, devilish and damnable than ever Tetzel thought about with his indulgence system; and yet our ministers grow eloquent in their denunciation of the wickedness of Tetzel, but can see no harm in supporting a license party. You can't 'make believe' any longer. You must and you shall stand before the world in your true light. The Sabbath must be kept holy. The saloon must be overthrown. Our government must be purified from corruption. The oppressed must have justice. Wrongs must be righted. Humanity must be uplifted. God's name must be glorified. The world must be saved.

"Jesus says, 'Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away.'

"The fulness of time for the church to take advanced ground has come. The organized system of wrong must be overthrown. The tremble of the ground, swell of the great moral and spiritual upheaval is now being felt. The demand of the age is great, true and tried men, filled with the Holy Ghost. There never was an age when the demand for stalwart men was so great as to-day. Men who live in fine mansions and revel in luxury, opulence and affluence never make reformers nor turn the world upside down. Brethren, you must show yourselves courageous heroes in this great struggle or acknowledge your unworthiness and take your stand among the cowards in the rear. The present attitude of the ministry will never cause the kingdoms of this world to become the kingdoms of our Lord and his christ. As Christ can never conquer this world with such a ministry as we have to-day, it is necessary that there should be very great changes in order that the ministry may be made effective for this great work.

NECESSARY TO COME DOWN.

As wealth and ease and luxury make men effiminate, and therefore inefficient, one of the first things necessary to a courageous and effective ministry will be high thinking and plain living. To this end it will be necessary for Bishop Warren to come down from his $35,000 mansion. He can never exert that great influence for God and humanity that his great ability and fine mental powers would otherwise enable him to do. And not only the bishop, but all those University Park and Denver ministers, who are living in luxury, must adopt a manner of life commensurate with the calling to save a lost world. It is not in keeping with the high calling of an ambassador of Jesus Christ to live in luxury and hoard money while women and children are starving around them.

"Go to, now, ye rich men; weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you. Your riches are corrupted and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and silver is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last day."—James V, 1-3.

"Woe unto them that call evil good and good evil; that put darkness for light and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter.' Brethren, the world is cold and sick and sinful and dying. Take your Bibles and go in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and He will crown your efforts with victory."

OBITUARY.

MUNSON P. HENRY.

Munson P. Henry, whose death was chronicled in last week's HERALD, was a resident of Tecumseh for many years. He owned the farm, now occupied by A. P. Coddington on the Newburg road, before war times and later he was the owner of the property located opposite the HERALD office on Chicago street. He was a brother of Samuel Henry, who lives west of town. For the past six years he had been a resident of Easton, Md., where he was engaged in business at the time of his death. The following obituary is taken from the Easton Democrat.

Munson P. Henry died suddenly of heart disease at his residence, in Easton, Thursday morning, May 2d. Mr. Henry had been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and for two weeks previous to his death he had been unable, at times, to attend to his store. Wednesday night he left his place of business about 9 o'clock in good spirits, saying he was feeling much better. He went to bed that night anticipating a good night's rest. Next morning his wife got up and prepared his breakfast and called for him but he [illegible] went to see what was the matter and found him dead. He had been dead some time and his appearance indicated that death had come without a struggle. The deceased came to Talbot county from Tecumseh, Mich., in 1887, and purchased a farm in Chapel district. Two years later, he sold his farm and engaged in the mercantile business in Easton. The same year he married Mrs. Emily Cook, widow of the late Thomas Cook. He enlisted in the Union army Sept. 30, 1862, and was sergeant in Co. B, 7th Cavalry, Mich. Volunteers. On February 24, 1863 he was promoted to second lieutenant and received an honorable discharge January 8, 1864. The deceased was born in Norwalk, O., January 10, 1825 and was in the 71st year of his age.

Munson P. Henry was highly esteemed and very popular; he made a good citizen and had recently built himself a comfortable home. He was noted for his fair and honest dealing with his fellow men. The community loses a useful and respected citizen. He was a devoted husband and an affectionate father. He leaves a widow and three sons, H. A., E. M. and C. A. Henry, all engaged in railroad business in Toledo, O., and one daughter, Mrs. Daniel H. Cook, Easton. The funeral will be held from Trinity Cathedral Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, Very Rev. G. C. Sutton, the Dean, will officiate.

JOHN MONAGIN.

The funeral of John Monagin, a pioneer of Cambridge, was held at the Springville M. E church, last Sabbath. Rev. Shier preached an excellent discourse from words found in John 11:25-26

Mr. Monagin was born in Ireland, but emigrated to the United States when quite young, coming to Michigan and purchasing a tract of land in Cambridge township, where he has always resided until about a year ago, when failing health compelled him to seek a home with his daughter, Mrs. Herbert Reed, of Brooklyn, where he was tenderly cared for until called to the better land. Mr. Monagin was one of the founders of the Springville church, and as was fitting, the last sad rites were observed in the house where he so often went for praise and prayer. R.

CAMBRIDGE CHATTER.

The frost for the past three nights has been severe for the season. The last one last night very severe, what is known as a "black frost," destroying grapes, cherries, strawberries, and most kinds of small fruit. Mercury indicated seven degrees below freezing point at 10 o'clock p. m.

The morning of the 14th snow fell to the depth of one inch on the ground and vegetation of most kinds has suffered very much.

On Friday last, May 12, Mrs. E. R. Kilberry fell down stairs at her residence in this town. By the fall her body and limbs below the waist were paralyzed; otherwise she was not hurt very much. She lived until the Monday following and died from the effects of the fall. Funeral Wednesday at Cambridge Episcopal church at 2 o'clock p. m.

Broken down women renewed by Zoa Phora.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

What effect the death of James W. Scott, the publisher of the Chicago Times-Herald, will have on the standing of the single-tax department in that paper remains to be seen. In the meantime single-tax departments are making their appearance in daily and weekly papers all over the country.

The catalogue of the University of Michigan for the current year is at hand. It still leads them all in attendance. The total number of students enrolled during the present College year was 2864. The Literary department contained 1523; Medical, 389; Law, 679; Pharmacy, 78; Homoeopathic, 19; Dental School, 185; Summer School, 40.

The book of proceedings of the annual meeting of the Michigan Press association for 1894 is on our desk. It is nicely printed, handsomely illustrated, and contains many valuable and attractive features for the craft. It is printed by the secretary of last year, Jas. Schermerhorn, of the Hudson Gazette, and is in all respects a commendable and artistic piece of work.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Cotton States and International Exposition, a new building to house agricultural implements, was authorized. This adds another to the list of buildings of the Exposition. The pressure on the Agriculture building proper and the machinery building was found to be so great that there was not space for the many exhibits of agricultural implements, and the committee deemed it best to erect a separate building devoted exclusively to displays of this character.

E. P. Powell, thirty years ago pastor of Plymouth church, in this city, in the Arena for May, has a striking article—"Should war be abolished?" The question discussed is whether peace under certain conditions of internal corruption and political abuse is not more to be feared than war. Mr. Powell seems to think that human nature is not yet sufficiently evolved on a plane of moral and spiritual rationalism to justify the abolition of war. His argument is able, as is everything which comes from his pen.—Adrian Times.

County Clerk Mills is sending notices to derelict clergymen and justices of the peace, requiring them to make returns of the marriages at which they have officiated. He is also endeavoring to perfect the records by writing husbands when it is impossible to reach the clergyman or magistrate who officiated. His efforts are being rewarded by many replies, but there are yet about thirty to hear from. The law prescribes that any person whose duty it shall be to return a marriage certificate to the county clerk, shall, on neglect of such duty, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished by a fine not exceeding $100, or 90 days' imprisonment, or both.—Adrian Times.

The piano recital given by the pupils of Miss Jennie Root last Tuesday evening, was carried out in a manner to elicit the most flattering praise, both for the perseverance of the young performers and the enterprise of their teacher. These recitals are looked forward to in our musical circles with great interest, and with a spirit of just criticism as well as praise, and it is gratifying to state that the last showed a steady improvement in the skill and confidence exhibited by those taking part. The program consisted of two parts of eight and nine numbers respectively, and was listened to by about 150 friends of the class who join in wishing success to Miss Root and her pupils, and in hoping that they may always be fortunate enough to witness these entertaining recitals.

The Evening Telegram of last week Thursday contains the following complimentary notice of our Royal Arch fraters; and the item is not overdrawn, either:

A convocation of Tecumseh Chapter, No 42, R. A. M., was held at Tecumseh last night, the first held in their new temple. Work in the Royal Arch degree was given. Joseph Smith, eminent high priest, and Perry Hosmer, principal sojourner, conducting the work in a manner never excelled and seldom equalled. A visiting brother, well versed in Masonry, says Tecumseh is the first chapter he ever saw where every man knew every word of his own work. There were 72 present, including Dr. J. H. Reynolds, E. J. Shepherd, John Mawdsley, W. H. Barrett W. F. King, sr., and H. N. King, of Adrian, and representatives from other chapters. A fine banquet was served, and short speeches made by E. J. Shepherd H. N. King, Dr. Reynolds and others. The night was delightful and the Adrian visitors returned home feeling that every moment was one of pleasure, and with the highest possible opinion of the hospitality of their Tecumseh brethren.

Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith, in a recent interview with the Athens, Ga., Banner, has spoken of the great benefit which the Southern States will receive from the geological and mineralogical survey soon to be completed. North Georgia, North and South Carolina, the Virginias and the mineral lands of the Southern Appalachian range have been thoroughly surveyed and a full description of this section of the Union will be published. The store of wealth that lies buried in the hillsides and mountains of the Southern States will be a revelation to the Northern and Western miners and capitalists, and will surprise even the best informed men of the South. The work is under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, and Mr. Smith intends to have placed at the Cotton States and International Exposition a complete exhibit of the various minerals found in the South.

YE OLDEN TIME.

The following poem, written by Hiram Raymond, of Dixon, Ill., formerly a resident of Raisin, was read at the Pioneer Social held at the house of John Richards, last winter:

Times are not now as once they were,
Some sixty years ago;
When our good mothers spun the flax
And sisters spun the tow.

When home spun garments, rudely made,
Was what we had to wear.
No truck to sell, no stock to trade,
Nor anything to spare.

Log cabins, sparsely scattered round,
Hemm'd in among the wood,
Were all the buildings to be found
In the whole neighborhood.

Our roads were trails among the trees,
Our carriages, ox carts;
Our fruit was pumpkins from the fields,
And turnips did for "tarts."

Our meat—what little meat we had—
Was captured on the run;
A good supply would make us glad,
But frequently we'd—none!

But should a neighbor kill a deer,
As soon as it was dressed
You'd see him trudging far and near,
To share it with the rest.

All were so clever, good and kind,
None ever had a doubt,
Go where they would, but what they'd find
The latch-string hanging out.

All had to work. The men and boys
Would clear and fence the farm;
Mothers and daughters, spin and weave
The cloth to keep us warm.

Our school house then was made of logs,
Where we did read and spell;
With a big oak stump before the door,
That we remember well.

Where all us lads would gather round,
With peepers open wide,
So when our lassie sallied out
We'd sally to her side.

Ah, those were times we cherish still,
Such memories are dear;
When we could gambol at our will,
As youngsters now do here.

But times have changed. That dear old house
Has mouldered to decay,
And friends we often greeted there
Have long since passed away.

Yes, times have changed, and people, too—
To this we all agree.
The face of nature, too, has changed,
As all can plainly see.

Now, fertile fields the trees succeed,
The plow the woodman's axe;
Fine dwellings take the place of logs,
And barns the place of stacks.

Now, we disdain to ride in carts,
Since carriages are cheap;
And fruit we used to relish much
Is fed to cows and sheep.

The deer and turkeys now are gone—
No use for dog and gun;
We're not compelled in getting meat
To take it on the run.

Now, to look back to those old times
We lived in former years,
We call up many happy scenes
Among the Pioneers.

And since that time, as years went by,
How many earthly joys
Have floated past on pleasure's wing
Since we were girls and boys.

But now, alas! our heads are gray—
We're numbering our years:
And we will soon be laid away
Among the Pioneers.

We know not how, we know not when,
Nor can a mortal tell;
But we can safely trust to Him
That doeth "all things well"

The May Festival.

The aim of the May Festival, which will be given at Ann Arbor, May 17 and 18, is primarily educational. Under the control of the University of Michigan, which is the head of our educational system, it endeavors to bring within the reach of the people of the state that which is best in music, just as the other departments of University work try to present that which is best in other ranges of science and professional skill. Nowhere else, outside of three or four of the largest cities, will such concerts be heard as those announced for the Festival. The soloists are of world-wide reputation. The orchestra stands in the front rank. The chorus is famous as the largest student's chorus in the world, and one of the best conducted to be found anywhere. This year there is an additional attraction in the Columbian Organ. This Festival is the first occasion afforded to the people of the state in general to hear the finest organ in the world, for the half-fare railroad rate makes it possible to come from all parts of the state at comparatively slight expense.

From late experiments it has been proven that it can be done. E. Tindall has been appointed agent for the selling of the best and most approved apparatus for the spraying of all kinds of fruit trees, vines, etc., including twenty different styles, from the small, cheap hand pump to the horse power machine for large orchards. All having the most perfect Nozzle. The pumps are made of brass and copper which can neither rust nor corrode, and are furnished with 4 to 8 feet of hose (or longer, if desired) and the Excelsior nozzle; also an air chamber, whereby a constant pressure is obtained so that a continuous force of from 50 to 100 pounds on the nozzle is secured with very ordinary exertion, and not affected by the movements of the plunger, throwing a stream 50 to 80 feet high. Also, peculiar to these outfits, hose are attached by which a small part of the liquid is re-discharged at the bottom of the reservoir with great force, which keeps the poison and water well mixed, which is very essential so as not to hurt the foliage. Reservoirs up to 8 gallons, of copper or galvanized iron, are furnished with these pumps for hand use. For orchards or larger uses a second hand oil, or any tight barrel may be used, on which these pumps can be placed and moved about on a wagon, if desired. A complete and exhaustive discussion and directions on "How, When and Where to Spray, and the Ingredients Best for Certain Fruits, Vines, Etc.," found in printed matter furnished with these outfits. Please call at C. A. SLAYTON'S warehouse, Tecumseh, Mich., for inspection, further information and purchase of these outfits.

COTTON AND WHEAT.

Why the Price of Silver Bullion Governs the Price of These Products.

A correspondent writes from Arkansas to know "why is it that the price of silver bullion governs the price of cotton and wheat?—a proposition that statistics prove to be true for the last twenty years. But why is it so?"

It is very simple. The wheat and cotton grown in British India compete in the English markets with the wheat and cotton produced in the United States. The wheat and cotton of British India is purchased with and moved out of that country by means of silver currency. It is only among the British residents in the seaport towns of India that the purchasing power of the silver rupee has depreciated. Among the great mass of the population of British India silver has not depreciated in the slightest degree. A rupee will purchase as much now as it would when the market value of the metal was $1.3L An ounce of silver would purchase a bushel of wheat in that country in 1873 and it will purchase a bushel of wheat in that country now. An ounce of silver would purchase ten pounds of cotton in British India in 1873 and it will purchase ten pounds of cotton in that country to-day.

The result of this is that when the wheat and cotton growers of this country send their products abroad, they are compelled to take the equivalent of an ounce of silver for a bushel of wheat and for ten pounds of cotton. It has, therefore, been the policy of England to depreciate the commercial value of silver. Why? In order to get cheaper wheat for her pauper workingmen, and cheap cotton for her manufactories. In this she has been ably seconded by her commercial and banking agents in this country. She has thoroughly enlisted the aid and sympathy of the selfish classes in this country, and under cover of a plea for "sound money" our industries have been prostrated and our producers impoverished.

The master stroke of England was the closing of the mints in India. This sacrificed many interests in India, but it gave the English people cheap wheat and cheap cotton at the expense of the energy and prosperity of our own people. Following this came the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law, which was another victory for British interests.

The commercial value of silver measures the price of wheat and cotton for the simple reason that the producers of wheat and cotton in British India can sell a bushel of one and ten pounds of the other for an ounce of silver and pocket as much money as they ever did.

And this is one of the reasons why the policy of this country should run counter to the policy of Great Britain—one of the reasons why the people of the United States should place their influence behind silver and legislate to increase the demand for it as money and thereby increase its value.—Atlanta Constitution.

ITS PURCHASING POWER.

The Real Question Is Whether Gold Has Appreciated or the Average Value of Commodities Depreciated.

In answering a correspondent who asks for an explanation of apparent changes in the price of silver the Indianapolis Sentinel says:

"The statistical records show that there has been no change at all in the value of silver as measured in the average of commodities. They have moved up and down together. This is due not to any intrinsic quality of silver, but to its use as standard money in some countries, while gold is the medium of international commerce. A foreign dealer in Mexico, or any other silver standard country, will pay for silver its average purchasing power in the commodities of that country. It is immaterial to him whether he pays 50 cents in gold for a Mexican dollar or a bushel of wheat, so long as wheat is worth a dollar a bushel in Mexican silver. But in a silver standard country the average purchasing power of a dollar and the average price of commodities are one and the same thing, because all commodities are measured in silver dollars. There has been no decrease of the purchasing power of silver, on the average, in silver standard countries. The real question is whether gold has appreciated or the average value of commodities has depreciated. Silver may be dropped from consideration altogether so far as this is concerned. So long as it retains this relation it is evident that no natural cause is affecting its market value, for if there were its average purchasing power would decrease. The money problem is how to bring gold back to its former relation to average prices."

The Great Fraud.

Without the least warning when a silver dollar was worth three cents more than a gold dollar, silver was fraudulently and surreptitiously demonetized, many of the owners of the silver mines were driven into bankruptcy and ruin, and thousands of laborers in the mines were deprived of work and their families brought to suffering and want. All this was done and no reason given for it, as indeed no honest reason can be given for the outrageous wrong thus perpetrated upon the people. Where was the honor of the country, and in whose keeping was it when the high-headed crime was perpetrated? To the mind of the gold-bug the honor can only be maintained by giving English capitalists the control of the finance of the country and the maintenance of the interests of the Morgans and the millionaires! We do not favor such "honor" as that!—Butler (Ga.) Herald.

The Bimetallic Sentiment.

This talk in favor of silver which is going on in England and Germany will probably help the bimetallic cause ultimately. It shows that the European friends of silver are growing in numbers and activity. At any rate the stage has been reached in England where a person can be a bimetallist without being considered necessarily a crank or an anarchist, and that is a change which should give courage to the friends of the double standard everywhere.—Globe-Democrat.

NOT, MUCH.

The "Silver Craze" Is Not Dying Out—What We Need.

The single standard journals that have blindly claimed that "the silver craze" was dying out, are now forced to face it as the leading issue. Some of them hasten to declare themselves in favor of bimetallism so far as gold and silver dollars are maintained at a parity and will exchange at par and command respect in all countries. That is very amusing. Doubtless some of those journals understand what rank nonsense it is and many of them don't. American gold and silver dollars do not circulate at par as money in foreign countries, and never could except under an international monetary system not likely to materialize. There is no international money, and and when American gold is accepted in settlement of international balances it is taken by weight, as a commodity. The bulk and weight of silver preclude its use to any great extent in international transactions.

No civilized country wants the coinage of another mixed in its circulation, and therefore the business men of each country discount the coinage of the other, to keep it out of circulation. The United States and Canada, practically the same country, with the same standard and coinage system, each impose heavy discounts on the silver coin of the other, and have done so ever since the resumption of specie payments. The regular discount on American silver in Canada has rarely been less than 20 per cent. It was simply arranged by the business men of each community. In Mexico the American silver dollar does well if accepted on a par with the Mexican dollar.

The American monetary system has not commanded the respect of foreigners since 1873, but has, on the contrary, been a fit subject for ridicule and contempt. Shortly after the demonetization act was smuggled through congress, Mr. David Watney, testifying before the royal commission, delivered himself of the following British sneer:

"I cannot suppose that everybody is wise. The idea of those Americans adopting the gold standard, and they a debtor nation! They could not see that it would increase their debt enormously. They know nothing of currency matters."

Had Mr. Watney known that the crime of 1873 was perpetrated for the purpose of doubling the debt, he could not have found words to express his contempt. The Americans, in following the dictation of the Lombard street bankers in bonding the war debt, using the bonds as a banking basis, and demonetizing silver for the benefit of the British and American bondholders, richly earned all the obloquy that could be heaped on them.

The inhabitants of Adamawa, who refuse to accept the money of any civilized country, but demand cowrie shells for their exports, are entitled and receive more respect than the Americans. They are respected because they maintain their own monetary system against the world, and the world must conform to it by purchasing cowrie shells when it wants to trade with Adamawa. They prosper on the cowrie shell standard, and don't care whether it suits the foreigners or not.

What the Americans want is some of the horse sense, independence, and sturdy self-reliance of the untutored Adamawans. They want a money to suit themselves, and not to suit foreigners. They want it for their own internal trade and development, and not for foreign trade. No system providing the money for these urgent needs can impair the power to pay out the gold commodity on foreign account, to the extent that it is now impaired. The sooner the single standard journals recognize these facts, and cease to talk the stereotyped twaddle about parity, par, and respect in foreign countries, the sooner they can earn some respect for themselves.—Aransas Pass Herald.

DAYLIGHT IN THE EAST.

A Glimmering That Penetrates Even the Dark Shadows That Hang Around Wall Street.

Senator Dubois, of Idaho, is an ardent free coinage republican. He has recently been doing missionary work in New York, and when he returned to Washington after a few weeks' sojourn among the people that have long since been given over to "hardness of heart and reprobacy of mind" on the gold standard question, Senator Dubois fell into the hands of a correspondent to whom he said that "it requires but little effort to discover that the silver sentiment is making rapid progress throughout the east. Mr. Depew is reported to have said that the east was almost unanimously in favor of the single gold standard; that 99 out of every 100 people in the east were gold monometallists. Unless he was misquoted, he has certainly not been very observing.

"I will venture to say that a large majority of the employes of his road favor the full restoration of silver by this country alone. Probably the directors and large stockholders do not. I have taken some pains to talk with car drivers and conductors and laboring men in New York city; also with a very considerable number of business men, and I know that there is a most decided free silver sentiment even in New York city.

"The producers, wage-earners and bondsmen of moderate means do not listen any longer with patience to the advocates of the gold standard. They are no longer frightened by the stock phrases of 'cheap money,' '50-cent dollars,' 'silver barons,' etc. They know they are hurt. They understand that times are hard and see no prospect of getting better."

Better Stand from Under.

A Georgia Exchange remarks: "At one time the contraction of the currency in England caused hens to sell for a penny apiece, and a fat bullock sold for 5 shillings. When the tories in this country get our farmers down to such prices perhaps they will be satisfied. But they had better keep out of reach of the farmers."

The street cars in Adrian are now running on schedule time, and it is a great convenience to the public to know that a car can be depended on at any given point inside of 12 minutes, the longest period of waiting.

The following registers of temperature, taken by B. L. Baxter, show a great contrast in a short time: May 8, 7 a. m., 33°; May 9, 9 a. m., 93°; May 10, 7 a. m., 43°; May 12, 5 a. m., 83°; May 13, 7 a. m., 34°; May 14, 34°; May 15, 32°.

The fruit growers are of the opinion that the grape and berry crop, with the exception of currants and gooseberries, have been almost ruined by the recent frosts. The damage done to the peaches, pears and apples is variously estimated, some thinking these fruits are killed, with slight injury. We defer our judgment till next fall.

Man-In-The-Moon—Harry Tansley.
Tulip—Arthur Harding.
Pansy—Bert Day.

The Veteran's Bride is the title of a very strong and interesting book, now in its second edition, by Alta Isador Gould. The scene is laid in the great rebellion of '61 and most pathetically narrates in verse the trials of one who left home and wife for his country. The book is being canvassed by Mrs. Anna Hanley who has the agency for Tecumseh and surrounding towns.

The legislature of Nebraska, at its last session, organized a department of irrigation as a department of the state government, placing the same under the management of the state hydrographic engineer, an office created for that purpose. Yesterday the governor of that state appointed R. Beecher Howell, of Omaha, formerly of this city, to that position. Mr. Howell is the eldest son of Judge Howell and a graduate of the naval academy at Annapolis, a young man of fine abilities and sterling worth. His many friends here will be pleased to congratulate him on his good fortune.—Free Press, May 13.

The funeral of the late Joshua Taylor was held at the family residence in Raisin last Monday afternoon. Notwithstanding the inclement weather a large number of his old neighbors assembled to pay their tribute of respect to a worthy pioneer and honored citizen. A fitting obituary notice will appear later.

W. C. Burridge took a brief outing at Devil's Lake the first of the week. His horse was also given a little recreation which that animal enjoyed so much that he wished to extend the vacation through the rest of the summer and could not be induced to return to work until he had made a friendly call on nearly all the equines in that part of the county.

Frank Bryan sports a new milk wagon which is high, wide and handsome. We were unable to learn whether or not it has water works connections. The wagon is the workmanship of Wm. H. Smith, and does credit to his skill. It was finished just in time to hitch on to when Frank's old wagon was accidentally overturned and damaged by the tongue falling down.

A new train, it is said, will be placed on the Lake Shore road next Monday morning. It is for the special benefit of the Chicago papers and will be known as the paper train. It will leave Chicago at 2:45 and get here about 8 o'clock in the morning, so that the Chicago papers will reach here about as soon as the Detroit papers. The train will overtake the early train at Toledo and be taken off at that point.—Evening Telegram.

The same old story was acted out in Brownville this week. The improvident husband choked the poor wife nearly to death to obtain a few cents which she had earned by hard work. Outsiders, always quick to sympathise with woman, at her cries for help interfered and were about to give the offender a wholesome ducking in the pond, when the sweet woman implored the crowd for mercy and he was spared to choke her again some other day.

—When the Waterbury watch Company stopped manufacturing their old style watch, the flood gates of cheap Swiss factories were opened, and poorly made, very unreliable watches were forced on the market in place of the very accurate Waterbury, which had but the one fault—its long wind. The clock factories, with their cheap clock watches, added to the stock of poor stuff, and the Waterbury Company were appealed to for something good and cheap in the quick wind series. The result is the new 'Trump' watch, which sells at $2.50. Call on ADAMSON Bros. and see this new watch.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement. It is one of the pleasures of life to possess the means to personal enjoyment when one will. The wise ones live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being. Will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., May 10.—The senate on Thursday, by a vote of 17 to 9, passed the Bailey bill for abolishing the state board of health and substituting another which prohibits the secretary from being a member of the board. The state affairs committee reported favorably the Smalley capital punishment bill which provides for execution by hanging. The committee on representative apportionment reported in favor of reducing the members of the house from 100 to 64, also the bill appropriating $185,000 for support of the Newberry insane asylum in the upper peninsula.

LANSING, Mich., May 11.—The senate Friday passed bills appropriating $185,000 for the completion and support of the insane asylum at Newberry and providing for instruction in public schools of teachers for the prevention of the spread of contagious diseases. The Johnson bill prohibiting the adoption of text books for public schools for a period of five years, except in cases of necessity, and providing for the appointment of a commission to prepare uniform text books, which shall be loaned without charge to pupils who agree to take good care of them, and shall annually pay a small proportion of the cost of the books, was made the special order for Monday. The Smith bill providing for a uniform system of bookkeeping in the public schools was made the special order for Tuesday. The senate committee of the whole agreed to the bill providing for the adoption of the penny system of handling car fares.

LANSING, Mich., May 13.—The senate Wednesday killed the Jamieson bill providing for taxing as personal property the franchises of transportation and express companies and the Detroit terminal street railway bill which has been reported favorably by the committee was made the special order for Friday of this week.

House.

LANSING, Mich., May 10.—In the house Thursday the Robinson act providing for a three-cent railroad passenger fare in the upper peninsula was lost by a vote of 34 to 25, the opposite counties supporting it. Bills passed providing for a state medical board.

LANSING, Mich., May 11.—The house on Monday passed a bill regulating the organization of trust companies hereafter incorporated. In cities of 60,000 or less the capital shall not be less than $50,000 in cities with a population of from 60,000 to 150,000 not less than $150,000 and in Detroit not less than $500,000 or in excess of $5,000,000. All after the enacting clause was stricken out of the Waldo bill which was described to transform iron ore and logs in transit from real to personal estate after severing the mine and the stump. The author estimated that more than $1,000,000 of this property escaped taxation annually.

LANSING, Mich., May 13.—In the house Tuesday bills were passed providing for a parole convict system and appropriating $8,000 for the inspection of factories. An effort to strike out the clause prohibiting the employment in factories of children under 14 years failed.

TWO LIVES LOST.

Disastrous Effect of an Explosion on a Lake St. Clair Steamer.

DETROIT, Mich., May 15.—An accident occurred at 5:20 o'clock Monday evening on the new river steamer Unique on Lake St. Clair which caused the death of two men, and possibly a third man may die of his injuries.

The dead—George Robinson, engineer, drowned; Anthony Case, coal passer. The injured—John Plant, fireman, badly scalded.

At 4 o'clock the Unique left Detroit bound for Port Huron, after a down trip which was the quickest ever made between Detroit and Port Huron by boat. When about 9 miles from Belle isle a crash was heard in the boiler room. It was followed by clouds of steam and soot driven through the hatches with terrific force.

At the same time the deck hands saw George Robinson, of this city, engineer of the boat, who was sitting on the port-rail, thrown overboard. Life-preservers were at once thrown to him, but as the boat was going at full speed they did not come within his reach. A boat was at once lowered and a thorough search was made for him, but he had disappeared.

As soon as the condition of affairs below would warrant it the officers of the boat went below and found a crack about 1¼ inch long in one of the boiler flues. This caused the explosion. On the floor of the boiler-room was Anthony Case, a coal passer, who had been killed outright. Near him was John Plant, a fireman, who was taken from the fire hold frightfully burned.

MRS. KNAGGS IS PRESIDENT.

Michigan Woman's Suffrage Association Elects Officers.

SAGINAW, May 11.—The election of officers of the Michigan Woman's Suffrage association resulted as follows: President, Mrs. M. S. Knaggs, Bay City; vice president, Lilla E. Bliss, Saginaw; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Helen P. Jenkins, Detroit; treasurer, Mrs. Emily B. Ketcham, Grand Rapids; member for Michigan of executive board of National American Woman Suffrage association, Mrs. Martha E. Root, Bay City. Resolutions were adopted urging each political party to declare for equal participation in government by men and women, advocating appointments of matrons of police departments, and the employment of a fair proportion of women professors at the university.

Fire at Port Huron.

PORT HURON, May 13.—The McMorran grain elevator with its contents was entirely destroyed by fire Sunday morning, and the McMorran roller and flouring mill adjoining badly damaged. The mill and contents were damaged about $20,000 by fire and water; covered by insurance. The elevator was valued at $60,000, with an insurance of $42,000. It contained 150,000 bushels of grain, principally wheat and oats, and including 15,000 bushels of peas. This was valued at $75,000 and is a total loss, but is fully covered by insurance.

Death of Theodore Hinchman.

DETROIT, May 13.—Theodore H. Hinchman, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Michigan, died Sunday morning, aged 77 years. He was a descendant of Admiral De Camp, of revolutionary fame. Coming to Detroit in 1836, he entered the wholesale drug trade and built up the largest house of the kind in the state. He has been a leader in public work, member of the state legislature and the head of numerous local business establishments.

He Is Trapped in a Folding Bed.

DETROIT, May 15.—Soon after George S. McDonald, a well-known business man, retired Monday night smothered cries were heard, and when the door was broken open a massive folding bed was found to have closed upon him. McDonald was struck in the neck and lies in a precarious condition.

WORK OF JACK FROST.

Crops and Fruits in Western and Northern Michigan Injured.

DETROIT, May 14.—Reports from the Michigan fruit belt received here indicate that little damage was done by the frost of Sunday night. In many places, however, the snow has fallen to a depth of several inches and this may save the buds from serious injury. Grain is sure to be saved from any damage by the covering of snow. But garden truck and strawberries have already been ruined beyond recovery. The following dispatches will give an idea of the frost's work throughout the state:

Alma—Small fruits and vegetables were killed by the frost Sunday night. Grain is not thought to be very much hurt except on low ground.

Holland—Vegetables and small fruits on low lands have been severely damaged.

Dawson—Reports from the surrounding fruit district are to the effect that it is feared the entire peach crop has been ruined.

Niles—Surrounding fruit-growers say the frost has ruined their crops.

Saranac—Peaches and other small fruits have been damaged.

Sturgis—Wheat, rye and small fruits are reported badly damaged.

Hillsdale—Fruits hereabouts are reported almost entirely destroyed.

Buchanan—Fruit buds are damaged somewhat.

Menominee—A northeast storm began Sunday night and Monday morning there was three inches of snow on the ground and the mercury down to freezing. Trees were broken down from the weight of the snow and ice. It is feared that fruit is killed, and that vegetation that was so forward all put back. No such storm was ever experienced here.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 15.—Reports from various portions of the fruit belt of western Michigan are to the effect that more damage was done to the crop by the strong gale than by frost and freezing. In some sections the wind was so strong as to nearly strip fruit trees of leaves and a large per cent. of young fruit. Particularly is this the case in Ottawa and Allegan counties. In Oceana county it is the opinion of growers that the frost did but a small per cent. of damage to peaches and other tree fruits. The whole lake shore fruit belt was lashed by the strong wind, and in some parts of Muskegon, Berrien and Van Buren counties much damage was done by breaking down trees and twisting off limbs. In the upper part of western Michigan snow fell to the depth of 6 to 16 inches, and in some localities, particularly around Elmira, farmers fear for their stock, as they are out of hay and the snow is 14 inches deep, and the thermometer nearly at freezing point. In the upper peninsula traffic in some localities has been impeded by snow. Throughout all western Michigan garden truck has suffered the worst, and many market gardeners will have to replant early sweet corn, beans, etc.

DETROIT, May 15.—The fruit crop of Michigan according to reports received here Tuesday night appears to have survived the cold wave. The snow which fell all Monday night in the peach district served as a protection for the tender blossoms. Along the lower shore of Lake Michigan the weather is reported warmer, but from Holland north the mercury is still hovering dangerously near the freezing point. Beside the garden truck, which has been killed outright, strawberries seem to have suffered the worst. Estimates now place the state crop at less than half the usual yield, a direct loss to growers of close to $150,000. The covering of snow is believed to have preserved all grain from serious injury.

FEARS WILD-CAT INSURANCE.

Insurance Commissioner Giddings, of Michigan, Wants Laws Amended.

LANSING, May 14.—The annual report of Commissioner of Insurance Giddings is out. A synopsis is as follows:

It shows that 122 stock, fire and inland marine companies are doing business in the state. There are also sixty-seven mutual or cyclone insurance companies transacting a business, but the commissioner says that these companies do a business of a character not to guarantee policy holders the indemnity they have a right to expect, and the fear is expressed that unless the laws of the state are amended wild-cat insurance will become too general for the public safety. Attention is called to the fact that considerable insurance is being taken out in companies not authorized to transact business in Michigan, the law being evaded by arranging the risks by correspondence. This fact has led the legislature to pass a law licensing persons to procure insurance in unauthorized companies, upon a showing being made that the insurance cannot be obtained in regularly authorized companies. The commissioner mentions with considerable satisfaction that Lloyds companies have recently been permitted to do business under proper restrictions. Stock, fire and marine insurance in Michigan last year resulted in a neat profit to the companies. The aggregate risks written were $256,725,666; premiums received, $4,830,275.91; losses incurred, $3,085,112.87. Estimating the expense of the companies at 33⅓ per cent. of the premiums received, and adding the result to the losses incurred, it makes the total outlay for the past year $3,545,204.84, and indicates a net gain to the companies of $966,071.07.

FISHERMEN FORCED TO QUIT.

Tugs Laid Up at St. Joseph on Account of the Light Catches.

ST. JOSEPH, May 13.—The catches made by the fish tugs off this harbor are the lightest ever known since the fishing interests began, ranging from 50 to 300 pounds, with nets out from two to three days. The lifts were formerly from 1,500 to 2,500 pounds average. In consequence the tugs Hahn, Sanford, Violet and Payne have been laid up. Others will be laid up, as the owners say it does not pay the cost of fuel.

Titles for the Officers.

LANSING, May 14.—The present legislature enacted a law conferring titles on officers of the Soldiers' home, and in compliance therewith Gov. Rich has made the following appointments: Colonel and commandant, Benjamin F. Graves; major and adjutant, James W. Long; major and surgeon, L. C. Read; captain and quartermaster, Chester B. Hinsdale.

Michigan Mines Resume.

IRONWOOD, May 13.—The Brotherton, Odanah, East Carey, Mikado, Windsor and Eureka mines, all idle last season, have sold stockpiles and have begun shipments. Few really good mining properties in the Gogebic range are now idle and local conditions are better than for three years.

Barker had many relatives, nephews and nieces, and there is talk of contesting the will.

FOR WOMEN.

There are facts which every woman should know and should teach her daughters, but which many never learn because they have no trustworthy teacher and don't know where to find one. To supply this want the Zoa-Phora Medicine Company, at Kalamazoo, Mich., publishes a book on Diseases of Women and Children, well illustrated, easily understood. Every woman, or girl above 15 years, should read it. For the purpose of advertising they will, on receipt of 10 cts. to cover cost of mailing, send a pamphlet edition, in sealed envelope to any lady (and to ladies only) who desires it.

These books given away by C. A. Wright and Baker & Hall, druggists.
